(UPI pool telephoto)

A Daughter Is Born To Svetlana

But the baby's father, William Wesley Peters, said, "We don't think of her as anyone's granddaughter. She's our daughter."

The mother of the child is the former Svetlana Alliluyeva Stalin, 45, who married Peters, chief architect for the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, in April 1970.

The baby was born in Marin because the parents have been staying in Mill Valley with Peter's sister, Margedant Hayakawa, and her husband, S. I. Hayakawa, president of San Francisco State College.

From her hospital bed, Mrs. Peters said, "I'm very happy to have a healthy and pretty child. This pretty girl makes another strong link between this country and myself."

Mrs. Peters has a grown son and daughter in Soviet Russia by a former marriage, and Peters said today that he hopes regulations will be lightened in the future so that they may visit their mother and stepsister.

Peters also said his wife expected the baby, who has been named Olga Margedant, to be a boy and would have been named Nicholas.

"She bought a lot of blue thing," Peters said, smilingly adding that he wanted a girl because "I never had a little girl." (He has grown sons by a former marriage.)

He said that he hoped the child, "would grow up like a normal little girl" and would not receive any special attention because of who her grandfather was.

Mrs. Peters arrived at the hospital last night about 11 p.m. and the baby, who weighed 7 pounds 9 ounces, was born at 1:59 a.m.

Both mother and child were reported in good condition today.

Peters said that after a period of convalescence he will take his wife and child to Spring Green, Wis., where the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation makes its summer headquarters. During the rest of the year the foundation operates out of Scottsdale, Ariz.

Peters has been a frequent visitor to Marin because of his work on the Civic Center.

His wife left Russia four years ago on a visit to India, where she astonished the world by walking into the American Embassy in Delhi and asking for asylum in the United States.

When she arrived in New York six weeks later, the daughter of the dreaded Soviet dictator said, "I have come here to seek the self-expression that has been denied me in Russia."

She met Peters last year while on a visit to Scottsdale and married him after an acquaintanceship of only 20 days.

She had been married twice previously and also had a common-law Indian husband. She had gone to India to return his ashes there after he died when she defected.

New York Supports Nader's G.M. Position

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York City today threw its weight behind Ralph Nader's "Campaign GM" to force General Motors to reveal each year what it has done to advance pollution control, auto safety and minority hiring.

Mayor John V. Lindsay said the 35,0000 shares of G.M. stock held the city's employee pensions funds will be voted at the annual stockholders' meeting in Detroit today in support of the campaign.

Turk Kidnap Victim Alive, Still Missing

ISTANBUL (UPI)—Premier Nihat Erim said today Israeli consul-general Ephraim Elrom, kidnaped from his apartment Monday, is still alive.

"We, too, are anxious over the fate of this Israeli diplomat," the head of government told newsmen. "But we received information last night he is alive."

Erim made his statement in Ankara. He gave no details.

Police and troop searches across the country still turned up no trace of the 59-year-old policeman-turned-diplomat, who played a major role in the capture and trial of Nazi war criminal Adolf Eichmann a decade ago.

Elrom was abducted Monday by five gunmen. His captors announced he would be executed Thursday unless the government freed all "revolutionary guerrillas" from jail.

The 5 p.m. (11 a.m. EDT) deadline set by the leftwing self-styled Turkish People's Liberation Army came and went—with no indication of Elrom's fate.

The government responded by declaring it would not bargain with "hooligans" and arresting hundreds of suspected left-wing sympathizers. Raids and arrests continued today across Turkey.

Sources close to Erim said martial law imposed on 11 of Turkey's 67 provinces April 26 probably will be extended two months beyond its May 26 expiration date.

A strict news blackout was imposed on details of the hunt. the sources said house to house raids were continuing but so far had not turned up clues to Elrom's whereabouts.

House Rejects SST Repayments

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House, which only last week tried to revive the American effort to build a faster-than-sound airliner, has voted to go along with the Senate in killing the project once again.

But in action Thursday night, the House refused to accept the Senate plan to reimburse the nation's airlines $58 million for what they have sunk into the project.

The supersonic transport (SST), in which the American taxpayers already have invested nearly $1 billion, will not be laid to rest for now, however, until the Senate takes action on the House vote.

Defiant Student Protest At Kent

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—Police moved into a crowd of about 400 young demonstrators who had defied orders to disperse early today and arrested 60 persons, including the president of the Kent State University student body.

One student was injured seriously when a motorcyclist, an employe of the university, swerved into the demonstrators at high speed. Police said about 40 demonstrators were in the crowd.

Craig Morgan of Upper Arlington, Ohio, student body president, was among those taken into custody after police, coping for the third straight night with the demonstrators, read the city's riot act to several hundred students who had massed in the downtown area.

Also arrested was Marvin Meade, an associate professor of political science at Kent State who was serving as a peace marshal.

Morgan was charged with trespassing and unlawful assembly as zere two members of the Chosen Few motorcycle gang who had joined the disturbance after the sludent was injured. The cyclist who struck the student was not a member of the gang but an employe of the school.

At least 25 persons were arrested by police at Water and Main streets when they defied police orders to disperse. About 35 others were arrested on the university commons where Morgan was taken into custody.

Students said there have been several similar demonstrations in the 13 months since four Kent students were slain on campus by National Guardsmen, but these were the first mass arrests.

The crowds gathered as they had since Tuesday night to protest city ordinances against hitchhiking and carrying open containers of alcoholic beverages.

The latest gathering followed an attempt around noon Thursday to break up the Kent State ROTC review. Police arrested one person at the ceremony after 50 ran onto the field were the cadets were in formation.

The charges against the persons arrested today ranged from disorderly cnduct and unlawful assembly to trespassing. Some persons arrested were not students, police said.

After booking here, they were put aboard buses for transport to the Portage County jail at Ravenna.

Some damage was reported, including several broken windows at Rockwell Hall, which houses the ROTC offices.

Police began to move earlier in the evening when a crowd of 500 gathered at an intersection in the downtown area and refused to disperse after the riot act was read.

Police in full riot gear, supported by officers from several nearby communities, began to march the crowd back toward the campus after making the initial arrests.

When they reached the campus, the youths retreated onto the property, but were chased by police both on foot and in cruisers and buses.

Freak Wind Storm Strikes West Marin

Freak winds which gusted up to 105 miles an hour in West Marin last night snapped power lines and toppled trees throughout the county as well as elsewhere in Northern California.

The powerful winds reached a steady 82 miles per hour at Point Reyes at 9 p.m., occasionally gusting over 100 miles an hour, according to Leonard O. Robertson, superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Rafael.

Electric power failed twice to 600 homes in Inverness, Inverness Park and on the Point Reyes Peninsula. The power first went out for about a half hour at 8:05 p.m. when a wire snapped on Vallejo Street in Inverness Park, Robertson said.

Lights went out again from 9:09 to 10:16 p.m. when a wire snapped in Point Reyes.

About 1,700 customers were without electricity in Southern Marin from 10:02 to 10:16 p.m., when a tree knocked down a line in Strawberry, affecting residents of Alto, Strawberry, Reedlands, Belveron Gardens and Paradise Drive.

A snapped wire cut service to 18 Greenbrae homes from 10:20 to 11:20 p.m., and a falling tree disrupted service to 10 houses on Sunnyside Avenue in Mill Valley from 1:30 p.m. to 1 a.m., Robertson said. Three houses on Forest Avenue in Fairfax were without electricity from 2:30 to 3 a.m. today.

In Southern Sonoma County a tree fell over an electric line about 10 p.m. on Old Redwood Highway near Railroad Avenue, and sparks started a small grass fire, but no damage was reported.

Clifford Bartlett Jr., Petaluma manager for PG&E said only a few customers were affected by the blackout in Cotati and that power was restored within 45 minutes.

Bartlett said power outages were reported in scattered areas throughout Petaluma, Penngrove and Rohnert Park, but that service was restored within a few minutes in all cases.

The Coast Guard reported assisting 15 boats which were having trouble in the winds. Most of the rescues were in the Bay Area, officers said, but assistance was also given as far north as Humboldt Couty and as far south as Morro Bay.

Hardest hit areas in Northern California were resort communities around Clear Lake in Lake County.

In San Francisco a boat owned by Joel Bartlett of Mill Valley was blown ashore at Marina Yacht Club, windows were broken and clouds of sand were shipped across the Great Highway.

Optimism On British Common Market Entry

PARIS (UPI) — Prime Minister Edward Heath of Britain and President Georges Pompidou of France expressed the mutual conviction tonight their two days of talks had cleared the way for Britain's entry into the Common Market, a step that could change the political future of Europe.

In statements to 200 newsmen in the grand ceremonial hall of the Elysee Palace both voiced firm belief the market membership talks being held in Brussels and Luxembourg on the technicalities involved will succeed.

Median Income Up Last Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Census Bureau says American families earned a record median income of $9,870 last year, but in actual buying power they lost ground for the first time in nine years.

The bureau reported Thursday that a survey of 50,000 families indicated median income increased $440 from 1969.

But because of inflation, the bureau said, the purchasing power of $9,870 was only $9,867 in "constant dollars" —dollars that have been adjusted for cost of living changes.

G.M. Plans Study Of Air Pollution

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. Chairman James M. Roche today announced G. M. will spend $150 million this year "to take the automobile out of the air pollution problem."

Roche told the G. M. stockholders meeting in his annual report that G. M. had added $26 million to the $134 million it previously estimated it would spend on cleaning up exhaust pollution.

Social Security Attacked

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County employees and taxpayers would be better off if the county withdrew from the expensive federal social security retirement system, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell declared today.

Mitchell said that in most cases, a county employee puts in far more than he will ever get back in social security benefits.

"For years, this has been bothering me," said Mitchell. "I can see definite advantages to both the county taxpayers and the county employees by withdrawing from the social security system."

He pointed out that Marin has an excellent county retirement system which is far superior to social security. "For the dollars put in, I'd say the county retirement system provides five times the benefits that social security provides."

The auditor-controller noted that social security taxes are going up each year. This year, an employee pays 5.2 per cent of the first $7,800 of his salary, or $405.60 per year. From 1972, this will go up to 5.2 per cent of the first $9,000, or $468.

At that rate of increase, Mitchell estimates that the county employee will pay $775 in social security tax in 1975, and $1,110 social security tax in 1977.

"This is matched by a county contribution of the same amount, which means that in 1977, the employee and the county would be paying $2,200 per year in social security tax. If you paid that kind of tax for a dozen years or more, you'd have to live to be 150 to recoup that amount in social security benefits," said Mitchell.

This year, Marin County's share of social security payments amount to $515,000. This will go up to $596,000 or $701,000 for the calendar year 1972. In 1977, he estimates the county will be paying $1,500,000 in social security taxes, with a similar amount paid by the county employees.

Mitchell said the law provides an option to the county to cancel its social security coverage. This could be done by a majority vote of all county employees now under social security, and approval by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

He will recommend to the county supervisors next Tuesday that such a vote be taken.

After a successful election, there is a two-year waiting period before social security is actually cancelled.

Even if the county elects to withdraw, the benefits of social security accrued by employees thus far will not be lost, said Mitchell.

"In my opinion, the social security retirement system is similar to a tax rather than to a pension system," said Mitchell. "I do not feel that, based on the required contributions, most retirement benefits returned are commensurate."

City, county and state agencies, unlike private firms, are not required to come under social security. Marin elected to join social security in 1958 to supplement the county's own retirement system, adopted in 1950. The county's retirement system is doing so much better that Mitchell said he became "disenchanted" with social security, whose rates keep going up each year.

Nixon Dispatches Arms Negotiator To Vienna Talks

Chances For Peace Are Better, Says President On Breakthrough

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon conferred with Gerard C. Smith today and ordered him back to Vienna on a military jet for fresh arms negotiations with the Soviet Union based on a new understanding announced by the super powers.

Smith, chief of the U. S. delegation to the long-stalled talks, talked with Nixon at the White House as Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird pictured the "breakthrough" agreement on defensive-offensive missile talks as an outgrowth of "our strength."

The President said during a meeting with a group of scientists following his conference with Smith: "The chances for peace are now better." He said the agreement moved the world closer to the day when scientists "may turn their energies to the works of peace rather than the weapons of war."

Laird said in a speech at the Pentagon that the agreement "links for the first time ... going forward with limitations of offensive and defensive missiles at the same time."

He added: "That is the significance of the statement."

The Russians have been insisting that the discussions on limiting nuclear weapons be confined, for the time being at least, to deployment of defenseive missiles — the ABM networks both nations have been erecting.

The talks bogged down and appeared in danger of possible collapse because the United States refused to limit them to ABMs, and demanded that negotiations be concerned with a "mix" of both offensive and defensive systems.

The Thursday Washington-Moscow statement said the discussions would "concentrate this year" on ABM limitations, but added in a subsequent sentence that negotiators also would discuss offensive strategic weapons.

As other U. S. officials had said earlier, Laird pointed to the second sentence as making it evident that "at the same time, in conjunction with" an ABM agreement, "there will be limitations worked out on offensive weapons systems."

The defense chief declared: "It is clear that our strength has made possible the hope for success at SALT (strategic arms limitation talks)." talks)."

Laird contended the U. S. Soviet agreement, which Nixon characterized as a "ajor step" toward breaking the Vienna impasse, proved that the administration was right in pursuing development of the Safeguard ABM system "if we do truly want an agreement on offensive weapons systems at the same time a defensive weapon agreement is worked out."

This was in line with his and the administration's frequent argument the United States had to maintain "a strong defense posture from which we could negotiate" at a time of demands for cutting defense strength.

Laird told about 250 leaders of nongovernmental national organizations that "it would be foolhardy for this nation of ours to engage in any unilateral reductions of forces, such as our

Busy Marin Agenda Tomorrow, Sunday

A busy spring weekend of activities — including the 54th annual Mountain Play and Marin's huge Scout-O-Rama — lies ahead tomorrow for Marin and Southern Sonoma residents.

Both tomorrow and Sunday will be taken up with a variety of events to suit all tastes.

The Mountain Play, this year presenting J. M. Synge's "Playboy of the Western World," will be offered at 2 p.m. Sunday in the outdoor theater atop Mount Tamalpais.

A cast of nearly 1,000 persons has been assembled for the Irish folk classic. The play will be repeated next Sunday at 2 p.m.

About 3,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers and Cub Scouts will exhibit their skills at the Scout-O-Rama, to be held at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow at Forest Meadows on the Dominican College campus, San Rafael.

Also tomorrow, San Quentin Prison inmates will hold a spring art show and sale in Kentfield at the college center, College of Marin, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. About 1,000 works will be exhibited.

In Nicasio, a 4-H Fair will begin at 9 a.m. tomorrow and in Petaluma, dairy cattle judging — part of the California Black and White Show — will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the fairgrounds.

Citizens will examine housing blight, planning failures and poverty problems tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Alexander Hall, San Francisco Technological Seminary, San Anselmo.

A cleanup of Mill Valley's creeks, sponsored by Marin Alternative and other groups, will begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Workers will gather at 11 locations.

Sunday, bicyclists will ride from Martin Luther King School in Sausalito to Baker's Beach at the Presidio of San Francisco to dramatize the need for legislation to protect California's coastline. Cyclists will gather at 11 a.m.

And the annual Portuguese Holy Ghost Festival, featuring a parade, special mass, dining and dancing, will be held in Novato Sunday.

The parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. at Olive Avenue and First Street. It will proceed to Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church, where a mass will be held at 10:45 a.m.

Roche told the G. M. stockholders meeting in his annual report that G. M. had added $26 million to the $134 million it previously estimated it would spend on cleaning up exhaust pollution.

Social Security Attacked

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County employees and taxpayers would be better off if the county withdrew from the expensive federal social security retirement system, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell declared today.

Mitchell said that in most cases, a county employee puts in far more than he will ever get back in social security benefits.

"For years, this has been bothering me," said Mitchell. "I can see definite advantages to both the county taxpayers and the county employees by withdrawing from the social security system."

He pointed out that Marin has an excellent county retirement system which is far superior to social security. "For the dollars put in, I'd say the county retirement system provides five times the benefits that social security provides."

The auditor-controller noted that social security taxes are going up each year. This year, an employee pays 5.2 per cent of the first $7,800 of his salary, or $405.60 per year. From 1972, this will go up to 5.2 per cent of the first $9,000, or $468.

At that rate of increase, Mitchell estimates that the county employee will pay $775 in social security tax in 1975, and $1,110 social security tax in 1977.

"This is matched by a county contribution of the same amount, which means that in 1977, the employee and the county would be paying $2,200 per year in social security tax. If you paid that kind of tax for a dozen years or more, you'd have to live to be 150 to recoup that amount in social security benefits," said Mitchell.

This year, Marin County's share of social security payments amount to $515,000. This will go up to $596,000 or $701,000 for the calendar year 1972. In 1977, he estimates the county will be paying $1,500,000 in social security taxes, with a similar amount paid by the county employees.

Mitchell said the law provides an option to the county to cancel its social security coverage. This could be done by a majority vote of all county employees now under social security, and approval by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

He will recommend to the county supervisors next Tuesday that such a vote be taken.

After a successful election, there is a two-year waiting period before social security is actually cancelled.

Even if the county elects to withdraw, the benefits of social security accrued by employees thus far will not be lost, said Mitchell.

"In my opinion, the social security retirement system is similar to a tax rather than to a pension system," said Mitchell. "I do not feel that, based on the required contributions, most retirement benefits returned are commensurate."

City, county and state agencies, unlike private firms, are not required to come under social security. Marin elected to join social security in 1958 to supplement the county's own retirement system, adopted in 1950. The county's retirement system is doing so much better that Mitchell said he became "disenchanted" with social security, whose rates keep going up each year.

Nixon Dispatches Arms Negotiator To Vienna Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon conferred with Gerard C. Smith today and ordered him back to Vienna on a military jet for fresh arms negotiations with the Soviet Union based on a new understanding announced by the super powers.

Smith, chief of the U. S. delegation to the long-stalled talks, talked with Nixon at the White House as Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird pictured the "breakthrough" agreement on defensive-offensive missile talks as an outgrowth of "our strength."

The President said during a meeting with a group of scientists following his conference with Smith: "The chances for peace are now better." He said the agreement moved the world closer to the day when scientists "may turn their energies to the works of peace rather than the weapons of war."

Laird said in a speech at the Pentagon that the agreement "links for the first time ... going forward with limitations of offensive and defensive missiles at the same time."

He added: "That is the significance of the statement."

The Russians have been insisting that the discussions on limiting nuclear weapons be confined, for the time being at least, to deployment of defenseive missiles — the ABM networks both nations have been erecting.

The talks bogged down and appeared in danger of possible collapse because the United States refused to limit them to ABMs, and demanded that negotiations be concerned with a "mix" of both offensive and defensive systems.

The Thursday Washington-Moscow statement said the discussions would "concentrate this year" on ABM limitations, but added in a subsequent sentence that negotiators also would discuss offensive strategic weapons.

As other U. S. officials had said earlier, Laird pointed to the second sentence as making it evident that "at the same time, in conjunction with" an ABM agreement, "there will be limitations worked out on offensive weapons systems."

The defense chief declared: "It is clear that our strength has made possible the hope for success at SALT (strategic arms limitation talks)."

Laird contended the U. S. Soviet agreement, which Nixon characterized as a "ajor step" toward breaking the Vienna impasse, proved that the administration was right in pursuing development of the Safeguard ABM system "if we do truly want an agreement on offensive weapons systems at the same time a defensive weapon agreement is worked out."

This was in line with his and the administration's frequent argument the United States had to maintain "a strong defense posture from which we could negotiate" at a time of demands for cutting defense strength.

Laird told about 250 leaders of nongovernmental national organizations that "it would be foolhardy for this nation of ours to engage in any unilateral reductions of forces, such as our

Busy Marin Agenda Tomorrow, Sunday

A busy spring weekend of activities — including the 54th annual Mountain Play and Marin's huge Scout-O-Rama — lies ahead tomorrow for Marin and Southern Sonoma residents.

Both tomorrow and Sunday will be taken up with a variety of events to suit all tastes.

The Mountain Play, this year presenting J. M. Synge's "Playboy of the Western World," will be offered at 2 p.m. Sunday in the outdoor theater atop Mount Tamalpais.

A cast of nearly 1,000 persons has been assembled for the Irish folk classic. The play will be repeated next Sunday at 2 p.m.

About 3,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers and Cub Scouts will exhibit their skills at the Scout-O-Rama, to be held at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow at Forest Meadows on the Dominican College campus, San Rafael.

Also tomorrow, San Quentin Prison inmates will hold a spring art show and sale in Kentfield at the college center, College of Marin, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. About 1,000 works will be exhibited.

In Nicasio, a 4-H Fair will begin at 9 a.m. tomorrow and in Petaluma, dairy cattle judging — part of the California Black and White Show — will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the fairgrounds.

Citizens will examine housing blight, planning failures and poverty problems tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Alexander Hall, San Francisco Technological Seminary, San Anselmo.

A cleanup of Mill Valley's creeks, sponsored by Marin Alternative and other groups, will begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Workers will gather at 11 locations.

Sunday, bicyclists will ride from Martin Luther King School in Sausalito to Baker's Beach at the Presidio of San Francisco to dramatize the need for legislation to protect California's coastline. Cyclists will gather at 11 a.m.

And the annual Portuguese Holy Ghost Festival, featuring a parade, special mass, dining and dancing, will be held in Novato Sunday.

The parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. at Olive Avenue and First Street. It will proceed to Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church, where a mass will be held at 10:45 a.m.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Trudeau In Ukraine

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (UPI)—Canada's Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau toured the Soviet Ukraine today with a Soviet-Canadian consultation agreement in his pocket and a pledge on the record that this will not weaken Canada's role in the Atlantic alliance.

Trudeau signed the agreement during four days of talks with Soviet leaders in Moscow. It calls for consultations on major international and bilateral problems.

Outside the Soviet bloc and the Arab world, only France has a similar agrement. But Trudeau, who in the past has pulled Canadian troops out of the North Atlantic force in Europe, said Thursday that Canada will keep faith with its Western allies.

He told a news conference before leaving Moscow for a tour of the Soviet Union, "I can see no conflict with any of our obligations — military, political or economic — to other countries."

Mars Shot Problem

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Engineers worked on solving a new rocket problem today that will delay the second and last U.S. attempt to send a Mariner television satellite toward Mars until late next week at the earliest.

The trouble that caused the loss of the first Mariner shortly after launch May 8 has been traced to an electrical circuit the size of a pinhead in the autopilot steering control unit of the Atlas-Centaur rocket.

Girl, 12, Dies; Killer At Large

Pamela Wolfston, 12, and her sister, Louise, 22, daughters of James H. Wolfston, president of Wheeling Bronze Co., were jogging Monday when a tall, light-haired young man approached them.

Louise told police the man made advances. When she resisted, he grabbed Pamela, drew a pistol and shot her once in the temple, she said. The man then drove off.

Israeli Warning

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli Deputy Premier Yigal Allon says Egypt has toughened its stand on Middle East peace conditions, possibly because of "over-optimism in Washington."

Allon in a speech Thursday commented on Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's outline of conditions for reopening the Suez Canal, including demands Egyptian troops must be allowed across the canal after an Israeli withdrawal.

"Sadat's speech proves the Egyptian government has toughened its (Middle East) stance. I hope this development was not prompted by over-optimism in Washington."

Allon did not elaborate, but apparently referred to optimistic remarks made by Secretary of State William P. Rogers following his tour of the Middle East earlier this month.

Assassin Guilty

MONTREAL (UPI)—Francis Simard, a 23-year-old laborer, was sentenced to life in prison Thursday for his part in the murder Oct. 17 of Quebec Labor minister Pierre Laporte. The 12-man jury deliberated for only two hours Thursday before returning a guilty verdict. Justice Alphonse Barbeau immediately imposed the mandatory life sentence.

"C'est beau (that's nice), Alphonse," Simard muttered sarcastically when the judge handed down the life term.

As he was hustled out of the courtroom, Simard defiantly shouted the slogan of the terrorist Quebec Liberation Front: "Nouse Vaincrons. Vive le FLQ"—(We Shall Conquer. Long Live the FLQ).

Judge Barbeau sentenced Simard also to a month in prison on each of four contempt of court citations for incidents during the three-week trial.

Nader Probe Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The FBI is being asked to investigate Ralph Nader's new charges that employes of the Senate and General Motors altered transcripts of auto safety hearings in 1966 to protect top GM officials.

Nader alleged in a letter to Sen. Abraham D. Ribicoff, D-Conn., that changes were made in the testimony of GM Chairman James M. Roche and Louis G. Bridenstine, then an assistant general counsel for GM.

Ribicoff said Thursday he would ask the FBI to investigate Nader's complaint. He also said the Justice Department investigated a similar allegation by Nader in 1967, but "found no reason for prosecution at that time."

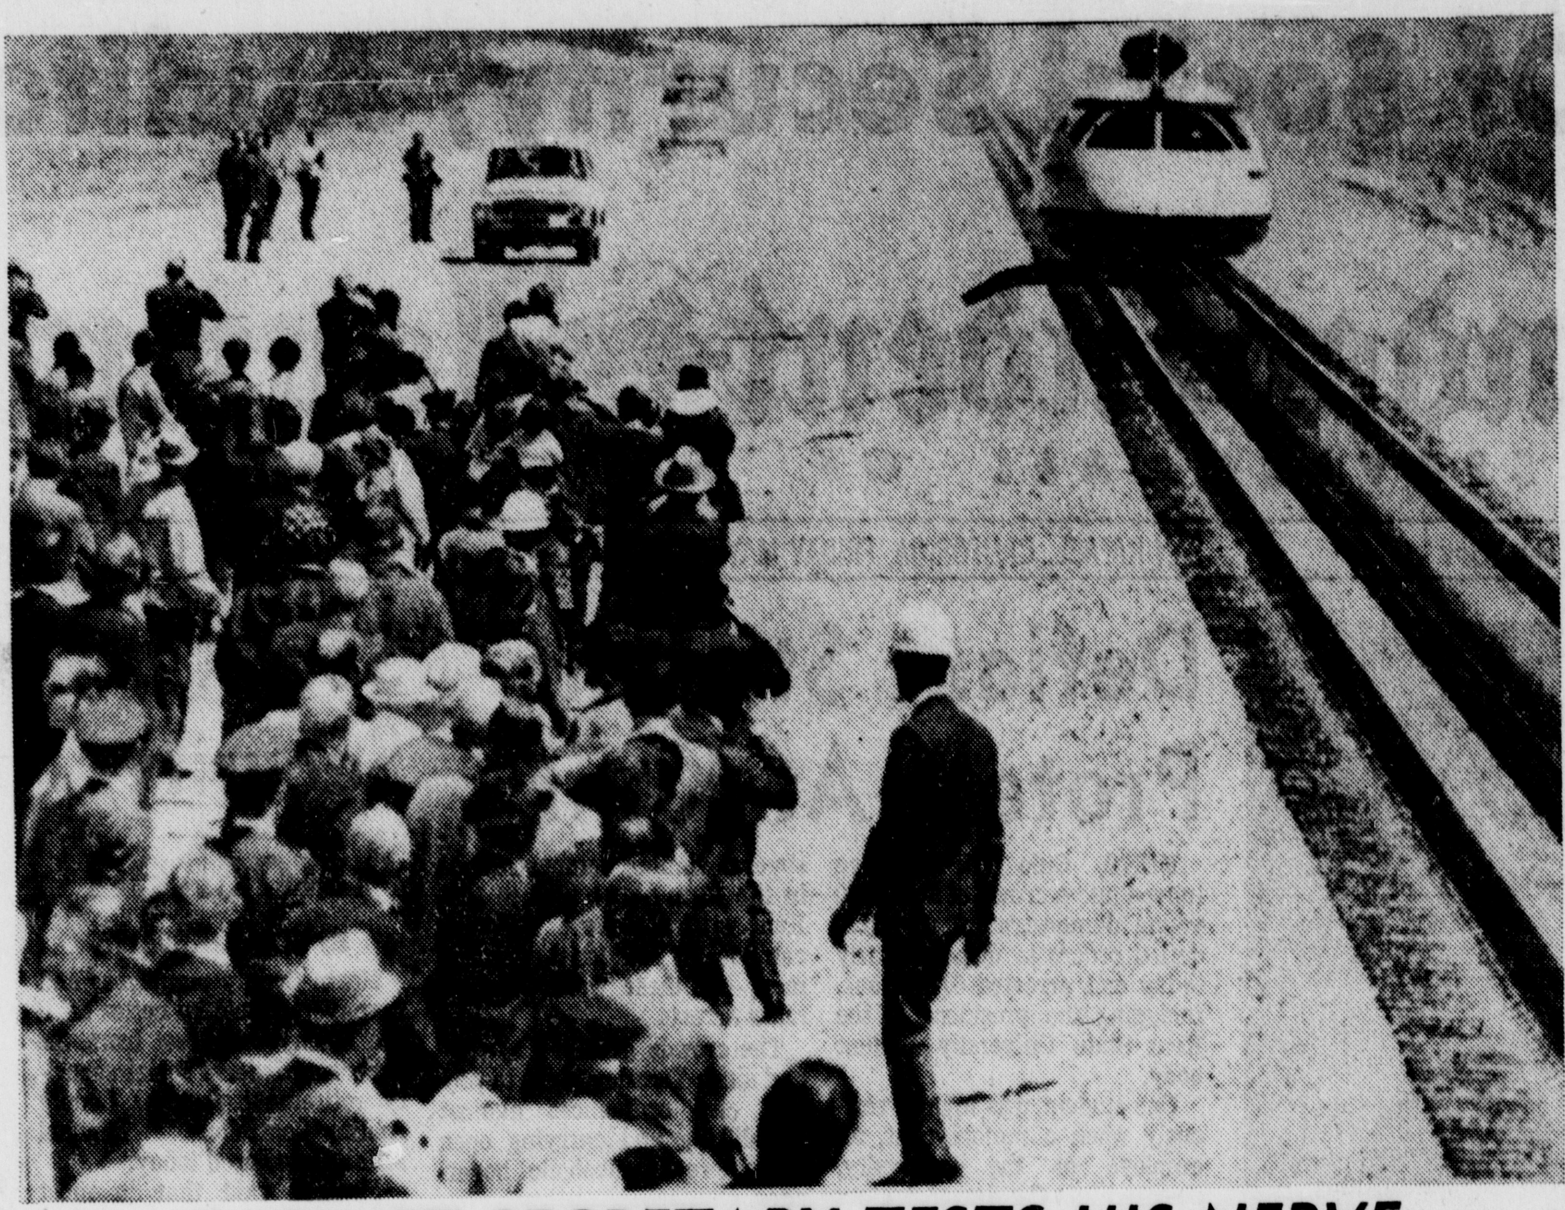
Ribicoff is chairman of the subcommittee whose transcript was purportedly changed.

Hot Pants For Stewardesses

SEATTLE (UPI)—The legs on the stewardess of "Air Washington" won't be too long but they'll be very visible.

Chairman Bob Florence said the new commuter service, which will begin operations next week, is hiring stewardesses under 4-foot-10 because of the low cabin space in its DeHavilland twin otter turboprops.

But he said the ministewardesses will wear hot pants.



CABINET SECRETARY TESTS HIS NERVE

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe was aboard yesterday when a new linear induction motor vehicle capable of reaching 250 miles per hour was tested at the Department of Transportation's new High Speed Ground Test Center in Pueblo, Colo. The experimental vehicle only reached a speed of 90 miles per hour during Volpe's ride as part of the dedication ceremony for the new testing facility. The linear induction vehicle costs $2 million.

Nixon Heads LBJ Library Delegation

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Lyndon B. Johnson, whose presidency was plagued by Vietnam War demonstrations, apparently will have to face the paint-smeared faces of antiwar protesters again tomorrow at dedication ceremonies for the LBJ Library.

President Richard M. Nixon, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and House Speaker Carl Albert will be present, along with hundreds of other national figures.

Nixon will be the main speaker at the nationally televised ceremonies beginning at 12:30 p.m. EDT.

Local "May Day tribe" members, student protest groups and other antiwar organizations predict 500 to 4,000 people will demonstrate.

Som of the more radical groups have said they will try to disrupt the official ceremonies, but officials say no one without a special guest badge will be allowed near the library grounds.

The library is part of an $18.6 million complex on the University of Texas campus that also houses the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs.

The dedication ceremonies are slated to take place at the foot of a grassy knoll on which the eight story building stands. An outdoor barbecue luncheon will follow.

City and campus police and Secret Service agents will cordon off the area. Secret Service agents refused to discuss security arragements but other officials said more than a mile of cord has already been strung around the library, speaker's platform, bleachers, lawn and gaily colored tents where the 3,500 guests will eat.

S. Viet Troops With U.S. Copter Aid Capture Bunkers

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese infantrymen supported by U.S. helicopter gunships battled their way through a series of bunkers today to the top of a ridge line at the northeastern end of the A Shau Valley.

They killed 45 Communist troops in their advance up the three-mile-long ridge, military sources told UPI correspondent Stewart Kellerman. The sources said 83 Communists had been killed in the battle for the ridge line since it began Wednesday night.

American helicopters poured in rocket and machinegun fire on the Communist defenders as the ARVN soldiers moved up the hill. U.S. fighter-bombers bombed and strafed the dug-in Communists.

Several choppers were hit by ground fire but all reached safety, Kellerman was told. Late in the day, fighting for the ridge eased. ARVN soldiers began sweeping the top of the ridge though parts of it remained in Communist hands.

At the southeastern end of the A Shau Valley, 375 miles north of Saigon, infantrymen forming the other claw of the ARVN pincer reported killing seven Communists today.

U.S. helicopter gunships prowling the skies of South Vietnam from the Mekong Delta to the DMZ (Demilitarized Zone) pounced on four Communist units Thursday and claimed 31 kills, U.S. military spokesmen said today.

One U.S. helicopter crewman was wounded in the four encounters. But in a fifth, a gunship was shot down near Pleiku in the Central Highlands, killing two crewmen.

All told, the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands claimed 159 Communists killed in South Vietnam and Cambodia Thursday at a cost of 15 South Vietnamese and two American dead.

The only American ground combat casualties reported for the day were three infantrymen wounded in a Communist rocket attach near the DMZ. The pattern reflected the declining U.S. ground combat role in Indochina — and the continuing air role.

The U.S. 101st airborne division, for example, is supporting the 38-day-old South Vietnamese campaign in the A Shau Valley, 375 miles north of Saigon. Most of that is helicopter support.

Nixon Praises Rescue Of Flag

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Marcy Taylor, the suntanned blonde who rescued an American flag, got a letter of praise Thursday from President Nixon.

Miss Taylor, 25, would not reveal the letter's contents, but said they were complimentary.

The security analyst's assistant at the Bank of America became an instant heroine May 5 when she plunged into a group of antiwar demonstrators to rescue a burning flag. She beat out the flames with her bare hands.

And that was just two weeks after she had joined 150,000 persons in a San Francisco peace parade.

Soledad Slaying Spurs Criticism

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Officials at Soledad Prison, whre a prison administrator was slain Wednesday, have been accused of being slack in handling potential trouble at the correctional institution.

Loren V. Smith, general manager, California State Employees' Association (CSEA), charged that Soledad officials have not paid sufficient attention to indications that trouble was imminent.

"Correctional professionals say there always is early waring if discontent and trouble," Smith said. "Reportedly, searches late last week turned up 19 knives in Soledad."

Kenneth E. Conant, 49, a program administrator, was fatally stabbed in the back of the head and two other officials were wounded. Two inmates are being held for investigation of murder.

The 113,000-member orgaization which Smith heads recommended major reforms in management and administrative procedures at the prison.

The group urged a speed up in the appintment of Walter T. Stone as prison superintendent. Stone, currently acting superintendent at California Institution for Men in Chino, is scheduled to take over at Soledad in July.

The CSEA also recommended:

—Mandatory lockup of all inmates who are under heavy medication.

— Increase efficiency in screening all visitors to the institution.

—Absolute control of tools and all metal throughout the prison.

U. S. Consultate March In Montreal Erupts In Clash

MONTREAL (UPI)—About 25 demonstrators and eight policemen were injured late Thursday when a planned antiwar protest march on an American consulate here erupted in a violent clash.

More than 70 of the marchers were arrested. Authorities said they would be charged for offenses ranging from resisting arrest to refusing to circulate.

The demonstration was organized to protest American involvement in the Vietnam War. The planned march had hardly begun before demonstrators and police clashed.

About 150 persons gathered at St. Louis Square in downtown Montreal and, without a parade permit, attempted to march to the American Consulate on nearby MacGregor Street.

Just as the march began, some of the front rank demonstrators, brandishing blocks of wood as clubs, reportedly attacked a small force of policemen.

The Montreal Police Departmet Riot Control Squad moved in quickly and routed the attackers. About 40 demonstrators were arrested immediately and taken to police headquarters.

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Officials at Soledad Prison, whre a prison administrator was slain Wednesday, have been accused of being slack in handling potential trouble at the correctional institution.

Loren V. Smith, general manager, California State Employees' Association (CSEA), charged that Soledad officials have not paid sufficient attention to indications that trouble was imminent.

"Correctional professionals say there always is early waring if discontent and trouble," Smith said. "Reportedly, searches late last week turned up 19 knives in Soledad."

Kenneth E. Conant, 49, a program administrator, was fatally stabbed in the back of the head and two other officials were wounded. Two inmates are being held for investigation of murder.

The 113,000-member orgaization which Smith heads recommended major reforms in management and administrative procedures at the prison.

The group urged a speed up in the appintment of Walter T. Stone as prison superintendent. Stone, currently acting superintendent at California Institution for Men in Chino, is scheduled to take over at Soledad in July.

The CSEA also recommended:

—Mandatory lockup of all inmates who are under heavy medication.

— Increase efficiency in screening all visitors to the intitution.

—Absolute control of tools and all metal throughout the prison.

U. S. Consultate March In Montreal Erupts In Clash

MONTREAL (UPI)—About 25 demonstrators and eight policemen were injured late Thursday when a planned antiwar protest march on an American consulate here erupted in a violent clash.

More than 70 of the marchers were arrested. Authorities said they would be charged for offenses ranging from resisting arrest to refusing to circulate.

The demonstration was organized to protest American involvement in the Vietnam War. The planned march had hardly begun before demonstrators and police clashed.

About 150 persons gathered at St. Louis Square in downtown Montreal and, without a parade permit, attempted to march to the American Consulate on nearby MacGregor Street.

Just as the march began, some of the front rank demonstrators, brandishing blocks of wood as clubs, reportedly attacked a small force of policemen.

The Montreal Police Department Riot Control Squad moved in quickly and routed the attackers. About 40 demonstrators were arrested immediately and taken to police headquarters.

Public Opposition To Fill Stirred

By GEORGE NEVIN

SAN FRANCISCO — Amendments to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission's Bay Plan that would relax certain restrictions on filling ran into stiff opposition yesterday at a public hearing.

Commissioners responded by asking the BDCD staff to tighten the proposed amendments and set more discussion and a possible vote for June 3.

At least a dozen speakers, many representing neighborhood, conservation and civic groups, opposed the amendments during the 90-minute hearing.

Many speakers began their remarks by praising the commission for its efforts to preserve San Francisco Bay, and then urged it to "hold the line" against further bay encroachment.

Under consideration is an amendment that would allow construction of new pile-supported piers or buildings, provided compensating open water were created by removal of obsolete pile-supported structures in the bay.

Solid fill also was to have been discussed, but commissioners voted to delay consideration until the pier question is settled.

The amendment drafts considered yesterday would require the new fill to cover less than the area and bulk (amount out of the water) of the fill to be removed, but many persons asked commissioners not to allow any new piers, even replacements for old ones.

Many expressed fear that approval of the amendments would open the door for such projects as the controversial Ferry Port Plaza, rejected by the commission. The City of San Francisco and the San Francisco Port Authority have sued BCDC over that decision.

Speaking against the amendments were representatives of the Sierra Club, the Marin Conservation League, the Save San Francisco Bay Association, San Francisco Tomorrow, the Associated Sportsmen of California and residents of San Francisco's Telegraph and Portrero Hills.

One witness, R. Spencer Steele, representing the San Francisco Planning Department, favored the amendments, but asked modifications to eliminate what he termed "vague language."

Joseph E. Bodovitz, the commission's executive director, noted that 366 letters and telegrams, petitions with 1,443 signatures and nine cities and 16 organizations opposed the amendments. Of particular interest to commissioners was a letter from Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, who played a key role in BCDC's creation.

Knox wrote that he was "seriously concerned about the replacement policy" and said he feared it would "open up the bay for additional filling."

The revised amendments will be considered by the commission at 2 p.m., June 3 in Room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

BCDC Approve Berths For Richardson Bay Houseboats

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Permits to bring three Richardson Bay houseboat colonies up to Marin County standards and allow the floating homes to connect to sewers were approved yesterday.

The Bay Conservation and Development Commission voted 17-3 to authorize replacing old docks, constructing additional ones and sewer lines to serve them and filling a total of 2.91 acres of the Bay for parking, landscaping and public access.

Also to be constructed is a bicycle and pedestrian pathway along the shoreline. The houseboats, many of which now dump raw sewage into the shallow bay, will receive sewer service from the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District.

Yesterday's BCDC action will allow George Kappas, Donlon J. Arques and Miriam M. Tellis to moor up to 40 more houseboats at Gates 5, 6 and 6½, commission staff estimated.

The exact number of houseboats now on the three properties and the number that would be allowed by the commission's action mystified several commissioners.

Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum said Robert Larson, the county's full-time houseboat inspector, estimates the area now contains 321 houseboats, compared to 385 in January 1969.

Although permits approved by BCDC yesterday technically would allow up to 406 berths, Executive Director Joseph E. Bodovitz said another factor will limit them to about 361.

The reason Bodovitz said, is that only about 2.91 acres of new fill will be given over to parking, thus allowing somewhat fewer parking places than requested by Mrs. Tellis, Arques and Kappas. Since Marin County's marina ordinance specifies 1.2 parking spaces per houseboat, the amount of parking will determine the number of houseboats. His staff cannot predict exact figures on the number of parking spaces, however, Bodovitz said.

A 1.5-acre area, at the entrance to the Kappas Yacht Harbor, would be filled for parking, he said, but this lies above high tide most of the time and is rarely inundated.

One condition tacked onto the permits by BDCD staff and approved by commissioners is that all new houseboats must remain floating free at all stages of the tide.

Existing boats, however, will be allowed to rest on the bay bottom at low tide after they are towed into their new berths, however.

Supervisor Wornum made a strong plea for approval.

"These boats have been a pain in the neck and a problem for a long time,'' he said. "These permits are not the end of the problem but the beginning of the solution."

For years, he said, houseboat owners have been reluctant to improve their property because they lacked assurance that the boats would be allowed to continue.

"We now hope the property owners will clean up their areas," he said.

Wornum and Marin's other two BCDC representatives, Tiburon City Councilman Branwell D. Fanning and Belvedere Mayor Thomas S. Price, also voted in favor of the permits.

Seven Girls In Rodeo Queen Race

Seven girls will compete tomorrow to become 1971 Western Weekend Rodeo Queen at 1 p.m. at the Novato Horsemen's arena, Bugeia and H lanes. A queen and two princesses will be selected to lead the grand entry parade at the rodeo June 20.

They will be judged on neatness of appearance of horse, tack and rider and on horsemanship.

The entrants are:

Jill Kimbell, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Belluci, a San Marin High School senior who was 1970 president of the Junior Horsemen's Association.

Margie Smith, 16, daughter of Charlotte J. Smith, a junior at San Marin High School and a member of the Colts and Fillies 4-H Club.

Bambi Anderson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Anderson, a ninth grader at Sinaloa Junior High School and a member of the Junior Horsemen's Association, American Horseshow Association, and Pacific Coast Hunter, Jumper and Stock Horse Association.

Quartet Loses Appeal In Seashore Deer Stalking

An appeal and a petition for rehearing of the appeal by four men convicted last year of stalking white deer on Point Reyes National Sashore land have been denied by the appellate division of Marin Superior Court.

Dr. Millard R. Ottinger, 78, and Douglas G. Adams, 27, both of San Rafael; Cecil W. Fullilove, 52, of Greenbrae, and James R. Aman, 32, of Point Reyes Station, were found guilty last Oct. 30 and fined $100 each by Judge David R. Baty of West Marin Justice Court. He suspended half of Aman's fine, and suspended execution of all of the sentences pending the appeal.

Ottinger is a retired San Rafael physician who sold 1,970 acres of seashore land holdings to the federal government earlier in 1970. Fullilove retired last year as district director of the U.S. Immigration office in San Francisco. Adams is a realty broker and Aman a truck driver.

The men claimed in their appeal that Ottinger had a permit to use the land, although he sold it, and that it was he who introduced the white deer to the seashore in the 1940's, and thus they were his deer. They further claimed that they were not hunting when they were cited Aug. 16, but rather were looking for stray cattle.

The four were cited after they were seen with rifles on Inverness Ridge.

In a reply brief, Deputy Dist. Atty. Raymond E. Gilbert contended that Ottinger's permit was for grazing cattle only and that evidence indicated the men were on the seashore land for the purpose of hunting.

The conviction, which was under a state Fish and Game statute which prohibits carrying weapons on lands closed to hunting, was upheld April 30 by Judges Thomas F. Keating, E. Warren McGuire and Henry J. Broderick, sitting as the superior court's appellate division. A petition for rehearing of the appeal was denied Tuesday but in a 3-2 ruling, with Judge Keating dissenting.

Keating said he had changed his mind and believed that since Ottinger did have a permit to use the land, the action of the defendants was a violation of that permit, which is not a crime covered by state law.

Couple Reports No Illness From Dosages Of DDT

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—A pest exterminator and his wife who said they consumed relatively large amounts of DDT for 93 days reported Thursday they suffered no ill effects.

"We have undergone biopsies and check-ups and there have been no deleterious effects," said Robert Loibl, 60. "In fact, during the 93 days, we didn't have any illness, not even a sniffle."

Loibl and his wife, Louise, 44, took 10 milligrams of the pesticide every day for 93 days to show it was not dangerous to humans.

They said they had consumed, during the three-month period, the amount of DDT the average person would take in during an 83-year period.

Public Opposition To Fill Stirred

By GEORGE NEVIN

SAN FRANCISCO — Amendments to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission's Bay Plan that would relax certain restrictions on filling ran into stiff opposition yesterday at a public hearing.

Commissioners responded by asking the BDCD staff to tighten the proposed amendments and set more discussion and a possible vote for June 3.

At least a dozen speakers, many representing neighborhood, conservation and civic groups, opposed the amendments during the 90-minute hearing.

Many speakers began their remarks by praising the commission for its efforts to preserve San Francisco Bay, and then urged it to "hold the line" against further bay encroachment.

Under consideration is an amendment that would allow construction of new pile-supported piers or buildings, provided compensating open water were created by removal of obsolete pile-supported structures in the bay.

Solid fill also was to have been discussed, but commissioners voted to delay consideration until the pier question is settled.

The amendment drafts considered yesterday would require the new fill to cover less than the area and bulk (amount out of the water) of the fill to be removed, but many persons asked commissioners not to allow any new piers, even replacements for old ones.

Many expressed fear that approval of the amendments would open the door for such projects as the controversial Ferry Port Plaza, rejected by the commission. The City of San Francisco and the San Francisco Port Authority have sued BCDC over that decision.

Speaking against the amendments were representatives of the Sierra Club, the Marin Conservation League, the Save San Francisco Bay Association, San Francisco Tomorrow, the Associated Sportsmen of California and residents of San Francisco's Telegraph and Portrero Hills.

One witness, R. Spencer Steele, representing the San Francisco Planning Department, favored the amendments, but asked modifications to eliminate what he termed "vague language."

Joseph E. Bodovitz, the commission's executive director, noted that 366 letters and telegrams, petitions with 1,443 signatures and nine cities and 16 organizations opposed the amendments. Of particular interest to commissioners was a letter from Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, who played a key role in BCDC's creation.

Knox wrote that he was "seriously concerned about the replacement policy" and said he feared it would "open up the bay for additional filling."

The revised amendments will be considered by the commission at 2 p.m., June 3 in Room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

BCDC Approve Berths For Richardson Bay Houseboats

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Permits to bring three Richardson Bay houseboat colonies up to Marin County standards and allow the floating homes to connect to sewers were approved yesterday.

The Bay Conservation and Development Commission voted 17-3 to authorize replacing old docks, constructing additional ones and sewer lines to serve them and filling a total of 2.91 acres of the Bay for parking, landscaping and public access.

Also to be constructed is a bicycle and pedestrian pathway along the shoreline. The houseboats, many of which now dump raw sewage into the shallow bay, will receive sewer service from the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District.

Yesterday's BCDC action will allow George Kappas, Donlon J. Arques and Miriam M. Tellis to moor up to 40 more houseboats at Gates 5, 6 and 6½, commission staff estimated.

The exact number of houseboats now on the three properties and the number that would be allowed by the commission's action mystified several commissioners.

Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum said Robert Larson, the county's full-time houseboat inspector, estimates the area now contains 321 houseboats, compared to 385 in January 1969.

Although permits approved by BCDC yesterday technically would allow up to 406 berths, Executive Director Joseph E. Bodovitz said another factor will limit them to about 361.

The reason Bodovitz said, is that only about 2.91 acres of new fill will be given over to parking, thus allowing somewhat fewer parking places than requested by Mrs. Tellis, Arques and Kappas. Since Marin County's marina ordinance specifies 1.2 parking spaces per houseboat, the amount of parking will determine the number of houseboats. His staff cannot predict exact figures on the number of parking spaces, however, Bodovitz said.

A 1.5-acre area, at the entrance to the Kappas Yacht Harbor, would be filled for parking, he said, but this lies above high tide most of the time and is rarely inundated.

One condition tacked onto the permits by BDCD staff and approved by commissioners is that all new houseboats must remain floating free at all stages of the tide.

Existing boats, however, will be allowed to rest on the bay bottom at low tide after they are towed into their new berths, however.

Supervisor Wornum made a strong plea for approval.

"These boats have been a pain in the neck and a problem for a long time,'' he said. "These permits are not the end of the problem but the beginning of the solution.''

For years, he said, houseboat owners have been reluctant to improve their property because they lacked assurance that the boats would be allowed to continue.

"We now hope the property owners will clean up their areas," he said.

Wornum and Marin's other two BCDC representatives, Tiburon City Councilman Branwell D. Fanning and Belvedere Mayor Thomas S. Price, also voted in favor of the permits.

Cost Of Living Jumps On Food, Clothes Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The cost of living rose 0.3 per cent in April, equaling the sharpest one-month advance this year, the Labor Department reported today. Higher prices for food and clothing were largely blamed.

While the rise in the consumer price index was the biggest since a similar increase in January, it was well below the pace of 1970 when the nation was in the grips of the worst inflation since the Korean war.

Food prices increased by 0.9 per cent last month. If the advance continued at that rate for a full year, the annual food increase would be almost 12 per cent, meaning tht a typical food item costing $1 last month would cost $1.12 by next spring.

The cost of clothing increased 0.4 per cent last month, led by a jump of 0.8 per cent in men's and boys' apparel. Women's and girls' clothing increased 0.3 per cent.

The government's gauge of consumer prices stood in April at 120.2 per cent of the 1967 average, up from 119.8 per cent in March. That meant it cost $12.02 to buy the same goods and services that $10 brought in 1967.

The April index was 4.3 per cent above April, 1970, representing the smallest over-the-year change since August, 1967, to August, 1968.

Last year, monthly increases averaged close to 0.5 per cent.

The increases in food and clothing prices were partially offset by declines in home mortgage interst rates and the price of gasoline. New car prices declined —normal for this time of the year —but used car prices increased.

Gross weekly earnings of production and nonsupervisory workers averaged $124.75, up 73 cents from March, although the average work week was unchanged. After adjustments for price increases, purchasing power increased by 0.3 per cent.

The annual rate of increase for the three months ending in April was 2.8 per cent, the same as the previous three months which was the smallest such increase since the three-month period ending in June, 1967.

Grocery prices rose 0.9 per cent in April, primarily because of a greater than seasonal advance in fresh fruit and vegetable prices. Prices of beef, veal, cereal, bakery products and dairy products increased instead of declining as they usually do in April. Pork and egg prices declined more than seasonally.

About 72,700 workers wil receive cost of living pay increases as a result of the April report, the Labor Department said.

NATO forces," pending results of the SALT talks.

Laird said Thursday's agreement "encouraged and heartened me."

Secretary of State William P. Rogers also spoke of the announcement as "holding out the hope for arms limitation . .. the hope of peace."

Rogers made hopeful remarks about the agreement at a dinner for diplomats Thursday night at the State Department with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin among guests. Dobrynin was asked if he agreed it was good news.

"Yes, I think so," he replied.

Smith has been in Washington for about 10 days for consultations since the last full Soviet American talks in Vienna May 7. This round of negotiations was scheduled to end May 31.

With fresh instructions based on the agreement, Smith was due back in Vienna at 1 a. m. Saturday, Vienna time.

But terms of the agreement remained a diplomatic mystery since officials would not elaborate on the joint statement.

The statement said simply:

"The governments of the United States and the Soviet Union, after reviewing the course of their talks on the limitations of strategic armament, have agreed to concentrate this year on working out an agreement for the limitation of the deployment of antiballistic missile systems. They have also agreed that together with the concluding of an agreement to limit antiballistic missile systems, they will agree on certain measures with respect to the limitation of offensive strategic weapons."

But the official statement also said that during the current year both sides would concentrate on working out an agreement limiting only the ABM systems of both countries. This is what the Soviets have been after.

There was an obvious ambiguity in the joint Soviet-American statement which permitted it to be interpreted in several ways without actually revealing its true substance.

Seal Jury Has Testimony Read

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)— Addtional testimony was read today to a jury deliberating the fate of Black Panthers Bobby G. Seale and Mrs. Ericka Huggins in the torture death of alleged police informer Alex Rackley.

The jurors listened again for about one hour to the testimony given by Mrs. Huggins—they heard four hours of it Thursday —and then to three pages of cross examination involving a tape recorded interrogation of Rackley by other Black Panthers in their headquarters here.

After hearing the testimony read from the transcript by a court reporter, the jury returned to its room to resume deliberations which bgan Wednesday.

Stalemate Broken On Draft Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate broke a stalemate on the draft bill today and agreed to strict time limits on six pending amendments to the measure.

The action improved chances for passage of the two-year extension of the draft law which is scheduled to expire June 30.

Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, however, renewed his threat to filibuster the measure until the existing authority expires.

A Draft Reagan Drive Is Opened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A drive to draft California's Gov Ronald Reagan for the presidency was announced Wednesday by Young Americans fo Freedom, a conservative organization.

Ronald F. Docksai, YAF chairman, said a "Reagan in '72" committee had been formed in Houston, the first of several which will advocate that Republicans nominate Reagan.

Many YAF members suported President Nixon in 1968, Docksai said, but "we have seen the Nixon Administration reject the original Republican Party platform of that year in a desperate effort to satisfy leftist critics of both major parties."

City Challenge In Desegregation Order By Judge

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Board of Education voted 4-3 Thursday night to challenge a court order concerning the September desegregation of the city's 102 elementary schools.

The order, handed down by District Judge Stanley Weigel, also calls for the board to come up with a desegregation plan for elementary schools by June 10.

The board directed its 65-member advisory committee to draw up a desegregation plan for 11 San Francisco schools for September 1972.

The board will ask for a stay to file an appeal. The judge has denied several motion for a stay.

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine

Special features you'll enjoy:

The Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine tomorrow resumes the publication of a series of manuscripts completed by Historian Florence Donnelly, prior to her death. This week's subject: that part of Marin that lies "on the other side of the mountain." Specifically, the communities of Muir Beach, Stinson Beach and Bolinas. It is a fascinating story of an area that is as rich historically as it is beautiful scenically.

Also tomorrow, the I-J's weekend supplement continues its popular "Profile of a Marinite" series, spotlighting prominent and interesting residents of the county. The subject will be James W. L. Park, associate warden of San Quentin Prison. He's a man with some provocative ideas on penology. And I-J reporter Mary Leydecker has written the story of Jim Park, psychologist turned prison administrator.

Cost Of Living Jumps On Food, Clothes Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The cost of living rose 0.3 per cent in April, equaling the sharpest one-month advance this year, the Labor Department reported today. Higher prices for food and clothing were largely blamed.

While the rise in the consumer price index was the biggest since a similar increase in January, it was well below the pace of 1970 when the nation was in the grips of the worst inflation since the Korean war.

Food prices increased by 0.9 per cent last month. If the advance continued at that rate for a full year, the annual food increase would be almost 12 per cent, meaning tht a typical food item costing $1 last month would cost $1.12 by next spring.

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine

Special features you'll enjoy:

The Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine tomorrow resumes the publication of a series of manuscripts completed by Historian Florence Donnelly, prior to her death. This week's subject: that part of Marin that lies "on the other side of the mountain." Specifically, the communities of Muir Beach, Stinson Beach and Bolinas. It is a fascinating story of an area that is as rich historically as it is beautiful scenically.

Also tomorrow, the I-J's weekend supplement continues its popular "Profile of a Marinite" series, spotlighting prominent and interesting residents of the county. The subject will be James W. L. Park, associate warden of San Quentin Prison. He's a man with some provocative ideas on penology. And I-J reporter Mary Leydecker has written the story of Jim Park, psychologist turned prison administrator.

Joint Fire Service Urged

By PAT ANGLE

Consolidation of four Southern Marin fire departments into a single department to serve the entire area would mean more effective, efficient fire service and could become a reality within two years, according to a comprehensive study released this week.

The 173-page report was prepared by Louis E. Almgren of the Oakland fire consultant firm of Gage-Babcock and Associates at the request of fire officials in Mill Valley, Marin City, Sausalito and Tamalpais Valley.

Almgren said a single, consolidated fire department in Southern Marin could offer many advantages, among them fewer fire stations, improved distribution of manpower, better coordination of firefighting efforts.

In addition, the consultant said a single department could provide better training facilities, improved record keeping systems, uniform fire regulations and enforcement throughout the area and more efficient administration and equipment maintenance. Money could be saved through large volume purchases and standardization of parts and equipment, he added.

According to Almgren, a consolidated fire service would cost about the same amount of money to operate as the four separate existing fire agencies which now serve the area. He estimated a consolidated fire department would cost $795,750 a year and require an area-wide tax rate of 85 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The four existing departments cost a total of $837,105 to operate in 1970-71 and fire tax rates in Southern Marin ranged from 34 cents for Main City now served by the county fire department to $1.05 in Tamalpais Valley.

The most frequently cited disadvantages, the researcher said, are "the loss of control of fire service by each of the smaller units of government (cities and districts) and "the lack of responsiveness to local problems generally inherent in larger organizations."

Almgren said other arguments against consolidation include: Some loss of familiarity with local fire problems, possible increase time in responding to fires because of greater distances and morale and personnel problems resulting from creation of a single, large department.

The consolidation of fire services has worked well and effectively, with relatively few problems, in Contra Costa, Santa Clara and Los Angeles counties, he said.

He also noted that consolidation will improve fire insurance rates in the areas served by the combined department, particularly for commercial and industrial properties. Owners of properties now served by the Marin County Fire Department could expect about a 50 per cent reduction in insurance rates, he said.

The consolidation plan proposed by Almgren calls for three centrally-located fire stations: One in northern Sausalito, one near the intersection of Shoreline Highway and Miller Avenue and a third in Mill Valley (the current station). As an alternative, Sausalito's main fire station could remain where it is now located, he said, and the fire station the county plans to build in Marin City could be utilized as a fourth facility in the network.

As population increases, the study suggests additional stations in Tennessee Valley, Panoramic Highway area and the Marincello area north of Fort Barry.

Approximately 21 pieces of fire equipment including four engines, four squad units, three pumpers, one tanker and one ladder truck would suffice to serve the needs of a combined department, the study showed. Currently the four Southern Marin departments have 28 pieces of equipment in service.

Total number of paid personnel would increase from 26 to 35 under the consolidation plan which calls for a fire chief and assistant chief, nine fire captains, nine engineers, 14 firemen and one secretary. Thirty-five volunteers would be needed, the same number now used by the four departments.

The first stage of the plan could be completed by 1973, according to the timetable included in the study and would include a new headquarter station (300,000) and training and maintenance facilities ($250,000). Almgren recommended that both Tamalpais fire stations and Sausalito's Station Number 2 be abandoned and sold. With the return from property sales, he estimated the total cost of phase one would come to $470,000.

Capital costs for the second recommended phase — for future expansion — would total $1,030,000 and could be spread out over a five year period, according to the consultant.

The second phase would include a new fire station for Sausalito (if the city decides to abandon its main station for a more northern facility) and the three other proposed stations.

Most Southern Marin fire chiefs had not yet completed their study of the bulky reports and preferred to withhold comment. But Sausalito Fire Chief Charles E. Masten stressed the study by Almgren was "only a proposal."

Regions In Peru

LIMA (UPI)—Peru has three distinctive geographic regions —a coastal desert, central mountains and eastern jungles. Ironically, most of the people live on the coastal desert, where in some places it rains only once in every 100 years.

Two Regents Targets Of Park Blast

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The University of California regents have been accused by two new radicl members of the Berkeley City Council of trying to "maintain continuing public confrontations" over People's Park.

At a news conference, Ira Simmons and D'Army Bailey denounced both the regents and Gov. Ronald Reagan for their opposition to turning the university property into a city park.

"The property is really owned by the citizens of California which include the citizens of Berkeley and should be used in accordance with the wishes of the people," Bailey said.

Last Saturday, demonstrators protesting the fencing off of the property clashed with police after a rally marking the second anniversary of the People's Park riots.

Both Bailey and Simmons called for the City of Berkeley to declare the fence a public nuisance, have it torn down and bill the regents for the cost of removing it. Such a proposal was rejected by the city council earlier this week. The council insted named a committee to discuss the problem with the regents.

Assemblyman Leon Ralph, DLos Angeles, joined the councilmen in calling Regan "a political demagogue" for commenting on the problem. They said the governor should concentrate on state issues and stay out of local problems.

Young Man Maims Himself On Drugs

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Charles Innis Jr., 25, the son of a prominent Massachusetts politician, took an overdose of an animal tranquilizer and pulled his eyeballs from their sockets Thursday in the City Jail, police said.

Innis underwent surgery Thursday, but officials at Maryland Geneal Hospital declined comment on their chances for saving his sight.

Innis father is general counsel to the Massachusetts' House of Representatives.

Innis, who complained to a neighbor of poor eyesight Saturday, was arrested Wednesday while wandering nude near the apartment of a girlfriend, Mandy Shea.

Police said he was under the influence of an animal tranquilizer often passed off by drug dealers as THC, the synthetic form of marijuana. The tranquilizer makes those who take it impervious to pain and very depressed.

Lawrence Overby, turnkey at the central district police lockup, said he checked Innis' cell early Thursday because inmates in the section had been making noise.

"He had taken his eyes out," Overby said."His eyes were sitting on his cheeks and he was squeezing them with his fingers."

Miss Shea's landlady watched police arrest the naked young man Wednesday night. She said "he was holding onto the policeman like a child afraid. It was pitiful."

Police said Innis was taken to Mercy Hospital. Doctors examined him, said he should have psychiatric treatment, but gave him no medication.

"Mercy Hospital said he was on some kind of drug, he should be taken back to the station, and it would wear off," said Police Lt. Andrew Arnold, night shift commander.

Miss Shea said she believed Innis still was under the influence of an animal tranquilizer he took Friday night, May 14. Police raided his apartment that night and charged him with possession of marijuana. He was treated at Union Memorial Hospital and released late Saturday.

That night a neighbor showed him a newspaper story about his arrest. The neighbor, who asked not to be identified, said Innis asked to have the story read to him because he was having trouble with his eyes and could not read.

None of the hospitals where he was treated in the last week could say if he had complained of his eyes to a doctor.

Handles Help Protect Ears

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Employes at the General Electric Lamp Division plant here are wearing handles on their ears.

The handles are worn on plastic ears which cover their real ears and protect them against noise.

Isaac Matelky, manager of environmental control at the plant, developed a plastic that can be softened, fitted to an individual's ear and then hardened to hold shape permanently.

He attached handles to help slip the flesh colored, washable ears on and off.

Actor Proves He Has Heart

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Milburn Stone, who underwent open heart surgery in March, says he has recovered and plans to go back to work in time to resume his role as "Doc" on television's Gunsmoke series next winter.

Stone, 66, told newsmen in his room at the University of Alabama Hospital Thursday he "feels better than I guess I am supposed to" and will return to his Hollywood home Sunday.

Wine Importer Lands In Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Federal liquor and importer permits have been suspended for 90 days for BercutVandervoort & Co. because imported wines were mislabeled, the Internal Revenue Service announced Thursday.

The service said the Montgomery Street wine store put labels of Armand-Roux-Pommard, limited production wine, on bottles containing the more plentiful Armand-Roux-Gevrey-chambertin wine.

Only a connoisseur could distinguish between the two wines, the service added.

Check On Auto Fraud Pays Off

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An auto repair fraud crackdown using undercover agents in unmarked cars with specific malfunctions has netted 10 suspects in the first six weeks of operation.

Police Sgt. Ken Carpenter said the investigation is aimed at finding mechanics who charged for unnecessary operations or for parts not installed in the auto.

The unmarked cars are inspected by police mechanics before and after they are serviced at auto repair shops chosen at random.

Carpenter said Thursday there had been three felony and seven misdemeanor arrests so far.

The 173-page report was prepared by Louis E. Almgren of the Oakland fire consultant firm of Gage-Babcock and Associates at the request of fire officials in Mill Valley, Marin City, Sausalito and Tamalpais Valley.

Almgren said a single, consolidated fire department in Southern Marin could offer many advantages, among them fewer fire stations, improved distribution of manpower, better coordination of firefighting efforts.

In addition, the consultant said a single department could provide better training facilities, improved record keeping systems, uniform fire regulations and enforcement throughout the area and more efficient administration and equipment maintenance. Money could be saved through large volume purchases and standardization of parts and equipment, he added.

According to Almgren, a consolidated fire service would cost about the same amount of money to operate as the four separate existing fire agencies which now serve the area. He estimated a consolidated fire department would cost $795,750 a year and require an area-wide tax rate of 85 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The four existing departments cost a total of $837,105 to operate in 1970-71 and fire tax rates in Southern Marin ranged from 34 cents for Main City now served by the county fire department to $1.05 in Tamalpais Valley.

The most frequently cited disadvantages, the researcher said, are "the loss of control of fire service by each of the smaller units of government (cities and districts) and "the lack of responsiveness to local problems generally inherent in larger organizations."

Almgren said other arguments against consolidation include: Some loss of familiarity with local fire problems, possible increase time in responding to fires because of greater distances and morale and personnel problems resulting from creation of a single, large department.

The consolidation of fire services has worked well and effectively, with relatively few problems, in Contra Costa, Santa Clara and Los Angeles counties, he said.

He also noted that consolidation will improve fire insurance rates in the areas served by the combined department, particularly for commercial and industrial properties. Owners of properties now served by the Marin County Fire Department could expect about a 50 per cent reduction in insurance rates, he said.

The consolidation plan proposed by Almgren calls for three centrally-located fire stations: One in northern Sausalito, one near the intersection of Shoreline Highway and Miller Avenue and a third in Mill Valley (the current station). As an alternative, Sausalito's main fire station could remain where it is now located, he said, and the fire station the county plans to build in Marin City could be utilized as a fourth facility in the network.

As population increases, the study suggests additional stations in Tennessee Valley, Panoramic Highway area and the Marincello area north of Fort Barry.

Approximately 21 pieces of fire equipment including four engines, four squad units, three pumpers, one tanker and one ladder truck would suffice to serve the needs of a combined department, the study showed.

Currently the four Southern Marin departments have 28 pieces of equipment in service.

Total number of paid personnel would increase from 26 to 35 under the consolidation plan which calls for a fire chief and assistant chief, nine fire captains, nine engineers, 14 firemen and one secretary. Thirty-five volunteers would be needed, the same number now used by the four departments.

The first stage of the plan could be completed by 1973, according to the timetable included in the study and would include a new headquarter station (300,000) and training and maintenance facilities ($250,000). Almgren recommended that both Tamalpais fire stations and Sausalito's Station Number 2 be abandoned and sold. With the return from property sales, he estimated the total cost of phase one would come to $470,000.

Capital costs for the second recommended phase — for future expansion — would total $1,030,000 and could be spread out over a five year period, according to the consultant.

The second phase would include a new fire station for Sausalito (if the city decides to abandon its main station for a more northern facility) and the three other proposed stations.

Most Southern Marin fire chiefs had not yet completed their study of the bulky reports and preferred to withhold comment. But Sausalito Fire Chief Charles E. Masten stressed the study by Almgren was "only a proposal."

Regions In Peru

LIMA (UPI)—Peru has three distinctive geographic regions —a coastal desert, central mountains and eastern jungles. Ironically, most of the people live on the coastal desert, where in some places it rains only once in every 100 years.

Two Regents Targets Of Park Blast

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The University of California regents have been accused by two new radicl members of the Berkeley City Council of trying to "maintain continuing public confrontations" over People's Park.

At a news conference, Ira Simmons and D'Army Bailey denounced both the regents and Gov. Ronald Reagan for their opposition to turning the university property into a city park.

"The property is really owned by the citizens of California which include the citizens of Berkeley and should be used in accordance with the wishes of the people," Bailey said.

Last Saturday, demonstrators protesting the fencing off of the property clashed with police after a rally marking the second anniversary of the People's Park riots.

Both Bailey and Simmons called for the City of Berkeley to declare the fence a public nuisance, have it torn down and bill the regents for the cost of removing it. Such a proposal was rejected by the city council earlier this week. The council insted named a committee to discuss the problem with the regents.

Assemblyman Leon Ralph, DLos Angeles, joined the councilmen in calling Regan "a political demagogue'' for commenting on the problem. They said the governor should concentrate on state issues and stay out of local problems.

Wine Importer Lands In Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Federal liquor and importer permits have been suspended for 90 days for BercutVandervoort & Co. because imported wines were mislabeled, the Internal Revenue Service announced Thursday.

The service said the Montgomery Street wine store put labels of Armand-Roux-Pommard, limited production wine, on bottles containing the more plentiful Armand-Roux-Gevrey-chambertin wine.

Only a connoisseur could distinguish between the two wines, the service added.

Young Man Maims Himself On Drugs

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Charles Innis Jr., 25, the son of a prominent Massachusetts politician, took an overdose of an animal tranquilizer and pulled his eyeballs from their sockets Thursday in the City Jail, police said.

Innis underwent surgery Thursday, but officials at Maryland Geneal Hospital declined comment on their chances for saving his sight.

Innis father is general counsel to the Massachusetts' House of Representatives.

Innis, who complained to a neighbor of poor eyesight Saturday, was arrested Wednesday while wandering nude near the apartment of a girlfriend, Mandy Shea.

Police said he was under the influence of an animal tranquilizer often passed off by drug dealers as THC, the synthetic form of marijuana. The tranquilizer makes those who take it impervious to pain and very depressed.

Lawrence Overby, turnkey at the central district police lockup, said he checked Innis' cell early Thursday because inmates in the section had been making noise.

"He had taken his eyes out," Overby said."His eyes were sitting on his cheeks and he was squeezing them with his fingers."

Miss Shea's landlady watched police arrest the naked young man Wednesday night. She said "he was holding onto the policeman like a child afraid. It was pitiful."

Police said Innis was taken to Mercy Hospital. Doctors examined him, said he should have psychiatric treatment, but gave him no medication.

"Mercy Hospital said he was on some kind of drug, he should be taken back to the station, and it would wear off," said Police Lt. Andrew Arnold, night shift commander.

Miss Shea said she believed Innis still was under the influence of an animal tranquilizer he took Friday night, May 14. Police raided his apartment that night and charged him with possession of marijuana. He was treated at Union Memorial Hospital and released late Saturday.

That night a neighbor showed him a newspaper story about his arrest. The neighbor, who asked not to be identified, said Innis asked to have the story read to him because he was having trouble with his eyes and could not read.

None of the hospitals where he was treated in the last week could say if he had complained of his eyes to a doctor.

Check On Auto Fraud Pays Off

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An auto repair fraud crackdown using undercover agents in unmarked cars with specific malfunctions has netted 10 suspects in the first six weeks of operation.

Police Sgt. Ken Carpenter said the investigation is aimed at finding mechanics who charged for unnecessary operations or for parts not installed in the auto.

The unmarked cars are inspected by police mechanics before and after they are serviced at auto repair shops chosen at random.

Carpenter said Thursday there had been three felony and seven misdemeanor arrests so far.

Handles Help Protect Ears

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Employes at the General Electric Lamp Division plant here are wearing handles on their ears.

The handles are worn on plastic ears which cover their real ears and protect them against noise.

Isaac Matelky, manager of environmental control at the plant, developed a plastic that can be softened, fitted to an individual's ear and then hardened to hold shape permanently.

He attached handles to help slip the flesh colored, washable ears on and off.

Actor Proves He Has Heart

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Milburn Stone, who underwent open heart surgery in March, says he has recovered and plans to go back to work in time to resume his role as "Doc" on television's Gunsmoke series next winter.

Stone, 66, told newsmen in his room at the University of Alabama Hospital Thursday he "feels better than I guess I am supposed to" and will return to his Hollywood home Sunday.

A 31-year-old unemployed carpenter was talked down from his perch 740 feet above the Golden Gate yesterday where he had climbed to dramatize his request to see his wife and two small children.

After threatening to jump from the main suspension cable near the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge and swinging on smaller safety cables in a dizzying display of acrobatics, he surrendered to a waiting California Highway Patrol officer and was led to safety.

The man, Daniel Patrick Clifford, of San Francisco, spoke briefly to newsmen before he was taken to Mount Zion Hospital's psychiatric ward.

"I wanted to see my wife and children," he said, adding without further explanation that he has not seen them since Tuesday.

The tense two-hour drama began at 1:15 p.m. when Clifford rode his blue bicycle to midspan and climbed onto the main cable where it dips almost to the sidewalk.

From that point he scaled the cable almost to the south tower, where he was seen by bridge employees. A highway patrol officer, David L. Peelo, followed him up the cable and attempted for an hour to talk him down.

"He was extremely agitated and emotional," Peelo said later. "He was yelling and screaming and performing acrobatics on the cable. After 60 minutes of cajoling and talking to him and several abortive attempts to get him off the cable, he finally came to the south tower."

Traffic backed up on the bridge as motorists slowed to gawk at the spectacle. The lane closest to the sidewalk was closed to vehicles.

At one point Clifford swung underneath the cable when approached by Peelo and bridge workers. He handed the officer a note asking them to call his wife. "Dear Anne," it read, "I need help. Please come before I jump. I want to see the children. Love, Dan."

Peelo said Clifford agreed to come down after he was promised assistance in locating his family.

Guilty Plea To Reckless Driving

Ferguson is to return to court June 18 for sentencing.

He was arrested, with Phillip McFarren, 20, of Novato, after a high speed chase on Lucas Valley Road March 5.

McFarren was sentenced last Friday to 30 days in Marin County Jail for his part in the incident, as well as for two other disorderly conduct charges.

Youth Held In Probe Of Burglary

A 13-year-old San Anselmo youth — known as "Pat the Hat" among his friends —was arrested today on suspicion of auto burglary, San Anselmo police reported.

According to officers, Patrick Shane Myers of 440 The Alameda was arrested at 3:30 a.m. after he and another unidentified youth were observed rifling a car owned by John Lee Storz of 219 The Alameda, San Anselmo.

Storz told officers he saw Myers and the other youth burglarizing his auto parked outside his home. After a short chase, officers said, Storz caught Myers and called police. The other youth was not caught.

Now Dwelling Zone For Diablo Triangle

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended planned residential zoning for the Diablo Triangle to insure development in keeping with the recently adopted downtown plan.

The area bounded by South Novato Boulevard, Diablo Avenue and Center Road is now zoned limited agriculture, multiple-family and retail commercial.

The downtown plan calls for apartment units in the area and a greenbelt along Warner Creek, which crosses the triangle.

The planning staff reported that rezoning doesn't apply to existing commercial uses at the Tresch Triangle or the 7-11 store at Diablo Avenue and Center Road.

Owners of the land zoned for commercial use have protested but the downtown plan opposes commercial growth at the site.

The commission also: approved the master plan for Norman T. Gilroy and Associates for Mendocino Gardens, 32 single-family units on 8.1 acres at the southwest corner of Novato Boulevard and Eucalyptus Avenue.

It approved the master plan, referred from the Marin County Planning Department, for the Del Pantano Industrial Park on 13 acres north of the main access road to Gnoss Field.

Innocent Pleas In Sit-In Case

Richard Alan Raznikov, 24, of San Rafael, and Thomas Louis Oleari, 22, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of failing to disperse and willfully obstructing a public place.

A jury trial was set for June 10, when they will be tried with five other persons also arrested May 5 during a sit-in at the San Rafael office of the U.S. Selective Service.

Twenty-six other persons arrested at the sit-in are to enter pleas to the same charges next Thursday.

Harbor Carriers' Injunction hit

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Harbor Carriers Inc. failed yesterday to get a court injunction to halt the Golden Gate Bridge District from expanding its ferry boat services on San Francisco Bay.

Judge Ira A. Brown Jr. of San Francisco Superior Court rejected the plea by the private firm which operates tour and commute boats on the bay.

Harbor Tours had sought to stop the bridge district from running ferries from Sausalito at any time except during peak-hour commuter periods.

It would have stopped any midday service and would have blocked ferry boat expansion plans of the bridge district which include both midday service as well as weekend.

Judge Brown in denying the injunction request agreed with the bridge's attorney, John Vlahos, that evidence introduced failed to show sufficient cause but he allowed Albert D. Elledge, president of Harbor Carriers, 30 days to file — an amended complaint.

Elledge said that Harbor Carriers' proposed Sausalito ferry service would not compete with the bridge district ferries for commuters.

"Our service will be for tourists and sightseers during the day rather than at peak commuter hours," he said.

A hearing on Harbor Carriers' request for landing facilities in Sausalito has been scheduled for 8 p.m. June 2.

Chamber Asks $8,000 From City Of Novato

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board voted yesterday to request the City of Novato to contribute $8,000 to the chamber during fiscal 1971-72.

President Charles Lewis said the city's contribution during the past year was $8,000 and recommended that the chamber seek the same amount.

Robert D. Anderson reported that the chamber's economic development committee is attempting to set up a meeting of officials from Marin and Sonoma counties on usues of the Petaluma River Basin.

Lewis announced the annual chamber dinner will be June 26 at Sportsman Lodge, north of Novato, with state Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, as speaker.

Connection Fee Hike Voted By Cotati Council

Sewer and water connection fees should be updated and increased, the Cotati City Council decided last night.

City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen said connection fees were lowered to $50 apiece three years ago in hope of luring development. He said the plan was unsuccessful and recommended the fees be increased to a more relaistic' figure of more than $100 each.

The council directed Salfen to contact neighboring cities to determine the prevailing rates and to make a recommendation.

The Cotati City Council also:

HALL USE Considered a policy for public use of the city hall auditorium, but said club meetings and dances may require an additional full time employee to supervise.

PARK FEE — Adopted an ordinance setting fees for park and recreation development to be levied along with building permits.

ZONING — Approved multi-family zoning for five lots on West Sierra and Valparaiso avenues as requested by S. H. Cervantes for the planned Casa Bonita subdivision.

College Honor Student Admits To Bomb Try

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (UPI)—A 20- year- old college honor student, who said he was trying to communicate" with the man on the street," confessed Thursday he tried to firebomb a bank and a newspaper building.

George Patterson, a curly haired near straight-A student being held in lieu of $50,000 bond on five felony charges, said he didn't intend to cause any damage.

"I'm not an anarchist—or a pyromaniac—and don't belong to any fringe political group," the Skyline College student said. "I think I blew it."

He admitted in a seven-page statement to police that he threw the two Molotov cocktails at the San Bruno Herald building Monday. They caused minor damage to the building's rof. The other incident was an attempted arson at a Bank of America branch May 4.

Jail Time On Drug Charge

David Thomas Hoff, 22, of Novato, was sentenced to six days in Marin County Jail yesterday after he pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of possessing narcotics paraphernalia.

Judge David Menary Jr. of Marin Municipal Court gave Hoff credit for time he has already spent in jail.

An additional misdemeanor charge of possessing marijuana was dismissed by Judge Menary at the request of the district attorney's office following Hoff's plea to the paraphernalia charge.

He was arrested in Novato May 13 when police stopped his car for a noisy muffler and lack of a 1971 license tag. Police said they found a suspected marijuana cigarette in his possession.

Now Dwelling Zone For Diablo Triangle

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended planned residential zoning for the Diablo Triangle to insure development in keeping with the recently adopted downtown plan.

The area bounded by South Novato Boulevard, Diablo Avenue and Center Road is now zoned limited agriculture, multiple-family and retail commercial.

The downtown plan calls for apartment units in the area and a greenbelt along Warner Creek, which crosses the triangle.

The planning staff reported that rezoning doesn't apply to existing commercial uses at the Tresch Triangle or the 7-11 store at Diablo Avenue and Center Road.

The commission also: approved the master plan for Norman T. Gilroy and Associates for Mendocino Gardens, 32 single-family units on 8.1 acres at the southwest corner of Novato Boulevard and Eucalyptus Avenue.

It approved the master plan, referred from the Marin County Planning Department, for the Del Pantano Industrial Park on 13 acres north of the main access road to Gnoss Field.

Innocent Pleas In Sit-In Case

Richard Alan Raznikov, 24, of San Rafael, and Thomas Louis Oleari, 22, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of failing to disperse and willfully obstructing a public place.

A jury trial was set for June 10, when they will be tried with five other persons also arrested May 5 during a sit-in at the San Rafael office of the U.S. Selective Service.

Twenty-six other persons arrested at the sit-in are to enter pleas to the same charges next Thursday.

Harbor Carriers' Injunction hit

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Harbor Carriers Inc. failed yesterday to get a court injunction to halt the Golden Gate Bridge District from expanding its ferry boat services on San Francisco Bay.

Judge Ira A. Brown Jr. of San Francisco Superior Court rejected the plea by the private firm which operates tour and commute boats on the bay.

Harbor Tours had sought to stop the bridge district from running ferries from Sausalito at any time except during peak-hour commuter periods.

It would have stopped any midday service and would have blocked ferry boat expansion plans of the bridge district which include both midday service as well as weekend.

Judge Brown in denying the injunction request agreed with the bridge's attorney, John Vlahos, that evidence introduced failed to show sufficient cause but he allowed Albert D. Elledge, president of Harbor Carriers, 30 days to file — an amended complaint.

Elledge said that Harbor Carriers' proposed Sausalito ferry service would not compete with the bridge district ferries for commuters.

"Our service will be for tourists and sightseers during the day rather than at peak commuter hours," he said.

A hearing on Harbor Carriers' request for landing facilities in Sausalito has been scheduled for 8 p.m. June 2.

Chamber Asks $8,000 From City Of Novato

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board voted yesterday to request the City of Novato to contribute $8,000 to the chamber during fiscal 1971-72.

President Charles Lewis said the city's contribution during the past year was $8,000 and recommended that the chamber seek the same amount.

Robert D. Anderson reported that the chamber's economic development committee is attempting to set up a meeting of officials from Marin and Sonoma counties on usues of the Petaluma River Basin.

Lewis announced the annual chamber dinner will be June 26 at Sportsman Lodge, north of Novato, with state Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, as speaker.

Connection Fee Hike Voted By Cotati Council

Sewer and water connection fees should be updated and increased, the Cotati City Council decided last night.

City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen said connection fees were lowered to $50 apiece three years ago in hope of luring development. He said the plan was unsuccessful and recommended the fees be increased to a more relaistic' figure of more than $100 each.

The council directed Salfen to contact neighboring cities to determine the prevailing rates and to make a recommendation.

The Cotati City Council also:

HALL USE Considered a policy for public use of the city hall auditorium, but said club meetings and dances may require an additional full time employee to supervise.

PARK FEE — Adopted an ordinance setting fees for park and recreation development to be levied along with building permits.

ZONING — Approved multi-family zoning for five lots on West Sierra and Valparaiso avenues as requested by S. H. Cervantes for the planned Casa Bonita subdivision.

College Honor Student Admits To Bomb Try

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (UPI)—A 20- year- old college honor student, who said he was trying to communicate" with the man on the street," confessed Thursday he tried to firebomb a bank and a newspaper building.

George Patterson, a curly haired near straight-A student being held in lieu of $50,000 bond on five felony charges, said he didn't intend to cause any damage.

"I'm not an anarchist—or a pyromaniac—and don't belong to any fringe political group," the Skyline College student said. "I think I blew it."

He admitted in a seven-page statement to police that he threw the two Molotov cocktails at the San Bruno Herald building Monday. They caused minor damage to the building's rof. The other incident was an attempted arson at a Bank of America branch May 4.

Jail Time On Drug Charge

David Thomas Hoff, 22, of Novato, was sentenced to six days in Marin County Jail yesterday after he pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of possessing narcotics paraphernalia.

Judge David Menary Jr. of Marin Municipal Court gave Hoff credit for time he has already spent in jail.

An additional misdemeanor charge of possessing marijuana was dismissed by Judge Menary at the request of the district attorney's office following Hoff's plea to the paraphernalia charge.

He was arrested in Novato May 13 when police stopped his car for a noisy muffler and lack of a 1971 license tag. Police said they found a suspected marijuana cigarette in his possession.

Oil Spills Hit 5 Million Tons, Says Society

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Audubon Society said Thursday nearly 5 million tons of crude oil were poured into the world's waterways in 1970, nearly two-thirds of it motor and industrial oil spilled into sewers and rivers by factories and service stations.

The society, which specializes in the study and preservation of birds, said 68 per cent of the oil put into water comes from this source and the problem is growing rapidly.

In a report entitled "Black Paper" for the color of oil, the society said the normal cleaning and pumping operations of oil tankers cause 21 per cent of the total oil pollution.

The total oil spilled on the nation's waterways last year could supply 75 million cars with 20 gallons of gas each, the society said.

MUSIC REVIEW

Soprano Reveals Pure Lyric Quality

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

San Rafael soprano Maria Leone Alessi presented a very enjoyable concert last night, assisted by pianist Phyllis Murphy, in the Collge of Marin's Fine Arts Theater. It was almost a second debut for the singer, who had been a first prize winner in Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air and a member of that company three years.

After some years in private life as Mrs. Joseph Alessi, the soprano has been heard in other Bay Area concerts in the last year or two, but this was a major solo appearance in Marin.

In a program of Italian, French and Spanish songs and operatic arias she revealed a pure high lyric soprano of limpid clarity and pleasing timbre that has a surprisingly youthful quality instead of the more full bodied maturity one might expect from her appearance.

A handsome brunette, she was poised, except for some stereotyped arm gestures.

Her first group of 17th and 18th Century Italian songs by Pergolesi, Scarlatti, Secchi and Legrenzi suffered slightly from the tentativeness that often accompanies opening numbers and from insufficient distinction between the different moods of the songs.

Much improved was the second group of French songs by Massenet and Bizet and Lia's recitative and aria from Debussy's cantata "L'Enfant Prodigue," when she sang with more freedom, reaching her highest notes at full volume with ease.

A third group of Spanish tornadillas by Granados were notable for considerable vocal dexterity, but some were not sung with the verve required by these impassioned love songs.

Though she was very successful in expressing the lighter playful and sad moods, emotional depth was not evident until the singer's last two operatic selections — Suor Angelica's aria "Senza Mamma, O Bimbo Tu Sei Morto!" from Puccini's "Suor Angelica" and Chimene's aria "Pleurez! Pleurez! Mes Yeux!" from Massenet's "Le Cid." These were eminently satisfactory, with hints of what could be rich lower tones.

Singing from the music in the Spanish tornadillas was, I suppose, pardonable in view of the length of the program, which I wished had included at least a couple of songs in English.

Miss Murphy was the kind of accompanist whose playing blends into the total music fabric so perfectly that one scarcely notices her — a high compliment for an accompanist.

Between the French and Spanish vocal numbers in tasteful contrast but complementary programming she played impeccably Schumann's "Kinderscenen," those 11 charming little scenes of childhood.

A New Twist

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — The wife of a Los Angeles television station executive has added a new twist to the familiar stories of babies being born in taxicabs. Mrs. Frederica Anthony had a baby girl in the back of a highway patrol car Thursday night.

Purchase Of Two Buses Is Approved

The Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, last night approved the purchase of two new buses.

Schools Supt. Dean D. Magowan said the board accepted the low bid of Gillig Bus Co. of $31,800 for a 91-passenger bus and the low bid of Sanderson Ford Co. of Petaluma at $4,250 for a 16-passenger minibus.

Magowan said both busses will be delivered for use next fall. He said they would replace two aging vehicles.

The Old Adobe School District board also:

TEACHERS — Received initial contract requests from the Old Adobe Teachers Association, but Magowan said a salary increase was not requested. He said the teachers felt the salary offer should first come from the district.

INSURANCE — Received a report from Blue Cross that insurance rates will increase by 14 per cent next year. Magowan said the current cost of $1,662 per employee will increase to $1,892.

OATHS — Saw trustees Dora M. Eldredge, John Thompson and Carlton Rinaldo take oaths of office, although their terms will not officially begin until July 1.

RETIREMENT — Approved the retirement of teacher Dorothy Wood due to ill health.

HIRED — Approved the employment of teachers Ronald Rocco, kindergarten, and Kathleen Carrigar, first grade. No salaries were set.

MUSIC REVIEW

Soprano Reveals Pure Lyric Quality

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

San Rafael soprano Maria Leone Alessi presented a very enjoyable concert last night, assisted by pianist Phyllis Murphy, in the Collge of Marin's Fine Arts Theater. It was almost a second debut for the singer, who had been a first prize winner in Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air and a member of that company three years.

After some years in private life as Mrs. Joseph Alessi, the soprano has been heard in other Bay Area concerts in the last year or two, but this was a major solo appearance in Marin.

In a program of Italian, French and Spanish songs and operatic arias she revealed a pure high lyric soprano of limpid clarity and pleasing timbre that has a surprisingly youthful quality instead of the more full bodied maturity one might expect from her appearance.

A handsome brunette, she was poised, except for some stereotyped arm gestures.

Her first group of 17th and 18th Century Italian songs by Pergolesi, Scarlatti, Secchi and Legrenzi suffered slightly from the tentativeness that often accompanies opening numbers and from insufficient distinction between the different moods of the songs.

Much improved was the second group of French songs by Massenet and Bizet and Lia's recitative and aria from Debussy's cantata "L'Enfant Prodigue," when she sang with more freedom, reaching her highest notes at full volume with ease.

A third group of Spanish tornadillas by Granados were notable for considerable vocal dexterity, but some were not sung with the verve required by these impassioned love songs.

Though she was very successful in expressing the lighter playful and sad moods, emotional depth was not evident until the singer's last two operatic selections — Suor Angelica's aria "Senza Mamma, O Bimbo Tu Sei Morto!" from Puccini's "Suor Angelica" and Chimene's aria "Pleurez! Pleurez! Mes Yeux!" from Massenet's "Le Cid." These were eminently satisfactory, with hints of what could be rich lower tones.

Singing from the music in the Spanish tornadillas was, I suppose, pardonable in view of the length of the program, which I wished had included at least a couple of songs in English.

Miss Murphy was the kind of accompanist whose playing blends into the total music fabric so perfectly that one scarcely notices her — a high compliment for an accompanist.

Between the French and Spanish vocal numbers in tasteful contrast but complementary programming she played impeccably Schumann's "Kinderscenen," those 11 charming little scenes of childhood.

A New Twist

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — The wife of a Los Angeles television station executive has added a new twist to the familiar stories of babies being born in taxicabs. Mrs. Frederica Anthony had a baby girl in the back of a highway patrol car Thursday night.

Purchase Of Two Buses Is Approved

The Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, last night approved the purchase of two new buses.

Schools Supt. Dean D. Magowan said the board accepted the low bid of Gillig Bus Co. of $31,800 for a 91-passenger bus and the low bid of Sanderson Ford Co. of Petaluma at $4,250 for a 16-passenger minibus.

Magowan said both busses will be delivered for use next fall. He said they would replace two aging vehicles.

The Old Adobe School District board also:

TEACHERS — Received initial contract requests from the Old Adobe Teachers Association, but Magowan said a salary increase was not requested. He said the teachers felt the salary offer should first come from the district.

INSURANCE — Received a report from Blue Cross that insurance rates will increase by 14 per cent next year. Magowan said the current cost of $1,662 per employee will increase to $1,892.

OATHS — Saw trustees Dora M. Eldredge, John Thompson and Carlton Rinaldo take oaths of office, although their terms will not officially begin until July 1.

RETIREMENT — Approved the retirement of teacher Dorothy Wood due to ill health.

HIRED — Approved the employment of teachers Ronald Rocco, kindergarten, and Kathleen Carrigar, first grade. No salaries were set.

Resor Quits As Army Secretary

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Pentagon today announced the resignation of Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor, who has served in the post for almost six years under the Johnson and Nixon administrations.

Resor's resignation had been anticipated for some time. Pentagon officials said his term of office stretched over "an unusually large period of time."

The Army Secretary submitted his letter of resignation Thurday, the day after he announced the decision to demote one general and reprimand another on charges of covering up the My Lai massacre. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird replied today with a letter accepting the resignation "with unlimited admiration and appreciation for your selfless contributions to the department and to the nation."

Chief Pentagon spokesman Daniel Z. Henkin said no successor has been selected.

"I would anticipate that Secretary Resor will be here for several more weeks, until his successor is (selected and) qualified. It probably will be until the end of June," Henkin said.

Resor's letter to Laird said personal reasons prompted his resignation.

"After six years, some greater attention to my family is long overdue," Resor said.

Henkin said Resor, 53, probably would return to New York and resume the law practice he gave up when he became undersecretary of the Army in 1965. Resor served as undersecretary for three months before stepping up to Secretary of the Army in July, 1965.

Resor's term as Army Secretary began at about the time the United States was beginning its massive buildup in South Vietnam.

Resor, a native of New York, attended Groton School, Yale University and Yale Law School. During World War II he was with the 10th Armored Division in Europe, where he was awarded the Silver Star, the Bronze Star, and the Purple Heart.

After the war he returned to Yale, graduating in 1946. He joined a New York law firm and specialized in corporate law.

Police Linked To Riot Violation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorney General Evelle J. Younger today said he "strongly suspects" that some policemen may have violated the law during last year's riots at Isla Vista, but did not have the evidence to prove it.

In a 47-page report detailing an 11-month investigation by the attorney general's office, Younger said:

"We strongly suspect that some officers — few in number, a small percentage of the total force — may have violated the law.

"Unfortunately, we can't legally prove it. I say unfortunately because I do not want anyone who violates the law — be he a policeman or otherwise — to avoid successful prosecution."

Younger said his report is being sent to Santa Barbara County District Attorney David D. Miner "for any action he may wish to take."

Younger's decision that the evidence is insufficient for prosecution is not binding on Miner nor the county grand jury.

The disorders near the Santa Barbara campus of the University at California resulted in hudnreds of arrests, the burning of a Bank of America branch bank and the accidental fatal shooting of student, Kevin Moran.

Younger said certain witnesses refused to talk to state investigators after the federal grand jury investigation began.

"Under these circumstances it is possible that the federal government will obtain evidence not available to us which will warrant prosecutive action on their part," he said.

Younger's investigation was begun by former Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch at the request of the Santa Barbara County district attorney and sheriff in June 1970.

Its object was to determine whether police used excessive or unreasonable force.

Younger said many officers and inadequate training to prepare them for the situation but that "most officers were conscientious and attempted to avoid needless injury to participants or spectators."

Citizens Like Their Landmark

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—The lights were back on Thursday night atop the Electric Building in downtown Buffalo.

The city's residents decided they preferred the lights to the possible air pollution caused by them. James A. O'Neill, president of Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., ordered the lights turned off May 8 "as a symbol of our total commitment to the preservation of the environment."

Power company officials said the public response was more in favor of the 60-year-old nighttime landmark than reduced pollution. "We were not prepared for the groundswell of public protest that ensued," O'Neill said. Sentiment "ran nearly 100 per cent for the relighting of the tower."

Two Grand Juries

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill setting up two separate grand juries in Los Angeles County to handle criminal and civil matters was passed by the Assembly today 62-0 and sent to the Senate.

Motion For Magee Filed By Graves

A motion to dismiss one of four charges against San Quentin inmate Ruchell Magee was filed today in Marin Superior Court by Magee's court-appointed attorney, Ernest L. Graves of Los Angeles.

The motion asks for dismissal of a charge of aggravated assault by a life prisoner, which in Magee's case carries a mandatory death sentence because the alleged assault resulted in a death.

Magee is also charged, along with Angela Davis, of murder, kidnapping and conspiracy in connection with the Aug. 7 Shoot-out at the Marin Civic Center.

In his motion, Graves said the charge violates Magee's constitutional rights to due process, equal protection and uniformity of the law and from cruel and unusual punishment.

Furthermore, Graves said, the law on assault by a lifer was enacted in 1965, after Magee was sentenced to life, and thus is being unconstitutionally applied retroactively to Magee.

Graves said he will formally move to dismiss the charge June 1 before Judge Richard E. Arnason of Contra Costa County, latest judge to be assigned the case.

Vandalism, Backlash In Terra Linda

Extensive vandalism in the Terra Linda Recreation Park District during the last two weeks led the board night to vote unanimously to suspend teen recreation programs for two weeks.

John A. Corlistra, board chairman, said damage amounting to about $1,500 was reported to the directors by Zonwice Mulhaupt, general manager.

Vandalism was centered in the office, park and pool facility and included half the lights in the park shot out with a pellet gun, a fence pulled down, restroom sinks pulled from the wall, windows broken, water fountains smashed, reproduction equipment in the office thrown on the floor and the safe in the office jimmied open, Colistra said.

Board members voted to suspend the teen programs Wednesday and Friday because of the vandalism and will ask the Sheriff's Department to investigate, Colistra said.

He called the damage "malicious mischief" and said no motives could be found.

North Marin Water Panel Hikes Pay

The North Marin County Water District board last night granted a 4.8 per cent cost-of-living pay raise for all employees.

Dist. Mgr. Eugene S. Churchill said the board rejected his proposal for a four-and-a-half-day work week for outside construction and maintenance personnel.

Churchill's salary was raised from $19,836 to $21,500 a year, 8.38 per cent. The board reasoned that he had expanded responsibility since the district is now operating water systems in West Marin and sewage systems in Northwest Marin, he said.

Directors approved a plan for merit pay, up to 5 per cent, which could be awarded to employes with four years at the job who have been at the top of their salary schedule for two years. Directors also set up a program to evaluate employees for merit pay.

Directors also approved an additional holiday, Admission Day, bringing the holiday total to 10.

Girl Saves Family From Fire Tragedy

A 13-year-old Corte Madera girl braved intense heat and flames which had engulfed her Oakdale Avenue home today to wake her sleeping mother and brother and lead them to safety.

According to Eleanor Tiner, her daughter, Pam, was awakened at 5 a.m. choking and sweating in thick smoke which had filled her bedroom.

Screaming an alert, Pam raced through a burning room to awaken her mother and brother, Randy, 11, sleeping in nearby rooms.

"If that little girl hadn't awakened when she did," Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson said, "the family would have been in real trouble."

Nelson said the cause of the fire is still undetermined, but about $10,000 damage was sustained to the hillside structure at 408 Oakdale. Another $1,000 worth of personal possessions were lost.

He said the fire may have started in Mrs. Tiner's new sewing machine which was located in the front room and has burned from the inside out.

Prior to the arrival of 18 volunteer firemen and three trucks, a neighbor tried unsuccessfully to enter the burning home to awaken the family thinking they were still inside.

Heat from the fire melted a kitchen clock and plastic kitchen curtains but left the telephone operable and several suitcases undamaged in the burning living rooms.

Mrs. Tiner said the suitcases were packed as she had planned to leave tonight for a vacation in Hawaii. "The luggage wasn't touched," she said. "That must mean something .. maybe we'll go after all."

Mrs. Tiner, whose husband, Wayne, was working the graveyard shift at Television KPIX where he is a broadcast engineer, credited her daughter's actions with earlier family discussions about what to do in a fire.

"I'm sure proud of my kids," she said. "They were calm and cool throughout the whole thing."

No injury was reported due to the fire.

Trio Fails To Show At Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Three members of a group which had been acquitted of slaying a policeman failed Thursday to appear in court on other charges.

All three previously had announced they were going "underground" and their absenses were expected.

Judge Walter F. Calcagno forfeited $1,000 in bail posted for each and issued bench warrants for their arrest. They are Jose Rio and Mario Martinez, for whom a burglary trial date was to have been set, and Nelson Rodriguez, who was to have appeared on an assault charge.

The trio previously failed to appear in Redwood City to face robbery charges.

Against Highway

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A resolution asking the state Highway Commission not to spend any money on the controversial Mineral King Highway in Sequoia National Forest until the U.S. Supreme Court decides a legal challenge to the project was passed today by the Assembly.

Case Of Woman Poisoned By Swordfish Diet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nearly seven years ago, "Mrs. N.Y." carried 65 pounds on her 5-foot-2 frame. To lose weight she went on a diet including 10 ounces daily of swordfish, which was banned because of mercury poisoning this month.

She suffered dizziness, memory loss, hand tremors, tongue quivers, and walking, reading and speaking difficulties. Mrs. N.Y. turned to a psychiatrist for relief, suspecting her problems were psychosomatic.

Extra Costs Bill Passes Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill providing about $4.1 million to pay unexpected administration expenses, such as guarding statewide officeholders during the last election, has been passed by the Assembly.

The measure by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, was sent to the governor Thursday on a 57-2 vote without debate.

It is designed to cover the cost of unexpected items which the administration had to supply. The 1970-71 budget did not have sufficient funds to cover them.

State Overtime Bill Passed By Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A $7.5 million bill providing overtime pay for 40,000 state employes, including Highway Patrolmen for the first time, has been approved by the Senate and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The governor already has endorsed the bill by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, which sailed through the Senate Thursday on a 33-0 vote.

Resor Quits As Army Secretary

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Pentagon today announced the resignation of Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor, who has served in the post for almost six years under the Johnson and Nixon administrations.

Resor's resignation had been anticipated for some time. Pentagon officials said his term of office stretched over "an unusually large period of time."

The Army Secretary submitted his letter of resignation Thurday, the day after he announced the decision to demote one general and reprimand another on charges of covering up the My Lai massacre. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird replied today with a letter accepting the resignation "with unlimited admiration and appreciation for your selfless contributions to the department and to the nation."

Chief Pentagon spokesman Daniel Z. Henkin said no successor has been selected.

"I would anticipate that Secretary Resor will be here for several more weeks, until his successor is (selected and) qualified. It probably will be until the end of June," Henkin said.

Resor's letter to Laird said personal reasons prompted his resignation.

"After six years, some greater attention to my family is long overdue," Resor said.

Henkin said Resor, 53, probably would return to New York and resume the law practice he gave up when he became undersecretary of the Army in 1965. Resor served as undersecretary for three months before stepping up to Secretary of the Army in July, 1965.

Resor's term as Army Secretary began at about the time the United States was beginning its massive buildup in South Vietnam.

Resor, a native of New York, attended Groton School, Yale University and Yale Law School. During World War II he was with the 10th Armored Division in Europe, where he was awarded the Silver Star, the Bronze Star, and the Purple Heart.

After the war he returned to Yale, graduating in 1946. He joined a New York law firm and specialized in corporate law.

Police Linked To Riot Violation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorney General Evelle J. Younger today said he "strongly suspects" that some policemen may have violated the law during last year's riots at Isla Vista, but did not have the evidence to prove it.

In a 47-page report detailing an 11-month investigation by the attorney general's office, Younger said:

"We strongly suspect that some officers — few in number, a small percentage of the total force — may have violated the law.

"Unfortunately, we can't legally prove it. I say unfortunately because I do not want anyone who violates the law — be he a policeman or otherwise — to avoid successful prosecution."

Younger said his report is being sent to Santa Barbara County District Attorney David D. Miner "for any action he may wish to take."

Younger's decision that the evidence is insufficient for prosecution is not binding on Miner nor the county grand jury.

The disorders near the Santa Barbara campus of the University at California resulted in hudnreds of arrests, the burning of a Bank of America branch bank and the accidental fatal shooting of student, Kevin Moran.

Younger said certain witnesses refused to talk to state investigators after the federal grand jury investigation began.

"Under these circumstances it is possible that the federal government will obtain evidence not available to us which will warrant prosecutive action on their part," he said.

Younger's investigation was begun by former Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch at the request of the Santa Barbara County district attorney and sheriff in June 1970.

Its object was to determine whether police used excessive or unreasonable force.

Younger said many officers and inadequate training to prepare them for the situation but that "most officers were conscientious and attempted to avoid needless injury to participants or spectators."

Citizens Like Their Landmark

The city's residents decided they preferred the lights to the possible air pollution caused by them. James A. O'Neill, president of Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., ordered the lights turned off May 8 "as a symbol of our total commitment to the preservation of the environment."

Power company officials said the public response was more in favor of the 60-year-old nighttime landmark than reduced pollution. "We were not prepared for the groundswell of public protest that ensued," O'Neill said. Sentiment "ran nearly 100 per cent for the relighting of the tower."

Motion For Magee Filed By Graves

A motion to dismiss one of four charges against San Quentin inmate Ruchell Magee was filed today in Marin Superior Court by Magee's court-appointed attorney, Ernest L. Graves of Los Angeles.

The motion asks for dismissal of a charge of aggravated assault by a life prisoner, which in Magee's case carries a mandatory death sentence because the alleged assault resulted in a death.

Magee is also charged, along with Angela Davis, of murder, kidnapping and conspiracy in connection with the Aug. 7 Shoot-out at the Marin Civic Center.

In his motion, Graves said the charge violates Magee's constitutional rights to due process, equal protection and uniformity of the law and from cruel and unusual punishment.

Furthermore, Graves said, the law on assault by a lifer was enacted in 1965, after Magee was sentenced to life, and thus is being unconstitutionally applied retroactively to Magee.

Graves said he will formally move to dismiss the charge June 1 before Judge Richard E. Arnason of Contra Costa County, latest judge to be assigned the case.

Vandalism, Backlash In Terra Linda

Extensive vandalism in the Terra Linda Recreation Park District during the last two weeks led the board night to vote unanimously to suspend teen recreation programs for two weeks.

John A. Corlistra, board chairman, said damage amounting to about $1,500 was reported to the directors by Zonwice Mulhaupt, general manager.

Vandalism was centered in the office, park and pool facility and included half the lights in the park shot out with a pellet gun, a fence pulled down, restroom sinks pulled from the wall, windows broken, water fountains smashed, reproduction equipment in the office thrown on the floor and the safe in the office jimmied open, Colistra said.

Board members voted to suspend the teen programs Wednesday and Friday because of the vandalism and will ask the Sheriff's Department to investigate, Colistra said. said.

He called the damage "malicious mischief" and said no motives could be found.

North Marin Water Panel Hikes Pay

The North Marin County Water District board last night granted a 4.8 per cent cost-of-living pay raise for all employees.

Dist. Mgr. Eugene S. Churchill said the board rejected his proposal for a four-and-a-half-day work week for outside construction and maintenance personnel.

Churchill's salary was raised from $19,836 to $21,500 a year, 8.38 per cent. The board reasoned that he had expanded responsibility since the district is now operating water systems in West Marin and sewage systems in Northwest Marin, he said.

Directors approved a plan for merit pay, up to 5 per cent, which could be awarded to employes with four years at the job who have been at the top of their salary schedule for two years. Directors also set up a program to evaluate employees for merit pay.

Directors also approved an additional holiday, Admission Day, bringing the holiday total to 10.

Girl Saves Family From Fire Tragedy

A 13-year-old Corte Madera girl braved intense heat and flames which had engulfed her Oakdale Avenue home today to wake her sleeping mother and brother and lead them to safety.

According to Eleanor Tiner, her daughter, Pam, was awakened at 5 a.m. choking and sweating in thick smoke which had filled her bedroom.

Screaming an alert, Pam raced through a burning room to awaken her mother and brother, Randy, 11, sleeping in nearby rooms.

"If that little girl hadn't awakened when she did," Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson said, "the family would have been in real trouble."

Nelson said the cause of the fire is still undetermined, but about $10,000 damage was sustained to the hillside structure at 408 Oakdale. Another $1,000 worth of personal possessions were lost.

He said the fire may have started in Mrs. Tiner's new sewing machine which was located in the front room and has burned from the inside out.

Prior to the arrival of 18 volunteer firemen and three trucks, a neighbor tried unsuccessfully to enter the burning home to awaken the family thinking they were still inside.

Heat from the fire melted a kitchen clock and plastic kitchen curtains but left the telephone operable and several suitcases undamaged in the burning living rooms.

Mrs. Tiner said the suitcases were packed as she had planned to leave tonight for a vacation in Hawaii. "The luggage wasn't touched," she said. "That must mean something .. maybe we'll go after all."

Mrs. Tiner, whose husband, Wayne, was working the graveyard shift at Television KPIX where he is a broadcast engineer, credited her daughter's actions with earlier family discussions about what to do in a fire.

"I'm sure proud of my kids," she said. "They were calm and cool throughout the whole thing."

No injury was reported due to the fire.

Trio Fails To Show At Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Three members of a group which had been acquitted of slaying a policeman failed Thursday to appear in court on other charges.

All three previously had announced they were going "underground" and their absenses were expected.

Judge Walter F. Calcagno forfeited $1,000 in bail posted for each and issued bench warrants for their arrest. They are Jose Rio and Mario Martinez, for whom a burglary trial date was to have been set, and Nelson Rodriguez, who was to have appeared on an assault charge.

The trio previously failed to appear in Redwood City to face robbery charges.

Against Highway

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A resolution asking the state Highway Commission not to spend any money on the controversial Mineral King Highway in Sequoia National Forest until the U.S. Supreme Court decides a legal challenge to the project was passed today by the Assembly.

Case Of Woman Poisoned By Swordfish Diet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nearly seven years ago, "Mrs. N.Y." carried 65 pounds on her 5-foot-2 frame. To lose weight she went on a diet including 10 ounces daily of swordfish, which was banned because of mercury poisoning this month.

She suffered dizziness, memory loss, hand tremors, tongue quivers, and walking, reading and speaking difficulties. Mrs. N.Y. turned to a psychiatrist for relief, suspecting her problems were psychosomatic.

Extra Costs Bill Passes Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill providing about $4.1 million to pay unexpected administration expenses, such as guarding statewide officeholders during the last election, has been passed by the Assembly.

The measure by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, was sent to the governor Thursday on a 57-2 vote without debate.

It is designed to cover the cost of unexpected items which the administration had to supply. The 1970-71 budget did not have sufficient funds to cover them.

State Overtime Bill Passed By Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A $7.5 million bill providing overtime pay for 40,000 state employes, including Highway Patrolmen for the first time, has been approved by the Senate and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The governor already has endorsed the bill by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, which sailed through the Senate Thursday on a 33-0 vote.

Two Grand Juries

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill setting up two separate grand juries in Los Angeles County to handle criminal and civil matters was passed by the Assembly today 62-0 and sent to the Senate.

Suicide Prevention Center Is Rebuffed In Bids For Funds

Marin's Suicide Prevention Center board of directors, still looking for funds to open a telephone service to take crisis calls, will meet at 3:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the Marin Association of Mental Health office in San Rafael.

Keith C. Craig, president of the board said the main purpose of next Wednesday's meeting is to find ways to raise money. Craig said he had applied to a half dozen private foundations for grants, but all requests have been turned down. He said the United Bay Area Crusade reported no funds to spare in the 1971-72 fiscal year.

The main source of revenue thus far has been individual membership contributions of small sums.

Craig announced that a meeting set for Wednesday of this week had been called off because the directors met last week. At last week's meeting, the board elected two new directors — Katharine Mills of Mill Valley and Dr. James Bakhtiar of Kentfield. Mrs. Mills replaced Charles Johnson of Novato, who resigned. Dr. Bakhtiar is an additional director, increasing the number of board members to seven.

Candidates Nights Slated For Petaluma Hopefuls

Candidates nights for hopefuls in the June 8 Petaluma municipal election have been scheduled for Tuesday and June 2 at 7:30 p.m. at Kenilworth Junior High School.

Both events will be sponsored by the American Association of University Women, East Petaluma Civic Association, Newcomers Club of Petaluma and Petaluma Valley Homeowners Association.

Appearing Tuesday night will be candidates for both the Petaluma board of education and Petaluma hospital district.

School board candidates include Richard G. Lambert, Daniel B. Plumpley, Richard E. Silvers and Robert T. Stimson.

Running for the board which operates Hillcrest Hospital are G. Ray Boccaleoni, Francis M. Crinella, Wayne S. Davis, Florence M. Franz, Frederick A. Groverman, A. James McGovern, Harry S. Nielsen and E. W. (Bill) Schneider.

Jack Garrison will serve as moderator for both events.

Two Tamalpais Districts Now Meet Standards

A plan to divide the Tamalpais High School District and its feeder elementary districts into two unified districts — a plan previously declared illegal — has been found to meet state standards after all.

That was the word received Wednesday by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization which in March was told the plan violated state law.

Reason for the switch, Spain said, is because 1969-70 figures were used to determine the average assessed valuation per student in the district. The 1970-71 figures made the difference, he said.

The 1969-70 figures show the average assessed valuation at $15,887 per student while this year's show the average at $17,549.

Under state law created to prohibit districts from dividing into one rich district and one poor, neither may deviate from the total average by more than 15 per cent. The new figures are within this limit, Spain said, while last year's exceeded it.

Under the proposal, the Tamalpais district and its feeder districts would be divided along Corte Madera Ridge.

The unified area south of the ridge would combine Tamalpais High School with Mill Valley, Bolinas, and Sausalito school districts and most of the Reed School Districts.

The unified area north of the ridge would consolidate Redwood and Sir Francis Drake high schools with Ross, Fairfax, part of Reed (Granada School), San Anselmo, Nicasio and Lagunitas school districts.

Spain said the committee will continue study of the plan while waiting for a decision by the legislature on legislation to exemp the Tamalpais district from next June's mandatory unification election.

In other action, the committee agreed to submit to the state previously drafted amendments to the San Rafael unification plan. The amendments reduce the number of trustees on the proposed district's board from seven to five and provides for equalizing teacher pay.

The committee also referred to the Shoreline Unified School District a request the district hold an election to determine if voters want trustees elected at large or by districts.

Trustees currently are elected by all voters but reside in districts.

A new member was seated on the committee taking the place of Ronald D. Schenck, who resigned last month. Named to the committee was William Sisk of Novato, an insurance executive.

2 Key Radicals Ordered To Jury

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Chicago seven defendants Rennie Davis and John R. Froines have been ordered to go before a U.S. grand jury which will consider conspiracy charges against them for their role in antiwar disruptions in Washington.

The jury panel, which may meet next week, will decide whether Davis and Froines violated federal laws by urging antiwar activists to come to Washington to try to "shut down the government."

More than 12,000 persons were arrested during the protests the first week of May. The demonstrators at one point tried to stop government business by blocking commuter traffic into the District of Columbia.

Innocent Plea To Burglary Count

A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Motta was arrested with two other San Rafael men Tuesday when Sausalito police, responding to a report of a burglary at the Gemini Clothing Store, noticed their auto leaving the vicinity of the store.

Two pairs of gloves and two tire irons were found in the car, police said. The store was not entered.

The cases of the other two men — Michael Mario Colombo, 19, and Kenneth Kay Kuhl, 19 — were transferred to juvenile court.

Typewriter Stolen

A $400 electric typewriter was stolen from the Helen Payne Real Estate office, 3566 Redwood Highway, near San Rafael, last Saturday, Marin County sheriff's office reported yesterday.

Novato Reports 45 Burglaries

There were 45 burglaries in Novato last month, 21 from residences, according to the monthly report of the Novato Police Department.

The breakdown was 21 residential, 19 business, three school and two from automobiles.

There were 92 thefts, 76 of them representing losses below $50, and nine auto thefts.

There were two aggravated assault cases and both were cleared, police said.

Charges were filed against 36 adults and 68 juveniles.

One Driver Outsmarts Hitchhikers

A Novato man who hid his wallet in a seat cushion before picking up three hitchhikers has his wallet today, no thanks to the hitchhikers.

Marin County sheriff's deputies said yesterday that Paul Andre La Prevotte, 20, of 1 Balra Drive, Novato, picked up the three hitchhikers in San Rafael Wednesday.

Two of the men wanted to go to Marin City and the third to St. Vincent's School for Boys in Marinwood, La Prevotte told deputies.

He first drove the two men to Marin City, where they directed him to a parking lot on Drake Avenue before pulling out an iron bar and butter knife and forcing La Prevotte and the other hitchhiker out of the car.

The pair kept La Prevotte there for about an hour while they searched him and his car for his wallet and other valuables, deputies said.

When the men finally fled with $2 in change and a gasoline credit card, La Prevotte got back in his car, retrieved his hidden wallet and drove the other hitchhiker to St. Vincent's.

One Driver Outsmarts Hitchhikers

A Novato man who hid his wallet in a seat cushion before picking up three hitchhikers has his wallet today, no thanks to the hitchhikers.

Marin County sheriff's deputies said yesterday that Paul Andre La Prevotte, 20, of 1 Balra Drive, Novato, picked up the three hitchhikers in San Rafael Wednesday.

Two of the men wanted to go to Marin City and the third to St. Vincent's School for Boys in Marinwood, La Prevotte told deputies.

He first drove the two men to Marin City, where they directed him to a parking lot on Drake Avenue before pulling out an iron bar and butter knife and forcing La Prevotte and the other hitchhiker out of the car.

The pair kept La Prevotte there for about an hour while they searched him and his car for his wallet and other valuables, deputies said.

When the men finally fled with $2 in change and a gasoline credit card, La Prevotte got back in his car, retrieved his hidden wallet and drove the other hitchhiker to St. Vincent's.

Daily Cal Staff Must Back Firings To Publish

BERKELEY (UPI) —The University of California's student newspaper will besuspended Tuesday unless its staff accepts the firing of three editors who urged students to "retake" People's Park, the campus publications board decided Thursday.

The board voted 7-1, with one abstention, during a five-hour meeting to halt printing of the Daily Cal if the staff continues to defy the board's dismissal of the three editors.

Richard Hafner, representative of Chancellor Roger W. Heyns on the publications board, introduced a resolution suspending publication as of today. It was amended to halt publication Tuesday.

The three journalists were charged in connection with a Daily Cal editorial May 11 which suggested students tear down a fence around People's Park, the controversial site which triggered rioting on May 15, 1969, on the second anniversary of the disorder.

Despite a later retraction and Daily Cal editorials urging nonviolence, 400 persons showed up at the former park —which is now a fenced parking lot and soccer field —and battled police with rocks and bottles last Saturday.

$5 Million Asked For Oil Spills

MARTINEZ (UPI) —A bait and fishing supply shop owner filed a $5 million suit Thursday, saying a petroleum corporation's negligence had resulted in oil spills that ruined his business.

Daniel Owyang, whose shop is at Red Rock Marina, filed the suit in Contra Costa Superior Court against the Standard Oil Co. of California and its subsidiary, Chevron Shipping Co.

He declared that negligent handling of oils and other toxics had made nearby waters "unfit to support the life of bait fish, shrimp and other organisims."

He asks $100,000 in general damages and $5 million in punitive damages.

The suit mentions a series of oil spills near the firm's shipping piers and a Jan. 18 collision of two tankers in San Francisco Bay.

Pipeline Breaks In Los Ranchitos

Water service to most of Santa Venetia was knocked out for five hours today when a pipeline broke under Circle Drive in Los Ranchitos.

The pipeline broke at 1:30 a.m., sending water up through the pavement near the intersection of Los Ranchitos Road, said William Grant, administrative engineer with the Marin Municipal Water District. Grant said an eight-man service crew worked until 6:30 a.m. to restore service. He said damage to pavement was about $500.

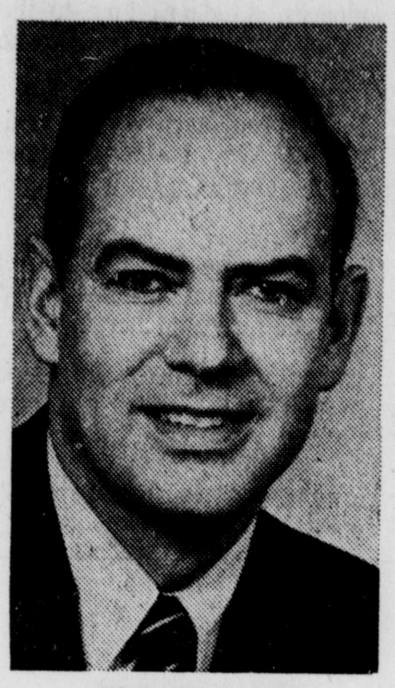
Pulitzer Prize Winning Author Sets College Talk



HOWARD JAMES
'Children in Trouble'

"Children in Trouble — a National Scandal" is the topic of a lecture by Pulitzer Prize winning author Howard James to be given at the College of Marin Sunday at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall.

During a year-long investigation of correctional institutions across the country, James said that children in trouble turned out not to be gun-toting hoodlums and their molls but rather mainly children who had skipped school, run away from home, stolen small quantities of candy, clothing or toys or had been caught drinking on several occasions.

James has been chief of the midwestern bureau of the Christian Science Monitor since 1965. His study of the American system of jurisprudence, "Crisis in the Courts," was awarded the 1968 Pulitzer Prize for national reporting.

The lecture was arranged by the college's community services office, the Marin Volunteer Bureau and the county probation department.

Chile To Take Control Of Largest Copper Mine

SANTIAGO (UI) —The Chilean government is taking over control of El Teniente, the world's largest copper mine, from the Kennecott Copper Corp. in what may be another step in Marxist President Salvador Allende's program to nationalize U.S. copper interests.

Minister of Mining Orlando Cantuarias said Thursday the Chilean Copper Corp., a government agency, would send six representatives to take over control of the mine Saturday. Cantuarias said the move was made because "irregularities" in four of the mine's eight converter ovens had cut production, and because of a $5.5 million deficit.

Kennecott owns 49 per cent of El Teniente, situated in Raucagua, about 65 miles south of Santiago, and operates the mine under the Braden Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary. State-owned Chilean companies own the controlling 51 per cent.

Allende became the Western world's first freely elected Marxist president in November. He had promised in his campaign to nationalize foreign interests in Chile and has been pushing his program since then.

The Chilean senate liberalized and sent to the chamber of deputies May 12 Allende's proposed constitutional amendment that would permit him to nationalize the holdings of the three U. S. copper companies in Chile — Kennecott, Anaconda and Cerro.

The two houses of congress are expected to meet within the next two months for a final vote on the amendment.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The Marin Motion Picture and Television Council provides these ratings of movies now being shown in Marin County. The council's findings are from the California and National Parent Teacher Association magazines and the Parent's Magazine unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Fantasia" — Reissue of 30-year-old Disney all time giant entertainment. Philadelphia orchestra plays nine musical classics and artists project their imaginative interpretations in cartoons. Outstanding.

"Wild Child" — Excellent semi-documentary based on case history about the problems of teaching an 11 year old boy to live with people after living as an animal in the forest of France.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" — A deft sophisticated comedy about two bandits. Imaginative camera work, wonderful score, witty performances. Very violent ending.

"Lawrence of Arabia" — Reissue of magnificent production telling the story of T.E. Lawrence, an English soldier who led the revolt of Bedouins against the Turks during World War I.

"Love Story" — Film is pure romantic escapism and an old fashioned simple love story. Acting is exceptional and some tasteless language mars an otherwise beautiful portrayal.

"The McKenzie Break" — Exciting, suspenseful escape drama has an unusual twist, prisoners are Germans in a British camp. Although it has the usual quota of violence it is suspenseful with surprises which make it a very fascinating film.

"Patton" — Excellent characterization by George C. Scott who portrays an indomitable spirit that could achieve its destiny only in wartime. Strong film makes use of violence, profanity.

"Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here" — True story about the search for a renegade Indian in 1909. The sheriff has great sympathy for Willie Boy who has killed his girl friends' father in self defense. The social, political and legal pressures force him into a cruel decision. Much violence, some nudity.

"They Might Be Giants" — A wealthy former judge who believes he is Sherlock Holmes finds a psychiatrist called Dr. Watson who hopes to effect a cure by helping him in tracking down clues. Midst the absurd situations they stumble into, he and the lady doctor fall in love.

"Z" — Powerful and exciting film tells the events leading up to the assassination of a man in Greece in 1963. Tense drama, brilliantly portrayed. English subtitles.

"Valdez Is Coming" — A reformed Mexican gunfighter who works as a town constable must resort to force when he cannot reason with villains. Much violence, torture, foul language and sex scenes are used to tell this tale.

BORDERLINE

"Bananas" — Typical Woody Allen fare of tasteless insults, irreverent nonsense dealing in the lowest moral and aesthetic-denominators. (Catholic Film Newsletter)

"Joe" — Chilling but excellent tragi-comedy about our troubled society. Two men form an unlikely alliance founded on their envy and hatred of today's youth. Language and sex scenes are shockingly bold and violence of the ending will haunt the viewer.

"Little Big Man" — A very violent tragi-comic history of Indian-white relations as recalled by 121 year old ex-gun fighter. Very thought provoking, bloody with some sex scenes.

"There's A Girl In My Soup" — A wealthy and debonair bachelor spends his time with wine and women confident he will never fall in love — that is, until he meets a wild young hippie, who is equally confident. A typical bedroom farce, some nudity.

"W.U.S.A." — A contrived melodrama about an unprincipled alcoholic who works for a rightwing radio station. Much violence, cursing and sex.

ADULTS ONLY

"M.A.S.H." — Nothing escapes the mockery of this ribald blood soaked comedy of wartime Korea. Several scenes are as gruesome as they are funny. Sex, nudity and cursing make this a very adult satire.

"Little Big Man" — A very violent tragi-comic history of Indian-white relations as recalled by 121 year old ex-gun fighter. Very thought provoking, bloody with some sex scenes.

"There's A Girl In My Soup" — A wealthy and debonair bachelor spends his time with wine and women confident he will never fall in love — that is, until he meets a wild young hippie, who is equally confident. A typical bedroom farce, some nudity.

"W.U.S.A." — A contrived melodrama about an unprincipled alcoholic who works for a rightwing radio station. Much violence, cursing and sex.

ADULTS ONLY

"M.A.S.H." — Nothing escapes the mockery of this ribald blood soaked comedy of wartime Korea. Several scenes are as gruesome as they are funny. Sex, nudity and cursing make this a very adult satire.

"Where's Poppa" — A vulgar black comedy presents an outrageous picture of a monstrous mother and her guilt-ridden harrassed son. Wild scenes of rape, nudity and gutter talk are unrestrained and brutally frank.

Innocent Plea In Try To Bribe Drug Agents

Douglas Edward Rambo, 29, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge he attempted to bribe a narcotics agent.

A jury trial was set for the week of Aug. 2.

The bribery charge stems from Rambo's alleged attempt to evade arrest last Sept. 24 when he reportedly had two marijuana cigarettes in his pocket. Agents said he offered them $5,800 he had tucked in his boot if they would not book him.

Rambo and two other men were convicted in February in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles of trying to import a bargeload of marijuana into the country.

He also has another case pending in Marin Superior Court in connection with what has been called the largest marijuana raid in Marin's history.

That case involved the confiscation of 1,000 pounds of marijuana in connected raids in Fairfax and Tamalpais Valley May 15, 1970.

Psychiatric Treatment Set

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A federal judge ordered five years of psychiatric treatment and probation Thursday for a would-be extortionist who pleaded guilty to threatening to bomb a bank.

Judge William P. Gray, in U.S. District Court, suspended sentence for Battista Pietrelli, 46, a Daly City real estate appraiser who had demanded $100,000 as the price for not bombing the Bank of America's world headquarters. Pietrelli, who wept through the proceedings, has been undergoing psychiatric care since his arrest Nov. 18 by the FBI. He was taken into custody at a place the bank had been directed to leave the payoff.

Both the prosecution and defense recommended probation.

War Concern Tops Sonoma Student Poll

When shown a list of nine major issues of concern, 34 per cent said the war concerned them most. Second on the list was ecology at 28 per cent.

Polling 7 per cent of student concern were unemployment and inflation, poverty and race relations. Eleven per cent of the students said they could not single out one particular problem.

Three per cent cited police control, 2 per cent the Middle East crisis and 1 per cent ranked student violence as their prime concern. None of the students listed women's liberation.

The survey also gathered person information about the students and found 71 per cent fall in the age group between 20 to 29 years. Ten per cent said they were under 20; 14 per cent between 30 and 39 and 5 per cent over 40 years.

In income, 67 per cent reported annual earnings of less than $4,000. Seventeen per cent said they made under $8,000; 10 per cent under $12,000; 3 per cent under $16,000, and 3 per cent over $16,000.

The survey found that 54 per cent were single and 34 per cent were married. Five per cent said they were divorced while 2 per cent said they were unmarried, but living with a person of the opposite sex.

Despite the low incomes reported, 68 per cent said they were mostly self-supporting and 32 per cent said they received financial help from their parents.

Innocent Plea To Bad Check Charge

Vithaya Chaloeicheep, 20, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a bad check charge. A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Chaloeicheep was arrested on a warrant Wednesday, charging he signed the name of Porpoat Soparkthpong to a check given to a San Rafael used car dealer April 2.

$110,000 Is Proposed In Aid To Fledging Marin Open House

A Marin County mental health official has proposed that his budget include $110,000 in subsidies to Marin Open House, a privately operated center for drug abuse therapy in San Rafael.

Dr. John S. Guerrant, mental health planner and head of the Marin Community Mental Health Center, said yesterday he made the proposal Wednesday to the county's mental health advisory board.

"We find Marin Open House is fast approaching its financial limits in delivering programs and needs more money," Guerrant said. "I'm proposing we pick up part of the costs for three of its programs."

Under consideration by the advisory board — which set a special meeting for next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the outpatient section of the mental health center — are proposals to aid Open House's methadone maintenance program, education program and employment and housing program for drug addicts undergoing rehabilitation.

Guerrant reported the advisory board expressed displeasure that the proposal was made so close to county budget sessions.

The county would retain control over its funds through a contract, which would insure the dollars are spent for salaries of employees in the three programs, he said.

About $40,000 would go toward the methadone treatment program for heroin addicts, he continued and about $30,000 to the housing-employment service. The remainder would be used in the education program.

Strongest objection to the proposal came from the Community Planning Group For Alcohol and Drug Abuse Problems, he said. The group's main complaint was that it had not been consulted on the proposal.

In March, the county board of supervisors and Marin Hospital District board authorized shifting several members of the staff at the mental health center to Open House.

Since that time, the county has been referring its drug patients to Open House for treatment.

Under the proposed agreement, Guerrant said, $14,000 which would be paid the center next year for treatment of county patients would be saved.

Guerrant said he also proposed two other new programs to the advisory board for inclusion in the proposed $3,482,845 budget.

One calls for matching about $200,000 in federal funds with 5 per cent local funds for treating 150 alcoholic patients rather than sending them to state hospitals.

The other proposal calls for establishing a new position in the county's mental health service office at Civic Center to coordinate alcohol and other drug abuse education, information and treatment programs.

The advisory board agreed to endorse the proposed consolidation of all health and medical services under one department.

Student Charged With Bugging Trustee Board

BOSTON (UPI)—Two Boston College students have been charged with bugging a private meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Attorney General Robert H. Quinn said Thursday the students were arraigned in Newton District Court for "conspiracy to illegally intercept private conversation through the use of an eavesdropping device" and "conspiracy to possess an interception device and conspiracy to use illegally obtained conversation and information."

The attorney general said the students illegally placed a listening device in a room where the BC trustees were meeting Feb. 19, and then gave the information to the college newspaper, "The Heights," which published it.

$110,000 Is Proposed In Aid To Fledging Marin Open House

A Marin County mental health official has proposed that his budget include $110,000 in subsidies to Marin Open House, a privately operated center for drug abuse therapy in San Rafael.

Dr. John S. Guerrant, mental health planner and head of the Marin Community Mental Health Center, said yesterday he made the proposal Wednesday to the county's mental health advisory board.

BOSTON (UPI)—Two Boston College students have been charged with bugging a private meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Attorney General Robert H. Quinn said Thursday the students were arraigned in Newton District Court for "conspiracy to illegally intercept private conversation through the use of an eavesdropping device" and "conspiracy to possess an interception device and conspiracy to use illegally obtained conversation and information."

The attorney general said the students illegally placed a listening device in a room where the BC trustees were meeting Feb. 19, and then gave the information to the college newspaper, "The Heights," which published it.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Avoid Giving Your Partner The Wrong Kind Of Ache

"Please tell me what I am doing wrong," a reader requests. "When I finished playing the accompanying hand, my partner had a scowl on his face. I asked him if he had a stomachache, and he said my bidding had given him one. Then he added that my play had given him a headache. For the life of me, I can't see what he was talking about."

HEART ACTION

West opened the ace of hearts and then continued with the eight of hearts, our correspondent relates. He won the second round of trumps in dummy with the ten and led a spade, losing the queen to the king.

West switched to clubs, and declarer eventually lost two more spade tricks. Down one, giving North an assortment of aches and pains.

Of course all of our alert readers have already seen why North got his aches. See if you can diagnose the cause of the stomachache and the headache before you read on.

SIMPLE BID

South caused most of his trouble when he bid two spades. If he had simply jumped from two hearts to four hearts, West would have made the normal opening lead of the king of spades. The rest of the hand would have been a waltz for South.

The actual spade bid warned West not to lead the king of spades, but South should have made the hand by proper play. After winning the second trump in his own hand, South should cash his top clubs and both top diamonds, ruff a diamond, lead to the ten of hearts, discard a spade on the ace of clubs and then lead a spade.

SAFE RETURN

West would be able to win the first spade trick with the king but then would be unable to make a safe return. A club or diamond lead would let dummy ruff while South discarded another spade; a spade lead would make life very easy for South.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠- A K 10
♥- A 8
♦- J 10 4 2
♣- 10 9 8 3.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two no-trump.

This normally shows 13 to 15 points, but in this case your three ten spots compensate for the missing point. In any case, this is the bid that best describes your hand.

A Ban On Funds To Defense Firms

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—The legislative council of the Associated Students of the University of California at Santa Barbara has voted to ban the spending of student funds with companies which have defense contracts.

The action Wednesday night by student leaders was expected to cost such firms as General Electric, General Motors, RCA, DuPont and Standard Oil of California tens of thousands of dollars annually. The Associated Students budget is about $500,000.

$1.84 Trillion In Total Debts

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Commerce Department reports that Americans, their government and their businesses were in debt by a record $1.84 trillion by the end of 1970, although they owed most of the money to each other.

The business debt was $955 billion, or 52 per cent of the total, while all branches of Government owed $483 billion, or 26 per cent of the total, and individuals owed $402 billion — 22 per cent. Of the individual debt, $127 billion was in residential mortgages.

Prison Reform Urged

By DAVID DIETZ

SACRAMENTO — Democratic legislators, former inmates and citizens gathered yesterday at a conference sponsored by a Marin-based group to urge reforms in the state penal system.

The Department of Corrections, Adult Authority and officials of both agencies came under attack as speakers urged support of a variety of bills aimed at prison reform.

The day-long conference, held across the street from the Capitol at Westminster Presbyterian Church, was sponsored by the Committee for Prisoner Humanity and Justice, headquartered in San Rafael.

After hearing denouncements of the prison system as inhumane, overcrowded and archaic, many in the crowd of about 150 persons filtered into the Capitol halls to lobby legislators in behalf of their goals.

SOLADAY ATTENDS

The program came one day after the knife slaying of Kenneth Conant, program administrator at troubled Soledad Prison.

Salle Soladay of San Anselmo, an attorney and member of the committee, was asked by a reporter if she felt that, in view of Conant's death, the conference came at a good or a bad time.

"It was the best time," she said. "We want to end the violence." Mrs. Soladay went on to say that the slaying was "one-day-old proof of the bankrupt California prison system."

One of the day's sharpest attacks on the penal system was unleashed by Robert Aldredge, a former inmate of San Quentin Prison and now a staff member of The Cage newspaper in Berkeley.

Questioning the motives of the Department of Corrections and viewing prisons as "cesspools of violence," Aldredge said: "I hate the word rehabilitation. I can't stand this farce. It literally turns my stomach upside down."

He also charged that the Adult Authority, which decides, among other things, whether or not an inmate should be paroled, is made up entirely of former law enforcement representatives, while state law calls for cross-section makeup.

"The Department of Corrections is a euphemism," said Clarence Williams, aide to Assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, author of reform legislation. "The name should be changed to the Department of Punishment."

COMPLAINTS AIRED

Speakers assailed the indeterminate sentence, use of adjustment centers for difficult inmates and capital punishment.

Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, said he has offered a bill in the current legislative session to require establishment of law libraries at all state prisons. He also supported prison decentralization, creation of more halfway houses and programs to speed the release of lesser offenders.

Like Petris, Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, said reforms similar to those employed over the years in the detainment of mentally ill persons should be put to work in state prisons.

At present, he said, the state is spending $100 million annually on the Department of Corrections "to do nothing more than cage men and women."

Plan For Helping GI Drug Addicts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Seymour R. Halpern, R-N.Y., plans to introduce legislation next week under which servicemen addicted to drugs would not be discharged until they have undergone rehabilitation.

He said the rehabilitation, which would take place starting when the serviceman involved was supposed to have been discharged, would serve as a deterrent to addiction, which he said some servicemen now turn to in hopes of an early discharge.

Senate Panel Overrules Realtors On Sales Bill

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A Senate committee, overruling opposition from the powerful California Real Estate Association, unanimously sent to the floor yesterday a bill that would reinforce a 1969 law against faulty property transactions.

The legislation (SB 330), sponsored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, cleared the Business and Professions Committee despite the opposition of Dugald Gullies, a lobbyist for the real estate group.

The bill, endorsed by the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen and the San Anselmo City Council, would require a real estate buyer to be informed on the authorized use, occupancy and zoning of the property he purchased.

A real estate broker would be required to file with the county recorder a document that such information had been supplied.

Gullies objected that such a burden should be placed on the seller and not the broker.

Besides three San Anselmo representatives who appeared to testify in the bill's behalf, Donald C. Bennighoven, lobbyist for the League of California Cities, also supported the legislation.

The San Anselmans present were Councilman James F. Reed, City Administrator-Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel and Charles R. Leitzell, director of public works.

Heroin Case Is Halted For Test

Criminal proceedings against Rosita Dolores Branstetter, 37, of San Rafael, were suspended yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Thomas F. Keating appointed two doctors to determine if Mrs. Branstetter is a narcotics addict or in danger of becoming one, and ordered the case continued to the week of July 8.

Mrs. Branstetter, who earlier pleaded guilty to charges of selling heroin and possessing the drug for sale, was arrested in a raid on her apartment Oct. 29, 1969.

Public Land Use Bill To Assembly

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation designed to head off possible widespread closure of private lands to public use has been approved by the Senate and sent to the Assembly.

The bill (SB 504), sponsored by Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ventura, is designed to nullify two State Supreme Court rulings last year. They held that private property owners could not prevent the public from using their land if citizens had enjoyed the use for at least five years.

Conservationists said at the time that the decisions would open up large areas for public use. However, Lagomarsino told the Senate, many property owners who previously permitted public entry onto their lands are now fencing off their properties in order to insure private title.

It is possible, Lagomarsino maintained, that as much as nine million acres of private land previously used by the public for recreational purposes could be closed this summer, placing an added burden on state and national parks.

The bill, coauthored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, and supported by the Marin Property Owners Association, sets state policy under which lands could be kept open to the public without title impairment.

Senate vote on the measure was 27-2.

Tanker Spill Resolution Is Adopted

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A joint Senate-Assembly resolution urging Congress to take steps to avoid tanker mishaps in harbors has been approved by both houses.

The resolution (SJR 10), authored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, urges creation of a marine traffic control system that would be maintained by the Coast Guard.

Behr introduced the resolution in the wake of the January collision between two tankers in San Francisco Bay.

Unification School Bill Advances

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The Assembly has passed and sent to the Senate a bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, that would avoid another unification election election next year in the Tamalpais High School District.

Five other districts in the state, none in Marin or Southern Sonoma, also would be spared an election.

The measure (AB 358) originally applied statewide, but later was limited by committee action to include only districts in which voters have defeated the past two unification proposals.

State law currently require unification elections every four years.

Under the measure, the state Board of Education still would be required to investigate the status of reorganization plans in the six districts and report to the Legislature in 1973.

Sale Of Puppies To be Dropped

Montgomery Ward Co., whose Corte Madera store was the scene of picketing in December by dogs and owners protesting the national chain store's mail order selling of puppies, will discontinue such sales next month.

According to the regional office in Oakland, the puppies will not be carried in the new fall catalogue which will be sent to customers in June.

Don Gillis, manager of the Corte Madera store, said he had not yet received notification of the change in policy. Gillis noted that, although the puppies were available through the catalogue department, the Corte Madera store had never sold one.

Local pickets protested the sale of the dogs, saying buyers were given no choice of terms of the puppy's temperament, color or history.

Prison Reform Urged

By DAVID DIETZ

SACRAMENTO — Democratic legislators, former inmates and citizens gathered yesterday at a conference sponsored by a Marin-based group to urge reforms in the state penal system.

The Department of Corrections, Adult Authority and officials of both agencies came under attack as speakers urged support of a variety of bills aimed at prison reform.

The day-long conference, held across the street from the Capitol at Westminster Presbyterian Church, was sponsored by the Committee for Prisoner Humanity and Justice, headquartered in San Rafael.

After hearing denouncements of the prison system as inhumane, overcrowded and archaic, many in the crowd of about 150 persons filtered into the Capitol halls to lobby legislators in behalf of their goals.

SOLADAY ATTENDS

The program came one day after the knife slaying of Kenneth Conant, program administrator at troubled Soledad Prison.

Salle Soladay of San Anselmo, an attorney and member of the committee, was asked by a reporter if she felt that, in view of Conant's death, the conference came at a good or a bad time.

"It was the best time," she said. "We want to end the violence." Mrs. Soladay went on to say that the slaying was "one-day-old proof of the bankrupt California prison system."

One of the day's sharpest attacks on the penal system was unleashed by Robert Aldredge, a former inmate of San Quentin Prison and now a staff member of The Cage newspaper in Berkeley.

Questioning the motives of the Department of Corrections and viewing prisons as "cesspools of violence," Aldredge said: "I hate the word rehabilitation. I can't stand this farce. It literally turns my stomach upside down."

He also charged that the Adult Authority, which decides, among other things, whether or not an inmate should be paroled, is made up entirely of former law enforcement representatives, while state law calls for cross-section makeup.

Let The Weather Chase Your Worries

Are you "bugged" about taxes, about vandalism, about delays and delusions in the courts, about runaway welfare costs, about the war in Vietnam, and so on and so on? Well, aren't we all?

But with the delayed arrival of beautiful California weather, there's a chance to get away from such worries. All the more because it came late this year, the pleasant weather inspires most of us with the desire to go someplace. And there are plenty of places to go.

The California Chamber of Commerce each quarter puts out a list of fairs, fiestas and other special events throughout the state. The list for June through August has just appeared, and it proves there's plenty for everybody who wants to go places in the Golden State.

TAKE THE FIRST week end in June, for instance — a good time to plan now on going someplace, if you're in the mood.

Like the flavor of Old Mexico and Old California? Mexican Players will be performing all week at the Padua Hills Theater in Claremont, Los Angeles County, and after seeing them you can whip over the following day to Glendale in the same county for "Days of the Verdugos," complete with parade, then on Sunday the 6th to the blessing of the fruits and flowers at San Fernando Mission.

Also in Los Angeles County that week end are the Monrovia Day Roundup, an "International Fiesta" on Catalina Island, and the Miss San Fernando beauty contest. In neighboring counties are Fontana Days, and an Elks rodeo and parade at Santa Maria.

YOU DON'T NEED to go that far, however, You can get Old California also at Merienda in Monterey — that historic city's 201st birthday, which will be Saturday, June 5. And while there you can take in the Northern California Golf Association senior championships June 2-4 at Pebble Beach, and Haldorn and Commodore's Regatta on the 4th, also at Pebble Beach.

For sports fans who prefer to head north, there's the Golden Gate Tennis Association tournament at Kelseyville in Lake County on June 4 and 5, and the Junior Grand Prix go kart race at Redding on the 5th.

Closer still is an ox roast at Sonoma on Sunday, June 6. And right here in Marin County is the Marin Ballet Aquacade on the 5th and 6th.

The midsummer outdoor music festival at Stern Grove in San Francisco also opens June 6.

AND FOR THOSE who don't want to watch parades or sports events, listen to music or mingle with crowds, there's the whole outdoors. You can get away from those worries at Samuel P. Taylor State Park, at Point Reyes National Stashore, or in any of many beautiful country areas only short distances from your home in Marin.

The worries will still be here when you get home again, but they won't seem quite so overwhelming.

CAPITOL REPORT

State Faces Dire Prospect Of Borrowing For Operations

By RUS WALTON

SACRAMENTO — The golden State of California will soon be forced to borrow money to meet its day-to-day operating expenses. There's no other way out, now.

Most taxpayers will be inclined to react with a "welcome to the club" attitude. Hundreds of thousands of them have just gone through the maddening agony of borrowing money to pay income and property taxes.

Its regular monthly income doesn't match that outflow.

RIGHT NOW the state's coffers are fat with loot which poured in around April 15. But come September and October the coffers will be bare. And, with the economy down and sales tax revenues off, the bottom of the coffers could be reached sometime in August.

Sen. Don Grunsky, R-Watsonville, has introduced SB 734 to authorize the state to issue tax anticipation notes, to borrow up to about $700 million against future revenues. These funds would have to be repaid within one year. Probably no more than $100 million or $150 million of that total would be borrowed this year.

The exact amount to be borrowed will depend on the size of the 1971-72 budget. The bigger the budget, the bigger the borrowing. Under the budget proposed by Governor Reagan the state will probably be forced to borrow $50 million for September, and another $30 million for October. This is after all possible, money has been borrowed from such special accounts as the highway fund.

The October income tax prepayments should finance state operations through the end of 1971. But, if withholding is not enacted and does not go into operation in January, 1972, it will be the same story all over again next March and April.

Because Grunsky's tax note legislation contains an "urgency" clause — so that it can become effective upon enactment — it requires a two-thirds majority in both houses. The Democrats might refuse to go along. That would force the governor to more drastic methods of financing and that — they figure — could be embarrassing. In politics, embarrassing the opposition seems to be more important than preventing crises.

SINCE 1970 Reagan has been saying that withholding was necessary to prevent a cash-flow crisis. Payroll deductions of state income taxes would produce about $80 million a month.

A graphic projection of the worsening cash flow situation was made to the governor in a four-hour session in December, 1969. It was Vern Orr's first major presentation as newly appointed finance director. That presentation, more than any other single factor, caused the governor to change his position on withholding.

At that time, the administration was coping with the cash-flow problem by using money from various economies and by borrowing from special funds. Orr noted that by 1971 the savings would no longer be enough to bridge the gap and the cookie jars would be about empty.

There was, Reagan said at the end of the meeting, no other choice but withholding. But, it's too late for withholding to help this year.

SHOULD THE GRUNSKY bill fail, the state would be forced to resort to registered warrants — similar to a balance-plus check-writing plan. The state would write checks and the banks would honor them even though there was no money on deposit. The state would guarantee to cover the checks within a specified period of time.

Registered warrants are an extreme step. They could injure the state's fiscal reputation and damage its credit rating. Future purchasers of California bonds would probably demand higher interest rates.

California will try to market several hundred million dollars worth of bonds this October — for the state water project, veterans' housing loans, park and recreation projects, and local wastewater treatment plants and sewers. Any significant increase in interest rates would cost the state extra millions of dollars.

This added cost, plus the interest on the tax anticipation notes, — or the registered warrants — will increase the cost of government. One way or another, the taxpayer will foot the bill.

Exchange Angela For American POW

I wholeheartedly agree with Richard W. Shand's letter ("Justice Not Served by Courtroom Circus," May 11).

I'm sick to death of people of (Angela) Davis's ilk who advocate the overthrow of this government . . . then run for the protection of the very laws they sought so diligently to overthrow.

I would like to present my alternative plan. Since Davis considers herself a political prisoner, why not exchange her for one of our American POWs? We'd be rid of the cancer and have one of our own back.

Honor Mother For Non-Production

We need a new "Mother" to celebrate on Mother's Day. It's time to stop awarding quanitity. The mother's concern for her family expressed by her active involvement in improving the quality of life for her children is a more worthy attribute of motherhood. Next year let's award the mother of two children. She is not contributing to overpopulation, and she has time to devote to community activities (such as Planned Parenthood or Ecology Action) which will make the world a better place for her children. Quality, not quantity!

Bouquet For Exchange Student Sponsorship

Another "bouquet" for the members of the Marin County Deputy Sheriffs' Association for their recent gift to San Rafael High School's American Field Service international scholarship program.

I have purchased tickets for this year's circus. Those students soliciting my support by telephone for the association were most courteous. I am sorry the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce is in conflict with the association. I hope it will not hinder the sale of the tickets.

Their profits over the past few years have been so beautifully given to so many worthwhile groups. Marin Cystic Fibrosis Chapter (of which I am a member) was able to help sponsor a summer camp for kids with this terrible lung problem at Fairfax last year because of the generous gift received from these gentlemen.

Establishment Destroys Itself With Taxes

The beleaguered homeowner — your editorial, "A 65c Tax Increase" — seems never to reach the summit of a dismal course of events, merely plateaus.

Assessed valuations in may area show, by random sampling, an average increase of 130 to 160 per cent from 1959 to 1970. Added to that is a tax rate increase of approximately $2, and it would be optimism to believe other valuation areas show an appreciable difference.

As property divides itself into two broad categories, personality and realty, taxes of whatever kind and variety — franchise, excise, income, land sales, or what have you — also follow two main definitions: they come from cash flow or they come from accumulation. The broadest of these is the cash flow; the easiest to reach is the accumulation. Land is an accumulation: taxing it is a tax on capital. This is not to say it is wrong, but it has its limitations. To dry up the one may dry up the other . . .

Inequities abound on all sides. Voters, who have no ultimate burden, vote on revenue or bond issues, and voters who have no real experience with poverty vote on standards of care for those who do. The common characteristics between them are misunderstanding and frustration, and these are vented loudly in occasional meetings or publicity releases.

Such a meeting, called by a well spoken real estate entrepreneur, was held last June, in the board of supervisors chamber, and was attended by many of those taxpayer spokesmen so familiar to the scene. It was attended by others: people without spokesmen, without a champion — people seeking a way out from a decimated old age. The movement, so well begun and so well defined, died aborning: the leaders went back to their business and the people back to theirs.

Unborn Child Merely Invention Of Writer

Unfortunately Rus Walton ("Capitol Report", May 6 I-J) has confused abortion with murder and has invented something called the "unborn child." A brief lesson in human reproductive physiology is in order. The human adult male produces sperm, and the female produces eggs. Through sexual intercourse there is a possibility that the sperm and eggs will unite. If they unite, a fertilized egg called a zygote is formed. If this fertilized egg implants in the enriched lining of the uterus a pregnancy begins. If the zygote continues to grow it becomes an embryo, and after several weeks it is called a fetus. If there is no spontaneous abortion it is called fetus. If there is no spontaneous abortion or miscarriage, nine months after the sperm and egg unite the fetus is expelled from the mother's body and is then considered an infant. If the infant does not die it will grow to become a child, then an adolescent, and finally an adult. At no time during pregnancy can the embryo or fetus be considered an adult. The "unborn child" is a fiction of Mr. Walton's warped imagination.

The removal of the embryo or fetus, whether spontaneously or surgically, is called abortion, not murder . . .

Of course no person should ever be forced to have an abortion. Planned Parenthood will zealously guard the right of the woman to regulate her own fertility, without interference from the state. No woman, likewise, should ever be compelled to bear a child. Abortion should be available to every woman who wants it. Only then will we enjoy a society in which every child is born wanted.

Kennedy, McCloskey May Hold Keys To Presidential Election

WASHINGTON — New political developments are affecting the presidential picture in both parties:

1 — Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., is almost certain to go after the presidency next year and his tactic will be to appear reluctant until he become irresistible.

2 —President Nixon is assuring — and warning — all Republicans that he intends to run for re-election. Not running is the last thing that would enter his mind — and his friends are certain it will never enter his mind.

3 — Vice President Agnew will not make the kind of fight to keep himself on the ticket that Vice President Nixon made in 1956. Mr. Agnew does not find presidential politics that rewarding or that agreeable and he does not plan to press Nixon to be his running mate again.

The challenge to the President's renomination may well prove more formidable than has appeared likely. When Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-Calif., decorated ex-Marine who defeated Shirley Temple Black in a Republican congressional primary three years ago, began talking about his crusade to unseat Nixon, he was making one one issue: Get out of Vietnam at once. But now he is planning to use a whole gamut of issues — from the "conduct of the war" to "untruth in government," from "lack of moral leadership on race" to "intrusion into their judiciary" — to try to turn enough rank-and-file Republicans against the President to keep him from seeking re-election.

ALL THIS MAY NOT clarify the political picture but it keeps it lively.

He will not enter any of the presidential primaries. His supporters believe all the other leading contenders will reach a stand-off before the convention.

By not entering the primaries Kennedy can continue saying he is not a candidate on a wait-and-see policy.

If the primaries give none of the contenders a commanding lead as the convention nears, Kennedy can move from being a non-candidate to being reluctantly responsive.

At the opportune moment the senator will "permit" his supporters to move openly to organize a draft which he will be willing to accept to help the party.

That's the predicted strategy and I don't know many Democrats who would say it couldn't be made to work.

Most politicians have assumed that Kennedy was pointing for 1976. But if a Democrat other than himself defeated a vulnerable Nixon, this would unsatisfactorily postpone the senator's chances another eight years.

I SEE NOTHING to suggest that Nixon will step down next year under any circumstances. If Vietnam is over and the economy is visibly improving, he will be in a strong position. If he has not redeemed his pledge to end the U.S. role in Vietnam, then he is committed to his own statement that he "should be held accountable." The only way to be held accountable is to stand for re-election.

This is why he will almost certainly run and he will take a wholly impersonal, objective view of whether to keep Mr. Agnew.

On the basis of a fairly close, firsthand view of Representative McCloskey in action, I incline to think that from the President's standpoint he will prove to be a troublesome factor. He is vigorous and dedicated and could pile up quite a vote in primaries if the Vietnam issue is sharply with us. He can't keep Nixon from winning the nomination but he could keep Nixon from winning re-election.

Unflappable Judge Assures No Circus in Harrisburg

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

HARRISBURG, Pa. — It's not fair, the "letters to the editors" of the local papers complain. Harrisburg was quietly minding its own business, which is to be the capital of Pennsylvania and make a little steel in the suburbs, when all of a sudden this bizarre court case about a Catholic priest plotting to kidnap a White House adviser and blow up the heating pipes underneath Washington settled here and upset the tranquility. The only Harrisburgers happy about it might be the people who run the Penn-Harris Hotel, where the witnesses are billeted.

For many months yet to come, the Harrisburg dateline is going to show up in every paper in the country, attached to the kind of publicity most chambers of commerce would pay to do without. The dateline is bad enough; what goes with it are big black headlines about the "Harrisburg Six" — now grown to eight — in historical line with the "Scottsboro Boys," the "Catonsville Nine," the "Chicago Seven," the "New York 13." That nomenclature somehow implies to the citizenry, which was already disturbed enough by the way new Democratic Gov. Milton Shapp was attacking the long-entrenched Republican patronage lists, that the trial here will be a replay of the one in Chicago, where defendants were bound and gagged and the judge became a popular villain of the young and hairy.

But they can relax about that.

CERTAINLY FATHER Philip Berrigan is capable of some imaginative activity on behalf of peace. He stands convicted of pouring blood on draft records and burning other records with homemade napalm. You might expect a man of such imagination to prefer to turn his latest trial into a circus.

Instead he and his colleagues have made it clear to their counsel that they want a legal defense, not another guerrilla theater production. (One assumption is that this means they consider their own case strong and the government's weak; the tighter the prosecution's case, the more likely any defense would be to distract the jury and the watching world with histrionics.)

William Kunstler is not in the cast. Defense counsel so far has been businesslike, though understandably ambitious to turn the proceedings into a trial of J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI rather than the men and women under indictment. The principal exception has been Paul O'Dwyer, the familiar New York Democratic peace candidate, who delivered an 11-page statement which some reporters here labeled a diatribe. But you have to assume he still is running for one office or another.

AND BESIDES, no matter how tempting the idea of courtroom shenanigans, the decision on whether to take that route eventually turns on who the judge is — whether he is so flappable or such a heavy that a screaming and leaping defendant would look sympathetic by contrast. Judge R. Dixon Herman, who is in charge here, cuts short any such temptation.

He is bald, with horn-rims. One notes a resemblance to Lester Maddox, but stronger. When the deputy assistant U.S. attorney protested that O'Dwyer's long peroration was an attempt to inflame the court, Herman calmed him with the assurance that "this court's been around too long to get inflamed."

And on his record he won't be. He started out by making it clear there would be no foolishness. He has reacted sternly to every defense assertion that the government is merely up to some shoddy shenanigans of its own in bringing the case to prosecution. He has insisted on proof of each such allegation. When a Philadelphia girl named Theresa McHugh came into the case last week and invoked "the law of God" on her side, Herman wanted to know which law of God; when she maintained she was being punished for her beliefs when she was cited for contempt, he said flatly, "No, for not answering questions."

HIS ATTITUDE is that "anybody who is not for peace is a fool," but that that is not germane to the case before him. He is hearing statements on "some simple legal issues," and determined to keep the entire proceedings in that context. The defendants, their counsel and their cheering section know before the formal trial has begun that the first circus-like move on their part will be one too many.

Of course it is unfair to them to presume they would try to wreck the proceedings if they thought it to their advantage — both the lawyers and the defendants are very different people from those involved in Chicago. But even if they were so inclined, they realize by now that this trial will be heard on the evidence. And if the government's case is as thin and fictional as they maintain, that will be good both for them and the cause of justice in the long run. (William Kunstler, Abbie Hoffman et al to the contrary, notwithstanding.)

Let The Weather Chase Your Worries

Are you "bugged" about taxes, about vandalism, about delays and delusions in the courts, about runaway welfare costs, about the war in Vietnam, and so on and so on? Well, aren't we all?

But with the delayed arrival of beautiful California weather, there's a chance to get away from such worries. All the more because it came late this year, the pleasant weather inspires most of us with the desire to go someplace. And there are plenty of places to go.

The California Chamber of Commerce each quarter puts out a list of fairs, fiestas and other special events throughout the state. The list for June through August has just appeared, and it proves there's plenty for everybody who wants to go places in the Golden State.

TAKE THE FIRST week end in June, for instance — a good time to plan now on going someplace, if you're in the mood.

Like the flavor of Old Mexico and Old California? Mexican Players will be performing all week at the Padua Hills Theater in Claremont, Los Angeles County, and after seeing them you can whip over the following day to Glendale in the same county for "Days of the Verdugos," complete with parade, then on Sunday the 6th to the blessing of the fruits and flowers at San Fernando Mission.

Also in Los Angeles County that week end are the Monrovia Day Roundup, an "International Fiesta" on Catalina Island, and the Miss San Fernando beauty contest. In neighboring counties are Fontana Days, and an Elks rodeo and parade at Santa Maria.

YOU DON'T NEED to go that far, however, You can get Old California also at Merienda in Monterey — that historic city's 201st birthday, which will be Saturday, June 5. And while there you can take in the Northern California Golf Association senior championships June 2-4 at Pebble Beach, and Haldorn and Commodore's Regatta on the 4th, also at Pebble Beach.

For sports fans who prefer to head north, there's the Golden Gate Tennis Association tournament at Kelseyville in Lake County on June 4 and 5, and the Junior Grand Prix go kart race at Redding on the 5th.

Closer still is an ox roast at Sonoma on Sunday, June 6. And right here in Marin County is the Marin Ballet Aquacade on the 5th and 6th.

The midsummer outdoor music festival at Stern Grove in San Francisco also opens June 6.

AND FOR THOSE who don't want to watch parades or sports events, listen to music or mingle with crowds, there's the whole outdoors. You can get away from those worries at Samuel P. Taylor State Park, at Point Reyes National Stashore, or in any of many beautiful country areas only short distances from your home in Marin.

The worries will still be here when you get home again, but they won't seem quite so overwhelming.

CAPITOL REPORT

State Faces Dire Prospect Of Borrowing For Operations

By RUS WALTON

SACRAMENTO — The golden State of California will soon be forced to borrow money to meet its day-to-day operating expenses. There's no other way out, now.

Most taxpayers will be inclined to react with a "welcome to the club" attitude. Hundreds of thousands of them have just gone through the maddening agony of borrowing money to pay income and property taxes.

Its regular monthly income doesn't match that outflow.

RIGHT NOW the state's coffers are fat with loot which poured in around April 15. But come September and October the coffers will be bare. And, with the economy down and sales tax revenues off, the bottom of the coffers could be reached sometime in August.

Sen. Don Grunsky, R-Watsonville, has introduced SB 734 to authorize the state to issue tax anticipation notes, to borrow up to about $700 million against future revenues. These funds would have to be repaid within one year. Probably no more than $100 million or $150 million of that total would be borrowed this year.

The exact amount to be borrowed will depend on the size of the 1971-72 budget. The bigger the budget, the bigger the borrowing. Under the budget proposed by Governor Reagan the state will probably be forced to borrow $50 million for September, and another $30 million for October. This is after all possible, money has been borrowed from such special accounts as the highway fund.

The October income tax prepayments should finance state operations through the end of 1971. But, if withholding is not enacted and does not go into operation in January, 1972, it will be the same story all over again next March and April.

Because Grunsky's tax note legislation contains an "urgency" clause — so that it can become effective upon enactment — it requires a two-thirds majority in both houses. The Democrats might refuse to go along. That would force the governor to more drastic methods of financing and that — they figure — could be embarrassing. In politics, embarrassing the opposition seems to be more important than preventing crises.

SINCE 1970 Reagan has been saying that withholding was necessary to prevent a cash-flow crisis. Payroll deductions of state income taxes would produce about $80 million a month.

A graphic projection of the worsening cash flow situation was made to the governor in a four-hour session in December, 1969. It was Vern Orr's first major presentation as newly appointed finance director. That presentation, more than any other single factor, caused the governor to change his position on withholding.

At that time, the administration was coping with the cash-flow problem by using money from various economies and by borrowing from special funds. Orr noted that by 1971 the savings would no longer be enough to bridge the gap and the cookie jars would be about empty.

There was, Reagan said at the end of the meeting, no other choice but withholding. But, it's too late for withholding to help this year.

SHOULD THE GRUNSKY bill fail, the state would be forced to resort to registered warrants — similar to a balance-plus check-writing plan. The state would write checks and the banks would honor them even though there was no money on deposit. The state would guarantee to cover the checks within a specified period of time.

Registered warrants are an extreme step. They could injure the state's fiscal reputation and damage its credit rating. Future purchasers of California bonds would probably demand higher interest rates.

California will try to market several hundred million dollars worth of bonds this October — for the state water project, veterans' housing loans, park and recreation projects, and local waste-water treatment plants and sewers. Any significant increase in interest rates would cost the state extra millions of dollars.

This added cost, plus the interest on the tax anticipation notes, — or the registered warrants — will increase the cost of government. One way or another, the taxpayer will foot the bill.

We need a new "Mother" to celebrate on Mother's Day. It's time to stop awarding quanitity. The mother's concern for her family expressed by her active involvement in improving the quality of life for her children is a more worthy attribute of motherhood. Next year let's award the mother of two children. She is not contributing to overpopulation, and she has time to devote to community activities (such as Planned Parenthood or Ecology Action) which will make the world a better place for her children. Another "bouquet" for the members of the Marin County Deputy Sheriffs' Association for their recent gift to San Rafael High School's American Field Service international scholarship program.

I have purchased tickets for this year's circus. Those students soliciting my support by telephone for the association were most courteous. I am sorry the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce is in conflict with the association. I hope it will not hinder the sale of the tickets.

Their profits over the past few years have been so beautifully given to so many worthwhile groups. Establishment Destroys Itself With Taxes

The beleaguered homeowner — your editorial, "A 65c Tax Increase" — seems never to reach the summit of a dismal course of events, merely plateaus.

Assessed valuations in may area show, by random sampling, an average increase of 130 to 160 per cent from 1959 to 1970. Added to that is a tax rate increase of approximately $2, and it would be optimism to believe other valuation areas show an appreciable difference.

As property divides itself into two broad categories, personality and realty, taxes of whatever kind and variety — franchise, excise, income, land sales, or what have you — also follow two main definitions: they come from cash flow or they come from accumulation. The broadest of these is the cash flow; the easiest to reach is the accumulation. Land is an accumulation: taxing it is a tax on capital. This is not to say it is wrong, but it has its limitations. To dry up the one may dry up the other . . .

Inequities abound on all sides. Voters, who have no ultimate burden, vote on revenue or bond issues, and voters who have no real experience with poverty vote on standards of care for those who do. The common characteristics between them are misunderstanding and frustration, and these are vented loudly in occasional meetings or publicity releases.

Such a meeting, called by a well spoken real estate entrepreneur, was held last June, in the board of supervisors chamber, and was attended by many of those taxpayer spokesmen so familiar to the scene. It was attended by others: people without spokesmen, without a champion — people seeking a way out from a decimated old age. The movement, so well begun and so well defined, died aborning: the leaders went back to their business and the people back to theirs.

This is too often the situation with volunteer organizations. If someone, or some group, would function with paid and volunteer help as omsbudsman, for the people of Marin, I would deem it a value for the county, worthy of time and support . . .

Waiting For Someone To Die So You Can Have A Heart

Willem Van Buuren of Mill Valley, kept alive for the last 18 months by the heart of a 16-year-old boy, recently recalled the circumstances of the transplant.

After two heart attacks, his doctor sent him to Stanford Medical Center in Palo Alto for consultation. There he was told he had three months to live — at the most.

Van Buuren said he was surprised: "I knew I was sick and I felt terrible. But I never realized I was dying." The doctor suggested a heart transplant and told Van Buuren to "think it over."

"It didn't take long. I made up my mind right away," Van Buuren said. "But they said I'd have to wait — maybe a week, maybe a month, maybe longer — for a heart. It was like a race — waiting to die." That was early in December.

"I stayed at home, mostly, just waiting for the phone to ring," Van Buuren recalled. "I was optimistic — especially when Christmas weekend came. I figured there would be a lot of accidents on the highways and maybe I'd get a heart."

It sounded cold and heartless when he said it, but this man knew he was going to die without a new heart. Who, in the same position, would think differently?

The accident that killed the San Leandro boy whose heart now beats in the Dutchman at 112 East Strawberry Drive occurred during New Year's weekend.

Van Buuren got the heart Jan. 3, 1970.

ANOTHER SIDE of a different coin is working with the California Highway Patrol. Reporters check with officers there daily, in addition to city police departments and the sheriff's office, for accident reports.

It's a routine matter to read over the several page report to check for accidents where a person was injured.

Well, it was at the other end of the pencil that this reporter found herself Sunday following an accident on Bolinas Road, a couple miles past Alpine Dam.

Having listened to a car salesman spout statistics that Marin County leads the country in sports car sales, I picked out a new red convertible of a leading model.

With just a few miles on the week-old car, I took off for sports-car country — up in the mountains — only to find a big Cadillac in the middle of a 360-degree turn.

Two highway patrolmen came to my rescue, however, took care of the tow truck and gave me a ride back to San Rafael and a sympathetic pat on the head.

No, they don't eat little old ladies and children. They are just doing their jobs when they stop you for whatever.

(I hope they read this. Maybe I won't get a ticket.)

Sample Ballots Mailed In Sonoma

Sample ballots have been mailed for the June 1 Cotati School District tax rate increase election and for the Petaluma municipal election to be held June 8, according to Sonoma County Clerk Eugene D. Williams.

Applications for absentee ballots for the Cotati election must be received by Tuesday and on June 1 for the Petaluma election. Persons physically unable to attend a polling place or expecting to be absent should apply by letter to the registrar of voters office in Santa Rosa.

COUNTY COMMENT

Frank Lloyd To The Wright And Left, Wherever You Look

First a chuckle — I think: In Tuesday's mail came a nice clean No. 12 envelope, with Grace Cathedral in the upper left corner. It was addressed to Mr. William Fusselman, San Anselmo, Calif. 94960. Now, all the mailing lists that I seem to be on use my middle initial and street number. I have never received anything from this source before.

Inside was an 8½ by 14 inch sheet of good paper, with the heading "Spring Music At The Cathedral." It was printed on both sides and there were 10 events listed, running from April through June. An arrow was drawn with red crayon pointing to:

"THE TALIESIN PLAYERS

"A Spectacular program of music, dance and lights will mark the first San Francisco performance of this frmed group under the direction of Iovanna Lloyd Wright, daughter of Frank Lloyd Wright. This group performs regularly at Taliesin West in Scotscale, Ariz., and they have become famed for the beauty of their presentations . . "

It's sort of hard to tell just why this was sent to me. It sure looks like someone was putting me on, for surely I am not on their "Who's Who" list.

Even Uncle Sam got in on the act. Later in the day when I bought a batch of 2-cent stamps to go with the 6-centers on hand, there was his highness Frank Lloyd himself staring at me. Oh boy!

"A CAUTIOUS GREETING To Health Plan" was just about right. I was sorry to see that Mr. (James B.) Burdick, the veterans service officer, was mixed up in this. I think I made the motion for his employment when Doc Duhamel retired. This is not exactly his field. Tom Campanella, assistant administrator, just doesn't have the professional background to be calling the play on the consolidation of the health services. The public is entitled to know what he has been working at the past years. He says it is not his idea alone. We should hope not, but let's have the names of those who are with him. I think you would find others who are not qualified either.

This is not a new idea. It was brought up by the administrator in 1963-64. It is all part of the plan to dump the health officer that the administrator tried to put over a few weeks back. It's empire building, full of Parkinson Law potentials.

Here is a good chance for the board to roll up its sleeves and go to work on it themselves. There is plenty "political necessity," Wornum, Baar and Arrigoni. Think about it!

Coastline Effort Asked By Reagan

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan says if California is to preserve its unique coastline a partnership between state and local governments—and not the state alone—will have to do the job.

The governor told his weekly news conference Tuesday that a "kind of compact" for the protection of the coast is what he envisions but not a state-directed effort.

"I don't think that the state should have the power of total veto," he said, adding that "we definitely believe there is an area for state involvement here and that can fall short of simply overruling local government."

San Marin Group Schedules Picnic

The San Marin Improvement Association will have a picnic at Lion's Park, near Stafford Lake, June 27 from noon to 5 p.m.

There will be free pony rides, a teen-age musical group to entertain and the association's annual East-West softball game, directors reported Wednesday night.

VOICE OF YOUTH

Larkspur Citizens Awaken To Safeguard Community

By R. W. THOMAS
and TERRENCE KEENAN
San Francisco State College

There is an awakening stirring in the people of Larkspur. Suddenly they became aware of the preciousness of their land when confronted by hordes of developers.

We applaud their recent efforts in the city council and ask they not disband but remain on guard for the next attempted rape.

We wish to bring attention to a little known and well hidden fact. A city's councilmen and commissioners often represent or are by certain methods receptive to the profiteers of any development. Their profit may be either financial or political. Every town meeting contains a strong lobby of local business. Persons running for local government positions always solicit the support of the chamber of commerce and other promotion-oriented groups and clubs. Throughout all these activities we may witness a liberal scattering of certain persons representing contractors, plumbers, electricians, trucking companies, merchants and any others having a vested interest in the developing and ravaging of any piece of yet-undisturbed soil.

IT SHOULD NOW be obvious that those in the controlling positions have little motivation for showing interest in that well-used word, ecology. The only people who will protect what is left are unfortunately not in decision-making positions. If we, the people, expect to bring about a change we must attend these meetings and voice our feelings. A large segment of the community must attend these meetings; otherwise, we, the minority who take the time to show, will be written off as the minority, instead of as the majority which exists. Our elected or appointed "representatives" will do nothing in this area unless we show that in addition to those who participate in campus demonstrations, there are other actively concerned members of their voting public. It all begins and ends at your local council meetings and planning commissions.

If people take no concerted action we shall continue to witness development after development railroaded through, urged on by the people who benefit from them since they are the only ones who attend these meetings.

MARIN COUNTY in the past has not been easily accessible. This is no longer true but one of the main reasons this county has managed to survive total defoliation during the 50s and 60s. As access and the cost of transport prove less prohibitive, a new era will emerge. We will become another tract and apartment suburbia. We call attention to San Rafael Canal area, Bon Air Hill, and some manner of hill scalping across the freeway from Strawberry Center. And it is by no means coincidental that the backers of the builders along Corte Madera Creek are from Los Angeles. Citizens of Larkspur, welcome to Los Angeles!

One of the most remarkable things about Marin is that we have managed to build thousands of homes without diminishing the hills or tearing down whole stands of trees. There is no reason this kind of building can't continue. Just because it's being built today doesn't mean it has to be cheap.

This typical disregard for our surroundings is one of the many issues that foment youth. It is not just the ordinary restlessness of youth or socialistic professors or Dr. Spock. This is not a fad or temporary idealistic venture into fantasy. We are talking about our actual survival as a species on this planet. It is important to remember that progress is not necessary to the maintenance of society or a stable economy.

Arraignment On Leaving Accident

Charles Willis Patterson, 30, of San Rafael, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on misdemeanor charges of possessing dangerous drugs, resisting arrest and leaving the scene of an accident.

He is to plead to the charges June 1.

Patterson was arrested Saturday after he was stopped by Novato police on a hit-and-run vehicle check. He gave officers a false name, police said, and a plastic bag containing pills and capsules was found in his jacket.

Forgery Charge Is Dismissed

A charge of credit card forgery against Warren Hardin Allen, 26, of Oakland, has been dismissed in Marin Municipal Court.

The case was dismissed when the district attorney's office reported that Allen was serving up to 14 years in prison for an offense in another county.

He had been accused of attempting to purchase clothing with a stolen credit card last Sept. 7 in a Sausalito Shop.

Four Fined For Drunken Driving, Get Probation

Four persons have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Sentenced Tuesday by Judge David Menary Jr. were:

George Robert Dreyer, 46, of 8 Hayes Street, San Rafael, arrested May 13 on Highway 101, who was placed on probation for six months and fined $302.

Daniel Michael Weber, 22, of 420 Hickory Lane, Terra Linda, arrested May 14 on Civic Center Drive, who was placed on probation for six months and fined $100.

Henry John Nachtsheim, 24, of 222 Madrone Avenue, Larkspur, arrested May 14 in Sausalito, who was placed on probation for six months and fined $240.

Sentenced Wednesday by Judge Peter Allen Smith was:

Jimmy Doyle Merchant, 30, of 19 Plaza Drive, Mill Valley, arrested May 7 in Sausalito, who was placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Merrill Paintings In Western Show

A primitive painting "Wintertime" by Novato artist Girldine Fallon Merrill is in the Society of Western Artists show at the De Young Museum in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

Two of Mrs. Merrill's paintings, "The Sleigh Ride" and "Sunday Supper With Grandma" were purchased from the Western White House in San Clemente in January.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By SANDRA YOUNG

Waiting For Someone To Die So You Can Have A Heart

It's amazing how your perspective changes when you're looking at the opposite side of the coin.

Willem Van Buuren of Mill Valley, kept alive for the last 18 months by the heart of a 16-year-old boy, recently recalled the circumstances of the transplant.

After two heart attacks, his doctor sent him to Stanford Medical Center in Palo Alto for consultation. There he was told he had three months to live — at the most.

Van Buuren said he was surprised: "I knew I was sick and I felt terrible. But I never realized I was dying." The doctor suggested a heart transplant and told Van Buuren to "think it over."

"It didn't take long. I made up my mind right away," Van Buuren said. "But they said I'd have to wait — maybe a week, maybe a month, maybe longer — for a heart. It was like a race — waiting to die." That was early in December.

"I stayed at home, mostly, just waiting for the phone to ring," Van Buuren recalled. "I was optimistic — especially when Christmas weekend came. I figured there would be a lot of accidents on the highways and maybe I'd get a heart."

It sounded cold and heartless when he said it, but this man knew he was going to die without a new heart. Who, in the same position, would think differently?

The accident that killed the San Leandro boy whose heart now beats in the Dutchman at 112 East Strawberry Drive occurred during New Year's weekend.

FOLLOWING THE extensive clean-up by the volunteer committee of the yard's pathway and gardens, volunteers gave a final sprinkling and finish to their work. The gazebo at right, was installed by a Marin designer and will be a focal point during some of the showcase activities to be held outdoors during the benefit. Inside the house the professionally decorated and furnished rooms will open tomorrow for viewing by the public.

ON THE AGENDA

Open House Benefit Scheduled At Marin Designers' Showcase

Marin Designers' Showcase, a Victorian style house in Sausalito decorated by nine Marin interior decorators, will be open beginning tomorrow, as a benefit for the Volunteer Bureau of Marin.

The house, located at 46 Santa Rosa Avenue, Sausalito, will be open daily through June 12. Hours are Mondays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays from 1 to 4 p.m. Friday evening hours are scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m.

Tickets will be available at the door, says Mrs. Matthew McGowan, chairman.

The house, known as “Three Gates”, is a restored Victorian house overlooking San Francisco Bay. It was built in 1879 by a wealthy Portuguese cod fish packer and originally dubbed “Codfish Castle”. It has been restored by co-owners Douglas McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Van Arsdale. The grounds have been refurbished by volunteer workers for the showcase, under the direction of Henry Cole, landscape architect.

There will be a number of special events during the three week period. Scheduled are a Sweet Adelines quartet in 1890s dress with barbershop harmony on Wednesday, from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. and again from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. the Mannequin League will model fashions.

An ice cream social will be held at 2 p.m. May 30, and June 2 at noon R. M. D. Childs, a member of the North Bay Food and Wine Society, will do a demonstration of fowl cooked in clay.

Committee assisting Mrs. McGowan are Mmes. Harvey N. Black Jr. of Ross, Ned Turkington of San Rafael, David Dawson of Greenbrae, Roland Peck and John Busterud of San Rafael, William Morris of Kentfield, Jean Smith of Mill Valley, Robert Lawson of Greenbrae, John Caple and Don Geddes of San Rafael, Wayne Arnold of Mill Valley, William Simmons of Tiburon, and R. M. D. Childs of San Anselmo.

“GAMES PEOPLE Play,” the second annual fund-raising party sponsored by the Lamplighters Branch of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers, will be held tomorrow from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

Proceeds from the party go to the volunteers' scholarship program and for the in-service training of hospital personnel.

“Games People Play,” held initially last year, was so successful the Lamplighters Branch decided to make it an annual event.

Dancing, games and a buffet dinner are on the program for the evening.

Mrs. David R. Loar of Mill Valley is chairman for the party, assisted by Mrs. William Cole, also of Mill Valley. Mrs. Carl R. Schneider of Mill Valley is ticket and reservations chairman.

Other committee members are Mmes. David Hemstreet of San Rafael, Robert Skinner, Jeffrey Fries and Lucius Bernard, all of Mill Valley; and Stephen Mirsky of Novato.

NOVATO ASSEMBLY, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, will install Georgene Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. London of Novato, as worthy advisor at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Druids Hall, Novato.

DIANE GLICKSMAN, worthy advisor, will be honored at a farewell meeting at 1 p.m. tomorrow by San Rafael Assembly 195, International Order of Rainbow for Girls. Chairman for the meeting at Masonic Hall in San Rafael is Gail Campbell, assisted by Alison Feeley, Mary Coman, Lynn Downey and Kathy Dahlin.

THE FOURTH Saturday hoedown of the Question Marks Square Dance Club of Cotati will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at Cotati Women's Club hall in Cotati. Keith Gylfe will be the guest caller.

OLD TIME movies and a cocktail party and picnic supper will be features of the public party from 4 to 8 p.m. Sunday at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley. Sponsor is the San Francisco Auxiliary to Muscular Distrophy, and proceeds from the event will go to the Muscular Distrophy Association for patient services in the Bay Area and research.

Auxiliary members will prepare the individual box suppers.

Tickets will be available at the clubhouse during the event.

A SPAGHETTI dinner will be sponsored by Court St. Raphael 1406, Catholic Daughters of America, from 4 to 7 p.m. Sunday at St. Raphael's Church social hall in San Rafael. Ray Brough will cook the meal and court members will provide dessert. Mrs. Andrew Schweighofer is chairman for the court. Assisting the chef will be Messrs. Schweighofer and Roy Padgett Jr.

GEORGENE ROBERTS
Rainbow installation

THE MARIN Country Club Homeowners Association will hold its second annual potluck picnic for members and guests from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Sunday, May 23 at Howarth Memorial Park in Santa Rosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert are chairmen assisted by Messrs. and Mmes. Gradin Gast, Gordon Walker, Drew Fossgren, Kenneth Lax and Dr. and Mrs. William Sullivan.

THE HAMILTON Air Force Base Officers Wives Club will have a one-day trip to South Lake Tahoe on Sunday. The bus will leave the non-commissioned officers parade grounds at 7 a.m. and return at midnight. Ticket chairman is Mrs. John Meyer.

Milk Is Held A Cheap Food

Louis C. Schafer, California Bureau of Milk Stabilization, reports that milk is not only the most nutritious drink you can buy at the store, it is also the most inexpensive.

“Ounce for ounce,” Schafer says, “milk costs less than cola drinks, root beer, citrus-flavored carbonated beverages, beer or most brands of plain soda water.”

According to the agricultural official, a quart of milk in California averages 26 cents of .8125 cents per ounce. Leading cola drinks cost 35 cents for a 26-ounce bottle or 1.3462 cents per ounce. Citrus-flavored carbonated drinks cost 36 cents for a 26-ounce bottle or 1.3750 to 1.6250 cents per ounce.

Seal Directors Pick Mrs. Elrod

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Helen L. Elrod of San Rafael was elected today to the board of directors of the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association of California, statewide federation of 27 local Christmas Seal associations.

Meeting at the Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles, the voluntary health agency selected Mrs. Elrod to represent Marin County at the policy-making level of the organization.

Mrs. Elrod has served as a director of the Occupational Nurses Board, California State Nurses, and is a board member of both the Marin TB and Respiratory Disease Association and the Marin Hearing and Speech Center.

New Brides Like Old-Time Custom

NEW YORK (UPI) —Many of today's brides are adopting an old-time custom of asking for wedding gifts in the form of services. It helps keep expenses of the reception down and also saves dollars for the person giving the gift.

If a friend is a great cook, a bride might ask her to provide finger-sandwiches or hors d'oeuvres for the reception. In the same vein, she might ask a person with talent for floral arrangements to take care of the decorations. A friend with pretty handwriting might write out the invitations to the reception. All these are perfectly correct, says the Bridal and Bridesmaids Apparel Association.

Ivory Handle

Stoddard, Mayer Rite Set

A Sept. 15 wedding is being planned by Judith Ann Mayer and Anthony Stoddard Warburg of Ross, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Mayer of Greenbrae.

Judith was graduated from Redwood High School and attends the University of California at Davis. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Mayer of San Francisco.

Anthony is the son of Mrs. Frank Dollard of Ross and Felix Warburg of San Francisco. He also is a Redwood graduate and is a junior at U.C. at Davis.

Cox Proposal Secret From The President

I-J Special Report

NEW YORK — Edward F. Cox didn't speak to President Nixon about marrying his daughter until a year and one-half after he proposed to her, Tricia Nixon revealed today in an interview with Lynda Johnson Robb.

Mrs. Robb — the last White House bride — interviews Miss Nixon for an article in the June issue of Ladies' Home Journal. According to Miss Nixon, Cox proposed “two years ago . . . in the Lincoln sitting room (of the White House).” At the time “Ed and I made a pact” not to tell anyone, including her parents and her sister, Julie Eisenhower.

She revealed her fiance asked the President for her hand “this last Thanksgiving at Camp David. We still didn't announce (our engagement) for a wide variety of reasons,” Miss Nixon told Mrs. Robb. “In January, Ed had semester exams (at Harvard Law School) — you know, those exams are very rigorous, and we thought the last thing Ed would need at that time would be a barrage by the press and other people. So we tried to keep it a secret until March 16,” the President's daughter revealed.

Miss Nixon stated she chose to have her wedding in the White House “because it is a very historical place to have a wedding. And it is our home, so we are combining two wonderful assets for a wedding.”

Swallowed Air Can Be Painful

Compared to organ transplants and life-saving antibiotics, new medical findings concerning painful gastrointestinal gas may seem somewhat trivial — except to the person with the problem.

Almost three-quarters of gas is caused by swallowed air, physicians have observed. People swallow air when they eat too fast or because they are tense.

At the Conference on Gastrointestinal Gas, simethicone, a defoaming agent, was reported to relieve the painful symptoms of gas and bloating. At the end of the meeting, one physician described a tablet containing simethicone, as producing marked improvement in patients who took part in a carefully-designed, scientifically-controlled study.

Marin Women

Roles Are Interchangeable —Woman, Wife, Actress

DALLAS (UPI) —“Women's lib?” Barbara Loden laughs. “I'm too busy liberating myself!”

Most recently the tiny-but-tough blonde freed herself from the tag of being known only as “Mrs. Elia Kazan” to write, direct and star in a small-budget film, “Wanda.”

The film was selected as one of the honorees for the first annual USA Film Festival held here. Both the film and the filmmaker were two of the biggest hits at the week-long movie fair.

“I have no priorities as a woman, a director, a wife, an actress. They are all interchangeable. They are all me,” she told the festival audience.

Her voice is very soft, respectful. But her dark eyes, soft one minute, can turn brittle and she looks like she means absolutely everything she says.

“I got this idea many years ago when I read an article about a girl who was convicted as a robbery accessory. She thanked the judge when she got a stiff sentence. Then I sort of made up the characters from my own understanding of myself,” she said.

It is not a true biography of the girl because prison wardens would not let Miss Loden investigate her. Miss Loden created her own story line, adding from her own North Carolina background.

“WANDA HAS no direction. She's just passing through life, mainly from man to man. But it's not a woman's film or a woman's problem. Wanda is an object, something handled, dropped. That's the story.

“I used to be a lot like Wanda. I had no direction. I was almost anesthesized. I was a dropout. Fortunately, I met people to bring me out of that and give me some self-respect.”

Now, Barbara Loden is one of the few women directors in the film business in the United States or abroad.

She's married to the much-respected stage and film director Elia Kazan (“On The Waterfront,” “Baby Doll”). But she says being Mrs. Kazan doesn't affect her filmmaking.

“We're doing two very different things. But he did just finish shooting a new film with Nick Proferes, the photographer for 'Wanda,' and he is trying a different approach.

“My husband helped me get organized for Wanda, I've got to admit. The men I used were not actors. They were from Scranton, Pa. They were inhibited with me because I was a young blonde to them. He would talk and get friendly with them so they would trust me.”

Miss Loden admitted she feels in competition with Kazan but not about making films.

“IT'S THE same man-woman things. I always feel I have to do the domestic things that men never do. He's liberal but he's still a man. It's a tradition ingrained in him.”

She said she would never consider letting Kazan direct her now.

“Maybe it would have been easier before our marriage about five years ago. But now it would be hard to see each other objectively.”

Miss Loden says “Wanda” is the only thing she has ever started and finished.

But she played the role of Marilyn Monroe successfully seven years ago on Broadway in Arthur Miller's “After the Fall.” She was also in what she calls “a few Broadway flops” and the films “Splendor in the Grass” and “Wild River.”

“Of cource I stayed after 'After the Fall' started, but I was always quitting during rehearsals ... too much responsibility or too many domestic responsibilities.”

“Wanda,” which cost only $100,000 to make, is “holding its own in New York theaters so far,” she says. “But nobody is getting rich off of it.”

Winner of Pulitzer Spurns Integration

By FRANK BULLARD

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Pulitzer Prize-winning black poetess has turned away from integration as the solution to racial problems in America. She indicated that blacks must develop a sense of identity by developing their own culture.

In an interview in Essence, a magazine for black women, Gwendolyn Brooks said she once “thought integration was the solution. All we had to do was keep on appealing to whites to help us, and they would.”

THE 53-YEAR poetess said she now has concluded that “I was naive, I was sweet. I was sweet and ignorant.”

Mrs. Brooks, who has written since the age of seven, was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1950. She said it was not until 1967, however, when she was attending a black writers conference, that she became aware of the realities of black life in America.

“What I saw and heard... was of a new nature to me,” she said. “Kids in my writing class would talk about what was going on. I'd listen and I'd say, 'What? You don't mean it! Is that really true?'

“THERE I found what has stimulated my life these last three years; young people full of a new spirit. They seemed stronger and taller— really ready to take on the challenges.”

Prior to that, Mrs. Brooks said, most of her friends and her readers were white and they considered her a “bitter” poet. But she said that even she did not understand the dilemma of the black.

“If I had been reading even the newspapers intelligently, I would have seen that it (integration) simply was not working, that blacks kept exposing themselves to it only to get their faces smacked,” she said.

Mrs. Brooks, who lives by herself in Chicago, has no ill will toward the whites she once knew but neither does she associate with them. Intead, she is trying to put into practice her belief that blacks must develop their own culture.

SHE SAID SHE even hopes that her autobiography will be published by a black firm, although “I've been with Harpers since 1945, when it published my first book.”

While she spoke of the need for strength and firmness by blacks, she did not advocate force or agitation. She also said that while she does not intend to remarry, she doesn't think black women should be involved in women's liberation.

Sponsor is the San Francisco Auxiliary to Muscular Distrophy, and proceeds from the event will go to the Muscular Distrophy Association for patient services in the Bay Area and research.

Auxiliary members will prepare the individual box suppers.

Tickets will be available at the clubhouse during the event.

A SPAGHETTI dinner will be sponsored by Court St. Raphael 1406, Catholic Daughters of America, from 4 to 7 p.m. Sunday at St. Raphael's Church social hall in San Rafael. Ray Brough will cook the meal and court members will provide dessert. Mrs. Andrew Schweighofer is chairman for the court. Assisting the chef will be Messrs. Schweighofer and Roy Padgett Jr.

THE MARIN Country Club Homeowners Association will hold its second annual potluck picnic for members and guests from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Sunday, May 23 at Howarth Memorial Park in Santa Rosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert are chairmen assisted by Messrs. and Mmes. Gradin Gast, Gordon Walker, Drew Fossgren, Kenneth Lax and Dr. and Mrs. William Sullivan.

THE HAMILTON Air Force Base Officers Wives Club will have a one-day trip to South Lake Tahoe on Sunday. The bus will leave the non-commissioned officers parade grounds at 7 a.m. and return at midnight. Ticket chairman is Mrs. John Meyer.

Milk Is Held A Cheap Food

Louis C. Schafer, California Bureau of Milk Stabilization, reports that milk is not only the most nutritious drink you can buy at the store, it is also the most inexpensive.

"Ounce for ounce," Schafer says, "milk costs less than cola drinks, root beer, citrus-flavored carbonated beverages, beer or most brands of plain soda water."

According to the agricultural official, a quart of milk in California averages 26 cents of .8125 cents per ounce. Leading cola drinks cost 35 cents for a 26-ounce bottle or 1.3462 cents per ounce. Citrus-flavored carbonated drinks cost 36 cents for a 26-ounce bottle or 1.3750 to 1.6250 cents per ounce.

Seal Directors Pick Mrs. Elrod

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Helen L. Elrod of San Rafael was elected today to the board of directors of the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association of California, statewide federation of 27 local Christmas Seal associations.

Meeting at the Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles, the voluntary health agency selected Mrs. Elrod to represent Marin County at the policy-making level of the organization.

Mrs. Elrod has served as a director of the Occupational Nurses Board, California State Nurses, and is a board member of both the Marin TB and Respiratory Disease Association and the Marin Hearing and Speech Center.

New Brides Like Old-Time Custom

NEW YORK (UPI) —Many of today's brides are adopting an old-time custom of asking for wedding gifts in the form of services. It helps keep expenses of the reception down and also saves dollars for the person giving the gift.

If a friend is a great cook, a bride might ask her to provide finger-sandwiches or hors d'oeuvres for the reception. In the same vein, she might ask a person with talent for floral arrangements to take care of the decorations. A friend with pretty handwriting might write out the invitations to the reception. All these are perfectly correct, says the Bridal and Bridesmaids Apparel Association.

Stoddard, Mayer Rite Set

A Sept. 15 wedding is being planned by Judith Ann Mayer and Anthony Stoddard Warburg of Ross, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Mayer of Greenbrae.

Judith was graduated from Redwood High School and attends the University of California at Davis. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Mayer of San Francisco.

Anthony is the son of Mrs. Frank Dollard of Ross and Felix Warburg of San Francisco. He also is a Redwood graduate and is a junior at U.C. at Davis.

Cox Proposal Secret From The President

I-J Special Report

NEW YORK — Edward F. Cox didn't speak to President Nixon about marrying his daughter until a year and one-half after he proposed to her, Tricia Nixon revealed today in an interview with Lynda Johnson Robb.

Mrs. Robb — the last White House bride — interviews Miss Nixon for an article in the June issue of Ladies' Home Journal. According to Miss Nixon, Cox proposed "two years ago . . . in the Lincoln sitting room (of the White House)." At the time "Ed and I made a pact" not to tell anyone, including her parents and her sister, Julie Eisenhower.

She revealed her fiance asked the President for her hand "this last Thanksgiving at Camp David. We still didn't announce (our engagement) for a wide variety of reasons," Miss Nixon told Mrs. Robb. "In January, Ed had semester exams (at Harvard Law School) — you know, those exams are very rigorous, and we thought the last thing Ed would need at that time would be a barrage by the press and other people. So we tried to keep it a secret until March 16," the President's daughter revealed.

Miss Nixon stated she chose to have her wedding in the White House "because it is a very historical place to have a wedding. And it is our home, so we are combining two wonderful assets for a wedding."

Swallowed Air Can Be Painful

Compared to organ transplants and life-saving antibiotics, new medical findings concerning painful gastrointestinal gas may seem somewhat trivial — except to the person with the problem.

Almost three-quarters of gas is caused by swallowed air, physicians have observed. People swallow air when they eat too fast or because they are tense.

At the Conference on Gastrointestinal Gas, simethicone, a defoaming agent, was reported to relieve the painful symptoms of gas and bloating. At the end of the meeting, one physician described a tablet containing simethicone, as producing marked improvement in patients who took part in a carefully-designed, scientifically-controlled study.

Marin Women

Roles Are Interchangeable —Woman, Wife, Actress

DALLAS (UPI) —"Women's lib?" Barbara Loden laughs. "I'm too busy liberating myself!"

Most recently the tiny-but-tough blonde freed herself from the tag of being known only as "Mrs. Elia Kazan" to write, direct and star in a small-budget film, "Wanda."

The film was selected as one of the honorees for the first annual USA Film Festival held here. Both the film and the filmmaker were two of the biggest hits at the week-long movie fair.

"I have no priorities as a woman, a director, a wife, an actress. They are all interchangeable. They are all me," she told the festival audience.

Her voice is very soft, respectful. But her dark eyes, soft one minute, can turn brittle and she looks like she means absolutely everything she says.

"I got this idea many years ago when I read an article about a girl who was convicted as a robbery accessory. She thanked the judge when she got a stiff sentence. Then I sort of made up the characters from my own understanding of myself," she said.

It is not a true biography of the girl because prison wardens would not let Miss Loden investigate her. Miss Loden created her own story line, adding from her own North Carolina background.

"WANDA HAS no direction. She's just passing through life, mainly from man to man. But it's not a woman's film or a woman's problem. Wanda is an object, something handled, dropped. That's the story.

"I used to be a lot like Wanda. I had no direction. I was almost anesthesized. I was a dropout. Fortunately, I met people to bring me out of that and give me some self-respect."

Now, Barbara Loden is one of the few women directors in the film business in the United States or abroad.

She's married to the much-respected stage and film director Elia Kazan ("On The Waterfront," "Baby Doll"). But she says being Mrs. Kazan doesn't affect her filmmaking.

"We're doing two very different things. But he did just finish shooting a new film with Nick Proferes, the photographer for 'Wanda,' and he is trying a different approach.

"My husband helped me get organized for Wanda, I've got to admit. The men I used were not actors. They were from Scranton, Pa. They were inhibited with me because I was a young blonde to them. He would talk and get friendly with them so they would trust me."

Miss Loden admitted she feels in competition with Kazan but not about making films.

"IT'S THE same man-woman things. I always feel I have to do the domestic things that men never do. He's liberal but he's still a man. It's a tradition ingrained in him."

She said she would never consider letting Kazan direct her now.

"Maybe it would have been easier before our marriage about five years ago. But now it would be hard to see each other objectively."

Miss Loden says "Wanda" is the only thing she has ever started and finished.

But she played the role of Marilyn Monroe successfully seven years ago on Broadway in Arthur Miller's "After the Fall." She was also in what she calls "a few Broadway flops" and the films "Splendor in the Grass" and "Wild River."

"Of cource I stayed after 'After the Fall' started, but I was always quitting during rehearsals ... too much responsibility or too many domestic responsibilities."

"Wanda," which cost only $100,000 to make, is "holding its own in New York theaters so far," she says. "But nobody is getting rich off of it."

Winner of Pulitzer Spurns Integration

By FRANK BULLARD

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Pulitzer Prize-winning black poetess has turned away from integration as the solution to racial problems in America. She indicated that blacks must develop a sense of identity by developing their own culture.

In an interview in Essence, a magazine for black women, Gwendolyn Brooks said she once "thought integration was the solution. All we had to do was keep on appealing to whites to help us, and they would."

THE 53-YEAR poetess said she now has concluded that "I was naive, I was sweet. I was sweet and ignorant."

Mrs. Brooks, who has written since the age of seven, was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1950. She said it was not until 1967, however, when she was attending a black writers conference, that she became aware of the realities of black life in America.

"What I saw and heard... was of a new nature to me," she said. "Kids in my writing class would talk about what was going on. I'd listen and I'd say, 'What? You don't mean it! Is that really true?'

"THERE I found what has stimulated my life these last three years; young people full of a new spirit. They seemed stronger and taller— really ready to take on the challenges."

Prior to that, Mrs. Brooks said, most of her friends and her readers were white and they considered her a "bitter" poet. But she said that even she did not understand the dilemma of the black.

"If I had been reading even the newspapers intelligently, I would have seen that it (integration) simply was not working, that blacks kept exposing themselves to it only to get their faces smacked," she said.

Mrs. Brooks, who lives by herself in Chicago, has no ill will toward the whites she once knew but neither does she associate with them. Intead, she is trying to put into practice her belief that blacks must develop their own culture.

SHE SAID SHE even hopes that her autobiography will be published by a black firm, although "I've been with Harpers since 1945, when it published my first book."

While she spoke of the need for strength and firmness by blacks, she did not advocate force or agitation. She also said that while she does not intend to remarry, she doesn't think black women should be involved in women's liberation.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Mother Upset By Secret County Treatment For Children With VD

DEAR HELEN:

I'm very upset about the letter signed "Help" from an under-age girl who thought she had VD.

Your advise was to contact the county veneral disease clinic in her area and the parents would not be informed.

I have two teenagers and if anyone treated my children for VD I certainly would want to know that they are headed in the wrong direction. It doesn't make me feel any better to be told the county will cover up their misbehavior!

Something is wrong with this setup. Our tax money is being used to encourage immorality, it seems. I'd sue the county if it ever treated my child without my knowledge. — MRS. R.E.L. AND FRIENDS

DEAR MRS. L.:

Would you prefer that your child go untreated (risking chronic disease, sterility, even death — plus the possibility that he will infect others)?

This happens when teen-agers "would rather die than confess to their parents."

VD clinics are fighting an epidemic. Naturally, they would prefer that parents know children's problems, but their greatest concern is with public health. If a young person will only be treated on condition of secrecy, then I say, thank God secrecy is now allowed by law in your state! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My father disowned me when I became pregnant. My husband and I were married and we've been very happy, but I've never been forgiven. I was told to leave even though I had no place to go. Thank goodness, my man stood by me!

We now have three lovely children. I take them to see my mother whenever I know HE won't be there. she isn't allowed to visit us. I won't go into detail about his other cruelties but, you can imagine, Mom's life is rough . . . Barren and miserable ... She obeys, or else.

The other day our daughter left a much loved doll at "Grandma's" as we had to "vanish " fast. This morning she got a package in the mail. It was her doll, head crushed, body slashed, with a note, w----s and b------s are not welcome here."

Helen, why does a woman put up with a man like that? We won't go back, but what about my mother? She was crying on the phone today. He'd beat her again. Yet she stays.

She could live with us until she gets established in a job. She isn't old, just beaten down. How can we persuade her? — DISOWNED DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER:

Your mother is evidently the type who would take almost anything rather than make a decision — or stand up to a man she fears.

Perhaps she knows herself better than you do. Independence might overwhelm a woman so accustomed to slavery. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Why must cosmetic surgery cost so much? I want to have my breasts enlarged so I'll feel like a whole woman. Upon inquiring, I found the cost would be about $1,600 including the hospital. I've read that a complete face lift costs at least $2,000 these days — for about four hours on the table and an overnight stay in the hospital. Only the wealthy, it seems, can look their best, but it's the poorer people who NEED these morale boosters. A new bustline wouldn't help me get a job (as a new face might with older people) but it would cheer me so much that I would spread a lot of happiness around in my family — and that's awfully important, especially when we can't afford a great deal else. — FLAT BROKE

DEAR FLAT:

Let's hope some day cosmetic surgery can be everybody's uplift. Even doctors (some of them) admit it is now overpriced. Comments, surgeons? — H.

Menninger Warning: It's Never Too Late

NEW YORK (UPI) —Whatever it is you want to do, watch out for feelings of "it's too late."

Such slogans can become an alibi, says Dr. Karl Menninger, founder of the Menninger Clinic and a world-renowned psychiatrist. "It isn't mature to give up and flop—at any age," he adds in a report in Modern Maturity, publication of the American Association of Retired Persons. "The one thing older people have to fight against is exaggerating their weakness."

Teens' Preference

Teen-agers prefer rigid necklets instead of the regular necklaces. These come in silver or golden tones, in gold filled or sterling, dangling charms, monogrammed discs, butterflies, beating hearts, abstract mobiles, symbols and emblems of causes dear to their hearts.

Compatible Collar

Dog collars of braided metal, of leather, of velvet ribbon and embroidery are compatible to the teen-ager's life style. The adolescent prefers to wear more than one at a time.

ON BEING BLACK

History Of America's Slaves Lies Behind Simple Tradition

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Thank you, Miss Bertha.'' The child smiled warmly and hurried out the door.

"Why," asked one of the adults present, "do so many black children do that — call familiar adults by their first name and always preface it with Mr. or Miss?"

This Southern tradition, which has traveled north, east and west, clearly has historical origins. From day-one on this soil, black slaves were purged of their original names. They were given first names and when surnames became necessary for further identification they generally assumed the names of their white slave masters.

DURING THOSE days and for a depressing number of generations thereafter, the titles Mr. or Miss were reserved for whites. These prefaces denoted a definite form of respect, and blacks were not afforded this civility. Whites called black adults by their first names or the infamous "boy" or "girl," denoting the assumed infinite childness of blacks.

Eventually, blacks, in an attempt to instill in their children a sense of respect and warmth for other black adults, initiated the practice of having their children address familiar adults as Mr. or Miss first name — hence, Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha.

The need for the Mrs. title, of course, was nonexistent, since during slavery days marriage among blacks was not a recognized institution, and a black slave woman was not afforded the protective title of a husband's last name.

Black children also commonly adopt a family. They will verbally make an arrangement with an adult they like to be their pretend mother or father or in the case of a peer their pretend sister. These relationships have all the warmth of a natural family.

SUCH PRACTICES are interesting to observe at a time in our history when the values of the family unit are being questioned.

Unfortunately, the pressures of urbanization and the stated need for us to tidy up our speech are placing Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha in jeopardy. That's sad because an alarming number of urban youngsters have little or no respect for adults, and if they address you at all it certainly is not be any printable name — grammatically correct or incorrect.

When whites question the use of Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha, I am somewhat amused. They appear to assume that the practice is due to a lack of information or intelligence. Nothing could be further from the truth.

As a friend, who is an educated, articulate black adult, who fully appreciates the warmth and value of this tradition, puts it, "I know they are Mr. and Mrs. Brown. But to me they'll always be Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha."

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Mother Upset By Secret County Treatment For Children With VD

DEAR HELEN:

I'm very upset about the letter signed "Help" from an under-age girl who thought she had VD.

Your advise was to contact the county veneral disease clinic in her area and the parents would not be informed.

I have two teenagers and if anyone treated my children for VD I certainly would want to know that they are headed in the wrong direction. It doesn't make me feel any better to be told the county will cover up their misbehavior!

Something is wrong with this setup. Our tax money is being used to encourage immorality, it seems. I'd sue the county if it ever treated my child without my knowledge. — MRS. R.E.L. AND FRIENDS

DEAR MRS. L.:

Would you prefer that your child go untreated (risking chronic disease, sterility, even death — plus the possibility that he will infect others)?

VD clinics are fighting an epidemic. Naturally, they would prefer that parents know children's problems, but their greatest concern is with public health. If a young person will only be treated on condition of secrecy, then I say, thank God secrecy is now allowed by law in your state! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My father disowned me when I became pregnant. My husband and I were married and we've been very happy, but I've never been forgiven. I was told to leave even though I had no place to go. Thank goodness, my man stood by me!

We now have three lovely children. I take them to see my mother whenever I know HE won't be there. she isn't allowed to visit us. I won't go into detail about his other cruelties but, you can imagine, Mom's life is rough . . . Barren and miserable . . . She obeys, or else.

The other day our daughter left a much loved doll at "Grandma's" as we had to "vanish " fast. This morning she got a package in the mail. It was her doll, head crushed, body slashed, with a note, w----s and b------s are not welcome here."

Helen, why does a woman put up with a man like that? We won't go back, but what about my mother? She was crying on the phone today. He'd beat her again. Yet she stays.

She could live with us until she gets established in a job. She isn't old, just beaten down. How can we persuade her? — DISOWNED DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER:

Your mother is evidently the type who would take almost anything rather than make a decision — or stand up to a man she fears.

Perhaps she knows herself better than you do. Independence might overwhelm a woman so accustomed to slavery. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Why must cosmetic surgery cost so much? I want to have my breasts enlarged so I'll feel like a whole woman. Upon inquiring, I found the cost would be about $1,600 including the hospital. I've read that a complete face lift costs at least $2,000 these days — for about four hours on the table and an overnight stay in the hospital. Only the wealthy, it seems, can look their best, but it's the poorer people who NEED these morale boosters. A new bustline wouldn't help me get a job (as a new face might with older people) but it would cheer me so much that I would spread a lot of happiness around in my family — and that's awfully important, especially when we can't afford a great deal else. — FLAT BROKE

DEAR FLAT:

Let's hope some day cosmetic surgery can be everybody's uplift. Even doctors (some of them) admit it is now overpriced. Comments, surgeons? — H.

Menninger Warning: It's Never Too Late

NEW YORK (UPI) —Whatever it is you want to do, watch out for feelings of "it's too late."

Such slogans can become an alibi, says Dr. Karl Menninger, founder of the Menninger Clinic and a world-renowned psychiatrist. "It isn't mature to give up and flop—at any age," he adds in a report in Modern Maturity, publication of the American Association of Retired Persons. "The one thing older people have to fight against is exaggerating their weakness."

Compatible Collar

Dog collars of braided metal, of leather, of velvet ribbon and embroidery are compatible to the teen-ager's life style. The adolescent prefers to wear more than one at a time.

Teens' Preference

Teen-agers prefer rigid necklets instead of the regular necklaces. These come in silver or golden tones, in gold filled or sterling, dangling charms, monogrammed discs, butterflies, beating hearts, abstract mobiles, symbols and emblems of causes dear to their hearts.

ON BEING BLACK

History Of America's Slaves Lies Behind Simple Tradition

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Thank you, Miss Bertha.'' The child smiled warmly and hurried out the door.

"Why," asked one of the adults present, "do so many black children do that — call familiar adults by their first name and always preface it with Mr. or Miss?"

This Southern tradition, which has traveled north, east and west, clearly has historical origins. From day-one on this soil, black slaves were purged of their original names. They were given first names and when surnames became necessary for further identification they generally assumed the names of their white slave masters.

DURING THOSE days and for a depressing number of generations thereafter, the titles Mr. or Miss were reserved for whites. These prefaces denoted a definite form of respect, and blacks were not afforded this civility. Whites called black adults by their first names or the infamous "boy" or "girl," denoting the assumed infinite childness of blacks.

Eventually, blacks, in an attempt to instill in their children a sense of respect and warmth for other black adults, initiated the practice of having their children address familiar adults as Mr. or Miss first name — hence, Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha.

The need for the Mrs. title, of course, was nonexistent, since during slavery days marriage among blacks was not a recognized institution, and a black slave woman was not afforded the protective title of a husband's last name.

Black children also commonly adopt a family. They will verbally make an arrangement with an adult they like to be their pretend mother or father or in the case of a peer their pretend sister. These relationships have all the warmth of a natural family.

SUCH PRACTICES are interesting to observe at a time in our history when the values of the family unit are being questioned.

Unfortunately, the pressures of urbanization and the stated need for us to tidy up our speech are placing Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha in jeopardy. That's sad because an alarming number of urban youngsters have little or no respect for adults, and if they address you at all it certainly is not be any printable name — grammatically correct or incorrect.

When whites question the use of Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha, I am somewhat amused. They appear to assume that the practice is due to a lack of information or intelligence. Nothing could be further from the truth.

As a friend, who is an educated, articulate black adult, who fully appreciates the warmth and value of this tradition, puts it, "I know they are Mr. and Mrs. Brown. But to me they'll always be Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha."

Alumnae Of Mills To Meet

The annual reunion for Mills College alumnae is being held May 28, 29 and 30 on the campus of the college in Oakland.

Special events will be a report on the state of the college by the president, Dr. Robert J. Wert, on Friday morning and a Saturday symposium under the direction of the Continuing Education Committee of the Alumnae Association, "Medical Care: Crisis and Cost."

At the alumnae family dinner Saturday night retiring faculty members, M. Darius Milhaud and Mrs. James Caldwell will be honored. Concluding activities will be Sunday's baccalaureate service and degree day ceremonies.

Clear The House Before Starting Housecleaning

One of the best ways to start housecleaning, according to home economists for a national all-purpose cleaner company, is to do a little house clearing and give away, put away or throw away many of the family's possessions that are needlessly filling shelves, closets and drawers.

In the give away group, you might put the still wearable clothes that children have outgrown, toys the children no longer want, books, dishes and bric-a-brac that have outlived their usefulness.

Out-of-season equipment and seasonal decoration might be included in the put away group, and in the throw away group should go the gloves without mates, appliances beyond repair and empty boxes.

Public, Catholic School Cooperation

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Joint planning between public and Catholic school systems to improve educational quality and achieve operational efficiency has been launched in three cities, the National Catholic Educational Association reports.

The Ford Foundation-sponsored project is under way in Philadelphia, New Orleans and San Francisco. Public and Catholic school officials in the three cities will form joint planning councils to explore methods of cooperation which will best serve to solve local problems and improve local educational programs.

Wrinkle Strategy: Empty In A Hurry

NEW YORK (UPI)—For a minimum of wrinkles, remove laundry from the dryer as soon as the machine stops.

The Cleanliness Bureau says this step is particularly important for permanent press fabrics. Fold or hang the clothes promptly. When using a dryer with no permanent press cycle, remove such items while still slightly damp and finger-smooth before hanging.

Correct Way For Watering Vine Plants

When watering house plants such as vines that climb a pole, use a paper cup with small holes punched in the bottom.

Place the cup on top of the pole so the water feeds through slowly and soaks into the pole. Liquid fertilizer and weed killer can also be given to plants in this manner.

Novato Jaycee Wives Elect Mrs. David Martin

MRS. DAVID N. MARTIN
Elected in Novato

The Novato Jaycee Wives have elected Mrs. David N. Martin president. She has also served as treasurer during her three years as a member.

The members assist the Jaycees in the Orange Crate Derby and the Junior Miss Pageant. They plan to have bake and rummage sales and a fashion show.

Barbara Martin and her husband, sales representative for Stauffer Frozen Foods, have two children, David (Scott), 5 and Sandra, 3 years old. Mrs. Martin has lived in Marin County 17 years and is also membership chairman of the Pleasant Valley Baby Sitting Co-op. She was born in San Francisco and was graduated from Louise Salinger's Academy of Fashion and Design in San Francisco. Sewing, decorating, playing darts and hiking are her favorite pastimes.

Officers elected with Mrs. Martin are Mmes. Robb Madgett, vice president; Joseph Talarico, secretary; and Robert Schall, treasurer.

MRS. ROBERT M. ALLEN
Mental health volunteer

Mrs. Allen New President Of Volunteers

Mrs. Robert Morgan Allen of Mill Valley is the new president of the Community Mental Health Center Branch of Marin General Hospital Volunteers.

Marlene Allen has been a member of the in-service organization for three years, previously serving as vice president and secretary. Anyone over the age of 18, who meets the qualifications of the staff of the mental health center, may join, according to the new president, a former president of the Mill Valley Health Council and a member of the Suicide Prevention Center.

A native of Berkeley, Mrs. Allen was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles. She was reared in Santa Monica, where she later taught school in the primary grades.

Sailing and hiking are Mrs. Allen's hobbies. Seh enjoys activities with her family, which includes her husband, the president of Dyna-Craft, Inc.; a son Bill, 16; and a daughter, Lori, 14. They have lived in Marin seven years.

Members have also elected Mmes. Louis Goldblatt, vice president; John W. Ford, secretary; and Henri Boussy, treasurer.

Mill Valley Woman Nominated For Award

MRS. LOIS CALDERWOOD
Comptrollership award

Mrs. Lois Calderwood of Mill Valley has been named to represent the Department of the Army for the "Woman of the Year Comptrollership Award."

Through her position as chief of the Methods and Standards Branch of Western Area, Military Traffic Management and Terminal Service at Oakland Army Base, Mrs. Calderwood was eligible for the award, which is given to women active in comptrollership throughout the Department of Defense.

A certificate of achievement and letters of congratulation were presented Mrs. Calderwood by Brig. Gen. H. R. Del Mar, Western Area commander, acting on behalf of Maj. Gen. John Clarence J. Lang, commander in Washington, D.C.

A native of Iowa, Mrs. Calderwood began her federal service career in 1953 with the U.S. Army in Alaska. She came to her present position in 1969 with the U.S. Army in Alaska. She came to her present position in 1969 from the Naval Supply Center in Oakland, where she had been a supervisor five years.

Mrs. Calderwood holds a B.S. degree in political science from the University of San Francisco and is working on a master's degree in business administration at Golden Gate College.

Before beginning her federal service she worked for the Research Service, Inc., a public opinion and market research agency in Denver, Colo., and with the National Opinion Research Center at the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Calderwood has lived in Mill Valley for two years and recently became a member of the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women. Her hobbies are sculpture, bicycling and golf.

RAP SESSION

'Paranoid' Bureaucracy Blamed

By FRANK FARRARA
(23rd in a series of 24 raps)

Rex Hutchinson, a 22-year-old former drug addict, sees society becoming more aware of its problems and moving slowly toward making changes.

Now it is in a confused state and there has to be a "lot of change or it will fall apart," he said. "It's a tossup if we're going to a police state or get it together."

Hutchinson, cofounder of Center Point, a help center in San Rafael for young people trying to kick the drug habit, credited young people with leading the way to change.

"It's really a drag what young people had to do to make society wake up," he said. "I think the young people are bringing people back to being people."

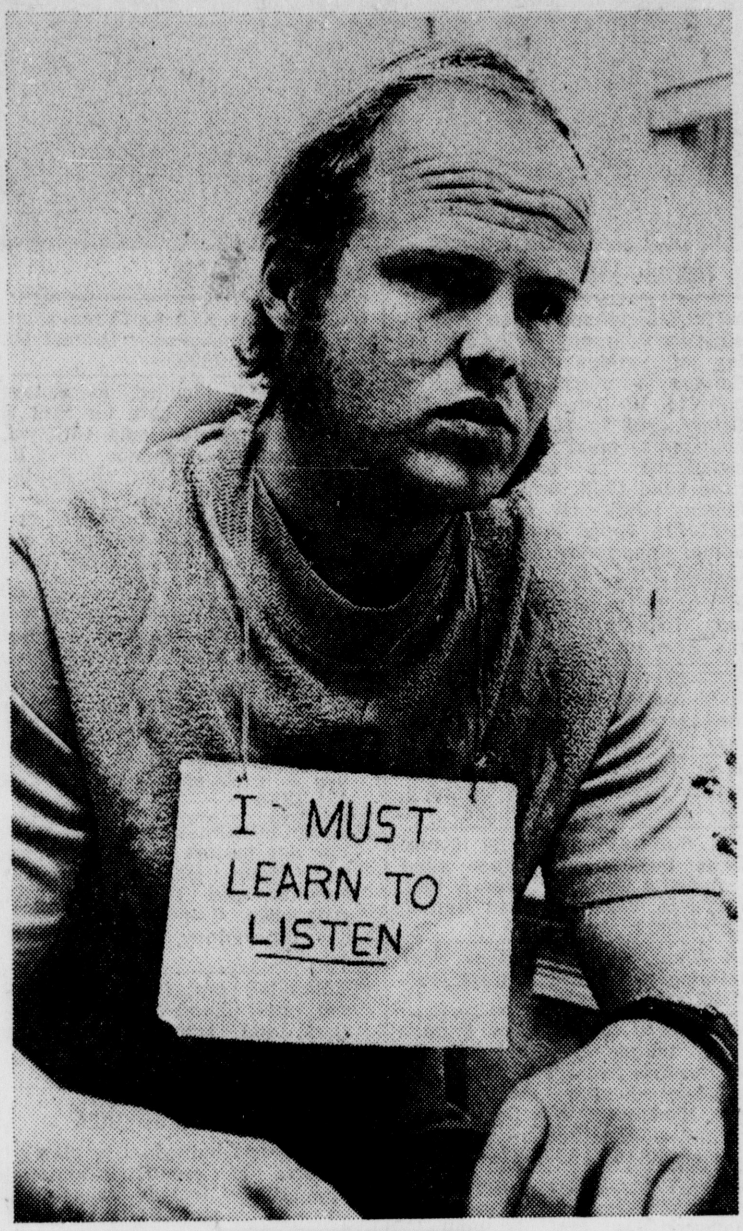
Now there are drug programs, campaigns for clean air, black politicians and Caucasians letting their hair grow, indications of change, he said.

"I'm happy with a lot of changes. I want to keep going in that direction," Hutchinson said. There is "a long way to go and a lot of hard work to satisfy people," he said.

Hutchinson recommended that the "establishment get looser," and that the bureaucratic system "stop being paranoid."

For example, he said, to get funds for his center requires too much red tape and when help comes "it's usually almost too late."

Even as he reported his views, the quiet-spoken Hutchinson sported a sign, "I must listen more," such signs being a kind of penance varying with each Center Point member's principal failing.



REX HUTCHINSON
"Let youth admit Society's accomplishments and stop yelling just to be yelling."
(Independent-Journal photo)

Although Americans don't have to struggle like people in poor countries, Americans have been "fed up" with U. S. society for many reasons, he said: the "academic setup," the war, the values and morals of society.

Youths have turned to drugs because of personal reasons, such as difficulty with parents, but social problems in general provided the setting, Hutchinson said.

"Our biggest problem now is no jobs," he said. Employers are still trying to get "highly qualified" persons, he said.

He argued that young people trying to kick drugs could be hired parttime or fulltime "without qualifications." If they aren't, he said, there could be more difficulty.

Hutchinson said law enforcement is starting to adopt a different approach "to putting people away." A youth on a bad LSD trip is sent to Marin General Hospital, Center Point or Open House. This is better than taking them to jail and "we need to do more of this," he said.

The Vietnam war has not only resulted in deaths, but has "killed" people's faith in the U.S. and brought widespread drug use, he said.

Hutchinson estimated that more servicemen have used drugs in Vietnam than have been killed in action. "Think of how many have been killed and how many are using drugs," he said.

Hutchinson saw marriage as continuing in U. S. society, but believed that more people will live together before marriage. "It's not immoral to live together and its important to see how people act, where their feelings are really at. It's hard to tell without living together."

After living together, "you really know who you are marrying," he said. "Before you had to marry her, before you knew."

In the past few decades "the big thing was get married and get divorced," he said. "It seems it will start getting truer again."

Hutchinson said that society isn't making changes fast enough, and that in the past the "system was making people escape from reality."

Youth can keep pushing for changes, but there's no reason for violence, he said. He felt that youth should acknowledge society's accomplishments thus far toward change to show that they're "not yelling, just to be yelling."

First Round On Budget For Reed

The first in a series of meetings on the Reed School District's 1971-72 budget was held last night, with trustees learning that the district expects $2,386,068 in income next year.

The figure compares to an estimated income of $2,079,486 for the current fiscal year. Supt. Ralph D. Giovanniello said trustees did not discuss the effect the budget would have on the district tax rate, which stands at $3.53 per $100 assessed valuation this year.

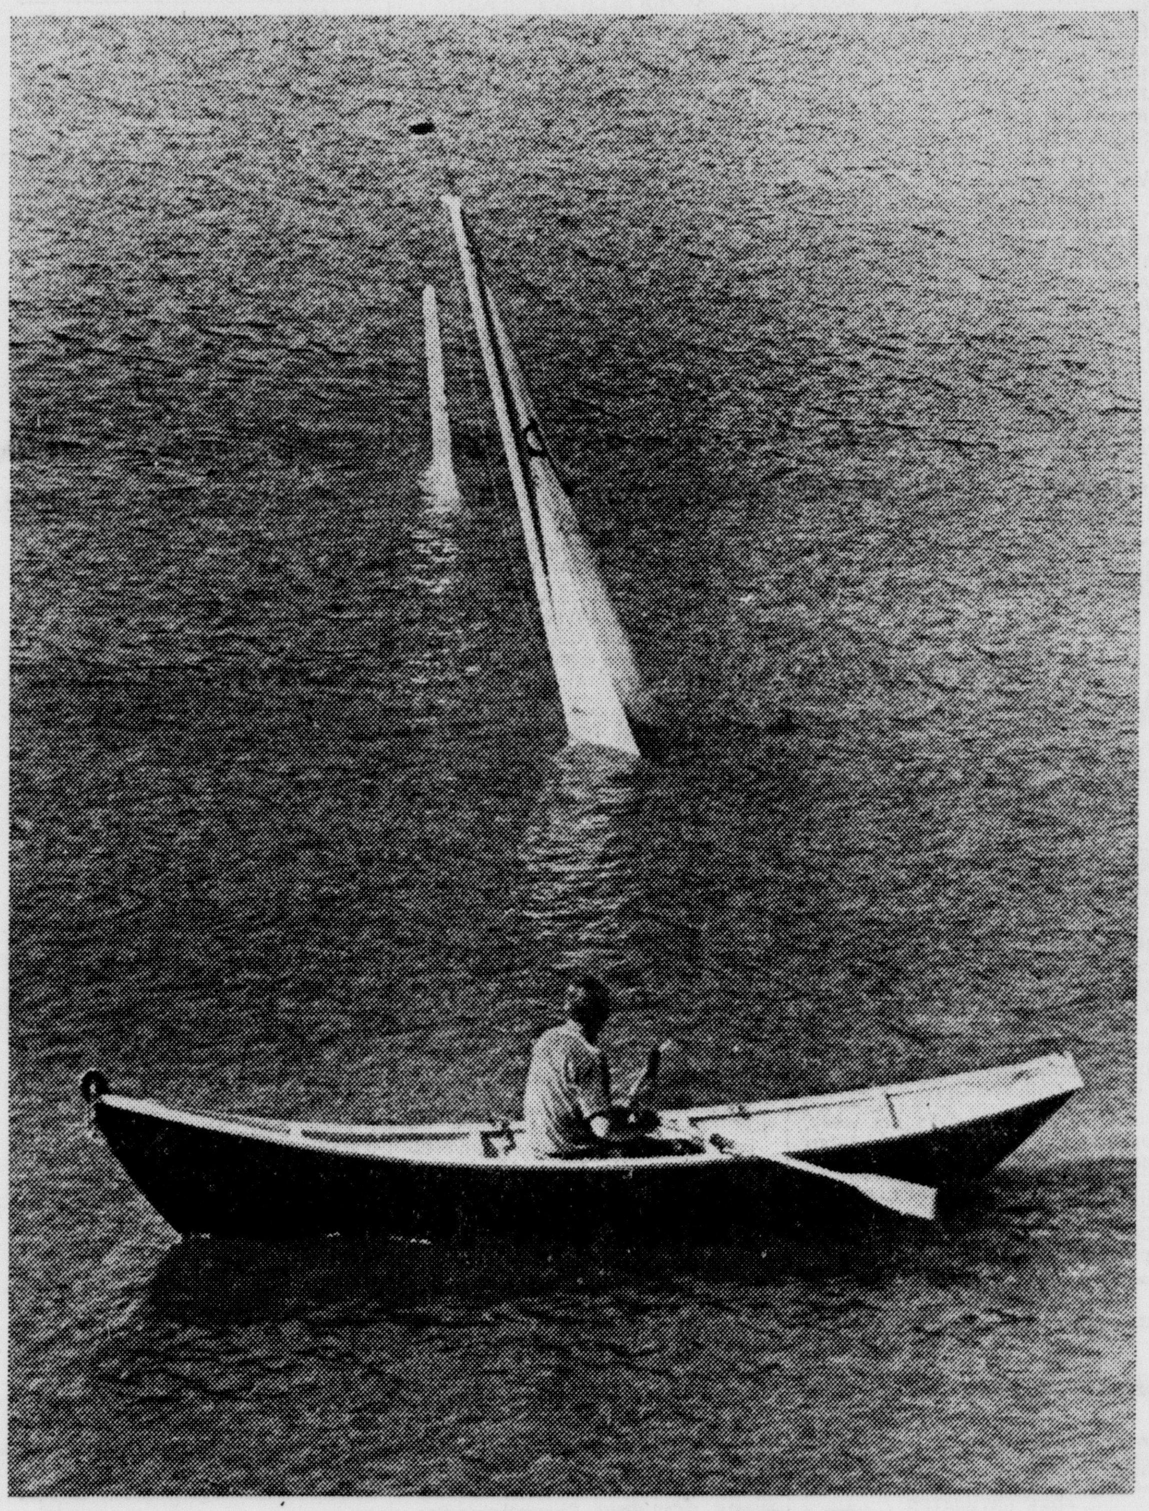
Another budget session was set for 7:30 p.m. June 15, when the board will consider proposed expenditures for next year and an anticipated tax rate.

Giovanniello said trustees also discussed two possibilities for teacher staffing next year, one with 109 teachers and the other with 113. The district has 105 certificated personnel this year.

The board has considered adding teachers in 1971-72, the superintendent said, and his projections were based on that possibility. With 109 teachers the district could add four teachers to its upper elementary program at Reedland Woods and Granada schools, he said, while 113 teachers would allow additional staffing of the reading and learning specialist programs.

The board asked Giovanniello to investigate the scope of programs possible with the beefed-up teaching force and report at the June 15 meeting.

No other business was discussed at last night's adjourned meeting, the superintendent said.



WINDS SINK SAILBOAT

An unidentified man rowed out today to view the masts of a small sailboat which sank last night in waters between Corinthinan Yacht Club and Belvedere. Winds which gusted up to 105 miles an hour in West Marin also caused snapped power lines and fallen trees throughout the county. (See weather story page 1.)

Dole: Cronkite 'Lost His Cool' On Media Issue

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, chairman of the Republican National Committee, Thursday criticized CBS commentator Walter Cronkite for accusing Vice President Spiro Agnew and himself of a "conspiracy to discredit the news media."

"It appears to me that Cronkite has lost his cool," Dole told El Paso County Republicans.

The republican legislator said he had only criticized the media when he detected an "imbalanced" report. He said he believed network television executives were becoming "too sensitive.

"When they are wrong, we have the right to say so, no matter how big the network is," Dole said.

School Board Puts Off Salary Raises

The Shoreline Unified School District board last night postponed granting pay raises to nonteaching personnel pending further information on the district's assessed valuation, according .to Supt. Charles A. McCully.

The nonteaching employees haven't made any proposals, but McCulley was to have discussed their pay with the board last night.

The district is expected to gain revenue from reassessment of property values, 25 per cent of market value instead of 23 per cent, but that gain is expected to be cut, McCully said.

With land taken off the tax rolls for the Point Reyes National Seashore and ranch land placed in agricultural preserves there will be an offsetting drop in assessed valuation, he said.

Overall the gain in assessed valuation might be only 1 per cent, McCully estimated.

City-School Talks On Recreation

The Novato City Council and Novato Unified School District board plan to explore the possibility of joint recreational development.

At a "get acquainted" breakfast meeting yesterday the council and board agreed to meet again in about a month, but no date was set, according to Supt. James G. Bunker.

At that session the two groups will talk of possible joint development of facilities such as tennis courts and a swimming pool that could be of mutual benefit, Bunker said.

Networks Balk On Vietnam, Lobbyist Claims

NEW YORK (UPI)—Common Cause, a nonpartisan citizens' lobby, said Thursday the three major networks turned down the group's request to buy air time for a program opposing the Vietnam War on the basis that such a show would violate broadcasting's fairness doctrine.

Thomas Mathews, a special assistant to Commn Cause Chairman John W. Gardner, said the rejection by NBC, CBS and ABC shows that "a few executives decide what is controversial and who the adversaries are on either side."

The program entitled "The People Speak Out on the War" featured a panel discussion by opponents of Nixon administration policies in Vietnam.

Agency Decision Attacked

By DAVID DIETZ

SAN FRANCISCO — The State Air Resources Board was attacked today as "totally incompetent" as a result of its decision reaffirming exclusion of portions of Sonoma and Solano counties from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The decision, reached in Eureka Wednesday, set boundaries which will enable the northern portions of both counties to join a yet-to-be-formed air pollution district to the north.

"It's not so much that the decision went against us," said Victor Calvo, chairman of the Bay Area district board, "but I was certainly completely dismayed and abashed by the lack of fundamental knowledge by people charged with keeping air quality in the state."

Calvo, who had appeared before the state board to appeal the Bay Area district's case, said he was stunned when asked by one state board member how much the Bay Area district spent on control of automobile pollution. The state board member, Calvo said, should have been fully aware that such control is the responsibility of the state agency.

"It was a "whole farce," Calvo said.

"Members of the board were half asleep and snoozing," sand Robert W. Hoyer, another member of the Bay Area district board who went to Eureka. "They paid no attention to what we were saying.

"It was the biggest fiasco I've seen in my life, but on the other hand I've never appeared before a state board before."

Added board member William R. Jelavich: "I think they're totally incompetent. "That's being blunt, but that's the way to put it."

The directors' remarks came at a workshop session of board members, their advisory council, and agency staff members.

The group voted to write to the state board, Sacramento legislators, and Gov. Ronald Reagan, protesting the state board's conduct. Also left open was the possibility of an appeal of the state board's decision to the federal Environmental Protection Agency.

A recent action by the Legislature placed all of Sonoma and Solano into the Bay area district, but the counties appealed to the Air Resources Board on the grounds that northern portions were part of an air basin separate from that in the Bay Area.

Harbor Plan Received Favorably

Plans to double yacht berthing at the Sausalito Yacht Harbor have received general approval from the Sausalito City Council and planning commission.

Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt said the panels Wednesday gave preliminary consideration to a master plan for 26 acres of mostly submerged property owned by Herbert J. Madden, with "no major expression of disapproval" from either body.

The plan envisions adding new docks to increase the size of the harbor, which lies at the foot of Johnson Street, from 450 berths to 900.

Landscaping, public walkways and benches and more parking also are inlcuded, Borgwardt said.

Planners set another informal review of the proposal for 8 p.m. Thursday at city hall to iron out problems before the plans are considered formally at public hearing before the commission and city council.

Bus Fare Hike To Be Studied

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Public hearing has been set by the California Public Utilities Commission for Monday on the application of Greyhound Lines — West for a statewide increase in intrastate passenger fares and express rates.

The bus company is asking for a 15 per cent increase overall, with an expedited 7.5 per cent immediately to offset increased labor costs.

Proceedings will begin at 10 a.m. in the commission courtroom, State Building, 350 McAllister, with PUC Examiner John W. Mallory presiding, at which time and place all interested parties may appear and be heard.

Mount Tam Park Offered Ridge Land

The ridge above Stinson Beach, comprising about 1,700 acres and valued at about $10 million may soon be added to Mount Tamalpais State Park at a low cost to taxpayers because of a bargain being offered by the owner.

William Penn Mott, director of the state parks and recreation department, yesterday confirmed a rumor that the state has received a cut-rate offer from the owner, George P. Leonard of Stinson Beach.

Leonard, newly appointed member of the Marin County Planning Commission, has offered to sell the land to the state at half its appraised value, Mott told the Independent-Journal.

Mott said the deal hinges both on state legislative approval as well as obtaining matching federal funds. He said he thought, however, that the federal land and water funds would be available.

The acquisition of the land has long been sought by conservationists and others. Last addition to the park was in 1968 when the state purchased the 2,141-acre Brazil and Souza ranches for $3,009,200.

College Asked Faculty Raises

The Marin Junior College District board, which last night voted to change its name to the Marin Community College District, also heard a request from the faculty for 8 per cent increases for next year.

The faculty had voted to ask the straight-across-the-board cost-of-living increase, according to Jerry York, who presented the proposal, rather than earlier proposed changes in the salary schedules.

The faculty also wants additional pay for persons at the top of the schedule, he said. No estimate of the impact on the budget was made.

The board took no action last night on the request but put the matter over to a meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday at which the entire budget for next year will be discussed.

In other action last night, the board voted to change the district's name, a proposal which had been under discussion for a long time. The change must be approved by the county board of education before it is effective.

Also approved was an increase in the bail schedule for parking violations on the campus. The increases will not be as great as those recommended by the staff, which would have made most parking violations cost $5, but were mainly based on recommendations made by student officers.

The increased rates will range from $2 for certain parking violations to $25 for abandoning vehicles.

The Marin Junior College District board also:

PERSONNEL — Authorized employment for next year of six additional instructors instead of the nine requested, limiting each department to no more than one addition.

CHILD CARE — Heard a request from student body Vice President Olga Nicholes for a child care center on the campus. She said that 224 children of students need such care but proposed facilities for 20 children at a time.

ROCK CONCERTS — Approved a revision of policies concerning rock concerts and public dances, setting forth conditions under which they may be permitted after granting of variances.

NORTH COLLEGE — Heard a request from Supt.-Pres. John A. Grasham that the North College officially open on July 1 by taking over extension courses already being offered in Novato and at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Preserving Ridge Area Is Sought

The ridge from Mount Tamalpais to the tip of the Tiburon Peninsula is an island of open space in a sea of development and should be preserved, the Alto-Sutton Manor District Association has declared.

Publicity chairman Sara S. Ruffner said the group's president, John A. Walters, told directors Wednesday he will try to muster support for preserving the entire ridge from development.

Walters will contact civic groups and neighborhood associations in an attempt to formulate a plan for conservation of the ridge.

Representatives of Larkspur, Corte Madera and Mill Valley already are investigating preservation of the portion of the ridge west of Highway 101, but have not considered the Tiburon Ridge.

Mrs. Ruffner said the association completed plans for its neighborhood picnic, set for 1 p.m. June 5 at Boyle Park in Mill Valley. Residents are asked to bring their own picnics. Entertainment will be provided, she said.

The association scheduled its annual membership meeting for 8 p.m. June 2 at the Alto Fire Station, 27 Shell Road.

"When they are wrong, we have the right to say so, no matter how big the network is," Dole said.

School Board Puts Off Salary Raises

The Shoreline Unified School District board last night postponed granting pay raises to nonteaching personnel pending further information on the district's assessed valuation, according to Supt. Charles A. McCully.

The nonteaching employees haven't made any proposals, but McCulley was to have discussed their pay with the board last night.

The district is expected to gain revenue from reassessment of property values, 25 per cent of market value instead of 23 per cent, but that gain is expected to be cut, McCully said.

With land taken off the tax rolls for the Point Reyes National Seashore and ranch land placed in agricultural preserves there will be an offsetting drop in assessed valuation, he said.

Overall the gain in assessed valuation might be only 1 per cent, McCully estimated.

City-School Talks On Recreation

The Novato City Council and Novato Unified School District board plan to explore the possibility of joint recreational development.

At a "get acquainted" breakfast meeting yesterday the council and board agreed to meet again in about a month, but no date was set, according to Supt. James G. Bunker.

At that session the two groups will talk of possible joint development of facilities such as tennis courts and a swimming pool that could be of mutual benefit, Bunker said.

Networks Balk On Vietnam, Lobbyist Claims

NEW YORK (UPI)—Common Cause, a nonpartisan citizens' lobby, said Thursday the three major networks turned down the group's request to buy air time for a program opposing the Vietnam War on the basis that such a show would violate broadcasting's fairness doctrine.

Thomas Mathews, a special assistant to Commn Cause Chairman John W. Gardner, said the rejection by NBC, CBS and ABC shows that "a few executives decide what is controversial and who the adversaries are on either side."

The program entitled "The People Speak Out on the War" featured a panel discussion by opponents of Nixon administration policies in Vietnam.

Agency Decision Attacked

By DAVID DIETZ

SAN FRANCISCO — The State Air Resources Board was attacked today as "totally incompetent" as a result of its decision reaffirming exclusion of portions of Sonoma and Solano counties from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The decision, reached in Eureka Wednesday, set boundaries which will enable the northern portions of both counties to join a yet-to-be-formed air pollution district to the north.

"It's not so much that the decision went against us," said Victor Calvo, chairman of the Bay Area district board, "but I was certainly completely dismayed and abashed by the lack of fundamental knowledge by people charged with keeping air quality in the state."

Calvo, who had appeared before the state board to appeal the Bay Area district's case, said he was stunned when asked by one state board member how much the Bay Area district spent on control of automobile pollution. The state board member, Calvo said, should have been fully aware that such control is the responsibility of the state agency.

"It was a "whole farce," Calvo said.

"Members of the board were half asleep and snoozing," sand Robert W. Hoyer, another member of the Bay Area district board who went to Eureka. "They paid no attention to what we were saying.

"It was the biggest fiasco I've seen in my life, but on the other hand I've never appeared before a state board before."

Added board member William R. Jelavich: "I think they're totally incompetent. "That's being blunt, but that's the way to put it."

The directors' remarks came at a workshop session of board members, their advisory council, and agency staff members.

The group voted to write to the state board, Sacramento legislators, and Gov. Ronald Reagan, protesting the state board's conduct. Also left open was the possibility of an appeal of the state board's decision to the federal Environmental Protection Agency.

A recent action by the Legislature placed all of Sonoma and Solano into the Bay area district, but the counties appealed to the Air Resources Board on the grounds that northern portions were part of an air basin separate from that in the Bay Area.

Harbor Plan Received Favorably

Plans to double yacht berthing at the Sausalito Yacht Harbor have received general approval from the Sausalito City Council and planning commission.

Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt said the panels Wednesday gave preliminary consideration to a master plan for 26 acres of mostly submerged property owned by Herbert J. Madden, with "no major expression of disapproval" from either body.

The plan envisions adding new docks to increase the size of the harbor, which lies at the foot of Johnson Street, from 450 berths to 900.

Landscaping, public walkways and benches and more parking also are inlcuded, Borgwardt said.

Planners set another informal review of the proposal for 8 p.m. Thursday at city hall to iron out problems before the plans are considered formally at public hearing before the commission and city council.

Bus Fare Hike To Be Studied

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Public hearing has been set by the California Public Utilities Commission for Monday on the application of Greyhound Lines — West for a statewide increase in intrastate passenger fares and express rates.

The bus company is asking for a 15 per cent increase overall, with an expedited 7.5 per cent immediately to offset increased labor costs.

Proceedings will begin at 10 a.m. in the commission courtroom, State Building, 350 McAllister, with PUC Examiner John W. Mallory presiding, at which time and place all interested parties may appear and be heard.

Mount Tam Park Offered Ridge Land

The ridge above Stinson Beach, comprising about 1,700 acres and valued at about $10 million may soon be added to Mount Tamalpais State Park at a low cost to taxpayers because of a bargain being offered by the owner.

William Penn Mott, director of the state parks and recreation department, yesterday confirmed a rumor that the state has received a cut-rate offer from the owner, George P. Leonard of Stinson Beach.

Leonard, newly appointed member of the Marin County Planning Commission, has offered to sell the land to the state at half its appraised value, Mott told the Independent-Journal.

Mott said the deal hinges both on state legislative approval as well as obtaining matching federal funds. He said he thought, however, that the federal land and water funds would be available.

The acquisition of the land has long been sought by conservationists and others. Last addition to the park was in 1968 when the state purchased the 2,141-acre Brazil and Souza ranches for $3,009,200.

College Asked Faculty Raises

The Marin Junior College District board, which last night voted to change its name to the Marin Community College District, also heard a request from the faculty for 8 per cent increases for next year.

The faculty had voted to ask the straight-across-the-board cost-of-living increase, according to Jerry York, who presented the proposal, rather than earlier proposed changes in the salary schedules.

The faculty also wants additional pay for persons at the top of the schedule, he said. No estimate of the impact on the budget was made.

The board took no action last night on the request but put the matter over to a meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday at which the entire budget for next year will be discussed.

In other action last night, the board voted to change the district's name, a proposal which had been under discussion for a long time. The change must be approved by the county board of education before it is effective.

Also approved was an increase in the bail schedule for parking violations on the campus. The increases will not be as great as those recommended by the staff, which would have made most parking violations cost $5, but were mainly based on recommendations made by student officers.

The increased rates will range from $2 for certain parking violations to $25 for abandoning vehicles.

The Marin Junior College District board also:

PERSONNEL — Authorized employment for next year of six additional instructors instead of the nine requested, limiting each department to no more than one addition.

CHILD CARE — Heard a request from student body Vice President Olga Nicholes for a child care center on the campus. She said that 224 children of students need such care but proposed facilities for 20 children at a time.

ROCK CONCERTS — Approved a revision of policies concerning rock concerts and public dances, setting forth conditions under which they may be permitted after granting of variances.

NORTH COLLEGE — Heard a request from Supt.-Pres. John A. Grasham that the North College officially open on July 1 by taking over extension courses already being offered in Novato and at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Preserving Ridge Area Is Sought

The ridge from Mount Tamalpais to the tip of the Tiburon Peninsula is an island of open space in a sea of development and should be preserved, the Alto-Sutton Manor District Association has declared.

Publicity chairman Sara S. Ruffner said the group's president, John A. Walters, told directors Wednesday he will try to muster support for preserving the entire ridge from development.

Walters will contact civic groups and neighborhood associations in an attempt to formulate a plan for conservation of the ridge.

Representatives of Larkspur, Corte Madera and Mill Valley already are investigating preservation of the portion of the ridge west of Highway 101, but have not considered the Tiburon Ridge.

Mrs. Ruffner said the association completed plans for its neighborhood picnic, set for 1 p.m. June 5 at Boyle Park in Mill Valley. Residents are asked to bring their own picnics. Entertainment will be provided, she said.

The association scheduled its annual membership meeting for 8 p.m. June 23 at the Alto Fire Station, 27 Shell Road.

Lets talk about car prices. We advertise the full cost of all Toyotas delivered in Marin week after week. After all, isn't that what you're really going to pay?

Corolla 1600 two-door sedan $1,991.95 delivered in Marin, plus tax and license.

Even though the Corolla 1600 has an all new, 102 hp hemi engine we don't think you should buy it for that alone. A small car should run clean, help reduce pollution, have excellent roadability, disc brakes, good performance, economy and comfort Corolla does.

Each bid shall be made on a form attached to said specifications, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or a bid bond for ten per cent of the amount bid, made payable to the School District, and shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board on or before the 24th day of May, 1971, at 2:00 p.m. and will be opened in public at or about 2:00 p.m. of that day in the office of the Director of Planning, Office Center Room 180, College of Marin, Kentfield, California.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 100 per cent of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100 per cent of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California or local law thereto applicable, the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which the work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder to be as follows:

Class of Work	Wage Per Hr.	H & W	Pension	Vac.	App. Trng
Carpenters	6.96	.37	.50	.50	.03
Electrical Workers	7.65	.22	.20	10% Gr.	.03
Painters	7.37	.39	.40	.80
Plumbers	8.835	1.285	.62	.31	.065

The working days shall be eight (8) hours unless otherwise specified. The per diem rate shall be the hourly rate multiplied by the number of hours in the working day.

All other trades not hereinbefore mentioned shall receive the wage prescribed for the particular craft or type of workman.

All labor shall receive time and one-half for overtime, double time on holidays unless otherwise specified.

In addition to the hourly and/or per diem wages for the crafts, classifications or types of workmen listed above, contractors may be required to make employer payments for health and welfare, pension, vacation and similar purposes as required by the executed collective bargaining agreements for the particular craft, classification or type of work involved.

All bidders must be contractors properly licensed to perform said work.

The Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening hereof.

Legal Notice

OFFICIAL NOTICE INVITING BIDS FOR THE PURCHASE OF BONDS, DILLON'S BEACH IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 1, NORTH MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT, MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1913 AND THE IMPROVEMENT BOND ACT OF 1915

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals will be received by the Secretary of the North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California, located in the District Offices, 999 Atherton Avenue, Novato, California, at the hour of 2:00 P.M. on the 1st day of June, 1971, for the purchase of $74,228.10 principal amount of bonds for Dillon's Beach Improvement District No. 1, North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California. Said bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared at said time and place.

These bonds are authorized to be issued, and the assessments are authorized to be levied, under the provisions of Resolution of Intention No. 866 of the Board of Directors of the North Marin County Water District adopted on the 2nd day of February, 1971, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The Resolution of Intention provides with relation to said bonds as follows:

> NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bearing interest at a rate of not to exceed seven per cent (7%) per annum shall be issued herein in the manner provided by Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code, the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature fourteen (14) years from the 2nd day of July next succeeding ten (10) months from their date.

MATURITIES AND AMOUNT OF BONDS: Said bonds will be in the amount of $74,228.10. All bidders, by submission of a bid, agree to purchase the total amount of bonds to be issued.

MATURITY SCHEDULE

Bond Numbers (Inclusive)	Maturity Date of Bonds	Amount Maturing
1-5	July 2, 1972	$ 4,228.10
6-10	July 2, 1973	5,000.00
11-15	July 2, 1974	5,000.00
12-20	July 2, 1975	5,000.00
21-25	July 2, 1976	5,000.00
26-30	July 2, 1977	5,000.00
31-35	July 2, 1978	5,000.00
36-40	July 2, 1979	5,000.00
41-45	July 2, 1980	5,000.00
46-50	July 2, 1981	5,000.00
51-55	July 2, 1982	5,000.00
56-60	July 2, 1983	5,000.00
61-65	July 2, 1984	5,000.00
66-70	July 2, 1985	5,000.00
71-75	July 2, 1986	5,000.00
	Total	$74,228.10

NOTE: One bond maturing in 1972 will be for $228.10 and the remaining bonds will be in $1,000.00 denominations.

DATE OF BONDS AND INTEREST RATE: Bonds are to be dated the 15th day of June, 1971, and will bear interest from said date. Interest rate is fixed in the Resolution of Intention, at not to exceed seven per cent (7%) per annum. Such interest shall be evidenced by coupons attached to each bond, and each of said coupons shall represent six months' interest on the bond to which it is attached. The first coupon will be for interest from June 15, 1971 to January 2, 1972.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds are authorized to be issued by the Board of Directors of the North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California, by Resolution of Intention No. 866, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The purpose is for the construction of improvements. These improvements are within the boundaries of the assessment district designated, "Dillon's Beach Improvement District No. 1, North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California," and reference for details is made to the proceedings for the formation and completion of said assessment district.

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest are payable in lawful money of the United States at the office of the Marin County Treasurer, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

CALLABLE BONDS: All bonds are callable pursuant to the provisions of the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 twice each year. No bonds may be called except on July 2 or January 2 and there must be a sixty day notice of call. Any bond called will have interest to date of call and a premium of five per cent (5%) of the principal amount.

AUTHORITY FOR ISSUANCE: Said bonds were authorized to be issued by the proceedings in said assessment district and said assessment district was organized and consummated under the provisions of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and bonds provided to be issued under the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 of the State of California.

SECURITY: Said bonds are payable from the redemption fund provided by law which is secured by all of the unpaid assessments within the boundaries of said district. Said bonds are further secured by a limited guarantee on the part of the entity which issued said bonds. Under the provisions of the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, any real property on which the owners have failed to pay installments of assessments as they fall due is sold for delinquencies by the District in the same manner as real property is sold for delinquent taxes. It is the duty of the District to bid such property in at such tax sale. It then becomes the duty of the District to transfer to the Redemption Fund the amount of the purchase. In the event there is not sufficient money in the General Fund to transfer this amount into the Redemption Fund, it becomes the mandatory duty of the District to levy a tax up to 10c on each $100.00 of assessed valuation of property within the boundaries of the North Marin County Water District sufficient in amount to pay for the delinquencies. It becomes the continuing duty of the District, throughout the life of the bond issue, to levy such a tax and to pay for the installments upon property sold to the district for delinquencies. The maximum levy which the District is obligated to make in any one year is 10c on each $100.00 of assessed valuation. The assessed valuation of all taxable real property in the North Marin County Water District for the fiscal year 1970-71 is $87,704,935.00. Ten cents on the $100.00 would therefore raise, in the North Marin County Water District, the sum of $87,704.94, which is more than sufficient to cover the maximum amount of principal and interest accrusing in any one year of the bond issue if a ten cent (10c) levy should be necessary.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the law firm of Sturgis, Den-Dulk, Douglass & Anderson, 1322 Webster Street, Oakland, California, 94612, approving the validity of said bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge. In the opinion of Counsel, interest on the bonds is exempt from all federal income taxes, and from State of California personal income taxes, under presently existing statutes, regulations and court decisions, and the bonds are also exempt from all California taxes except inheritance, gift and franchise taxes.

HIGHEST BID: Bidders are requested to name the interest rate or rates not exceeding seven per cent (7%) per annum in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of one per cent (1%). Each bidder must specify in his bid the amount and maturities of the bonds of each rate and all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same rate. No bid may name more than four interest rates, any of which may be repeated. No rate may be more than one and one-half per cent (1-½%) higher than the lowest rate named in the bid. The interest payable on any bond on any interest payment date may, however, be represented by one or more coupons. A zero rate cannot be named for all or any of the time from the date of the bond to its stated maturity and the premium, if any, must be paid in the funds specified for payment of the bonds as part of the purchase price. No bid of less than par and accrued interest or for less than all of the bonds offered will be entertained. Unless all bids are rejected, the bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose proposal results in the lowest net interest cost to the issuer, and the net interest cost will be determined by deducting the amount of any premium paid from the aggregate amount of interest upon all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: The North Marin County Water District reserves the right at its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid. Any bid must be in strict conformity with this Official Notice Inviting Bids, and without any qualification.

PROMPT AWARD: The North Marin County Water District will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than (48 hours) after expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the Marin County Treasurer, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, as soon as the bonds can be prepared, but not earlier than the date of said bonds. Successful bidder, by making a bid, agrees to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within forty-eight (48) hours after notification by the North Marin County Water District that the bonds are ready for delivery, but bidder is not obligated to take delivery earlier than the date of the bonds. The successful bidder shall have the right at his option to cancel his offer to purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 45 days from the date of the bonds.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds herein offered for sale. Each bid, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Secretary of the North Marin County Water District, and endorsed "Proposal for Bonds, Dillon's Beach Improvement District No. 1, North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $1,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the North Marin County Water District to secure the North Marin County Water District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. Check of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by mail upon the award of the bonds. Check of successful bidder will be credited upon the purchase price of the bonds, and no interest will be paid upon the deposit of any successful bidder. Check of the successful bidder will be forefeited to District if the bidder fails to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within the time provided for in this notice as liquidated damages.

NO LITIGATION CERTIFICATE: The North Marin County Water District will furnish to the successful bidder, at the time of the delivery of the bonds, a no-litigation certificate, certifying that there is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the bonds.

GOVERNING BOARD
MARIN JUNIOR COLLEGE DISTRICT
By /s/ THEODORE C. WELLMAN
Clerk of the Board
No. 571 May 14, 21, 1971

OFFICIAL NOTICE INVITING BIDS FOR THE PURCHASE OF BONDS, DILLON'S BEACH IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 1, NORTH MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT, MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1913 AND THE IMPROVEMENT BOND ACT OF 1915

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals will be received by the Secretary of the North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California, located in the District Offices, 999 Atherton Avenue, Novato, California, at the hour of 2:00 P.M. on the 1st day of June, 1971, for the purchase of $74,228.10 principal amount of bonds for Dillon's Beach Improvement District No. 1, North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California. Said bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared at said time and place.

These bonds are authorized to be issued, and the assessments are authorized to be levied, under the provisions of Resolution of Intention No. 866 of the Board of Directors of the North Marin County Water District adopted on the 2nd day of February, 1971, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The Resolution of Intention provides with relation to said bonds as follows:

> NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bearing interest at a rate of not to exceed seven per cent (7%) per annum shall be issued herein in the manner provided by Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code, the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature fourteen (14) years from the 2nd day of July next succeeding ten (10) months from their date.

MATURITIES AND AMOUNT OF BONDS: Said bonds will be in the amount of $74,228.10. All bidders, by submission of a bid, agree to purchase the total amount of bonds to be issued.

MATURITY SCHEDULE

Bond Numbers (Inclusive)	Maturity Date of Bonds	Amount Maturing
1-5	July 2, 1972	$ 4,228.10
6-10	July 2, 1973	5,000.00
11-15	July 2, 1974	5,000.00
12-20	July 2, 1975	5,000.00
21-25	July 2, 1976	5,000.00
26-30	July 2, 1977	5,000.00
31-35	July 2, 1978	5,000.00
36-40	July 2, 1979	5,000.00
41-45	July 2, 1980	5,000.00
46-50	July 2, 1981	5,000.00
51-55	July 2, 1982	5,000.00
56-60	July 2, 1983	5,000.00
61-65	July 2, 1984	5,000.00
66-70	July 2, 1985	5,000.00
71-75	July 2, 1986	5,000.00
	Total	$74,228.10

NOTE: One bond maturing in 1972 will be for $228.10 and the remaining bonds will be in $1,000.00 denominations.

DATE OF BONDS AND INTEREST RATE: Bonds are to be dated the 15th day of June, 1971, and will bear interest from said date. Interest rate is fixed in the Resolution of Intention, at not to exceed seven per cent (7%) per annum. Such interest shall be evidenced by coupons attached to each bond, and each of said coupons shall represent six months' interest on the bond to which it is attached. The first coupon will be for interest from June 15, 1971 to January 2, 1972.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds are authorized to be issued by the Board of Directors of the North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California, by Resolution of Intention No. 866, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The purpose is for the construction of improvements. These improvements are within the boundaries of the assessment district designated, "Dillon's Beach Improvement District No. 1, North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California," and reference for details is made to the proceedings for the formation and completion of said assessment district.

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest are payable in lawful money of the United States at the office of the Marin County Treasurer, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

CALLABLE BONDS: All bonds are callable pursuant to the provisions of the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 twice each year. No bonds may be called except on July 2 or January 2 and there must be a sixty day notice of call. Any bond called will have interest to date of call and a premium of five per cent (5%) of the principal amount.

AUTHORITY FOR ISSUANCE: Said bonds were authorized to be issued by the proceedings in said assessment district and said assessment district was organized and consummated under the provisions of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and bonds provided to be issued under the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 of the State of California.

SECURITY: Said bonds are payable from the redemption fund provided by law which is secured by all of the unpaid assessments within the boundaries of said district. Said bonds are further secured by a limited guarantee on the part of the entity which issued said bonds. Under the provisions of the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, any real property on which the owners have failed to pay installments of assessments as they fall due is sold for delinquencies by the District in the same manner as real property is sold for delinquent taxes. It is the duty of the District to bid such property in at such tax sale. It then becomes the duty of the District to transfer to the Redemption Fund the amount of the purchase. In the event there is not sufficient money in the General Fund to transfer this amount into the Redemption Fund, it becomes the mandatory duty of the District to levy a tax up to 10c on each $100.00 of assessed valuation of property within the boundaries of the North Marin County Water District sufficient in amount to pay for the delinquencies. It becomes the continuing duty of the District, throughout the life of the bond issue, to levy such a tax and to pay for the installments upon property sold to the district for delinquencies. The maximum levy which the District is obligated to make in any one year is 10c on each $100.00 of assessed valuation. The assessed valuation of all taxable real property in the North Marin County Water District for the fiscal year 1970-71 is $87,704,935.00. Ten cents on the $100.00 would therefore raise, in the North Marin County Water District, the sum of $87,704.94, which is more than sufficient to cover the maximum amount of principal and interest accrusing in any one year of the bond issue if a ten cent (10c) levy should be necessary.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the law firm of Sturgis, Den-Dulk, Douglass & Anderson, 1322 Webster Street, Oakland, California, 94612, approving the validity of said bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge. In the opinion of Counsel, interest on the bonds is exempt from all federal income taxes, and from State of California personal income taxes, under presently existing statutes, regulations and court decisions, and the bonds are also exempt from all California taxes except inheritance, gift and franchise taxes.

HIGHEST BID: Bidders are requested to name the interest rate or rates not exceeding seven per cent (7%) per annum in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of one per cent (1%). Each bidder must specify in his bid the amount and maturities of the bonds of each rate and all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same rate. No bid may name more than four interest rates, any of which may be repeated. No rate may be more than one and one-half per cent (1-½%) higher than the lowest rate named in the bid. The interest payable on any bond on any interest payment date may, however, be represented by one or more coupons. A zero rate cannot be named for all or any of the time from the date of the bond to its stated maturity and the premium, if any, must be paid in the funds specified for payment of the bonds as part of the purchase price. No bid of less than par and accrued interest or for less than all of the bonds offered will be entertained. Unless all bids are rejected, the bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose proposal results in the lowest net interest cost to the issuer, and the net interest cost will be determined by deducting the amount of any premium paid from the aggregate amount of interest upon all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: The North Marin County Water District reserves the right at its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid. Any bid must be in strict conformity with this Official Notice Inviting Bids, and without any qualification.

PROMPT AWARD: The North Marin County Water District will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than (48 hours) after expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the Marin County Treasurer, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, as soon as the bonds can be prepared, but not earlier than the date of said bonds. Successful bidder, by making a bid, agrees to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within forty-eight (48) hours after notification by the North Marin County Water District that the bonds are ready for delivery, but bidder is not obligated to take delivery earlier than the date of the bonds. The successful bidder shall have the right at his option to cancel his offer to purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 45 days from the date of the bonds.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds herein offered for sale. Each bid, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Secretary of the North Marin County Water District, and endorsed "Proposal for Bonds, Dillon's Beach Improvement District No. 1, North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $1,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the North Marin County Water District to secure the North Marin County Water District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. Check of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by mail upon the award of the bonds. Check of successful bidder will be credited upon the purchase price of the bonds, and no interest will be paid upon the deposit of any successful bidder. Check of the successful bidder will be forefeited to District if the bidder fails to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within the time provided for in this notice as liquidated damages.

NO LITIGATION CERTIFICATE: The North Marin County Water District will furnish to the successful bidder, at the time of the delivery of the bonds, a no-litigation certificate, certifying that there is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the bonds.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Top Rating For 'Child Rated X'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

The Headliners: Susan Saint James, female star of NBCTV's "The Name of the Game," which has been canceled, will appear as Rock Hudson's wife in a new series on the same network this fall . . . the series, which will be one of three alternating 90-minute segments with the catch-all title of "Mystery Movie," will be called "McMillan and Wife," and stars Hudson as police commissioner of San Francisco.

Canonero II, which won the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, will try to become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948 when it heads the field of the Belmont Stakes on CBS-TV June 5 ... Groucho Marx and Truman Capote are scheduled to be guests on ABC TV's Dick Cavett Show Tuesday . . . Gene Kelly will be host of most of the programs of NBC-TV's new fall series, "The Funny Side," a weekly comedy variety show in which a permanent cast of five couples focuses on the American way of life.

A while back, we suggested that the networks were missing a bet by not taking some of the well-known old movies and grouping them, for effect, in the manner of weekly video film festivals commemorating the works of particular artists ... now ABC-TV announces that, starting June 22 on its "Movie of the Week" series, it will present four films in consecutive telecasts under the title "The Movie Classics of David O. Selznick" ... the films, whose order has not yet been decided on, will be:

"Intermezzo," with Ingrid Bergman and Leslie Howard ... "Made for Each Other," with James Stewart and Carole Lombard ... "Portrait of Jennie," with Jennifer Jones, Joseph Cotten and Ethel Barrymore ... and "Ruby Gentry," with Miss Jones and Charlton Heston.

Bill Cosby is switching from Hollywood to New York, and from NBC-TV to CBS-TV, for his next weekly television series ... His first series, of course, was NBC-TV's "I Spy," with Robert Culp ... Then came "The Bill Cosby Show," a half hour situation comedy that has been canceled by NBC-TV ... The new Cosby series, set for a September, 1972, start on CBSTV, will be a weekly hour of comedy and variety.

The programs: NBC-TV's newsmagazine of the air, "First Tuesday," has been retitled "Fourth Friday" for its new season beginning in October ... which means, naturally, it will be seen (for two hours) on the fourth Friday of each month . . . Same network offers satellite telecasts July 3 of the title matches of the Wimbledon (England) tennis championships.

Martin Carr, who produced two of the past year's most notable documentaries, "Migrant" and "This Child is Rated X," has another hour on NBC-TV coming up Aug. 27—this one a study of America's rural-to-urban migration ... NBC-TV reports, by the way, that the recent telecast of "This Child Is Rated X," which was a look at justice for juveniles in America, was the highest-rated network news documentary of the season in the New York Nielsen overnight rankings.

Footnote: According to NBCTV's research department, there were color television sets in 46.8 per cent of the nation's TV households as of April 1.

Sonic Booms Ruin 'History'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The director of the National Park Service has complained sonic booms generated by military aircraft have destroyed prehistoric ruins and blasted the faces off cliffs in scenic areas.

G. B. Hartzog Jr. told a House Appropriations subcommittee Thursday he considered the conduct of military pilots "disgraceful." He said the damage they had caused in national parks was incalculable.

"What is a 3,000 or 4,000-year prehistoric ruins worth?" he asked. "What is the face of a cliff in Mesa Verde worth? It is shattered off and now is at the bottom of the canyon.'

Hartzog complained protests to the Air Force have brought no response and telling the story to the public has brought no reaction.

Graduation Of 66 Set At Domenico

Sixty-six girls will be graduated from San Domenico School in San Anselmo in an outdoor ceremony at 2 p.m. June 5.

Graduation exercises will take place on the foundation of the former mansion at the entrance to the school at the end of Butterfield Road. Each year, flowers decorate the old stone steps of the foundation for graduation.

Brown Joins Muskie Push For 1972

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. announced yesterday he will help organize a "citizen's committee" to support the presidential candidacy of U.S. Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine.

Brown said he is being joined in the endeavor by fellow 1968 supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and former Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

Brown, vice chairman of McCarthy's California campaign, said "those of us who worked so diligently and so long in 1967 and 1968 have continued to look for a candidate who will end the Vietnam war and bring compassion and integrity to the presidency. Sen. Muskie is that man."

Muskie, the 1968 Democratic nominee for vice president, has not announced his 1972 candidacy but is regarded as the frontrunner for his party's nomination.

Brown, in statements released in Sacramento and Los Angeles, did not list other members of the "citizen's committee."

Expert Says No Building Quake Proof

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A noted California earthquake expert said today engineers did not know yet how to build quake-proof buildings.

The Los Angeles earthquake early this year showed that "serious risk is not confined to superannuated building of inferior construction," Dr. Charles Richter said.

Richter, inventor of the earthquake scale which bears his name, spoke at the opening session of an international earthquake meeting sponsored by the U. S. Government which drew 170 of the world's leading seismologists, disaster experts and diplomats from 21 nations.

In opening the five-day meeting, Dr. Lee DuBridge of President Nixon's Science Advisory Committee, noted that the experts were meeting in a city "perched atop of a notorious fault."

Richter said earthquake losses "are largely unnecessary and preventable." About 90 per cent of deaths in earthquakes throughout history were caued by "failure of weak structure," he said.

Richter criticized studies undertaken in response to a major disaster.

"The usual official reaction to such disasters is to appoint investigating commissions," he said. But when the reports are in they are often "largely ignored." A study of the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 "is still one of the most important documents in seismology," but seldom read, he said.

A similar waste of effort, he said, is the many attempts to learn to predict earthquakes. This goal is announced by scientists to get public support for their studies," he said.

"Public obsession with predictions diverts attention away from the actually possible measures to diminish the damaging effects of future earthquakes," he said.

Giving his own rule for predicting earthquakes, Richter said," "Where earthquakes have occurred in the past they may be expected in the future."

Homes with three or more bedrooms are most popular with buyers, according to the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Two Americans Visit Peking

HONG KONG (UPI) —Two American professors chatted and posed for photographs today with Communist Chinese Permier Chou En-lai, Radio Peking said in a broadcast monitored here.

The radio said Arthur W. Galston of Yale University and Ethan R. Signer of Massachusetts Institute of Technology also met with Kuo Mo-jo, president of the Academia Sinica (the Chinese academy of sciences) and other educators, scientists and government officials.

Galston, 51, a botanical specialist from Orange, Conn., and Signer, 34, an associate professor of molecular biology from Cambridge, Mass., had been invited for the visit while staying in Hanoi.

A Child's Beach Collecting Hit

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Children are dangerous threats to life in tidal pools, according to a marine ecologist at Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Dr. Paul Dayton said children collecting specimens "pick out the worst animals of all to disturb because these essentially are key animals to maintaining the community."

He told the America Cetacean Society's local chapter this week that youngsters normally take starfish and sea urchins. starfish eat animals, mainly mussels, which otherwise consume excessive numbers of other plants and animals. Sea urchins control plants which otherwise dominate tidal areas.

The result is that the tidal zone is ruined, he said.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Top Rating For 'Child Rated X'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

The Headliners: Susan Saint James, female star of NBCTV's "The Name of the Game," which has been canceled, will appear as Rock Hudson's wife in a new series on the same network this fall . . . the series, which will be one of three alternating 90-minute segments with the catch-all title of "Mystery Movie," will be called "McMillan and Wife," and stars Hudson as police commissioner of San Francisco.

Canonero II, which won the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, will try to become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948 when it heads the field of the Belmont Stakes on CBS-TV June 5 ... Groucho Marx and Truman Capote are scheduled to be guests on ABC TV's Dick Cavett Show Tuesday . . . Gene Kelly will be host of most of the programs of NBC-TV's new fall series, "The Funny Side," a weekly comedy variety show in which a permanent cast of five couples focuses on the American way of life.

A while back, we suggested that the networks were missing a bet by not taking some of the well-known old movies and grouping them, for effect, in the manner of weekly video film festivals commemorating the works of particular artists ... now ABC-TV announces that, starting June 22 on its "Movie of the Week" series, it will present four films in consecutive telecasts under the title "The Movie Classics of David O. Selznick" ... the films, whose order has not yet been decided on, will be:

"Intermezzo," with Ingrid Bergman and Leslie Howard ... "Made for Each Other," with James Stewart and Carole Lombard ... "Portrait of Jennie," with Jennifer Jones, Joseph Cotten and Ethel Barrymore ... and "Ruby Gentry," with Miss Jones and Charlton Heston.

Bill Cosby is switching from Hollywood to New York, and from NBC-TV to CBS-TV, for his next weekly television series ... His first series, of course, was NBC-TV's "I Spy," with Robert Culp ... Then came "The Bill Cosby Show," a half hour situation comedy that has been canceled by NBC-TV ... The new Cosby series, set for a September, 1972, start on CBSTV, will be a weekly hour of comedy and variety.

The programs: NBC-TV's newsmagazine of the air, "First Tuesday," has been retitled "Fourth Friday" for its new season beginning in October ... which means, naturally, it will be seen (for two hours) on the fourth Friday of each month . . . Same network offers satellite telecasts July 3 of the title matches of the Wimbledon (England) tennis championships.

Martin Carr, who produced two of the past year's most notable documentaries, "Migrant" and "This Child is Rated X," has another hour on NBC-TV coming up Aug. 27—this one a study of America's rural-to-urban migration ... NBC-TV reports, by the way, that the recent telecast of "This Child Is Rated X," which was a look at justice for juveniles in America, was the highest-rated network news documentary of the season in the New York Nielsen overnight rankings.

Footnote: According to NBCTV's research department, there were color television sets in 46.8 per cent of the nation's TV households as of April 1.

Sonic Booms Ruin 'History'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The director of the National Park Service has complained sonic booms generated by military aircraft have destroyed prehistoric ruins and blasted the faces off cliffs in scenic areas.

G. B. Hartzog Jr. told a House Appropriations subcommittee Thursday he considered the conduct of military pilots "disgraceful." He said the damage they had caused in national parks was incalculable.

"What is a 3,000 or 4,000-year prehistoric ruins worth?" he asked. "What is the face of a cliff in Mesa Verde worth? It is shattered off and now is at the bottom of the canyon.'

Hartzog complained protests to the Air Force have brought no response and telling the story to the public has brought no reaction.

Brown Joins Muskie Push For 1972

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. announced yesterday he will help organize a "citizen's committee" to support the presidential candidacy of U.S. Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine.

Brown said he is being joined in the endeavor by fellow 1968 supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and former Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

Brown, vice chairman of McCarthy's California campaign, said "those of us who worked so diligently and so long in 1967 and 1968 have continued to look for a candidate who will end the Vietnam war and bring compassion and integrity to the presidency. Sen. Muskie is that man."

Muskie, the 1968 Democratic nominee for vice president, has not announced his 1972 candidacy but is regarded as the frontrunner for his party's nomination.

Brown, in statements released in Sacramento and Los Angeles, did not list other members of the "citizen's committee."

Expert Says No Building Quake Proof

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A noted California earthquake expert said today engineers did not know yet how to build quake-proof buildings.

The Los Angeles earthquake early this year showed that "serious risk is not confined to superannuated building of inferior construction," Dr. Charles Richter said.

Richter, inventor of the earthquake scale which bears his name, spoke at the opening session of an international earthquake meeting sponsored by the U. S. Government which drew 170 of the world's leading seismologists, disaster experts and diplomats from 21 nations.

In opening the five-day meeting, Dr. Lee DuBridge of President Nixon's Science Advisory Committee, noted that the experts were meeting in a city "perched atop of a notorious fault."

Richter said earthquake losses "are largely unnecessary and preventable." About 90 per cent of deaths in earthquakes throughout history were caued by "failure of weak structure," he said.

Richter criticized studies undertaken in response to a major disaster.

"The usual official reaction to such disasters is to appoint investigating commissions," he said. But when the reports are in they are often "largely ignored." A study of the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 "is still one of the most important documents in seismology," but seldom read, he said.

A similar waste of effort, he said, is the many attempts to learn to predict earthquakes. This goal is announced by scientists to get public support for their studies," he said.

"Public obsession with predictions diverts attention away from the actually possible measures to diminish the damaging effects of future earthquakes," he said.

Giving his own rule for predicting earthquakes, Richter said," "Where earthquakes have occurred in the past they may be expected in the future."

Homes with three or more bedrooms are most popular with buyers, according to the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Two Americans Visit Peking

HONG KONG (UPI) —Two American professors chatted and posed for photographs today with Communist Chinese Permier Chou En-lai, Radio Peking said in a broadcast monitored here.

The radio said Arthur W. Galston of Yale University and Ethan R. Signer of Massachusetts Institute of Technology also met with Kuo Mo-jo, president of the Academia Sinica (the Chinese academy of sciences) and other educators, scientists and government officials.

Galston, 51, a botanical specialist from Orange, Conn., and Signer, 34, an associate professor of molecular biology from Cambridge, Mass., had been invited for the visit while staying in Hanoi.

A Child's Beach Collecting Hit

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Children are dangerous threats to life in tidal pools, according to a marine ecologist at Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Dr. Paul Dayton said children collecting specimens "pick out the worst animals of all to disturb because these essentially are key animals to maintaining the community."

He told the America Cetacean Society's local chapter this week that youngsters normally take starfish and sea urchins. starfish eat animals, mainly mussels, which otherwise consume excessive numbers of other plants and animals. Sea urchins control plants which otherwise dominate tidal areas.

The result is that the tidal zone is ruined, he said.

A Great Day For Marin Baseballers

The mind boggles at what our local heroes accomplished yesterday.

First and foremost, San Anselmo's John Boccabella hit a 14th inning home run to give Montreal's Expos a dramatic 4-3 victory over Atlanta, sending the Braves skidding 8½ games behind the Giants in the National League.

Then, over in the American League, Terra Linda's Lefty Bill Lee collected his fourth pitching victory for the Boston Red Sox as they downed the New York Yankees, 5-2.

And, down in the minors, Ken Johnson of Larkspur and Joe Decker of San Rafael figured in their teams' victories. Johnson, the former All-Star shortstop for Redwood High School, hit a home run to help Manchester defeated Reading 6-3 in the Eastern League and Decker, son of Mrs. William Royce of San Rafael, pitched one inning of relief in Tacoma's 10-9 triumph over Salt Lake City in the Pacific Coast League.

But the big story belonged to Boccabella who learned his trade on San Anselmo sandlots, thence to Marin Catholic High and the University of Santa Clara. The reserve catcher, who has been a major leaguer since 1963, was making only his 26th official trip to the plate this season when he came to bat in the 14th. Former Giant Ron Herbel's first pitch to "Boc the Sock" was a "little bit high" and the 29 going on 30 (June 29)-year-old propelled it so far that the Atlanta outfielders didn't even bother to give chase.

Boccabella had come into the game in the ninth inning. A wise substitution by Manager Gene Mauch, eh?

Meanwhile, Lee, the crafty southpaw, looms large in Boston's pennant plans, what with four victories in five decisions as the Red Sox have opened a three-game lead over defending world champion Baltimore. The former Terra Linda High and University of Southern California star pitched five and two-thirds innings, yielding twc runs on six hits, to gain credit for the win although he needed relief help from ex-Giant Bobby Bolin.

FORMER TAMALPAIS High School standout Bill Secor has covered himself with glory in his first year at University of California at Santa Clara. With a 22 points-per-game average, Secor recently was awarded the freshman basketball team's Most Valuable Player and Captain's trophies. You'll be hearing a lot more about him.

ALSO AT U.C. Santa Barbara is former Drake High star Chet Carlisle who will play defensive end on the varsity football squad next season. Big Chet, who has spent two years in military service, will be a mature sophomore.

LAST WEEK I told you about four San Francisco 49ers who were to race in a special Bay Area Racing Association hard top event at Vallejo Speedway. Well, as it turned out, defensive back Alvin Randolph and offensive guard Randy Beisler placed 1-2 over Len Rohde and Mel Phillips to qualify for the finals on June 5 against tomorrow night's special race featuring the Oakland Raiders.

The Raiders' speed team, as yet unannounced, will be headed by lineman Bob Svihus. The top two Raiders tomorrow night then will take on Randolph and Beisler June 5.

Auto racing has come up with another attractive gimmick.

When Homero Hits Texas, Watch Out!

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Homero Blancas, a product of the University of Houston golf factory, makes a run at the big money every now and then during the year, but when he gets to Texas he goes berserk.

Blancas made a run at the Byron Nelson Golf Classic in Dallas two weeks ago, was a contender last week at Houston and Thursday went out and fired a three-under-par 67 to tie for the first round lead of the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament with Canadian George Knudson.

That twosome had a one-stroke lead over lesser lights Berte Greene, Fred Marti and Jack Montgomery.

Another stroke back at one-under-par 69 were five players including amateur sensation Ben Crenshaw, a freshman at the University of Texas who finished seventh last week at Houston.

The others clipping par were former Colonial winner Dave Stockton, Jerry Heard, Bert Yancey and Chuck Courtney.

Billy Casper and Gary Player, both returning to the tour after lapses of three and four weeks, respectively, both shot 73s. Casper's round included his first four-putt green in 13 years.

"I wish we played more tournaments in Texas," said Blancas, whose last win was in this same event one year ago.

"I've been playing awfully well lately," said Blancas, who finished 10th in Dallas and tied for seventh in Houston before coming to Fort Worth.

"I've just been having one or two bad holes a round. A double bogey here or there. That has cost me. But I've been getting better every week in Texas. Maybe I'll win here."

Blancas got down birdie putts of 1 1-2, 10 and 35 feet against no bogeys, and salvaged two other pars with super bunker shots.

Knudson, meanwhile, had an even better putting round.

He rolled them in from 4, 3, 30, 5 and 25 feet for birdies and sank saving par putts of 6 and 8 feet.

"I guess you could say I putted rather well," said Knudson, whose best finish this year has been 11th place in the Tournament of Champions. Knudson

Another Thrilling Win For Giants

HOUSTON (UPI) —The San Francisco Giants, who enjoy an 8 1-2 game bulge over Atlanta in the National League West, keep rolling along.

In another one of their miracle finishes, the Giants clipped Chicago, 8-7, Thursday to leave town with two of the three games.

Tonight San Francisco opens a three-game series with Houston. Gaylord Perry will go after his fifth victory of the year against the Astros' Larry Dierker, who has six wins and one loss. Perry also has one setback.

Cub's southpaw Earl Stephenson threw Willie McCovey a pitch Thursday that spelled Chicago's doom. With none out and two on in the ninth inning, McCovery drove on deep into the right centerfield bleachers to give the Giants an 8-6 lead.

Cubs' rookie Ron Tompkins had stiffled a Giant threat in the eighth, but he walked both Tito Fuentes and Willie Mays to open the ninth. Then in came Stephenson and out went McCovey's eighth homer of the year.

The Cubs had knocked out Giants' starter Juan Marichal in the seventh when they bunched five singles and a sacrifice fly for three runs.

In the eighth, the Giants closed the gap when rookie Fran Healy batted for Hal Lanier and ripped a double against the centerfield wall to drive in three runs. It was Healy's seventh hit in eight at bats this season.

Redwood Tennis Champs

The Marin County Athletic League tennis season is all for this year and the big question being asked around the league is just how long can Redwood High School's winning streak continue.

The Giants of Redwood won their 51st straight MCAL match yesterday, 5-0 over Novato, to wind up the season with a 14-0 mark and their fourth straight championship.

Both Marin Catholic and Drake high schools won yesterday to end the season in a tie for second, four games behind Redwood. Marin Catholic won 3-2 over Tamalpais and Drake whipped San Marin 4-1.

Terra Linda Wins Prep Golf Crown

Terra Linda High School's golf team is champ of the Marin County Athletic League today after whipping San Rafael High School golfers yesterday, 210-215, in a windy match at Peacock Gap course.

Medalists were Terra Linda's Art Cudworth and San Rafael's Mike Doris with 39s.

Terra Linda's finishing win-loss record in the league was 13-1 while San Rafael ended at 11-3.

In other MCAL matches yesterday, Tam whipped Marin Catholic 191-213, and San Marin squeezed by Drake, 234-236.

Cudworth is the MCAL's representative to the first North Coast Section (NCS) Tournament on the Lake Merced course in San Francisco next Thursday. Cudworth bested all other Marin contestants in the 36-hole qualifying a week ago, with scores of 73-77—150 at Rohnert Park.

The 36-hole final, brings together the best golfers in most of Northern California.

Three-Way Race To Buy Canonero

MIAMI (UPI)—It's turned into a three-way race to buy Canonero II, the winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Negotiator Bud Lepman met with owner Pedro Baptista Thursday, a group of philanthropists will haggle with him today and Albert Winick, who says he will match anybody's price, is trying to arrange a session.

Lepman went away from his meeting discouraged about his group's chances at buying the Venezuelan-based wonder horse, because the price was too high.

"Their price is much more than I believe my group intends to pay," he said. He said he had made an offer of $1.5 million a few days ago, but wouldn't say how much higher he went Thursday.

Ledman said he has 48 hours in which to buy the horse, provided he can meet the price. "It amounts to a 48-hour option," he said.

Baptista's price had been rumored at near $4 million earlier in the week.

Lepman declined to say who he was representing, but he is a trainer for Miami race track owner Steve Calder, Arnold Hanger, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Cohen and A. F. Tronetta, among other horse owners.

The most intriguing bid is being made by a group of 11 Miamians headed by physicin Tim Lamphier, Ted Horsey and former Florida assistant attorney general Gus Efphimiou, none of whom has ever owned a thoroughbred.

They said their offer is in the same area as those of the other bidders, but they would let Baptista retain more of an interest

OAKLAND (UPI) —Chuck Dobson didn't go the distance this time but it didn't upset him too much.

The sturdy righthander won his third game since coming off the disabled list on May 2 Thursday night as the Oakland A's defeated the Milwaukee Brewers, 7-3, and stretched their lead in the American League West to 6 1-2 games.

Pitching on a cold and windy night and with only 2,632 fans in the stands, Dobson had the Brewers shut out until Johnny Briggs lined a homer leading off the eighth.

It was the sixth hit off Dobson and when Mike Hegan and Dave May led off the ninth with back-to-back doubles and Andy Kosco walked, manager Dick Williams took Dobson out.

"I felt Chuck had gone as far as he could on a cold night," said Williams. "There was little sense in extending him since we had a comfortable lead."

Dobson, who went on the disabled list just before the start of the season because of a sore pitching elbow, said he never was able to get loose against the Brewers.

"I didn't have real good stuff except for one inning," Dobson said. "Those long innings and the cold worked against me but I'm not complaining. Heck, the team got me all those runs and I should win under the circumstances."

Dave Duncan and Mike Epstein hit homers to make things easy for Dobson and Sal Bando chipped in with four hits and an RBI. Dick Green and Bert Campaneris had two hits and an RBI each as the A's piled up 13 hits in all, eight off former teammate Lew Krausse, who suffered his fifth loss in six decisions.

Now the A's host the Minnesota Twins, the team closest to them in the A.L. West. In two previous games his year the A's beat the Twins, which is quite a turnabout from previous years. In the last two seasons when the Twins won the A.L. West they beat Oakland 26 times in 36 meetings.

John Odom, another Oakland sore-arm case making a comeback, pitches tonight's game against Bert Blyleven. Odom made his first start of the year Sunday against Kansas City and pitched six strong innings.

"I won't let him throw more than 125 pitches," said Williams. "There is little sense in pushing him since we have a comfortable lead and other fellows ready to pitch."

By "other fellows" William meant Diego Segui and Rollie Fingers, who started the season in the regular rotation while Dobson and Odom were recuperating.

The victory over the Brewers Thursday was the A's third in a row and pushed them 14 games over .500. The Twins, with a

A Great Day For Marin Baseballers

The mind boggles at what our local heroes accomplished yesterday.

First and foremost, San Anselmo's John Boccabella hit a 14th inning home run to give Montreal's Expos a dramatic 4-3 victory over Atlanta, sending the Braves skidding 8½ games behind the Giants in the National League.

Then, over in the American League, Terra Linda's Lefty Bill Lee collected his fourth pitching victory for the Boston Red Sox as they downed the New York Yankees, 5-2.

And, down in the minors, Ken Johnson of Larkspur and Joe Decker of San Rafael figured in their teams' victories. Redwood Tennis Champs

The Marin County Athletic League tennis season is all for this year and the big question being asked around the league is just how long can Redwood High School's winning streak continue.

The Giants of Redwood won their 51st straight MCAL match yesterday, 5-0 over Novato, to wind up the season with a 14-0 mark and their fourth straight championship.

Both Marin Catholic and Drake high schools won yesterday to end the season in a tie for second, four games behind Redwood. Marin Catholic won 3-2 over Tamalpais and Drake whipped San Marin 4-1.

Terra Linda Wins Prep Golf Crown

Terra Linda High School's golf team is champ of the Marin County Athletic League today after whipping San Rafael High School golfers yesterday, 210-215, in a windy match at Peacock Gap course.

Medalists were Terra Linda's Art Cudworth and San Rafael's Mike Doris with 39s.

Terra Linda's finishing win-loss record in the league was 13-1 while San Rafael ended at 11-3.

In other MCAL matches yesterday, Tam whipped Marin Catholic 191-213, and San Marin squeezed by Drake, 234-236.

Cudworth is the MCAL's representative to the first North Coast Section (NCS) Tournament on the Lake Merced course in San Francisco next Thursday. Cudworth bested all other Marin contestants in the 36-hole qualifying a week ago, with scores of 73-77—150 at Rohnert Park.

The 36-hole final, brings together the best golfers in most of Northern California.

Three-Way Race To Buy Canonero

MIAMI (UPI)—It's turned into a three-way race to buy Canonero II, the winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Negotiator Bud Lepman met with owner Pedro Baptista Thursday, a group of philanthropists will haggle with him today and Albert Winick, who says he will match anybody's price, is trying to arrange a session.

Lepman went away from his meeting discouraged about his group's chances at buying the Venezuelan-based wonder horse, because the price was too high.

"Their price is much more than I believe my group intends to pay," he said. He said he had made an offer of $1.5 million a few days ago, but wouldn't say how much higher he went Thursday.

Ledman said he has 48 hours in which to buy the horse, provided he can meet the price. "It amounts to a 48-hour option," he said.

Baptista's price had been rumored at near $4 million earlier in the week.

Lepman declined to say who he was representing, but he is a trainer for Miami race track owner Steve Calder, Arnold Hanger, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Cohen and A. F. Tronetta, among other horse owners.

The most intriguing bid is being made by a group of 11 Miamians headed by physicin Tim Lamphier, Ted Horsey and former Florida assistant attorney general Gus Efphimiou, none of whom has ever owned a thoroughbred.

They said their offer is in the same area as those of the other bidders, but they would let Baptista retain more of an interest

168 Golfers In Napa For U.S. Open Try

NAPA (UPI) —A total of 168 pros and amateurs are scheduled to fire away Monday and Tuesday at Silverado Country Club as they try to qualify for the U.S. Open Golf tournament.

The low 29 scorers from the field will adance to the sectional qualifying, also at Silverado, June 7.

When Homero Hits Texas, Watch Out!

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Homero Blancas, a product of the University of Houston golf factory, makes a run at the big money every now and then during the year, but when he gets to Texas he goes berserk.

Blancas made a run at the Byron Nelson Golf Classic in Dallas two weeks ago, was a contender last week at Houston and Thursday went out and fired a three-under-par 67 to tie for the first round lead of the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament with Canadian George Knudson.

That twosome had a one-stroke lead over lesser lights Berte Greene, Fred Marti and Jack Montgomery.

Another stroke back at one-under-par 69 were five players including amateur sensation Ben Crenshaw, a freshman at the University of Texas who finished seventh last week at Houston.

The others clipping par were former Colonial winner Dave Stockton, Jerry Heard, Bert Yancey and Chuck Courtney.

Billy Casper and Gary Player, both returning to the tour after lapses of three and four weeks, respectively, both shot 73s. Casper's round included his first four-putt green in 13 years.

"I wish we played more tournaments in Texas," said Blancas, whose last win was in this same event one year ago.

"I've been playing awfully well lately," said Blancas, who finished 10th in Dallas and tied for seventh in Houston before coming to Fort Worth.

"I've just been having one or two bad holes a round. A double bogey here or there. That has cost me. But I've been getting better every week in Texas. Maybe I'll win here."

Blancas got down birdie putts of 1 1-2, 10 and 35 feet against no bogeys, and salvaged two other pars with super bunker shots.

Knudson, meanwhile, had an even better putting round.

He rolled them in from 4, 3, 30, 5 and 25 feet for birdies and sank saving par putts of 6 and 8 feet.

"I guess you could say I putted rather well," said Knudson, whose best finish this year has been 11th place in the Tournament of Champions. Knudson

A New Sweater For Durocher

CHICAGO — There are lots of flashy dressers on the baseball beat. Willie McCovey, Willie Mays and Juan Marichal seldom are seen twice in the same suit. The three Ms of the Giants wouldn't think of appearing in public in unpressed trousers.

Mays particularly dislikes even the slightest of wrinkles in his trousers which always have knife-like edges, front and back. Years ago he was instructed in good grooming by a most fastidious dresser, Leo Durocher, who also played a most influential role in Mays' baseball career when it was just getting under way two decades ago.

OF COURSE, Durocher didn't teach Mays how to play baseball. Mays had all the natural talents necessary to become the great superstar he is. But Durocher, always a fashion plate, did teach Mays much about dressing.

Perhaps Mays' dislike of wrinkled trousers dates back to his rookie days of 1951 when Durocher was managing the Giants. Durocher never could put on a pair of wrinkled pants. And he never sent a suit out to be pressed during short or long road trips.

MAYS NEVER knew how his first manager did it until one day Durocher invited the rookie to his hotel suite. Mays was amazed to see a score of neatly pressed suits in Durocher's closet. After wearing one, Durocher wouldn't return it to the closet. It went into one of his wardrobe trunks to be pressed later when the team returned to New York where Durocher had a favorite pants presser.

Durocher still is the meticulous dresser he always was. But he looked a bit seedy when the Giants visited Chicago at the outset of their current road trip. It wasn't his pants. As always, they were free of wrinkles. It was the sweater he was wearing.

FOR SIX DAYS Durocher had been wearing it. He hadn't fallen in love with it but he had vowed he would wear it as long as the Cubs he manages continued to win.

"I must have 50 or 100 sweaters but this orange one is the only one I've got now," said Durocher. "I'll wear it until it turns purple."

Durocher then recalled how he wore the same clothes for the last three weeks of the 1951 season when the Giants made their dash to a memorable playoff pennant in the old Polo Grounds.

THE ORANGE sweater may have kept the Cubs going in their six-game winning streak against the Phillies and Padres, the cellar dwellers in the National League East and West. But it had no superstitious powers whatsoever against the Giants, the NL's western division leader.

The Giants won the opener of a three-game series in Wrigley Field. The winning streak of the Cubs was snapped. Durocher discarded the sweater.

Another Crown For Mrs. Bowman?

Mrs. Lyle Bowman of Terra Linda, the defending champion and four-time winner, is on course for another title in the California Women's Golf Association Tournament at Woodland Hills, Los Angeles County.

Mrs. Bowman was to meet Mary Elizabeth Shea of the Los Angeles Country Club in today's 36-hole championship showdown.

Yesterday Mrs. Bowman eliminated Sally Tomlinson of the Claremont C.C., 4 and 2 in the match play semi-finals while Miss Shea, who won the crown in 1969, ousted Jane Huntsberger of Las Posas, Camarillo, 5-4.

Basketball

DETROIT (UPI)—Ed Coil plans to concentrate on signing his No. 1 draft pick, Curtis Rowe of UCLA, now that the Pistons' general manager has Bill van Breda Kolff's name on a contract which calls for him to coach Detroit for another two seasons.

VBK signed his contract with the National Basketball Association team Thursday for an estimated $40,000 annually. He coached Detroit to its best record in history, 45-37, this past season.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Richie Guerin will return as coach of the Atlanta Hawks next season, the Hawks announced Thursday.

It had been speculated earlier that Guerin would take the New York Knicks head coaching post with Red Holzman moving up as general manager of the New York Club.

HOCKEY

OAKLAND (UPI) — The California Golden Seals announced Thursday the signing of chief Boston Bruin scout Garry Young to a three year contract as the club's general manager.

Seals owner Charles O. Finley said Young, 39, a native of Toronto and a member of the Bruin organization for 20 years, signed the contract Wednesday. The Seals had announced the acquisition of Young last week.

They said they would use their profits to establish a non-profit foundation in the spirit of the late President John F. Kennedy's Alliance for Progress with South America, using the funds for medical aid to Latin America and for a cultural exchange.

Dr. Lampier said he had written Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., the late President's brother, to take a post as honorary chairman of the foundation.

Winick and hs brother Arnold of Delray (Fla.) Training Center said they were getting back into the competition for the horse, after dropping out earlier.

"I've got somebody very much interested in the horse now," Albert Winick said. "Whatever Bud Lepman offers I'm prepared to offer more."

Winick said there is some dispute over the location of any meeting with Baptista, but it could be resolved as soon as Friday. "I want them to come up here to the farm to talk, but they want us to come to Miami."

One man impressed with the A's is Brewer manager Dave Bristol, who said Oakland has all the things a club needs to win a championship—pitching, offense and defense.

"They easily are the best team I've seen this season," said Bristol. "They make all the plays and in the end that's the difference between a good club and an also-ran."

had to sink a 25-foot putt on the final hole just to save a bogey and tie for the lead.

Of the threesome in second place, Montgomery had the best chance to move into first place. He fired the front nine in a record-tying 31 strokes, but immediately double-bogeyed the 10th hole and had to be happy with a 68.

Crenshaw, by far the favorite with the gallery and playing in only his third tournament with professionals, moved to within a stroke of the lead before he three-putted the par-4 15th.

"I hit my driver all over the lot," he said. "I hear the rough is not as high as it has been in the past. I'm glad it isn't. If it had been I would not have had a chance."

Among the 13 players logjammed at even par 70 were Lee Trevino—one of the tournament co-favorites — Ron Cerrudo, Tommy Aaron, Al Geiberger, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Ken Still.

Hunter Safety Course Slated

A hunter safety training course for youngsters aged 12 through 18 will begin next Monday at the San Rafael Police Pistol Range.

Sponsored by the Marin Rifle and Pistol Club, the course will be held every Monday evening for 10 weeks. Registration is $5 per person.

Under California law, persons must pass a hunter safety course to qualify for a state hunting license. Monday's first session will begin at 7 p.m.

Prisoners Take Home Run Seriously

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Two prisoners at the City Workhouse took a home run seriously during a Thursday softball game.

Police said the men chased the home-run ball to a fence, then followed it over and kept going.

They were captured a short time later in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

A New Sweater For Durocher

CHICAGO — There are lots of flashy dressers on the baseball beat. Willie McCovey, Willie Mays and Juan Marichal seldom are seen twice in the same suit. The three Ms of the Giants wouldn't think of appearing in public in unpressed trousers.

Mays particularly dislikes even the slightest of wrinkles in his trousers which always have knife-like edges, front and back. Years ago he was instructed in good grooming by a most fastidious dresser, Leo Durocher, who also played a most influential role in Mays' baseball career when it was just getting under way two decades ago.

OF COURSE, Durocher didn't teach Mays how to play baseball. Mays had all the natural talents necessary to become the great superstar he is. But Durocher, always a fashion plate, did teach Mays much about dressing.

Perhaps Mays' dislike of wrinkled trousers dates back to his rookie days of 1951 when Durocher was managing the Giants. Durocher never could put on a pair of wrinkled pants. And he never sent a suit out to be pressed during short or long road trips.

MAYS NEVER knew how his first manager did it until one day Durocher invited the rookie to his hotel suite. Mays was amazed to see a score of neatly pressed suits in Durocher's closet. After wearing one, Durocher wouldn't return it to the closet. It went into one of his wardrobe trunks to be pressed later when the team returned to New York where Durocher had a favorite pants presser.

Durocher still is the meticulous dresser he always was. But he looked a bit seedy when the Giants visited Chicago at the outset of their current road trip. It wasn't his pants. As always, they were free of wrinkles. It was the sweater he was wearing.

FOR SIX DAYS Durocher had been wearing it. He hadn't fallen in love with it but he had vowed he would wear it as long as the Cubs he manages continued to win.

"I must have 50 or 100 sweaters but this orange one is the only one I've got now," said Durocher. "I'll wear it until it turns purple."

Durocher then recalled how he wore the same clothes for the last three weeks of the 1951 season when the Giants made their dash to a memorable playoff pennant in the old Polo Grounds.

THE ORANGE sweater may have kept the Cubs going in their six-game winning streak against the Phillies and Padres, the cellar dwellers in the National League East and West. But it had no superstitious powers whatsoever against the Giants, the NL's western division leader.

The Giants won the opener of a three-game series in Wrigley Field. The winning streak of the Cubs was snapped. Durocher discarded the sweater.

Another Crown For Mrs. Bowman?

Mrs. Lyle Bowman of Terra Linda, the defending champion and four-time winner, is on course for another title in the California Women's Golf Association Tournament at Woodland Hills, Los Angeles County.

Mrs. Bowman was to meet Mary Elizabeth Shea of the Los Angeles Country Club in today's 36-hole championship showdown.

Yesterday Mrs. Bowman eliminated Sally Tomlinson of the Claremont C.C., 4 and 2 in the match play semi-finals while Miss Shea, who won the crown in 1969, ousted Jane Huntsberger of Las Posas, Camarillo, 5-4.

Basketball

DETROIT (UPI)—Ed Coil plans to concentrate on signing his No. 1 draft pick, Curtis Rowe of UCLA, now that the Pistons' general manager has Bill van Breda Kolff's name on a contract which calls for him to coach Detroit for another two seasons.

VBK signed his contract with the National Basketball Association team Thursday for an estimated $40,000 annually. He coached Detroit to its best record in history, 45-37, this past season.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Richie Guerin will return as coach of the Atlanta Hawks next season, the Hawks announced Thursday.

It had been speculated earlier that Guerin would take the New York Knicks head coaching post with Red Holzman moving up as general manager of the New York Club.

HOCKEY

OAKLAND (UPI) — The California Golden Seals announced Thursday the signing of chief Boston Bruin scout Garry Young to a three year contract as the club's general manager.

Seals owner Charles O. Finley said Young, 39, a native of Toronto and a member of the Bruin organization for 20 years, signed the contract Wednesday. The Seals had announced the acquisition of Young last week.

They said they would use their profits to establish a nonprofit foundation in the spirit of the late President John F. Kennedy's Alliance for Progress with South America, using the funds for medical aid to Latin America and for a cultural exchange.

Dr. Lampier said he had written Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., the late President's brother, to take a post as honorary chairman of the foundation.

Winick and hs brother Arnold of Delray (Fla.) Training Center said they were getting back into the competition for the horse, after dropping out earlier.

"I've got somebody very much interested in the horse now," Albert Winick said. "Whatever Bud Lepman offers I'm prepared to offer more."

Winick said there is some dispute over the location of any meeting with Baptista, but it could be resolved as soon as Friday. "I want them to come up here to the farm to talk, but they want us to come to Miami."

20-19 record compared to Oakland's 28-14, are the only other team in the A.L. West over .500.

One man impressed with the A's is Brewer manager Dave Bristol, who said Oakland has all the things a club needs to win a championship—pitching, offense and defense.

"They easily are the best team I've seen this season," said Bristol. "They make all the plays and in the end that's the difference between a good club and an also-ran."

had to sink a 25-foot putt on the final hole just to save a bogey and tie for the lead.

Of the threesome in second place, Montgomery had the best chance to move into first place. He fired the front nine in a record-tying 31 strokes, but immediately double-bogeyed the 10th hole and had to be happy with a 68.

Crenshaw, by far the favorite with the gallery and playing in only his third tournament with professionals, moved to within a stroke of the lead before he three-putted the par-4 15th.

"I hit my driver all over the lot," he said. "I hear the rough is not as high as it has been in the past. I'm glad it isn't. If it had been I would not have had a chance."

Among the 13 players logjammed at even par 70 were Lee Trevino—one of the tournament co-favorites — Ron Cerrudo, Tommy Aaron, Al Geiberger, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Ken Still.

Prisoners Take Home Run Seriously

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Two prisoners at the City Workhouse took a home run seriously during a Thursday softball game.

Police said the men chased the home-run ball to a fence, then followed it over and kept going.

They were captured a short time later in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

FISH AND GAME

Great Abalone Tides Scheduled This Week

By AL GIDDINGS

There are a number of excellent abalone and clam tides coming up this week. The first, on Sunday, is at 5:30 a.m. and it's a -1.5 tide. That's early for abalones, but just right for a dawn clam digging party!

Try Dillon's Beach near Tomales for a family outing; you will be almost certain to take home enough gaper clams for a chowder. You might even get a rare giant Geoduck clam or some Washington clams. You'll need a fishing license (available at Dillon's) a shovel, and a sack or a bucket. You should wear old shoes, or boots, and expect to get your clothes wet.

THE LIMIT on gaper clams is 10 per person — no size limit. The limit on Geoducks is three, and the limit on Washingtons is 10. You can have all three limits at one time! If you take cockle clams (usually dug using a hoe, and found along both shorelines of Tomales Bay), the limit is 50 per person, and these small clams have a 1½-inch size limit. (Nothing smaller than 1½-inches allowed.)

PLEASE NOTE: I notice in reading some of the local tide books that the minus tide readings for Monday and Tuesday are -0.7. These readings should read -1.7 for each day! That makes the tides a foot lower!

Bolinas Bay is still closed by the State and County Health Department regulations.

IF YOU PLAN an abalone outing, the beds on the old Palamarin Ranch in the Point Reyes National Seashore near Bolinas are open. The water is murky here, so the rock pickers seem to do better than the divers. Out Inverness way, hiking down to the beds from the McClure's Beach parking lot is a long haul, but pays off for the rugged ones. Most of the abalone action has been taking place above Jenner along the coast in Sonoma County. Some of the ranches there charge $1 per car. The water is usually clear, so it's a diver's paradise. If you have a boat, diving at the mouth of Tomales Bay is possible. Be careful of the sharks! Diving in the regular rocky kelp beds is one thing! Diving at the mouth of Tomales Bay very close to the sand bottomed channel is another. There have been three or four shark attacks in the area.

THE MINUS tide series should definitely put a run of stripers in the bay. Trolling should pick up next week at the Richmond Bridge and other bay spots. Use a pet Spoon with 4 ounces of weight and a pork rind, or live bait. The areas near the Golden Gate Bridge will also start producing for the rock casters using Bugeye jigs.

Trout were again planted this week in Bon Tempe, Lagunitas, Phoenix Lakes, and Rodeo Lagoon. The limit is five fish per person in these waters.

THE FISH AND Game Department has suspended stocking trout in Lake Hennessey in Napa County pending discussions with the City Council of Napa on lake fishing fee charges. The commission recently took this action when it became aware that the Napa City Council had increased the fee to $3 for residents of the city of Napa and to $4 for non residents. The Department of Fish and Game is bound by the commission's policy rulings, so trout will not be stocked until the problem of the fees is resolved.

The Kiwanis Club of Novato is trying to line up a trout fishing outing for the kids in Novato tomorrow. If all goes according to schedule, the Novato Parks and Recreation Department will have the Novato Spray Pool in town stocked with 1,000 big trout for the kids. Nice going!

A NEW LAW, which becomes effective June 1, makes it mandatory that all hunters, regardless of age, present proof of having previously held a California hunting license before purchasing a new one. Otherwise, you must have a hunter-safety certificate of competence issued in California or another state. A hunting license from another state will not be acceptable. The best evidence of having a previous license is showing last year's. However, if your old license was lost, you may complete a declaration form that this was the case. License agents have these forms. Otherwise you will have to take a hunter-safety course. Names and addresses of instructors may be obtained from license agents or from the Fish and Game Department.

DON'T PICK up fawns or seals. It is illegal, and usually, though the fawn or the seal is alone, the mother is nearby feeding. In most cases, the young animals die.

Galea Pass Wins Feature Race

Jack Artrburn rode Galea Pass to the three-quarter length win in a very quick time of 1.09 1/5 for the six furlongs.

Galea Pass paid $7.60, $3.80 and $2.80. Little Scrib returned $4.80 and $3.40 while Hungary Harry paid $4.00.

California Teams In Tennis Lead

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — The four California schools are in command of the Pacific-8 Tennis championships.

Favored UCLA downed Washington State, 9-0, Thursday in the opening round and Stanford, rated with a chance to upset the Bruins, defeated Oregon, 81.

USC beat Washington 6-0 in a match that was shortened to six singles by rain. in another shortened match, California beat Oregon State, 5-0.

UCLA meets California today after which the Trojans play Stanford, Washington State mets the Beavers and Washington plays Oregon in consolation action.

Junior High Track Meet Set Saturday

The seventh annual Marin County track and field meet for seventh and eighth graders will be Saturday at College of Marin, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Boys and girls from 18 junior high schools in Marin will take part in the meet. The schools are divided into four areas, which held qualifying meets last weekend.

NEW CLEANUP HITTER

Former Giant Stephenson Batting .435 For Angels

ANAHEIM (UPI)—When the California Angels drafted catcher John Stephenson last winter from the San Francisco Giants organization it hardly caused a ripple of excitement.

But Stephenson in the past for weeks has become the most consistent hitter on a team that includes American League batting champion Alex Johnson and home run slugger Tony Conigliero.

Going into the current week, Stephenson had run his hitting streak to 10 games, longest for an Angel this year, and his batting average to .435. By Thursday it was an 11 game streak.

And manager Harold "Lefty" Phillips rewarded Stephenson for his work by making him the cleanup hitter against Minnesota.

"I decided to bat Stephenson fourth because he has gottn more hits in the last couple of weeks than anybody else in the lineup," Phillips said. "It would be different if we had a man who had hit nine or 10 home runs. Nobody has, so Stephenson deserves to hit cleanup."

Stephenson said he never had even a 10-game hitting streak before nor can he recall having a batting average so high.

"I don't know why I'm hitting so well right now unless it's because I have more confidence and that comes from playing more," said Stephenson.

"I thought when I first came up with the New York Mets that I was a fairly good hitter. Theres a lot of luck involved in hitting well. A man can be hitting the ball well and not be getting base hits."

Stephenson doesn't have any personal goals as far as his average is concerned although his teammates have been kidding him about possibly hitting .500, now that he has passed .400.

"It's more important to me personally to be with a winner and that's where I want to make my contribution," he said.

Stephenson said since his days with the New York Mets, he had been relegated chiefly to occasional appearances while with the Chicago Cubs and then with the San Francisco Giants.

"When I was with New York, they had Chris Cannizzaro as their catcher and when I was sent to Chicago it was while Randy Hundley was reaching his peak," Stephenson said.

"I caught nine games last year with San Francisco and only started one the year before. But when the Giants sent me to their Phoenix farm club I got a chance to play regularly and last year I began to develop confidence as a hitter."

Stephenson said he also got in a good deal of work during spring training and decided to be ready when Phillips called upon him.

It was not until May 1 that Stephenson appeared as other than a pinchhitter and in that start he hit two doubles and Drove in three runs. And the hits began coming as he alternated with Jerry Moses behind the plate.

Stephenson was signed by the Mets after his graduation from William Carey College of Hattiesburg, Miss., where he still makes his home. A physical education major, he teaches phys. ed. at his alma mater and helps coach the basketball team. He lettered in both basketball and baseball in college.

"Stephenson has been fantastic," beamed manager Phillips. "It shows what desire and fighting back can do for a fellow. I like his determination."

Meminger Signs Knicks Contract

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dean Meminger, called "almost the complete player right now" by new teammate Dick Barnett, felt more the part today after signing a lucrative contract with the New York Knicks.

Meminger, a New Yorker who reached All-America heights at Marquette, signed a three-year, $300,000 contract with the Knicks Thursday. The 6-1 guard was the first draft choice of the National Basketball Association club.

"I'd hoped the Knicks would pick me, but they were so far back in the selections because of their good record that I never thought I'd get past the other NBA clubs," Meminger said. "It's a dream come true, playing in New York again."

Although Meminger is a rival for his job, the veteran Barnett said he would do all he could to help the youngster break in.

"Youth must be served," said Barnet. "I'll teach Dean everything I can. That good tutoring he had at Marquette will help him make the adjustment. He has natural ability and we'll just teach him the moves of some of the players he'll be facing."

Meminger said he is looking forward to meeting up again with Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee, an old rival from their New York City high school days.

"Lew has demonstrated what he can do in the pros," Meminger said. "My turn will come. I'll never be as good as him. He's 7-4 and the best. One thing I know, though we may know each other, when you get on the court you have no friends. It's every man for his own club."

Great Abalone Tides Scheduled This Week

By AL GIDDINGS

There are a number of excellent abalone and clam tides coming up this week. The first, on Sunday, is at 5:30 a.m. and it's a -1.5 tide. That's early for abalones, but just right for a dawn clam digging party!

Try Dillon's Beach near Tomales for a family outing; you will be almost certain to take home enough gaper clams for a chowder. You might even get a rare giant Geoduck clam or some Washington clams. You'll need a fishing license (available at Dillon's) a shovel, and a sack or a bucket. You should wear old shoes, or boots, and expect to get your clothes wet.

THE LIMIT on gaper clams is 10 per person — no size limit. The limit on Geoducks is three, and the limit on Washingtons is 10. You can have all three limits at one time! If you take cockle clams (usually dug using a hoe, and found along both shorelines of Tomales Bay), the limit is 50 per person, and these small clams have a 1½-inch size limit. (Nothing smaller than 1½-inches allowed.)

PLEASE NOTE: I notice in reading some of the local tide books that the minus tide readings for Monday and Tuesday are -0.7. These readings should read -1.7 for each day! That makes the tides a foot lower!

Bolinas Bay is still closed by the State and County Health Department regulations.

IF YOU PLAN an abalone outing, the beds on the old Palamarin Ranch in the Point Reyes National Seashore near Bolinas are open. The water is murky here, so the rock pickers seem to do better than the divers. Out Inverness way, hiking down to the beds from the McClure's Beach parking lot is a long haul, but pays off for the rugged ones. Most of the abalone action has been taking place above Jenner along the coast in Sonoma County. Some of the ranches there charge $1 per car. The water is usually clear, so it's a diver's paradise. If you have a boat, diving at the mouth of Tomales Bay is possible. Be careful of the sharks! Diving in the regular rocky kelp beds is one thing! Diving at the mouth of Tomales Bay very close to the sand bottomed channel is another. There have been three or four shark attacks in the area.

THE MINUS tide series should definitely put a run of stripers in the bay. Trolling should pick up next week at the Richmond Bridge and other bay spots. Use a pet Spoon with 4 ounces of weight and a pork rind, or live bait. The areas near the Golden Gate Bridge will also start producing for the rock casters using Bugeye jigs.

Trout were again planted this week in Bon Tempe, Lagunitas, Phoenix Lakes, and Rodeo Lagoon. The limit is five fish per person in these waters.

THE FISH AND Game Department has suspended stocking trout in Lake Hennessey in Napa County pending discussions with the City Council of Napa on lake fishing fee charges. The commission recently took this action when it became aware that the Napa City Council had increased the fee to $3 for residents of the city of Napa and to $4 for non residents. The Department of Fish and Game is bound by the commission's policy rulings, so trout will not be stocked until the problem of the fees is resolved.

The Kiwanis Club of Novato is trying to line up a trout fishing outing for the kids in Novato tomorrow. If all goes according to schedule, the Novato Parks and Recreation Department will have the Novato Spray Pool in town stocked with 1,000 big trout for the kids. Nice going!

A NEW LAW, which becomes effective June 1, makes it mandatory that all hunters, regardless of age, present proof of having previously held a California hunting license before purchasing a new one. Otherwise, you must have a hunter-safety certificate of competence issued in California or another state. A hunting license from another state will not be acceptable. The best evidence of having a previous license is showing last year's. However, if your old license was lost, you may complete a declaration form that this was the case. License agents have these forms. Otherwise you will have to take a hunter-safety course. Names and addresses of instructors may be obtained from license agents or from the Fish and Game Department.

DON'T PICK up fawns or seals. It is illegal, and usually, though the fawn or the seal is alone, the mother is nearby feeding. In most cases, the young animals die.

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce. United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depts are always additive to the chart in depts unless preceded by a (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Pop Warner Signups For Terra Linda

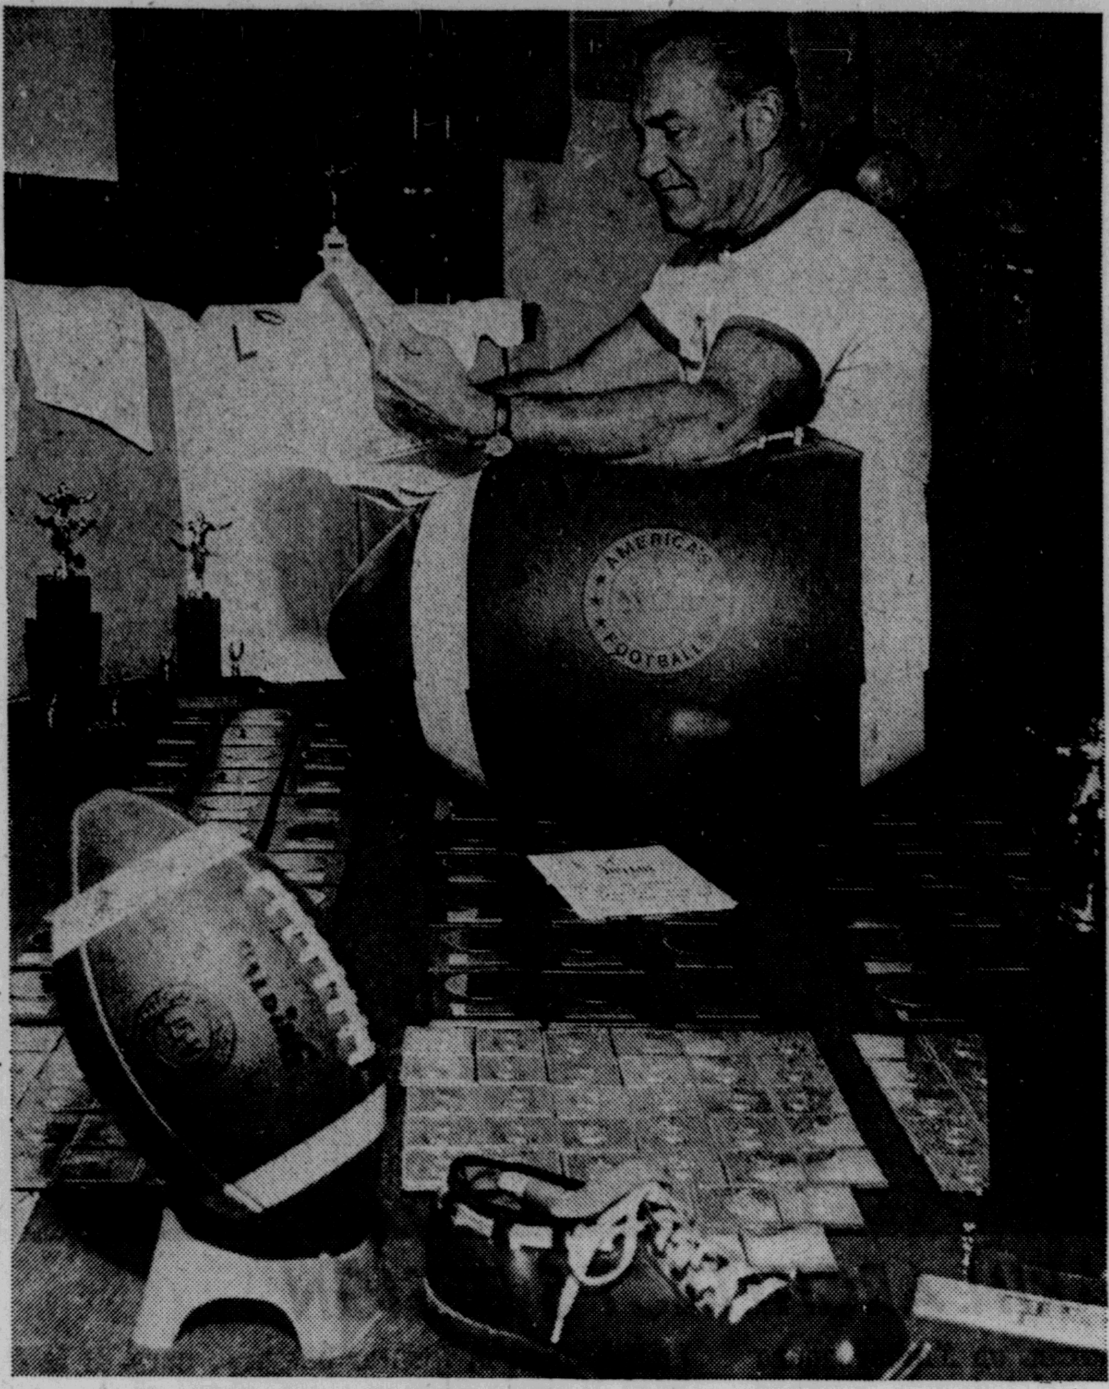
Senior Midget and Senior Pee Wee divisions of the Terra Linda Pop Warner football program will have signups at the entrance of the Terra Linda High School gymnasium for the next four Saturdays.

Hours will be from 10 a.m. to noon tomorrow, May 29, and June 5 and 12. The program is open to boys 9 through 14.



ALL IN READINESS FOR 'TOE' CLINIC

Gordon Tovani, who calls himself the "World's Greatest Barefoot Place-kicker," relaxes in his San Rafael home and goes over some details concerning his third annual place-kicking clinic, which will take place tomorrow from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Novato High School. Surrounding Tovani, who once played for the Oakland Raiders for a week, are trophies and awards to be used at the clinic. He is resting on the "world's biggest football," given to him by its maker, Spalding Corp.

Galea Pass Wins Feature Race

Jack Artrburn rode Galea Pass to the three-quarter length win in a very quick time of 1.09 1/5 for the six furlongs.

Galea Pass paid $7.60, $3.80 and $2.80. Little Scrib returned $4.80 and $3.40 while Hungary Harry paid $4.00.

California Teams In Tennis Lead

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — The four California schools are in command of the Pacific-8 Tennis championships.

Favored UCLA downed Washington State, 9-0, Thursday in the opening round and Stanford, rated with a chance to upset the Bruins, defeated Oregon, 81.

USC beat Washington 6-0 in a match that was shortened to six singles by rain. in another shortened match, California beat Oregon State, 5-0.

UCLA meets California today after which the Trojans play Stanford, Washington State mets the Beavers and Washington plays Oregon in consolation action.

Junior High Track Meet Set Saturday

The seventh annual Marin County track and field meet for seventh and eighth graders will be Saturday at College of Marin, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Boys and girls from 18 junior high schools in Marin will take part in the meet. The schools are divided into four areas, which held qualifying meets last weekend.

NEW CLEANUP HITTER

Former Giant Stephenson Batting .435 For Angels

ANAHEIM (UPI)—When the California Angels drafted catcher John Stephenson last winter from the San Francisco Giants organization it hardly caused a ripple of excitement.

But Stephenson in the past for weeks has become the most consistent hitter on a team that includes American League batting champion Alex Johnson and home run slugger Tony Conigliero.

Going into the current week, Stephenson had run his hitting streak to 10 games, longest for an Angel this year, and his batting average to .435. By Thursday it was an 11 game streak.

And manager Harold "Lefty" Phillips rewarded Stephenson for his work by making him the cleanup hitter against Minnesota.

"I decided to bat Stephenson fourth because he has gottn more hits in the last couple of weeks than anybody else in the lineup," Phillips said. "It would be different if we had a man who had hit nine or 10 home runs. Nobody has, so Stephenson deserves to hit cleanup."

Stephenson said he never had even a 10-game hitting streak before nor can he recall having a batting average so high.

"I don't know why I'm hitting so well right now unless it's because I have more confidence and that comes from playing more," said Stephenson.

"I thought when I first came up with the New York Mets that I was a fairly good hitter. Theres a lot of luck involved in hitting well. A man can be hitting the ball well and not be getting base hits."

Stephenson doesn't have any personal goals as far as his average is concerned although his teammates have been kidding him about possibly hitting .500, now that he has passed .400.

"It's more important to me personally to be with a winner and that's where I want to make my contribution," he said.

Stephenson said since his days with the New York Mets, he had been relegated chiefly to occasional appearances while with the Chicago Cubs and then with the San Francisco Giants.

"When I was with New York, they had Chris Cannizzaro as their catcher and when I was sent to Chicago it was while Randy Hundley was reaching his peak," Stephenson said.

"I caught nine games last year with San Francisco and only started one the year before. But when the Giants sent me to their Phoenix farm club I got a chance to play regularly and last year I began to develop confidence as a hitter."

Stephenson said he also got in a good deal of work during spring training and decided to be ready when Phillips called upon him.

It was not until May 1 that Stephenson appeared as other than a pinchhitter and in that start he hit two doubles and Drove in three runs. And the hits began coming as he alternated with Jerry Moses behind the plate.

Stephenson was signed by the Mets after his graduation from William Carey College of Hattiesburg, Miss., where he still makes his home. A physical education major, he teaches phys. ed. at his alma mater and helps coach the basketball team. He lettered in both basketball and baseball in college.

"Stephenson has been fantastic," beamed manager Phillips. "It shows what desire and fighting back can do for a fellow. I like his determination."

Meminger Signs Knicks Contract

Meminger, a New Yorker who reached All-America heights at Marquette, signed a three-year, $300,000 contract with the Knicks Thursday. The 6-1 guard was the first draft choice of the National Basketball Association club.

"I'd hoped the Knicks would pick me, but they were so far back in the selections because of their good record that I never thought I'd get past the other NBA clubs," Meminger said. "It's a dream come true, playing in New York again."

Although Meminger is a rival for his job, the veteran Barnett said he would do all he could to help the youngster break in.

"Youth must be served," said Barnet. "I'll teach Dean everything I can. That good tutoring he had at Marquette will help him make the adjustment. He has natural ability and we'll just teach him the moves of some of the players he'll be facing."

Meminger said he is looking forward to meeting up again with Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee, an old rival from their New York City high school days.

"Lew has demonstrated what he can do in the pros," Meminger said. "My turn will come. I'll never be as good as him. He's 7-4 and the best. One thing I know, though we may know each other, when you get on the court you have no friends. It's every man for his own club."

New Antique Store Has Opened On Boardwalk

A new store described as the first of its kind on the Belvedere Boardwalk is the Dovecote, operated by Betty Crittenden and Corinne Wiley. Besides antiques, it handles decorative accessories and interior decorating.

Also in antiques: Kelly Donaldson is back in the business, at the Collective next door to the Tamalpais Theater at 316 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo. Her shop is under the same name under which she formerly operated in Terra Linda: Castaway Kelly.

An entire wing of the Holiday Plaza office building San Rafael's Terra Linda area — 4,000 square feet — has been leased by American Pacific Life Insurance Co., reported Grubb and Ellis, leasing agents. Other new tenants in the building are James D. Rohde and Frank Pedersen, both attorneys.

John L. Haff of Novato and Maurice Murray of Corte Madera were installed recently as president and vice president of the Marin chapter, California Society of Professional Engineers.

Other officers installed were: Robert Speidel of San Rafael, secretary; William Murphy of Tiburon, treasurer; William Schmidt of Larkspur, state director; Charles Gerbic of San Anselmo and Joseph Yarnell of Mill Valley, chapter directors.

The chapter is affiliated with the National Society of Professional Engineers.

Clinton Waltermire of San Rafael has been promoted to assistant manager of Wells Fargo Bank's San Anselmo office. He formerly was credit officer. He succeeds Duane L. Butler, who has been assigned to the West Bay division loan supervision staff in San Francisco . . . Kenneth F. Keefe has been named executive vice president of E. D. Bullard Co., Sausalito manufacturers of safety equipment. He formerly was general manager of Clemco-Clementina, Ltd., manufacturers of abrasive blast cleaning equipment.

It is the third Victoria Station restaurant, others being in San Francisco and Atlanta. A fourth is under construction in Denver.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Reader Queries Stock Par Value

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. What is the difference between par value and no par value common stock? How does this affect the investor? — A.L.

A. Practically speaking, par value or lack of it has no meaning for the investor. At incorporation a company may assign a par value to its capital shares. Originally this represented the investment behind each share. However, even with a new issue the difference between par value and selling price can be dramatic. Levi Strauss which recently went public is an excellent example. The shares were brought out at $47.00, yet had a par value of $1.00

State laws vary widely, some requiring a par value, others not and some restricting sale price of new shares. Corporate balance sheets include either par value, or stated value for the common shares as part of stockholders equity. And, capital received from the sale of these shares in excess of par is included as paid-in surplus.

When shares are increased through a stock split, par value is reduced accordingly. One common misconception is that par represents the amount that a stockholder would receive in a liquidation. Actually under such circumstances the shareholder receives whatever remains after bondholders and creditors have been satisfied.

Q. I own Avnet which I purchased at around $22. Should I sell or hold for recovery? — H.L.

A. Avnet has speculative appeal as a turnaround candidate. While improvement has been slow since the company reported break-even results in fiscal 1970's fourth quarter, signs of a gradual turnabout are evident.

In the just-reported third quarter, ending March 1971, margins continued to widen and net again rose. Sales for the nine months of fiscal 1971 rose to 1.3 per cent to $220.8 million; net income advanced 4 per cent to $9.8 million, or from 68 cents to 71 cents per share. Now that liquidity and profit margin difficulties appear to be in hand, there may be a return to a more active acquisition program, with take-overs aimed at rounding out and supplementing existing operations. Hold shares.

Market Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks were slightly lower in relatively light trading after almost two hours today.

The E. E. Hutton & Co. brokerage said the market is going through a consolidation. The firm noted there was no undue pressure, but "buyers are extremely cautious because everyone has been talking of how the Dow Jones industrial average will fall into the 880-900 range."

Among the most active Amex issues were Asamera Oil fractionally higher on around 50,000 shares, Forest Laboratories up slightly on over 30,000 shares, and Atico Mortgage also slightly higher on 22,000 shares.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

New Antique Store Has Opened On Boardwalk

A new store described as the first of its kind on the Belvedere Boardwalk is the Dovecote, operated by Betty Crittenden and Corinne Wiley. Besides antiques, it handles decorative accessories and interior decorating.

Also in antiques: Kelly Donaldson is back in the business, at the Collective next door to the Tamalpais Theater at 316 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo. Her shop is under the same name under which she formerly operated in Terra Linda: Castaway Kelly.

An entire wing of the Holiday Plaza office building San Rafael's Terra Linda area — 4,000 square feet — has been leased by American Pacific Life Insurance Co., reported Grubb and Ellis, leasing agents. Other new tenants in the building are James D. Rohde and Frank Pedersen, both attorneys.

John L. Haff of Novato and Maurice Murray of Corte Madera were installed recently as president and vice president of the Marin chapter, California Society of Professional Engineers.

Other officers installed were: Robert Speidel of San Rafael, secretary; William Murphy of Tiburon, treasurer; William Schmidt of Larkspur, state director; Charles Gerbic of San Anselmo and Joseph Yarnell of Mill Valley, chapter directors.

The chapter is affiliated with the National Society of Professional Engineers.

Clinton Waltermire of San Rafael has been promoted to assistant manager of Wells Fargo Bank's San Anselmo office. He formerly was credit officer. He succeeds Duane L. Butler, who has been assigned to the West Bay division loan supervision staff in San Francisco . . . Kenneth F. Keefe has been named executive vice president of E. D. Bullard Co., Sausalito manufacturers of safety equipment. He formerly was general manager of Clemco-Clementina, Ltd., manufacturers of abrasive blast cleaning equipment.

Waltermire

Keefe

David E. Kalman of Greenbrae has been named marketing director of Concap Computing Systems, Oakland . . . David S. Hanson has been appointed North Bay area manager of Tele-Vue Systems, Inc., in Fairfax . . . Edmond D. Boles of San Rafael has opened his own public relations firm at 1714 Stockton Street in San Francisco. He formerly was manager of the public relations department of Cunningham and Walsh in San Francisco . . . John W. Clow of Mill Valley has been elected vice president of the San Francisco chapter of the California Society of Public Accountants. He is managing partner in the San Francisco office of Webb and Webb.

Marin County has been selected as the launching pad for an aerial advertising campaign for Lowenbrau beer. Lu Hurley of San Rafael will take off from the Marin Heliport each morning to mingle his beer blurbs with traffic reports broadcast from a helicopter.

MARIN ARCHITECT'S DESIGN

Victoria Station Restaurant on Embarcadero Road in Oakland, just completed, was designed by Donald K. Olsen, Sausalito architect, with bar in the old Southern Pacific station and dining room in former baggage cars. It is the third Victoria Station restaurant, others being in San Francisco and Atlanta. A fourth is under construction in Denver.

Market Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks were slightly lower in relatively light trading after almost two hours today.

The E. E. Hutton & Co. brokerage said the market is going through a consolidation. The firm noted there was no undue pressure, but "buyers are extremely cautious because everyone has been talking of how the Dow Jones industrial average will fall into the 880-900 range."

Among the most active Amex issues were Asamera Oil fractionally higher on around 50,000 shares, Forest Laboratories up slightly on over 30,000 shares, and Atico Mortgage also slightly higher on 22,000 shares.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Reader Queries Stock Par Value

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. What is the difference between par value and no par value common stock? How does this affect the investor? — A.L.

A. Practically speaking, par value or lack of it has no meaning for the investor. At incorporation a company may assign a par value to its capital shares. Originally this represented the investment behind each share. However, even with a new issue the difference between par value and selling price can be dramatic. Levi Strauss which recently went public is an excellent example. The shares were brought out at $47.00, yet had a par value of $1.00

State laws vary widely, some requiring a par value, others not and some restricting sale price of new shares. Corporate balance sheets include either par value, or stated value for the common shares as part of stockholders equity. And, capital received from the sale of these shares in excess of par is included as paid-in surplus.

When shares are increased through a stock split, par value is reduced accordingly. One common misconception is that par represents the amount that a stockholder would receive in a liquidation. Actually under such circumstances the shareholder receives whatever remains after bondholders and creditors have been satisfied.

Q. I own Avnet which I purchased at around $22. Should I sell or hold for recovery? — H.L.

A. Avnet has speculative appeal as a turnaround candidate. While improvement has been slow since the company reported break-even results in fiscal 1970's fourth quarter, signs of a gradual turnabout are evident.

In the just-reported third quarter, ending March 1971, margins continued to widen and net again rose. Sales for the nine months of fiscal 1971 rose to 1.3 per cent to $220.8 million; net income advanced 4 per cent to $9.8 million, or from 68 cents to 71 cents per share. Now that liquidity and profit margin difficulties appear to be in hand, there may be a return to a more active acquisition program, with take-overs aimed at rounding out and supplementing existing operations. Hold shares.

STALIN'S GRANDCHILD — Architect William W. Peters looks on as his wife, Svetlana, cuddles her new daughter, Olga Margedant, born today at Marin General Hospital. Mrs. Peters is the only daughter of the late Josef Stalin.

(UPI pool telephoto)

A Daughter Is Born To Svetlana

A granddaughter of the late Russian dictator Josef Stalin was born today in Marin General Hospital.

But the baby's father, William Wesley Peters, said, "We don't think of her as anyone's granddaughter. She's our daughter."

The mother of the child is the former Svetlana Alliluyeva Stalin, 45, who married Peters, chief architect for the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation, in April 1970.

The baby was born in Marin because the parents have been staying in Mill Valley with Peter's sister, Margedant Hayakawa, and her husband, S. I. Hayakawa, president of San Francisco State College.

From her hospital bed, Mrs. Peters said, "I'm very happy to have a healthy and pretty child. This pretty girl makes another strong link between this country and myself."

Mrs. Peters has a grown son and daughter in Soviet Russia by a former marriage, and Peters said today that he hopes regulations will be lightened in the future so that they may visit their mother and stepsister.

Peters also said his wife expected the baby, who has been named Olga Margedant, to be a boy and would have been named Nicholas.

"She bought a lot of blue thing," Peters said, smilingly adding that he wanted a girl because "I never had a little girl." (He has grown sons by a former marriage.)

He said that he hoped the child, "would grow up like a normal little girl" and would not receive any special attention because of who her grandfather was.

Mrs. Peters arrived at the hospital last night about 11 p.m. and the baby, who weighed 7 pounds 9 ounces, was born at 1:59 a.m.

Both mother and child were reported in good condition today.

Peters said that after a period of convalescence he will take his wife and child to Spring Green, Wis., where the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation makes its summer headquarters. During the rest of the year the foundation operates out of Scottsdale, Ariz.

Peters has been a frequent visitor to Marin because of his work on the Civic Center.

His wife left Russia four years ago on a visit to India, where she astonished the world by walking into the American Embassy in Delhi and asking for asylum in the United States.

When she arrived in New York six weeks later, the daughter of the dreaded Soviet dictator said, "I have come here to seek the self-expression that has been denied me in Russia."

She met Peters last year while on a visit to Scottsdale and married him after an acquaintanceship of only 20 days.

She had been married twice previously and also had a common-law Indian husband. She had gone to India to return his ashes there after he died when she defected.

New York Supports Nader's G.M. Position

NEW YORK (UPI)—New York City today threw its weight behind Ralph Nader's "Campaign GM" to force General Motors to reveal each year what it has done to advance pollution control, auto safety and minority hiring.

Mayor John V. Lindsay said the 35,0000 shares of G.M. stock held the city's employee pensions funds will be voted at the annual stockholders' meeting in Detroit today in support of the campaign.

Turk Kidnap Victim Alive, Still Missing

ISTANBUL (UPI)—Premier Nihat Erim said today Israeli consul-general Ephraim Elrom, kidnaped from his apartment Monday, is still alive.

"We, too, are anxious over the fate of this Israeli diplomat," the head of government told newsmen. "But we received information last night he is alive."

Erim made his statement in Ankara. He gave no details.

Police and troop searches across the country still turned up no trace of the 59-year-old policeman-turned-diplomat, who played a major role in the capture and trial of Nazi war criminal Adolf Eichmann a decade ago.

Elrom was abducted Monday by five gunmen. His captors announced he would be executed Thursday unless the government freed all "revolutionary guerrillas" from jail.

The 5 p.m. (11 a.m. EDT) deadline set by the leftwing self-styled Turkish People's Liberation Army came and went—with no indication of Elrom's fate.

The government responded by declaring it would not bargain with "hooligans" and arresting hundreds of suspected left-wing sympathizers. Raids and arrests continued today across Turkey.

Sources close to Erim said martial law imposed on 11 of Turkey's 67 provinces April 26 probably will be extended two months beyond its May 26 expiration date.

A strict news blackout was imposed on details of the hunt. the sources said house to house raids were continuing but so far had not turned up clues to Elrom's whereabouts.

House Rejects SST Repayments

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The House, which only last week tried to revive the American effort to build a faster-than-sound airliner, has voted to go along with the Senate in killing the project once again.

But in action Thursday night, the House refused to accept the Senate plan to reimburse the nation's airlines $58 million for what they have sunk into the project.

The supersonic transport (SST), in which the American taxpayers already have invested nearly $1 billion, will not be laid to rest for now, however, until the Senate takes action on the House vote.

Defiant Student Protest At Kent

KENT, Ohio (UPI)—Police moved into a crowd of about 400 young demonstrators who had defied orders to disperse early today and arrested 60 persons, including the president of the Kent State University student body.

One student was injured seriously when a motorcyclist, an employe of the university, swerved into the demonstrators at high speed. Police said about 40 demonstrators were in the crowd.

Craig Morgan of Upper Arlington, Ohio, student body president, was among those taken into custody after police, coping for the third straight night with the demonstrators, read the city's riot act to several hundred students who had massed in the downtown area.

Also arrested was Marvin Meade, an associate professor of political science at Kent State who was serving as a peace marshal.

Morgan was charged with trespassing and unlawful assembly as zere two members of the Chosen Few motorcycle gang who had joined the disturbance after the sludent was injured. The cyclist who struck the student was not a member of the gang but an employe of the school.

At least 25 persons were arrested by police at Water and Main streets when they defied police orders to disperse. About 35 others were arrested on the university commons where Morgan was taken into custody.

Students said there have been several similar demonstrations in the 13 months since four Kent students were slain on campus by National Guardsmen, but these were the first mass arrests.

The crowds gathered as they had since Tuesday night to protest city ordinances against hitchhiking and carrying open containers of alcoholic beverages.

The latest gathering followed an attempt around noon Thursday to break up the Kent State ROTC review. Police arrested one person at the ceremony after 50 ran onto the field were the cadets were in formation.

The charges against the persons arrested today ranged from disorderly cnduct and unlawful assembly to trespassing. Some persons arrested were not students, police said.

After booking here, they were put aboard buses for transport to the Portage County jail at Ravenna.

Some damage was reported, including several broken windows at Rockwell Hall, which houses the ROTC offices.

Police began to move earlier in the evening when a crowd of 500 gathered at an intersection in the downtown area and refused to disperse after the riot act was read.

Police in full riot gear, supported by officers from several nearby communities, began to march the crowd back toward the campus after making the initial arrests.

When they reached the campus, the youths retreated onto the property, but were chased by police both on foot and in cruisers and buses.

Freak Wind Storm Strikes West Marin

Freak winds which gusted up to 105 miles an hour in West Marin last night snapped power lines and toppled trees throughout the county as well as elsewhere in Northern California.

The powerful winds reached a steady 82 miles per hour at Point Reyes at 9 p.m., occasionally gusting over 100 miles an hour, according to Leonard O. Robertson, superintendent for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Rafael.

Electric power failed twice to 600 homes in Inverness, Inverness Park and on the Point Reyes Peninsula. The power first went out for about a half hour at 8:05 p.m. when a wire snapped on Vallejo Street in Inverness Park, Robertson said.

Lights went out again from 9:09 to 10:16 p.m. when a wire snapped in Point Reyes.

About 1,700 customers were without electricity in Southern Marin from 10:02 to 10:16 p.m., when a tree knocked down a line in Strawberry, affecting residents of Alto, Strawberry, Reedlands, Belveron Gardens and Paradise Drive.

A snapped wire cut service to 18 Greenbrae homes from 10:20 to 11:20 p.m., and a falling tree disrupted service to 10 houses on Sunnyside Avenue in Mill Valley from 1:30 p.m. to 1 a.m., Robertson said. Three houses on Forest Avenue in Fairfax were without electricity from 2:30 to 3 a.m. today.

In Southern Sonoma County a tree fell over an electric line about 10 p.m. on Old Redwood Highway near Railroad Avenue, and sparks started a small grass fire, but no damage was reported.

Clifford Bartlett Jr., Petaluma manager for PG&E said only a few customers were affected by the blackout in Cotati and that power was restored within 45 minutes.

Bartlett said power outages were reported in scattered areas throughout Petaluma, Penngrove and Rohnert Park, but that service was restored within a few minutes in all cases.

The Coast Guard reported assisting 15 boats which were having trouble in the winds. Most of the rescues were in the Bay Area, officers said, but assistance was also given as far north as Humboldt Couty and as far south as Morro Bay.

Hardest hit areas in Northern California were resort communities around Clear Lake in Lake County.

In San Francisco a boat owned by Joel Bartlett of Mill Valley was blown ashore at Marina Yacht Club, windows were broken and clouds of sand were shipped across the Great Highway.

Optimism On British Common Market Entry

PARIS (UPI) — Prime Minister Edward Heath of Britain and President Georges Pompidou of France expressed the mutual conviction tonight their two days of talks had cleared the way for Britain's entry into the Common Market, a step that could change the political future of Europe.

In statements to 200 newsmen in the grand ceremonial hall of the Elysee Palace both voiced firm belief the market membership talks being held in Brussels and Luxembourg on the technicalities involved will succeed.

Median Income Up Last Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Census Bureau says American families earned a record median income of $9,870 last year, but in actual buying power they lost ground for the first time in nine years.

The bureau reported Thursday that a survey of 50,000 families indicated median income increased $440 from 1969.

But because of inflation, the bureau said, the purchasing power of $9,870 was only $9,867 in "constant dollars" —dollars that have been adjusted for cost of living changes.

G.M. Plans Study Of Air Pollution

DETROIT (UPI) — General Motors Corp. Chairman James M. Roche today announced G. M. will spend $150 million this year "to take the automobile out of the air pollution problem."

Roche told the G. M. stockholders meeting in his annual report that G. M. had added $26 million to the $134 million it previously estimated it would spend on cleaning up exhaust pollution.

Social Security Attacked

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County employees and taxpayers would be better off if the county withdrew from the expensive federal social security retirement system, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell declared today.

Mitchell said that in most cases, a county employee puts in far more than he will ever get back in social security benefits.

"For years, this has been bothering me," said Mitchell. "I can see definite advantages to both the county taxpayers and the county employees by withdrawing from the social security system."

He pointed out that Marin has an excellent county retirement system which is far superior to social security. "For the dollars put in, I'd say the county retirement system provides five times the benefits that social security provides."

The auditor-controller noted that social security taxes are going up each year. This year, an employee pays 5.2 per cent of the first $7,800 of his salary, or $405.60 per year. From 1972, this will go up to 5.2 per cent of the first $9,000, or $468.

At that rate of increase, Mitchell estimates that the county employee will pay $775 in social security tax in 1975, and $1,110 social security tax in 1977.

"This is matched by a county contribution of the same amount, which means that in 1977, the employee and the county would be paying $2,200 per year in social security tax. If you paid that kind of tax for a dozen years or more, you'd have to live to be 150 to recoup that amount in social security benefits," said Mitchell.

This year, Marin County's share of social security payments amount to $515,000. This will go up to $596,000 or $701,000 for the calendar year 1972. In 1977, he estimates the county will be paying $1,500,000 in social security taxes, with a similar amount paid by the county employees.

Mitchell said the law provides an option to the county to cancel its social security coverage. This could be done by a majority vote of all county employees now under social security, and approval by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

He will recommend to the county supervisors next Tuesday that such a vote be taken.

After a successful election, there is a two-year waiting period before social security is actually cancelled.

Even if the county elects to withdraw, the benefits of social security accrued by employees thus far will not be lost, said Mitchell.

"In my opinion, the social security retirement system is similar to a tax rather than to a pension system," said Mitchell. "I do not feel that, based on the required contributions, most retirement benefits returned are commensurate."

City, county and state agencies, unlike private firms, are not required to come under social security. Marin elected to join social security in 1958 to supplement the county's own retirement system, adopted in 1950. The county's retirement system is doing so much better that Mitchell said he became "disenchanted" with social security, whose rates keep going up each year.

Nixon Dispatches Arms Negotiator To Vienna Talks

Chances For Peace Are Better, Says President On Breakthrough

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon conferred with Gerard C. Smith today and ordered him back to Vienna on a military jet for fresh arms negotiations with the Soviet Union based on a new understanding announced by the super powers.

Smith, chief of the U. S. delegation to the long-stalled talks, talked with Nixon at the White House as Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird pictured the "breakthrough" agreement on defensive-offensive missile talks as an outgrowth of "our strength."

The President said during a meeting with a group of scientists following his conference with Smith: "The chances for peace are now better." He said the agreement moved the world closer to the day when scientists "may turn their energies to the works of peace rather than the weapons of war."

Laird said in a speech at the Pentagon that the agreement "links for the first time ... going forward with limitations of offensive and defensive missiles at the same time."

He added: "That is the significance of the statement."

The Russians have been insisting that the discussions on limiting nuclear weapons be confined, for the time being at least, to deployment of defenseive missiles — the ABM networks both nations have been erecting.

The talks bogged down and appeared in danger of possible collapse because the United States refused to limit them to ABMs, and demanded that negotiations be concerned with a "mix" of both offensive and defensive systems.

The Thursday Washington-Moscow statement said the discussions would "concentrate this year" on ABM limitations, but added in a subsequent sentence that negotiators also would discuss offensive strategic weapons.

As other U. S. officials had said earlier, Laird pointed to the second sentence as making it evident that "at the same time, in conjunction with" an ABM agreement, "there will be limitations worked out on offensive weapons systems."

The defense chief declared: "It is clear that our strength has made possible the hope for success at SALT (strategic arms limitation talks)."
talks)."

Laird contended the U. S. Soviet agreement, which Nixon characterized as a "ajor step" toward breaking the Vienna impasse, proved that the administration was right in pursuing development of the Safeguard ABM system "if we do truly want an agreement on offensive weapons systems at the same time a defensive weapon agreement is worked out."

This was in line with his and the administration's frequent argument the United States had to maintain "a strong defense posture from which we could negotiate" at a time of demands for cutting defense strength.

Laird told about 250 leaders of nongovernmental national organizations that "it would be foolhardy for this nation of ours to engage in any unilateral reductions of forces, such as our

Busy Marin Agenda Tomorrow, Sunday

A busy spring weekend of activities — including the 54th annual Mountain Play and Marin's huge Scout-O-Rama — lies ahead tomorrow for Marin and Southern Sonoma residents.

Both tomorrow and Sunday will be taken up with a variety of events to suit all tastes.

The Mountain Play, this year presenting J. M. Synge's "Playboy of the Western World," will be offered at 2 p.m. Sunday in the outdoor theater atop Mount Tamalpais.

A cast of nearly 1,000 persons has been assembled for the Irish folk classic. The play will be repeated next Sunday at 2 p.m.

About 3,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers and Cub Scouts will exhibit their skills at the Scout-O-Rama, to be held at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow at Forest Meadows on the Dominican College campus, San Rafael.

Also tomorrow, San Quentin Prison inmates will hold a spring art show and sale in Kentfield at the college center, College of Marin, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. About 1,000 works will be exhibited.

In Nicasio, a 4-H Fair will begin at 9 a.m. tomorrow and in Petaluma, dairy cattle judging — part of the California Black and White Show — will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the fairgrounds.

Citizens will examine housing blight, planning failures and poverty problems tomorrow from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Alexander Hall, San Francisco Technological Seminary, San Anselmo.

A cleanup of Mill Valley's creeks, sponsored by Marin Alternative and other groups, will begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow. Workers will gather at 11 locations.

Sunday, bicyclists will ride from Martin Luther King School in Sausalito to Baker's Beach at the Presidio of San Francisco to dramatize the need for legislation to protect California's coastline. Cyclists will gather at 11 a.m.

And the annual Portuguese Holy Ghost Festival, featuring a parade, special mass, dining and dancing, will be held in Novato Sunday.

The parade will begin at 9:30 a.m. at Olive Avenue and First Street. It will proceed to Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church, where a mass will be held at 10:45 a.m.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Trudeau In Ukraine

KIEV, U.S.S.R. (UPI)—Canada's Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau toured the Soviet Ukraine today with a Soviet-Canadian consultation agreement in his pocket and a pledge on the record that this will not weaken Canada's role in the Atlantic alliance.

Trudeau signed the agreement during four days of talks with Soviet leaders in Moscow. It calls for consultations on major international and bilateral problems.

Outside the Soviet bloc and the Arab world, only France has a similar agrement. But Trudeau, who in the past has pulled Canadian troops out of the North Atlantic force in Europe, said Thursday that Canada will keep faith with its Western allies.

He told a news conference before leaving Moscow for a tour of the Soviet Union, "I can see no conflict with any of our obligations — military, political or economic — to other countries."

Mars Shot Problem

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—Engineers worked on solving a new rocket problem today that will delay the second and last U.S. attempt to send a Mariner television satellite toward Mars until late next week at the earliest.

The trouble that caused the loss of the first Mariner shortly after launch May 8 has been traced to an electrical circuit the size of a pinhead in the autopilot steering control unit of the Atlas-Centaur rocket.

Girl, 12, Dies; Killer At Large

Pamela Wolfston, 12, and her sister, Louise, 22, daughters of James H. Wolfston, president of Wheeling Bronze Co., were jogging Monday when a tall, light-haired young man approached them.

Louise told police the man made advances. When she resisted, he grabbed Pamela, drew a pistol and shot her once in the temple, she said. The man then drove off.

Israeli Warning

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Israeli Deputy Premier Yigal Allon says Egypt has toughened its stand on Middle East peace conditions, possibly because of "over-optimism in Washington."

Allon in a speech Thursday commented on Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's outline of conditions for reopening the Suez Canal, including demands Egyptian troops must be allowed across the canal after an Israeli withdrawal.

"Sadat's speech proves the Egyptian government has toughened its (Middle East) stance. I hope this development was not prompted by over-optimism in Washington."

Allon did not elaborate, but apparently referred to optimistic remarks made by Secretary of State William P. Rogers following his tour of the Middle East earlier this month.

Assassin Guilty

MONTREAL (UPI)—Francis Simard, a 23-year-old laborer, was sentenced to life in prison Thursday for his part in the murder Oct. 17 of Quebec Labor minister Pierre Laporte. The 12-man jury deliberated for only two hours Thursday before returning a guilty verdict. Justice Alphonse Barbeau immediately imposed the mandatory life sentence.

"C'est beau (that's nice), Alphonse," Simard muttered sarcastically when the judge handed down the life term.

As he was hustled out of the courtroom, Simard defiantly shouted the slogan of the terrorist Quebec Liberation Front: "Nouse Vaincrons. Vive le FLQ"—(We Shall Conquer. Long Live the FLQ).

Judge Barbeau sentenced Simard also to a month in prison on each of four contempt of court citations for incidents during the three-week trial.

Nader Probe Asked

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The FBI is being asked to investigate Ralph Nader's new charges that employes of the Senate and General Motors altered transcripts of auto safety hearings in 1966 to protect top GM officials.

Nader alleged in a letter to Sen. Abraham D. Ribicoff, D-Conn., that changes were made in the testimony of GM Chairman James M. Roche and Louis G. Bridenstine, then an assistant general counsel for GM.

Ribicoff said Thursday he would ask the FBI to investigate Nader's complaint. He also said the Justice Department investigated a similar allegation by Nader in 1967, but "found no reason for prosecution at that time."

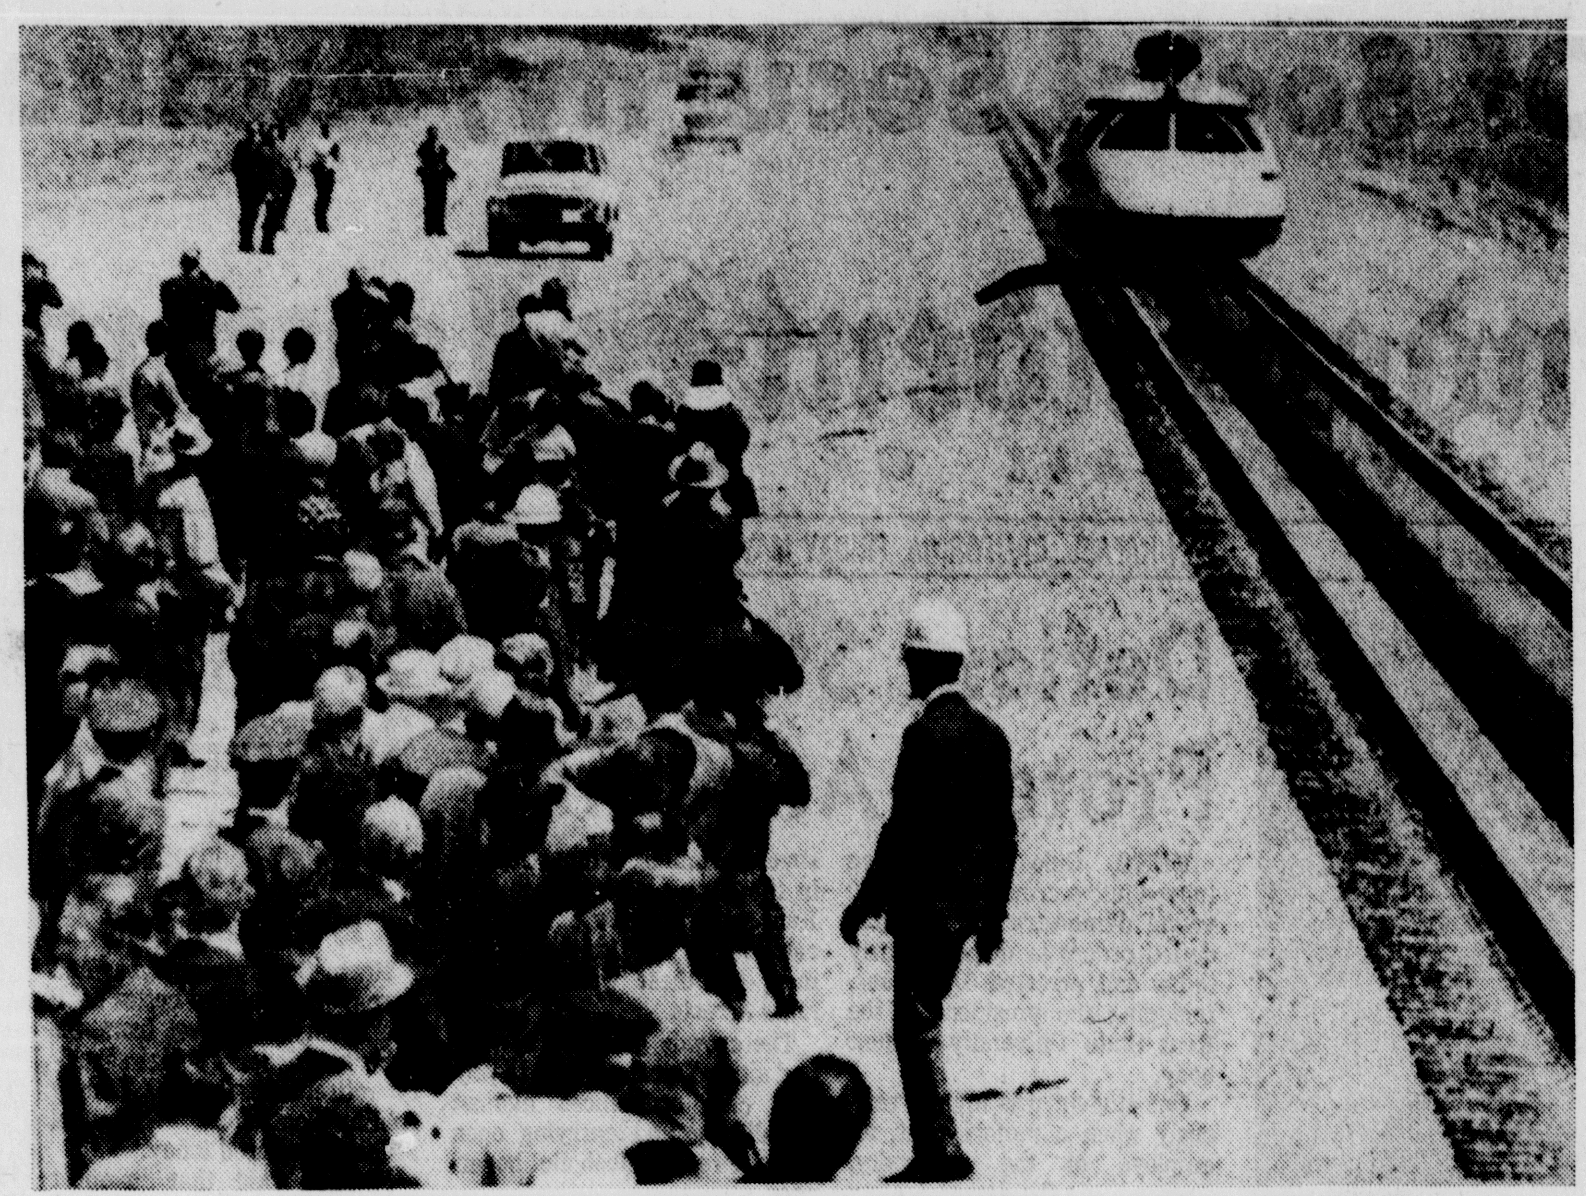
Ribicoff is chairman of the subcommittee whose transcript was purportedly changed.

Hot Pants For Stewardesses

SEATTLE (UPI)—The legs on the stewardess of "Air Washington" won't be too long but they'll be very visible.

Chairman Bob Florence said the new commuter service, which will begin operations next week, is hiring stewardesses under 4-foot-10 because of the low cabin space in its DeHavilland twin otter turboprops.

But he said the ministewardesses will wear hot pants.



CABINET SECRETARY TESTS HIS NERVE

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe was aboard yesterday when a new linear induction motor vehicle capable of reaching 250 miles per hour was tested at the Department of Transportation's new High Speed Ground Test Center in Pueblo, Colo. The experimental vehicie only reached a speed of 90 miles per hour during Volpe's ride as part of the dedication ceremony for the new testing facility. The linear induction vehicle costs $2 million.

Nixon Heads LBJ Library Delegation

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Lyndon B. Johnson, whose presidency was plagued by Vietnam War demonstrations, apparently will have to face the paint-smeared faces of antiwar protesters again tomorrow at dedication ceremonies for the LBJ Library.

President Richard M. Nixon, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and House Speaker Carl Albert will be present, along with hundreds of other national figures.

Nixon will be the main speaker at the nationally televised ceremonies beginning at 12:30 p.m. EDT.

Local "May Day tribe" members, student protest groups and other antiwar organizations predict 500 to 4,000 people will demonstrate.

Som of the more radical groups have said they will try to disrupt the official ceremonies, but officials say no one without a special guest badge will be allowed near the library grounds.

The library is part of an $18.6 million complex on the University of Texas campus that also houses the Lyndon B. Johnson School of Public Affairs.

The dedication ceremonies are slated to take place at the foot of a grassy knoll on which the eight story building stands. An outdoor barbecue luncheon will follow.

City and campus police and Secret Service agents will cordon off the area. Secret Service agents refused to discuss security arragements but other officials said more than a mile of cord has already been strung around the library, speaker's platform, bleachers, lawn and gaily colored tents where the 3,500 guests will eat.

SAIGON (UPI)—South Vietnamese infantrymen supported by U.S. helicopter gunships battled their way through a series of bunkers today to the top of a ridge line at the northeastern end of the A Shau Valley.

They killed 45 Communist troops in their advance up the three-mile-long ridge, military sources told UPI correspondent Stewart Kellerman. The sources said 83 Communists had been killed in the battle for the ridge line since it began Wednesday night.

American helicopters poured in rocket and machinegun fire on the Communist defenders as the ARVN soldiers moved up the hill. U.S. fighter-bombers bombed and strafed the dug-in Communists.

Several choppers were hit by ground fire but all reached safety, Kellerman was told. Late in the day, fighting for the ridge eased. ARVN soldiers began sweeping the top of the ridge though parts of it remained in Communist hands.

At the southeastern end of the A Shau Valley, 375 miles north of Saigon, infantrymen forming the other claw of the ARVN pincer reported killing seven Communists today.

U.S. helicopter gunships prowling the skies of South Vietnam from the Mekong Delta to the DMZ (Demilitarized Zone) pounced on four Communist units Thursday and claimed 31 kills, U.S. military spokesmen said today.

One U.S. helicopter crewman was wounded in the four encounters. But in a fifth, a gunship was shot down near Pleiku in the Central Highlands, killing two crewmen.

All told, the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands claimed 159 Communists killed in South Vietnam and Cambodia Thursday at a cost of 15 South Vietnamese and two American dead.

The only American ground combat casualties reported for the day were three infantrymen wounded in a Communist rocket attach near the DMZ. The pattern reflected the declining U.S. ground combat role in Indochina — and the continuing air role.

The U.S. 101st airborne division, for example, is supporting the 38-day-old South Vietnamese campaign in the A Shau Valley, 375 miles north of Saigon. Most of that is helicopter support.

Nixon Praises Rescue Of Flag

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Marcy Taylor, the suntanned blonde who rescued an American flag, got a letter of praise Thursday from President Nixon.

Miss Taylor, 25, would not reveal the letter's contents, but said they were complimentary.

The security analyst's assistant at the Bank of America became an instant heroine May 5 when she plunged into a group of antiwar demonstrators to rescue a burning flag. She beat out the flames with her bare hands.

And that was just two weeks after she had joined 150,000 persons in a San Francisco peace parade.

Soledad Slaying Spurs Criticism

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Officials at Soledad Prison, whre a prison administrator was slain Wednesday, have been accused of being slack in handling potential trouble at the correctional institution.

Loren V. Smith, general manager, California State Employees' Association (CSEA), charged that Soledad officials have not paid sufficient attention to indications that trouble was imminent.

"Correctional professionals say there always is early waring if discontent and trouble," Smith said. "Reportedly, searches late last week turned up 19 knives in Soledad."

Kenneth E. Conant, 49, a program administrator, was fatally stabbed in the back of the head and two other officials were wounded. Two inmates are being held for investigation of murder.

The 113,000-member orgaization which Smith heads recommended major reforms in management and administrative procedures at the prison.

The group urged a speed up in the appintment of Walter T. Stone as prison superintendent. Stone, currently acting superintendent at California Institution for Men in Chino, is scheduled to take over at Soledad in July.

The CSEA also recommended:

—Mandatory lockup of all inmates who are under heavy medication.

— Increase efficiency in screening all visitors to the intitution.

—Absolute control of tools and all metal throughout the prison.

U. S. Consultate March In Montreal Erupts In Clash

MONTREAL (UPI)—About 25 demonstrators and eight policemen were injured late Thursday when a planned antiwar protest march on an American consulate here erupted in a violent clash.

More than 70 of the marchers were arrested. Authorities said they would be charged for offenses ranging from resisting arrest to refusing to circulate.

The demonstration was organized to protest American involvement in the Vietnam War. The planned march had hardly begun before demonstrators and police clashed.

About 150 persons gathered at St. Louis Square in downtown Montreal and, without a parade permit, attempted to march to the American Consulate on nearby MacGregor Street.

Just as the march began, some of the front rank demonstrators, brandishing blocks of wood as clubs, reportedly attacked a small force of policemen.

The Montreal Police Departmet Riot Control Squad moved in quickly and routed the attackers. About 40 demonstrators were arrested immediately and taken to police headquarters.

Public Opposition To Fill Stirred

By GEORGE NEVIN

SAN FRANCISCO — Amendments to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission's Bay Plan that would relax certain restrictions on filling ran into stiff opposition yesterday at a public hearing.

Commissioners responded by asking the BDCD staff to tighten the proposed amendments and set more discussion and a possible vote for June 3.

At least a dozen speakers, many representing neighborhood, conservation and civic groups, opposed the amendments during the 90-minute hearing.

Many speakers began their remarks by praising the commission for its efforts to preserve San Francisco Bay, and then urged it to "hold the line" against further bay encroachment.

Under consideration is an amendment that would allow construction of new pile-supported piers or buildings, provided compensating open water were created by removal of obsolete pile-supported structures in the bay.

Solid fill also was to have been discussed, but commissioners voted to delay consideration until the pier question is settled.

The amendment drafts considered yesterday would require the new fill to cover less than the area and bulk (amount out of the water) of the fill to be removed, but many persons asked commissioners not to allow any new piers, even replacements for old ones.

Many expressed fear that approval of the amendments would open the door for such projects as the controversial Ferry Port Plaza, rejected by the commission. The City of San Francisco and the San Francisco Port Authority have sued BCDC over that decision.

Speaking against the amendments were representatives of the Sierra Club, the Marin Conservation League, the Save San Francisco Bay Association, San Francisco Tomorrow, the Associated Sportsmen of California and residents of San Francisco's Telegraph and Portrero Hills.

One witness, R. Spencer Steele, representing the San Francisco Planning Department, favored the amendments, but asked modifications to eliminate what he termed "vague language."

Joseph E. Bodovitz, the commission's executive director, noted that 366 letters and telegrams, petitions with 1,443 signatures and nine cities and 16 organizations opposed the amendments. Of particular interest to commissioners was a letter from Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, who played a key role in BCDC's creation.

Knox wrote that he was "seriously concerned about the replacement policy" and said he feared it would "open up the bay for additional filling."

The revised amendments will be considered by the commission at 2 p.m., June 3 in Room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

BCDC Approve Berths For Richardson Bay Houseboats

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Permits to bring three Richardson Bay houseboat colonies up to Marin County standards and allow the floating homes to connect to sewers were approved yesterday.

The Bay Conservation and Development Commission voted 17-3 to authorize replacing old docks, constructing additional ones and sewer lines to serve them and filling a total of 2.91 acres of the Bay for parking, landscaping and public access.

Also to be constructed is a bicycle and pedestrian pathway along the shoreline. The houseboats, many of which now dump raw sewage into the shallow bay, will receive sewer service from the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District.

Yesterday's BCDC action will allow George Kappas, Donlon J. Arques and Miriam M. Tellis to moor up to 40 more houseboats at Gates 5, 6 and 6½, commission staff estimated.

The exact number of houseboats now on the three properties and the number that would be allowed by the commission's action mystified several commissioners.

Marin County Supervisor Michael Wornum said Robert Larson, the county's full-time houseboat inspector, estimates the area now contains 321 houseboats, compared to 385 in January 1969.

Although permits approved by BCDC yesterday technically would allow up to 406 berths, Executive Director Joseph E. Bodovitz said another factor will limit them to about 361.

The reason Bodovitz said, is that only about 2.91 acres of new fill will be given over to parking, thus allowing somewhat fewer parking places than requested by Mrs. Tellis, Arques and Kappas. Since Marin County's marina ordinance specifies 1.2 parking spaces per houseboat, the amount of parking will determine the number of houseboats. His staff cannot predict exact figures on the number of parking spaces, however, Bodovitz said.

A 1.5-acre area, at the entrance to the Kappas Yacht Harbor, would be filled for parking, he said, but this lies above high tide most of the time and is rarely inundated.

One condition tacked onto the permits by BDCD staff and approved by commissioners is that all new houseboats must remain floating free at all stages of the tide.

Existing boats, however, will be allowed to rest on the bay bottom at low tide after they are towed into their new berths, however.

Supervisor Wornum made a strong plea for approval.

"These boats have been a pain in the neck and a problem for a long time," he said. "These permits are not the end of the problem but the beginning of the solution."

For years, he said, houseboat owners have been reluctant to improve their property because they lacked assurance that the boats would be allowed to continue.

"We now hope the property owners will clean up their areas," he said.

Wornum and Marin's other two BCDC representatives, Tiburon City Councilman Branwell D. Fanning and Belvedere Mayor Thomas S. Price, also voted in favor of the permits.

Seven Girls In Rodeo Queen Race

Seven girls will compete tomorrow to become 1971 Western Weekend Rodeo Queen at 1 p.m. at the Novato Horsemen's arena, Bugeia and H lanes. A queen and two princesses will be selected to lead the grand entry parade at the rodeo June 20.

They will be judged on neatness of appearance of horse, tack and rider and on horsemanship.

The entrants are:

Jill Kimbell, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Belluci, a San Marin High School senior who was 1970 president of the Junior Horsemen's Association.

Margie Smith, 16, daughter of Charlotte J. Smith, a junior at San Marin High School and a member of the Colts and Fillies 4-H Club.

Bambi Anderson, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Anderson, a ninth grader at Sinaloa Junior High School and a member of the Junior Horsemen's Association, American Horseshow Association, and Pacific Coast Hunter, Jumper and Stock Horse Association.

Quartet Loses Appeal In Seashore Deer Stalking

An appeal and a petition for rehearing of the appeal by four men convicted last year of stalking white deer on Point Reyes National Sashore land have been denied by the appellate division of Marin Superior Court.

Dr. Millard R. Ottinger, 78, and Douglas G. Adams, 27, both of San Rafael; Cecil W. Fullilove, 52, of Greenbrae, and James R. Aman, 32, of Point Reyes Station, were found guilty last Oct. 30 and fined $100 each by Judge David R. Baty of West Marin Justice Court. He suspended half of Aman's fine, and suspended execution of all of the sentences pending the appeal.

Ottinger is a retired San Rafael physician who sold 1,970 acres of seashore land holdings to the federal government earlier in 1970. Fullilove retired last year as district director of the U.S. Immigration office in San Francisco. Adams is a realty broker and Aman a truck driver.

The men claimed in their appeal that Ottinger had a permit to use the land, although he sold it, and that it was he who introduced the white deer to the seashore in the 1940's, and thus they were his deer. They further claimed that they were not hunting when they were cited Aug. 16, but rather were looking for stray cattle.

The four were cited after they were seen with rifles on Inverness Ridge.

In a reply brief, Deputy Dist. Atty. Raymond E. Gilbert contended that Ottinger's permit was for grazing cattle only and that evidence indicated the men were on the seashore land for the purpose of hunting.

The conviction, which was under a state Fish and Game statute which prohibits carrying weapons on lands closed to hunting, was upheld April 30 by Judges Thomas F. Keating, E. Warren McGuire and Henry J. Broderick, sitting as the superior court's appellate division. A petition for rehearing of the appeal was denied Tuesday but in a 3-2 ruling, with Judge Keating dissenting.

Keating said he had changed his mind and believed that since Ottinger did have a permit to use the land, the action of the defendants was a violation of that permit, which is not a crime covered by state law.

Couple Reports No Illness From Dosages Of DDT

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI)—A pest exterminator and his wife who said they consumed relatively large amounts of DDT for 93 days reported Thursday they suffered no ill effects.

"We have undergone biopsies and check-ups and there have been no deleterious effects," said Robert Loibl, 60. "In fact, during the 93 days, we didn't have any illness, not even a sniffle."

Loibl and his wife, Louise, 44, took 10 milligrams of the pesticide every day for 93 days to show it was not dangerous to humans.

They said they had consumed, during the three-month period, the amount of DDT the average person would take in during an 83-year period.

Cost Of Living Jumps On Food, Clothes Prices

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The cost of living rose 0.3 per cent in April, equaling the sharpest one-month advance this year, the Labor Department reported today. Higher prices for food and clothing were largely blamed.

While the rise in the consumer price index was the biggest since a similar increase in January, it was well below the pace of 1970 when the nation was in the grips of the worst inflation since the Korean war.

Food prices increased by 0.9 per cent last month. If the advance continued at that rate for a full year, the annual food increase would be almost 12 per cent, meaning tht a typical food item costing $1 last month would cost $1.12 by next spring.

The cost of clothing increased 0.4 per cent last month, led by a jump of 0.8 per cent in men's and boys' apparel. Women's and girls' clothing increased 0.3 per cent.

The government's gauge of consumer prices stood in April at 120.2 per cent of the 1967 average, up from 119.8 per cent in March. That meant it cost $12.02 to buy the same goods and services that $10 brought in 1967.

The April index was 4.3 per cent above April, 1970, representing the smallest over-the-year change since August, 1967, to August, 1968.

Last year, monthly increases averaged close to 0.5 per cent.

The increases in food and clothing prices were partially offset by declines in home mortgage interst rates and the price of gasoline. New car prices declined —normal for this time of the year —but used car prices increased.

Gross weekly earnings of production and nonsupervisory workers averaged $124.75, up 73 cents from March, although the average work week was unchanged. After adjustments for price increases, purchasing power increased by 0.3 per cent.

The annual rate of increase for the three months ending in April was 2.8 per cent, the same as the previous three months which was the smallest such increase since the three-month period ending in June, 1967.

Grocery prices rose 0.9 per cent in April, primarily because of a greater than seasonal advance in fresh fruit and vegetable prices. Prices of beef, veal, cereal, bakery products and dairy products increased instead of declining as they usually do in April. Pork and egg prices declined more than seasonally.

About 72,700 workers wil receive cost of living pay increases as a result of the April report, the Labor Department said.

NATO forces," pending results of the SALT talks.

Laird said Thursday's agreement "encouraged and heartened me."

Secretary of State William P. Rogers also spoke of the announcement as "holding out the hope for arms limitation . .. the hope of peace."

Rogers made hopeful remarks about the agreement at a dinner for diplomats Thursday night at the State Department with Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin among guests. Dobrynin was asked if he agreed it was good news.

"Yes, I think so," he replied.

Smith has been in Washington for about 10 days for consultations since the last full Soviet American talks in Vienna May 7. This round of negotiations was scheduled to end May 31.

With fresh instructions based on the agreement, Smith was due back in Vienna at 1 a. m. Saturday, Vienna time.

But terms of the agreement remained a diplomatic mystery since officials would not elaborate on the joint statement.

The statement said simply:

"The governments of the United States and the Soviet Union, after reviewing the course of their talks on the limitations of strategic armament, have agreed to concentrate this year on working out an agreement for the limitation of the deployment of antiballistic missile systems. They have also agreed that together with the concluding of an agreement to limit antiballistic missile systems, they will agree on certain measures with respect to the limitation of offensive strategic weapons."

But the official statement also said that during the current year both sides would concentrate on working out an agreement limiting only the ABM systems of both countries. This is what the Soviets have been after.

There was an obvious ambiguilty in the joint Soviet-American statement which permitted it to be interpreted in several ways without actually revealing its true substance.

Seal Jury Has Testimony Read

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI)— Addtional testimony was read today to a jury deliberating the fate of Black Panthers Bobby G. Seale and Mrs. Ericka Huggins in the torture death of alleged police informer Alex Rackley.

The jurors listened again for about one hour to the testimony given by Mrs. Huggins—they heard four hours of it Thursday —and then to three pages of cross examination involving a tape recorded interrogation of Rackley by other Black Panthers in their headquarters here.

After hearing the testimony read from the transcript by a court reporter, the jury returned to its room to resume deliberations which bgan Wednesday.

Stalemate Broken On Draft Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate broke a stalemate on the draft bill today and agreed to strict time limits on six pending amendments to the measure.

The action improved chances for passage of the two-year extension of the draft law which is scheduled to expire June 30.

Sen. Mike Gravel, D-Alaska, however, renewed his threat to filibuster the measure until the existing authority expires.

Litterbug Rewards

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill requiring courts to reward persons who give information leading to the conviction of litterbugs was passed 51-2 by the Assembly today and sent to the Senate.

A Draft Reagan Drive Is Opened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — drive to draft California's Gov Ronald Reagan for the presidency was announced Wednesday by Young Americans fo Freedom, a conservative organization.

Ronald F. Docksai, YAF chairman, said a "Reagan i '72" committee had beer formed in Houston, the first o several which will advocate that Republicans nominate Reagan.

Many YAF members supported President Nixon in 1968, Docksai said, but "we have seen the Nixon Administration reject the original Republican Party platform of that year in a desperate effort to satisfy leftist critics of both major parties."

City Challenge I Desegregation Order By Judge

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The San Francisco Board of Education voted 4-3 Thursday night to challenge a court order concerning the September desegregation of the city's 102 elementary schools.

The order, handed down by District Judge Stanley Weigel, also calls for the board to come up with a desegregation plan for elementary schools by June 10.

The board directed its 65-member advisory committee to draw up a desegregation plan for 11 San Francisco schools for September 1972.

The board will ask for a stay to file an appeal. The judge has denied several motion for a stay.

Coming this Saturday in Marin Magazine
Special features you'll enjoy:

The Independent-Journal's Marin Magazine tomorrow resumes the publication of a series of manuscripts completed by Historian Florence Donnelly, prior to her death. This week's subject: that part of Marin that lies "on the other side of the mountain." Specifically, the communities of Muir Beach, Stinson Beach and Bolinas. It is a fascinating story of an area that is as rich historically as it is beautiful scenically.

Also tomorrow, the I-J's weekend supplement continues its popular "Profile of a Marinite" series, spotlighting prominent and interesting residents of the county. The subject will be James W. L. Park, associate warden of San Quentin Prison. He's a man with some provocative ideas on penology. And I-J reporter Mary Leydecker has written the story of Jim Park, psychologist turned prison administrator.

Joint Fire Service Urged

By PAT ANGLE

Consolidation of four Southern Marin fire departments into a single department to serve the entire area would mean more effective, efficient fire service and could become a reality within two years, according to a comprehensive study released this week.

The 173-page report was prepared by Louis E. Almgren of the Oakland fire consultant firm of Gage-Babcock and Associates at the request of fire officials in Mill Valley, Marin City, Sausalito and Tamalpais Valley.

Almgren said a single, consolidated fire department in Southern Marin could offer many advantages, among them fewer fire stations, improved distribution of manpower, better coordination of firefighting efforts.

In addition, the consultant said a single department could provide better training facilities, improved record keeping systems, uniform fire regulations and enforcement throughout the area and more efficient administration and equipment maintenance. Money could be saved through large volume purchases and standardization of parts and equipment, he added.

According to Almgren, a consolidated fire service would cost about the same amount of money to operate as the four separate existing fire agencies which now serve the area. He estimated a consolidated fire department would cost $795,750 a year and require an area-wide tax rate of 85 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

The four existing departments cost a total of $837,105 to operate in 1970-71 and fire tax rates in Southern Marin ranged from 34 cents for Main City now served by the county fire department to $1.05 in Tamalpais Valley.

The most frequently cited disadvantages, the researcher said, are "the loss of control of fire service by each of the smaller units of government (cities and districts) and "the lack of responsiveness to local problems generally inherent in larger organizations."

Almgren said other arguments against consolidation include: Some loss of familiarity with local fire problems, possible increase time in responding to fires because of greater distances and morale and personnel problems resulting from creation of a single, large department.

The consolidation of fire services has worked well and effectively, with relatively few problems, in Contra Costa, Santa Clara and Los Angeles counties, he said.

He also noted that consolidation will improve fire insurance rates in the areas served by the combined department, particularly for commercial and industrial properties. Owners of properties now served by the Marin County Fire Department could expect about a 50 per cent reduction in insurance rates, he said.

The consolidation plan proposed by Almgren calls for three centrally-located fire stations: One in northern Sausalito, one near the intersection of Shoreline Highway and Miller Avenue and a third in Mill Valley (the current station). As an alternative, Sausalito's main fire station could remain where it is now located, he said, and the fire station the county plans to build in Marin City could be utilized as a fourth facility in the network.

As population increases, the study suggests additional stations in Tennessee Valley, Panoramic Highway area and the Marincello area north of Fort Barry.

Approximately 21 pieces of fire equipment including four engines, four squad units, three pumpers, one tanker and one ladder truck would suffice to serve the needs of a combined department, the study showed.

Currently the four Southern Marin departments have 28 pieces of equipment in service.

Total number of paid personnel would increase from 26 to 35 under the consolidation plan which calls for a fire chief and assistant chief, nine fire captains, nine engineers, 14 firemen and one secretary. Thirty-five volunteers would be needed, the same number now used by the four departments.

The first stage of the plan could be completed by 1973, according to the timetable included in the study and would include a new headquarter station (300,000) and training and maintenance facilities ($250,000). Almgren recommended that both Tamalpais fire stations and Sausalito's Station Number 2 be abandoned and sold. With the return from property sales, he estimated the total cost of phase one would come to $470,000.

Capital costs for the second recommended phase — for future expansion — would total $1,030,000 and could be spread out over a five year period, according to the consultant.

The second phase would include a new fire station for Sausalito (if the city decides to abandon its main station for a more northern facility) and the three other proposed stations.

Most Southern Marin fire chiefs had not yet completed their study of the bulky reports and preferred to withhold comment. But Sausalito Fire Chief Charles E. Masten stressed the study by Almgren was "only a proposal."

Regions In Peru

LIMA (UPI)—Peru has three distinctive geographic regions —a coastal desert, central mountains and eastern jungles. Ironically, most of the people live on the coastal desert, where in some places it rains only once in every 100 years.

Two Regents Targets Of Park Blast

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —The University of California regents have been accused by two new radicl members of the Berkeley City Council of trying to "maintain continuing public confrontations" over People's Park.

At a news conference, Ira Simmons and D'Army Bailey denounced both the regents and Gov. Ronald Reagan for their opposition to turning the university property into a city park.

"The property is really owned by the citizens of California which include the citizens of Berkeley and should be used in accordance with the wishes of the people," Bailey said.

Last Saturday, demonstrators protesting the fencing off of the property clashed with police after a rally marking the second anniversary of the People's Park riots.

Both Bailey and Simmons called for the City of Berkeley to declare the fence a public nuisance, have it torn down and bill the regents for the cost of removing it. Such a proposal was rejected by the city council earlier this week. The council insted named a committee to discuss the problem with the regents.

Assemblyman Leon Ralph, DLos Angeles, joined the councilmen in calling Regan "a political demagogue" for commenting on the problem. They said the governor should concentrate on state issues and stay out of local problems.

Wine Importer Lands In Trouble

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Federal liquor and importer permits have been suspended for 90 days for BercutVandervoort & Co. because imported wines were mislabeled, the Internal Revenue Service announced Thursday.

The service said the Montgomery Street wine store put labels of Armand-Roux-Pommard, limited production wine, on bottles containing the more plentiful Armand-Roux-Gevrey-chambertin wine.

Only a connoisseur could distinguish between the two wines, the service added.

Young Man Maims Himself On Drugs

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Charles Innis Jr., 25, the son of a prominent Massachusetts politician, took an overdose of an animal tranquilizer and pulled his eyeballs from their sockets Thursday in the City Jail, police said.

Innis father is general counsel to the Massachusetts' House of Representatives.

Innis, who complained to a neighbor of poor eyesight Saturday, was arrested Wednesday while wandering nude near the apartment of a girlfriend, Mandy Shea.

Police said he was under the influence of an animal tranquilizer often passed off by drug dealers as THC, the synthetic form of marijuana. The tranquilizer makes those who take it impervious to pain and very depressed.

Lawrence Overby, turnkey at the central district police lock-up, said he checked Innis' cell early Thursday because inmates in the section had been making noise.

"He had taken his eyes out," Overby said."His eyes were sitting on his cheeks and he was squeezing them with his fingers."

Miss Shea's landlady watched police arrest the naked young man Wednesday night. She said "he was holding onto the policeman like a child afraid. It was pitiful."

Police said Innis was taken to Mercy Hospital. Doctors examined him, said he should have psychiatric treatment, but gave him no medication.

"Mercy Hospital said he was on some kind of drug, he should be taken back to the station, and it would wear off," said Police Lt. Andrew Arnold, night shift commander.

Miss Shea said she believed Innis still was under the influence of an animal tranquilizer he took Friday night, May 14. Police raided his apartment that night and charged him with possession of marijuana. He was treated at Union Memorial Hospital and released late Saturday.

That night a neighbor showed him a newspaper story about his arrest. The neighbor, who asked not to be identified, said Innis asked to have the story read to him because he was having trouble with his eyes and could not read.

None of the hospitals where he was treated in the last week could say if he had complained of his eyes to a doctor.

Check On Auto Fraud Pays Off

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—An auto repair fraud crackdown using undercover agents in unmarked cars with specific malfunctions has netted 10 suspects in the first six weeks of operation.

Police Sgt. Ken Carpenter said the investigation is aimed at finding mechanics who charged for unnecessary operations or for parts not installed in the auto.

The unmarked cars are inspected by police mechanics before and after they are serviced at auto repair shops chosen at random.

Carpenter said Thursday there had been three felony and seven misdemeanor arrests so far.

Handles Help Protect Ears

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Employes at the General Electric Lamp Division plant here are wearing handles on their ears.

The handles are worn on plastic ears which cover their real ears and protect them against noise.

Isaac Matelky, manager of environmental control at the plant, developed a plastic that can be softened, fitted to an individual's ear and then hardened to hold shape permanently.

He attached handles to help slip the flesh colored, washable ears on and off.

Actor Proves He Has Heart

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — Milburn Stone, who underwent open heart surgery in March, says he has recovered and plans to go back to work in time to resume his role as "Doc" on television's Gunsmoke series next winter.

Stone, 66, told newsmen in his room at the University of Alabama Hospital Thursday he "feels better than I guess I am supposed to" and will return to his Hollywood home Sunday.

Bridge Climber Is Talked Down

A 31-year-old unemployed carpenter was talked down from his perch 740 feet above the Golden Gate yesterday where he had climbed to dramatize his request to see his wife and two small children.

After threatening to jump from the main suspension cable near the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge and swinging on smaller safety cables in a dizzying display of acrobatics, he surrendered to a waiting California Highway Patrol officer and was led to safety.

The man, Daniel Patrick Clifford, of San Francisco, spoke briefly to newsmen before he was taken to Mount Zion Hospital's psychiatric ward.

"I wanted to see my wife and children," he said, adding without further explanation that he has not seen them since Tuesday.

The tense two-hour drama began at 1:15 p.m. when Clifford rode his blue bicycle to midspan and climbed onto the main cable where it dips almost to the sidewalk.

From that point he scaled the cable almost to the south tower, where he was seen by bridge employees. A highway patrol officer, David L. Peelo, followed him up the cable and attempted for an hour to talk him down.

"He was extremely agitated and emotional," Peelo said later. "He was yelling and screaming and performing acrobatics on the cable. After 60 minutes of cajoling and talking to him and several abortive attempts to get him off the cable, he finally came to the south tower."

Traffic backed up on the bridge as motorists slowed to gawk at the spectacle. The lane closest to the sidewalk was closed to vehicles.

At one point Clifford swung underneath the cable when approached by Peelo and bridge workers. He handed the officer a note asking them to call his wife. "Dear Anne," it read, "I need help. Please come before I jump. I want to see the children. Love, Dan."

Peelo said Clifford agreed to come down after he was promised assistance in locating his family.

Guilty Plea To Reckless Driving

Ferguson is to return to court June 18 for sentencing.

He was arrested, with Phillip McFarren, 20, of Novato, after a high speed chase on Lucas Valley Road March 5.

McFarren was sentenced last Friday to 30 days in Marin County Jail for his part in the incident, as well as for two other disorderly conduct charges.

Hearings Set On Rezonings

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Hearing dates for three Southern Sonoma rezoning requests were set yesterday by the Sonoma County Planning Commission.

Set for June 3 hearings were the requests of Norman B. Sorby to rezone 2.8 acres at 2715 Skillman Lane, Petaluma, to permit a mobile home, and the request of the Conway family to rezone 8 acres at 750 Liberty Road, Petaluma, for a mobile home.

Youth Held In Probe Of Burglary

A 13-year-old San Anselmo youth — known as "Pat the Hat" among his friends —was arrested today on suspicion of auto burglary, San Anselmo police reported.

According to officers, Patrick Shane Myers of 440 The Alameda was arrested at 3:30 a.m. after he and another unidentified youth were observed rifling a car owned by John Lee Storz of 219 The Alameda, San Anselmo.

Storz told officers he saw Myers and the other youth burglarizing his auto parked outside his home. After a short chase, officers said, Storz caught Myers and called police. The other youth was not caught.

Taken from Storz's Volkswagen was a $150 tape stereo.

Now Dwelling Zone For Diablo Triangle

The Novato Planning Commission last night recommended planned residential zoning for the Diablo Triangle to insure development in keeping with the recently adopted downtown plan.

The area bounded by South Novato Boulevard, Diablo Avenue and Center Road is now zoned limited agriculture, multiple-family and retail commercial.

The downtown plan calls for apartment units in the area and a greenbelt along Warner Creek, which crosses the triangle.

The planning staff reported that rezoning doesn't apply to existing commercial uses at the Tresch Triangle or the 7-11 store at Diablo Avenue and Center Road.

The commission also: approved the master plan for Norman T. Gilroy and Associates for Mendocino Gardens, 32 single-family units on 8.1 acres at the southwest corner of Novato Boulevard and Eucalyptus Avenue.

It approved the master plan, referred from the Marin County Planning Department, for the Del Pantano Industrial Park on 13 acres north of the main access road to Gnoss Field.

Innocent Pleas In Sit-In Case

Richard Alan Raznikov, 24, of San Rafael, and Thomas Louis Oleari, 22, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to charges of failing to disperse and willfully obstructing a public place.

A jury trial was set for June 10, when they will be tried with five other persons also arrested May 5 during a sit-in at the San Rafael office of the U.S. Selective Service.

Twenty-six other persons arrested at the sit-in are to enter pleas to the same charges next Thursday.

Harbor Carriers' Injunction hit

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Harbor Carriers Inc. failed yesterday to get a court injunction to halt the Golden Gate Bridge District from expanding its ferry boat services on San Francisco Bay.

Judge Ira A. Brown Jr. of San Francisco Superior Court rejected the plea by the private firm which operates tour and commute boats on the bay.

Harbor Tours had sought to stop the bridge district from running ferries from Sausalito at any time except during peak-hour commuter periods.

It would have stopped any midday service and would have blocked ferry boat expansion plans of the bridge district which include both midday service as well as weekend.

Judge Brown in denying the injunction request agreed with the bridge's attorney, John Vlahos, that evidence introduced failed to show sufficient cause but he allowed Albert D. Elledge, president of Harbor Carriers, 30 days to file — an amended complaint.

Elledge said that Harbor Carriers' proposed Sausalito ferry service would not compete with the bridge district ferries for commuters.

"Our service will be for tourists and sightseers during the day rather than at peak commuter hours," he said.

A hearing on Harbor Carriers' request for landing facilities in Sausalito has been scheduled for 8 p.m. June 2.

Chamber Asks $8,000 From City Of Novato

The Novato Chamber of Commerce board voted yesterday to request the City of Novato to contribute $8,000 to the chamber during fiscal 1971-72.

President Charles Lewis said the city's contribution during the past year was $8,000 and recommended that the chamber seek the same amount.

Robert D. Anderson reported that the chamber's economic development committee is attempting to set up a meeting of officials from Marin and Sonoma counties on usues of the Petaluma River Basin.

Lewis announced the annual chamber dinner will be June 26 at Sportsman Lodge, north of Novato, with state Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, as speaker.

Connection Fee Hike Voted By Cotati Council

Sewer and water connection fees should be updated and increased, the Cotati City Council decided last night.

City Mgr. Paul W. Salfen said connection fees were lowered to $50 apiece three years ago in hope of luring development. He said the plan was unsuccessful and recommended the fees be increased to a more relaistic' figure of more than $100 each.

The council directed Salfen to contact neighboring cities to determine the prevailing rates and to make a recommendation.

The Cotati City Council also:

HALL USE Considered a policy for public use of the city hall auditorium, but said club meetings and dances may require an additional full time employee to supervise.

PARK FEE — Adopted an ordinance setting fees for park and recreation development to be levied along with building permits.

ZONING — Approved multifamily zoning for five lots on West Sierra and Valparaiso avenues as requested by S. H. Cervantes for the planned Casa Bonita subdivision.

College Honor Student Admits To Bomb Try

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (UPI)—A 20- year- old college honor student, who said he was trying to communicate" with the man on the street," confessed Thursday he tried to firebomb a bank and a newspaper building.

George Patterson, a curly haired near straight-A student being held in lieu of $50,000 bond on five felony charges, said he didn't intend to cause any damage.

"I'm not an anarchist—or a pyromaniac—and don't belong to any fringe political group," the Skyline College student said. "I think I blew it."

He admitted in a seven-page statement to police that he threw the two Molotov cocktails at the San Bruno Herald building Monday. They caused minor damage to the building's rof. The other incident was an attempted arson at a Bank of America branch May 4.

Jail Time On Drug Charge

David Thomas Hoff, 22, of Novato, was sentenced to six days in Marin County Jail yesterday after he pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of possessing narcotics paraphernalia.

Judge David Menary Jr. of Marin Municipal Court gave Hoff credit for time he has already spent in jail.

An additional misdemeanor charge of possessing marijuana was dismissed by Judge Menary at the request of the district attorney's office following Hoff's plea to the paraphernalia charge.

He was arrested in Novato May 13 when police stopped his car for a noisy muffler and lack of a 1971 license tag. Police said they found a suspected marijuana cigarette in his possession.

MASSACRE SCENE

Antiwar Outcry Comes During Film

Antiwar statements, it seems, are everywhere even during the movies at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The audience at the base theater Tuesday night was watching a gripping scene from "Little Big Man," which showed troops under Gen. George A. Custer murdering unarmed women and children in an Indian village.

According to the base public information officer, Capt. Joseph W. Corfield, the emotional impact took an unexpected turn when an unidentified young woman stood up and shouted: "It's the same xxxxxxx thing as is going on in Vietnam. We are murdering every man, woman and child over there."

Then, apparently overwrought, she dashed out of the theater followed by a male civilian companion to a few shouts of "Right On."

Oil Spills Hit 5 Million Tons, Says Society

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Audubon Society said Thursday nearly 5 million tons of crude oil were poured into the world's waterways in 1970, nearly two-thirds of it motor and industrial oil spilled into sewers and rivers by factories and service stations.

The society, which specializes in the study and preservation of birds, said 68 per cent of the oil put into water comes from this source and the problem is growing rapidly.

In a report entitled "Black Paper" for the color of oil, the society said the normal cleaning and pumping operations of oil tankers cause 21 per cent of the total oil pollution.

The total oil spilled on the nation's waterways last year could supply 75 million cars with 20 gallons of gas each, the society said.

MUSIC REVIEW

Soprano Reveals Pure Lyric Quality

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

San Rafael soprano Maria Leone Alessi presented a very enjoyable concert last night, assisted by pianist Phyllis Murphy, in the Collge of Marin's Fine Arts Theater. It was almost a second debut for the singer, who had been a first prize winner in Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air and a member of that company three years.

After some years in private life as Mrs. Joseph Alessi, the soprano has been heard in other Bay Area concerts in the last year or two, but this was a major solo appearance in Marin.

In a program of Italian, French and Spanish songs and operatic arias she revealed a pure high lyric soprano of limpid clarity and pleasing timbre that has a surprisingly youthful quality instead of the more full bodied maturity one might expect from her appearance.

A handsome brunette, she was poised, except for some stereotyped arm gestures.

Her first group of 17th and 18th Century Italian songs by Pergolesi, Scarlatti, Secchi and Legrenzi suffered slightly from the tentativeness that often accompanies opening numbers and from insufficient distinction between the different moods of the songs.

Much improved was the second group of French songs by Massenet and Bizet and Lia's recitative and aria from Debussy's cantata "L'Enfant Prodigue," when she sang with more freedom, reaching her highest notes at full volume with ease.

A third group of Spanish tornadillas by Granados were notable for considerable vocal dexterity, but some were not sung with the verve required by these impassioned love songs.

Though she was very successful in expressing the lighter playful and sad moods, emotional depth was not evident until the singer's last two operatic selections — Suor Angelica's aria "Senza Mamma, O Bimbo Tu Sei Morto!" from Puccini's "Suor Angelica" and Chimene's aria "Pleurez! Pleurez! Mes Yeux!" from Massenet's "Le Cid." These were eminently satisfactory, with hints of what could be rich lower tones.

Singing from the music in the Spanish tornadillas was, I suppose, pardonable in view of the length of the program, which I wished had included at least a couple of songs in English.

Miss Murphy was the kind of accompanist whose playing blends into the total music fabric so perfectly that one scarcely notices her — a high compliment for an accompanist.

Between the French and Spanish vocal numbers in tasteful contrast but complementary programming she played impeccably Schumann's "Kinderscenen," those 11 charming little scenes of childhood.

A New Twist

BAKERSFIELD (UPI) — The wife of a Los Angeles television station executive has added a new twist to the familiar stories of babies being born in taxicabs. Mrs. Frederica Anthony had a baby girl in the back of a highway patrol car Thursday night.

Purchase Of Two Buses Is Approved

The Old Adobe School District board, Petaluma, last night approved the purchase of two new buses.

Schools Supt. Dean D. Magowan said the board accepted the low bid of Gillig Bus Co. of $31,800 for a 91-passenger bus and the low bid of Sanderson Ford Co. of Petaluma at $4,250 for a 16-passenger minibus.

Magowan said both busses will be delivered for use next fall. He said they would replace two aging vehicles.

The Old Adobe School District board also:

TEACHERS — Received initial contract requests from the Old Adobe Teachers Association, but Magowan said a salary increase was not requested. He said the teachers felt the salary offer should first come from the district.

INSURANCE — Received a report from Blue Cross that insurance rates will increase by 14 per cent next year. Magowan said the current cost of $1,662 per employee will increase to $1,892.

OATHS — Saw trustees Dora M. Eldredge, John Thompson and Carlton Rinaldo take oaths of office, although their terms will not officially begin until July 1.

RETIREMENT — Approved the retirement of teacher Dorothy Wood due to ill health.

HIRED — Approved the employment of teachers Ronald Rocco, kindergarten, and Kathleen Carrigar, first grade. No salaries were set.

Resor Quits As Army Secretary

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Pentagon today announced the resignation of Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor, who has served in the post for almost six years under the Johnson and Nixon administrations.

Resor's resignation had been anticipated for some time. Pentagon officials said his term of office stretched over "an unusually large period of time."

The Army Secretary submitted his letter of resignation Thurday, the day after he announced the decision to demote one general and reprimand another on charges of covering up the My Lai massacre. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird replied today with a letter accepting the resignation "with unlimited admiration and appreciation for your selfless contributions to the department and to the nation."

Chief Pentagon spokesman Daniel Z. Henkin said no successor has been selected.

"I would anticipate that Secretary Resor will be here for several more weeks, until his successor is (selected and) qualified. It probably will be until the end of June," Henkin said.

Resor's letter to Laird said personal reasons prompted his resignation.

"After six years, some greater attention to my family is long overdue," Resor said.

Henkin said Resor, 53, probably would return to New York and resume the law practice he gave up when he became undersecretary of the Army in 1965. Resor served as undersecretary for three months before stepping up to Secretary of the Army in July, 1965.

Resor's term as Army Secretary began at about the time the United States was beginning its massive buildup in South Vietnam.

Resor, a native of New York, attended Groton School, Yale University and Yale Law School. During World War II he was with the 10th Armored Division in Europe, where he was awarded the Silver Star, the Bronze Star, and the Purple Heart.

After the war he returned to Yale, graduating in 1946. He joined a New York law firm and specialized in corporate law.

Police Linked To Riot Violation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Attorney General Evelle J. Younger today said he "strongly suspects" that some policemen may have violated the law during last year's riots at Isla Vista, but did not have the evidence to prove it.

In a 47-page report detailing an 11-month investigation by the attorney general's office, Younger said:

"We strongly suspect that some officers — few in number, a small percentage of the total force — may have violated the law.

"Unfortunately, we can't legally prove it. I say unfortunately because I do not want anyone who violates the law — be he a policeman or otherwise — to avoid successful prosecution."

Younger said his report is being sent to Santa Barbara County District Attorney David D. Miner "for any action he may wish to take."

Younger's decision that the evidence is insufficient for prosecution is not binding on Miner nor the county grand jury.

The disorders near the Santa Barbara campus of the University at California resulted in hudnreds of arrests, the burning of a Bank of America branch bank and the accidental fatal shooting of student, Kevin Moran.

Younger said certain witnesses refused to talk to state investigators after the federal grand jury investigation began.

"Under these circumstances it is possible that the federal government will obtain evidence not available to us which will warrant prosecutive action on their part," he said.

Younger's investigation was begun by former Attorney General Thomas C. Lynch at the request of the Santa Barbara County district attorney and sheriff in June 1970.

Its object was to determine whether police used excessive or unreasonable force.

Younger said many officers and inadequate training to prepare them for the situation but that "most officers were conscientious and attempted to avoid needless injury to participants or spectators."

Motion For Magee Filed By Graves

A motion to dismiss one of four charges against San Quentin inmate Ruchell Magee was filed today in Marin Superior Court by Magee's court-appointed attorney, Ernest L. Graves of Los Angeles.

The motion asks for dismissal of a charge of aggravated assault by a life prisoner, which in Magee's case carries a mandatory death sentence because the alleged assault resulted in a death.

Magee is also charged, along with Angela Davis, of murder, kidnapping and conspiracy in connection with the Aug. 7 Shoot-out at the Marin Civic Center.

In his motion, Graves said the charge violates Magee's constitutional rights to due process, equal protection and uniformity of the law and from cruel and unusual punishment.

Furthermore, Graves said, the law on assault by a lifer was enacted in 1965, after Magee was sentenced to life, and thus is being unconstitutionally applied retroactively to Magee.

Graves said he will formally move to dismiss the charge June 1 before Judge Richard E. Arnason of Contra Costa County, latest judge to be assigned the case.

Citizens Like Their Landmark

The city's residents decided they preferred the lights to the possible air pollution caused by them. James A. O'Neill, president of Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., ordered the lights turned off May 8 "as a symbol of our total commitment to the preservation of the environment."

Power company officials said the public response was more in favor of the 60-year-old nighttime landmark than reduced pollution. "We were not prepared for the groundswell of public protest that ensued," O'Neill said. Sentiment "ran nearly 100 per cent for the relighting of the tower."

Two Grand Juries

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill setting up two separate grand juries in Los Angeles County to handle criminal and civil matters was passed by the Assembly today 62-0 and sent to the Senate.

Vandalism, Backlash In Terra Linda

Extensive vandalism in the Terra Linda Recreation Park District during the last two weeks led the board night to vote unanimously to suspend teen recreation programs for two weeks.

John A. Corlistra, board chairman, said damage amounting to about $1,500 was reported to the directors by Zonwice Mulhaupt, general manager.

Vandalism was centered in the office, park and pool facility and included half the lights in the park shot out with a pellet gun, a fence pulled down, restroom sinks pulled from the wall, windows broken, water fountains smashed, reproduction equipment in the office thrown on the floor and the safe in the office jimmied open, Colistra said.

Board members voted to suspend the teen programs Wednesday and Friday because of the vandalism and will ask the Sheriff's Department to investigate, Colistra said.
said.

He called the damage "malicious mischief" and said no motives could be found.

North Marin Water Panel Hikes Pay

The North Marin County Water District board last night granted a 4.8 per cent cost-of-living pay raise for all employees.

Dist. Mgr. Eugene S. Churchill said the board rejected his proposal for a four-and-a-half-day work week for outside construction and maintenance personnel.

Churchill's salary was raised from $19,836 to $21,500 a year, 8.38 per cent. The board reasoned that he had expanded responsibility since the district is now operating water systems in West Marin and sewage systems in Northwest Marin, he said.

Directors approved a plan for merit pay, up to 5 per cent, which could be awarded to employes with four years at the job who have been at the top of their salary schedule for two years. Directors also set up a program to evaluate employees for merit pay.

Directors also approved an additional holiday, Admission Day, bringing the holiday total to 10.

Girl Saves Family From Fire Tragedy

A 13-year-old Corte Madera girl braved intense heat and flames which had engulfed her Oakdale Avenue home today to wake her sleeping mother and brother and lead them to safety.

According to Eleanor Tiner, her daughter, Pam, was awakened at 5 a.m. choking and sweating in thick smoke which had filled her bedroom.

Screaming an alert, Pam raced through a burning room to awaken her mother and brother, Randy, 11, sleeping in nearby rooms.

"If that little girl hadn't awakened when she did," Fire Chief Frank L. Nelson said, "the family would have been in real trouble."

Nelson said the cause of the fire is still undetermined, but about $10,000 damage was sustained to the hillside structure at 408 Oakdale. Another $1,000 worth of personal possessions were lost.

He said the fire may have started in Mrs. Tiner's new sewing machine which was located in the front room and has burned from the inside out.

Prior to the arrival of 18 volunteer firemen and three trucks, a neighbor tried unsuccessfully to enter the burning home to awaken the family thinking they were still inside.

Heat from the fire melted a kitchen clock and plastic kitchen curtains but left the telephone operable and several suitcases undamaged in the burning living rooms.

Mrs. Tiner said the suitcases were packed as she had planned to leave tonight for a vacation in Hawaii. "The luggage wasn't touched," she said. "That must mean something . . maybe we'll go after all."

Mrs. Tiner, whose husband, Wayne, was working the graveyard shift at Television KPIX where he is a broadcast engineer, credited her daughter's actions with earlier family discussions about what to do in a fire.

"I'm sure proud of my kids," she said. "They were calm and cool throughout the whole thing."

No injury was reported due to the fire.

Trio Fails To Show At Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Three members of a group which had been acquitted of slaying a policeman failed Thursday to appear in court on other charges.

All three previously had announced they were going "underground" and their absenses were expected.

Judge Walter F. Calcagno forfeited $1,000 in bail posted for each and issued bench warrants for their arrest. They are Jose Rio and Mario Martinez, for whom a burglary trial date was to have been set, and Nelson Rodriguez, who was to have appeared on an assault charge.

The trio previously failed to appear in Redwood City to face robbery charges.

Against Highway

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A resolution asking the state Highway Commission not to spend any money on the controversial Mineral King Highway in Sequoia National Forest until the U.S. Supreme Court decides a legal challenge to the project was passed today by the Assembly.

Case Of Woman Poisoned By Swordfish Diet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nearly seven years ago, "Mrs. N.Y." carried 65 pounds on her 5-foot-2 frame. To lose weight she went on a diet including 10 ounces daily of swordfish, which was banned because of mercury poisoning this month.

She suffered dizziness, memory loss, hand tremors, tongue quivers, and walking, reading and speaking difficulties. Mrs. N.Y. turned to a psychiatrist for relief, suspecting her problems were psychosomatic.

Extra Costs Bill Passes Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A bill providing about $4.1 million to pay unexpected administration expenses, such as guarding statewide officeholders during the last election, has been passed by the Assembly.

The measure by Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, was sent to the governor Thursday on a 57-2 vote without debate.

It is designed to cover the cost of unexpected items which the administration had to supply. The 1970-71 budget did not have sufficient funds to cover them.

State Overtime Bill Passed By Senate

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A $7.5 million bill providing overtime pay for 40,000 state employes, including Highway Patrolmen for the first time, has been approved by the Senate and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The governor already has endorsed the bill by Assemblyman Edwin L. Z'berg, D-Sacramento, which sailed through the Senate Thursday on a 33-0 vote.

Suicide Prevention Center Is Rebuffed In Bids For Funds

Marin's Suicide Prevention Center board of directors, still looking for funds to open a telephone service to take crisis calls, will meet at 3:30 p.m. next Wednesday at the Marin Association of Mental Health office in San Rafael.

Keith C. Craig, president of the board said the main purpose of next Wednesday's meeting is to find ways to raise money. Craig said he had applied to a half dozen private foundations for grants, but all requests have been turned down. He said the United Bay Area Crusade reported no funds to spare in the 1971-72 fiscal year.

The main source of revenue thus far has been individual membership contributions of small sums.

Craig announced that a meeting set for Wednesday of this week had been called off because the directors met last week. At last week's meeting, the board elected two new directors — Katharine Mills of Mill Valley and Dr. James Bakhtiar of Kentfield. Mrs. Mills replaced Charles Johnson of Novato, who resigned. Dr. Bakhtiar is an additional director, increasing the number of board members to seven.

Candidates Nights Slated For Petaluma Hopefuls

Candidates nights for hopefuls in the June 8 Petaluma municipal election have been scheduled for Tuesday and June 2 at 7:30 p.m. at Kenilworth Junior High School.

Both events will be sponsored by the American Association of University Women, East Petaluma Civic Association, Newcomers Club of Petaluma and Petaluma Valley Homeowners Association.

Appearing Tuesday night will be candidates for both the Petaluma board of education and Petaluma hospital district.

School board candidates include Richard G. Lambert, Daniel B. Plumpley, Richard E. Silvers and Robert T. Stimson.

Running for the board which operates Hillcrest Hospital are G. Ray Boccaleoni, Francis M. Crinella, Wayne S. Davis, Florence M. Franz, Frederick A. Groverman, A. James McGovern, Harry S. Nielsen and E. W. (Bill) Schneider.

Jack Garrison will serve as moderator for both events.

Two Tamalpais Districts Now Meet Standards

A plan to divide the Tamalpais High School District and its feeder elementary districts into two unified districts — a plan previously declared illegal — has been found to meet state standards after all.

That was the word received Wednesday by the Marin County Committee on School District Organization which in March was told the plan violated state law.

Reason for the switch, Spain said, is because 1969-70 figures were used to determine the average assessed valuation per student in the district. The 1970-71 figures made the difference, he said.

The 1969-70 figures show the average assessed valuation at $15,887 per student while this year's show the average at $17,549.

Under state law created to prohibit districts from dividing into one rich district and one poor, neither may deviate from the total average by more than 15 per cent. The new figures are within this limit, Spain said, while last year's exceeded it.

Under the proposal, the Tamalpais district and its feeder districts would be divided along Corte Madera Ridge.

The unified area south of the ridge would combine Tamalpais High School with Mill Valley, Bolinas, and Sausalito school districts and most of the Reed School Districts.

The unified area north of the ridge would consolidate Redwood and Sir Francis Drake high schools with Ross, Fairfax, part of Reed (Granada School), San Anselmo, Nicasio and Lagunitas school districts.

Spain said the committee will continue study of the plan while waiting for a decision by the legislature on legislation to exemp the Tamalpais district from next June's mandatory unification election.

In other action, the committee agreed to submit to the state previously drafted amendments to the San Rafael unification plan. The amendments reduce the number of trustees on the proposed district's board from seven to five and provides for equalizing teacher pay.

The committee also referred to the Shoreline Unified School District a request the district hold an election to determine if voters want trustees elected at large or by districts.

Trustees currently are elected by all voters but reside in districts.

A new member was seated on the committee taking the place of Ronald D. Schenck, who resigned last month. Named to the committee was William Sisk of Novato, an insurance executive.

2 Key Radicals Ordered To Jury

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Chicago seven defendants Rennie Davis and John R. Froines have been ordered to go before a U.S. grand jury which will consider conspiracy charges against them for their role in antiwar disruptions in Washington.

The jury panel, which may meet next week, will decide whether Davis and Froines violated federal laws by urging antiwar activists to come to Washington to try to "shut down the government."

More than 12,000 persons were arrested during the protests the first week of May. The demonstrators at one point tried to stop government business by blocking commuter traffic into the District of Columbia.

Innocent Plea To Burglary Count

A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Motta was arrested with two other San Rafael men Tuesday when Sausalito police, responding to a report of a burglary at the Gemini Clothing Store, noticed their auto leaving the vicinity of the store.

Two pairs of gloves and two tire irons were found in the car, police said. The store was not entered.

The cases of the other two men — Michael Mario Colombo, 19, and Kenneth Kay Kuhl, 19 — were transferred to juvenile court.

Typewriter Stolen

A $400 electric typewriter was stolen from the Helen Payne Real Estate office, 3566 Redwood Highway, near San Rafael, last Saturday, Marin County sheriff's office reported yesterday.

Novato Reports 45 Burglaries

There were 45 burglaries in Novato last month, 21 from residences, according to the monthly report of the Novato Police Department.

The breakdown was 21 residential, 19 business, three school and two from automobiles.

There were 92 thefts, 76 of them representing losses below $50, and nine auto thefts.

There were two aggravated assault cases and both were cleared, police said.

Charges were filed against 36 adults and 68 juveniles.

One Driver Outsmarts Hitchhikers

A Novato man who hid his wallet in a seat cushion before picking up three hitchhikers has his wallet today, no thanks to the hitchhikers.

Marin County sheriff's deputies said yesterday that Paul Andre La Prevotte, 20, of 1 Balra Drive, Novato, picked up the three hitchhikers in San Rafael Wednesday.

Two of the men wanted to go to Marin City and the third to St. Vincent's School for Boys in Marinwood, La Prevotte told deputies.

He first drove the two men to Marin City, where they directed him to a parking lot on Drake Avenue before pulling out an iron bar and butter knife and forcing La Prevotte and the other hitchhiker out of the car.

The pair kept La Prevotte there for about an hour while they searched him and his car for his wallet and other valuables, deputies said.

When the men finally fled with $2 in change and a gasoline credit card, La Prevotte got back in his car, retrieved his hidden wallet and drove the other hitchhiker to St. Vincent's.

Daily Cal Staff Must Back Firings To Publish

BERKELEY (UPI) —The University of California's student newspaper will besuspended Tuesday unless its staff accepts the firing of three editors who urged students to "retake" People's Park, the campus publications board decided Thursday.

The board voted 7-1, with one abstention, during a five-hour meeting to halt printing of the Daily Cal if the staff continues to defy the board's dismissal of the three editors.

Richard Hafner, representative of Chancellor Roger W. Heyns on the publications board, introduced a resolution suspending publication as of today. It was amended to halt publication Tuesday.

The university filed disciplinary charges Thursday against the three fired staff members —editorial page editor David Dozier, managing editor James Blodgett and staffer Fran Hawthorne. The charges could lead to their suspension from school.

The three journalists were charged in connection with a Daily Cal editorial May 11 which suggested students tear down a fence around People's Park, the controversial site which triggered rioting on May 15, 1969, on the second anniversary of the disorder.

Despite a later retraction and Daily Cal editorials urging nonviolence, 400 persons showed up at the former park —which is now a fenced parking lot and soccer field —and battled police with rocks and bottles last Saturday.

$5 Million Asked For Oil Spills

MARTINEZ (UPI)—A bait and fishing supply shop owner filed a $5 million suit Thursday, saying a petroleum corporation's negligence had resulted in oil spills that ruined his business.

Daniel Owyang, whose shop is at Red Rock Marina, filed the suit in Contra Costa Superior Court against the Standard Oil Co. of California and its subsidiary, Chevron Shipping Co.

He declared that negligent handling of oils and other toxics had made nearby waters "unfit to support the life of bait fish, shrimp and other organisims."

He asks $100,000 in general damages and $5 million in punitive damages.

The suit mentions a series of oil spills near the firm's shipping piers and a Jan. 18 collision of two tankers in San Francisco Bay.

Pipeline Breaks In Los Ranchitos

Water service to most of Santa Venetia was knocked out for five hours today when a pipeline broke under Circle Drive in Los Ranchitos.

The pipeline broke at 1:30 a.m., sending water up through the pavement near the intersection of Los Ranchitos Road, said William Grant, administrative engineer with the Marin Municipal Water District. Grant said an eight-man service crew worked until 6:30 a.m. to restore service. He said damage to pavement was about $500.

Pulitzer Prize Winning Author Sets College Talk

"Children in Trouble — a National Scandal" is the topic of a lecture by Pulitzer Prize winning author Howard James to be given at the College of Marin Sunday at 8 p.m. in Olney Hall.

During a year-long investigation of correctional institutions across the country, James said that children in trouble turned out not to be gun-toting hoodlums and their molls but rather mainly children who had skipped school, run away from home, stolen small quantities of candy, clothing or toys or had been caught drinking on several occasions.

James has been chief of the midwestern bureau of the Christian Science Monitor since 1965. His study of the American system of jurisprudence, "Crisis in the Courts," was awarded the 1968 Pulitzer Prize for national reporting.

The lecture was arranged by the college's community services office, the Marin Volunteer Bureau and the county probation department.

Chile To Take Control Of Largest Copper Mine

SANTIAGO (UI) — The Chilean government is taking over control of El Teniente, the world's largest copper mine, from the Kennecott Copper Corp. in what may be another step in Marxist President Salvador Allende's program to nationalize U.S. copper interests.

Minister of Mining Orlando Cantuarias said Thursday the Chilean Copper Corp., a government agency, would send six representatives to take over control of the mine Saturday. Cantuarias said the move was made because "irregularities" in four of the mine's eight converter ovens had cut production, and because of a $5.5 million deficit.

Kennecott owns 49 per cent of El Teniente, situated in Raucagua, about 65 miles south of Santiago, and operates the mine under the Braden Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary. State-owned Chilean companies own the controlling 51 per cent.

Allende became the Western world's first freely elected Marxist president in November. He had promised in his campaign to nationalize foreign interests in Chile and has been pushing his program since then.

The Chilean senate liberalized and sent to the chamber of deputies May 12 Allende's proposed constitutional amendment that would permit him to nationalize the holdings of the three U. S. copper companies in Chile — Kennecott, Anaconda and Cerro.

The two houses of congress are expected to meet within the next two months for a final vote on the amendment.

MOTION PICTURE GUIDE

The council's findings are from the California and National Parent Teacher Association magazines and the Parent's Magazine unless otherwise noted. More complete reviews may be obtained by calling the San Rafael Library.

FAMILY

"Fantasia" — Reissue of 30-year-old Disney all time giant entertainment. Philadelphia orchestra plays nine musical classics and artists project their imaginative interpretations in cartoons. Outstanding.

"Wild Child" — Excellent semi-documentary based on case history about the problems of teaching an 11 year old boy to live with people after living as an animal in the forest of France.

ADULTS AND TEENS

"Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" — A deft sophisticated comedy about two bandits. Imaginative camera work, wonderful score, witty performances. Very violent ending.

"Lawrence of Arabia" — Reissue of magnificent production telling the story of T.E. Lawrence, an English soldier who led the revolt of Bedouins against the Turks during World War I.

"Love Story" — Film is pure romantic escapism and an old fashioned simple love story. Acting is exceptional and some tasteless language mars an otherwise beautiful portrayal.

"The McKenzie Break" — Exciting, suspenseful escape drama has an unusual twist, prisoners are Germans in a British camp. Although it has the usual quota of violence it is suspenseful with surprises which make it a very fascinating film.

"Patton" — Excellent characterization by George C. Scott who portrays an indomitable spirit that could achieve its destiny only in wartime. Strong film makes use of violence, profanity.

"Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here" — True story about the search for a renegade Indian in 1909. The sheriff has great sympathy for Willie Boy who has killed his girl friends' father in self defense. The social, political and legal pressures force him into a cruel decision. Much violence, some nudity.

"They Might Be Giants" — A wealthy former judge who believes he is Sherlock Holmes finds a psychiatrist called Dr. Watson who hopes to effect a cure by helping him in tracking down clues. Midst the absurd situations they stumble into, he and the lady doctor fall in love.

"Z" — Powerful and exciting film tells the events leading up to the assassination of a man in Greece in 1963. Tense drama, brilliantly portrayed. English subtitles.

"Valdez Is Coming" — A reformed Mexican gunfighter who works as a town constable must resort to force when he cannot reason with villains. Much violence, torture, foul language and sex scenes are used to tell this tale.

BORDERLINE

"Bananas" — Typical Woody Allen fare of tasteless insults, irreverent nonsense dealing in the lowest moral and aesthetic-denominators. (Catholic Film Newsletter)

"Joe" — Chilling but excellent tragi-comedy about our troubled society. Two men form an unlikely alliance founded on their envy and hatred of today's youth. Language and sex scenes are shockingly bold and violence of the ending will haunt the viewer.

"Little Big Man" — A very violent tragi-comic history of Indian-white relations as recalled by 121 year old ex-gun fighter. Very thought, provoking, bloody with some sex scenes.

"Marlowe" — Fast, tough murder mystery with Philip Marlowe, Private Eye, cooly untangling a pile of icepick murders, black mail, underworld characters plus some raw sex.

"There's A Girl In My Soup" — A wealthy and debonair bachelor spends his time with wine and women confident he will never fall in love — that is, until he meets a wild young hippie, who is equally confident. A typical bedroom farce, some nudity.

"W.U.S.A." — A contrived melodrama about an unprincipled alcoholic who works for a rightwing radio station. Much violence, cursing and sex.

ADULTS ONLY

"M.A.S.H." — Nothing escapes the mockery of this ribald blood soaked comedy of wartime Korea. Several scenes are as gruesome as they are funny. Sex, nudity and cursing make this a very adult satire.

"Where's Poppa" — A vulgar black comedy presents an outrageous picture of a monstrous mother and her guilt-ridden harrassed son. Wild scenes of rape, nudity and gutter talk are unrestrained and brutally frank.

Innocent Plea In Try To Bribe Drug Agents

Douglas Edward Rambo, 29, of Fairfax, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a charge he attempted to bribe a narcotics agent.

A jury trial was set for the week of Aug. 2.

The bribery charge stems from Rambo's alleged attempt to evade arrest last Sept. 24 when he reportedly had two marijuana cigarettes in his pocket. Agents said he offered them $5,800 he had tucked in his boot if they would not book him.

Rambo and two other men were convicted in February in U.S. District Court in Los Angeles of trying to import a bargeload of marijuana into the country.

He also has another case pending in Marin Superior Court in connection with what has been called the largest marijuana raid in Marin's history.

That case involved the confiscation of 1,000 pounds of marijuana in connected raids in Fairfax and Tamalpais Valley May 15, 1970.

Psychiatric Treatment Set

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A federal judge ordered five years of psychiatric treatment and probation Thursday for a would-be extortionist who pleaded guilty to threatening to bomb a bank.

Judge William P. Gray, in U.S. District Court, suspended sentence for Battista Pietrelli, 46, a Daly City real estate appraiser who had demanded $100,000 as the price for not bombing the Bank of America's world headquarters. Pietrelli, who wept through the proceedings, has been undergoing psychiatric care since his arrest Nov. 18 by the FBI. He was taken into custody at a place the bank had been directed to leave the payoff.

Both the prosecution and defense recommended probation.

War Concern Tops Sonoma Student Poll

When shown a list of nine major issues of concern, 34 per cent said the war concerned them most. Second on the list was ecology at 28 per cent.

Polling 7 per cent of student concern were unemployment and inflation, poverty and race relations. Eleven per cent of the students said they could not single out one particular problem.

Three per cent cited police control, 2 per cent the Middle East crisis and 1 per cent ranked student violence as their prime concern. None of the students listed women's liberation.

The survey also gathered person information about the students and found 71 per cent fall in the age group between 20 to 29 years. Ten per cent said they were under 20; 14 per cent between 30 and 39 and 5 per cent over 40 years.

In income, 67 per cent reported annual earnings of less than $4,000. Seventeen per cent said they made under $8,000; 10 per cent under $12,000; 3 per cent under $16,000, and 3 per cent over $16,000.

The survey found that 54 per cent were single and 34 per cent were married. Five per cent said they were divorced while 2 per cent said they were unmarried, but living with a person of the opposite sex.

Despite the low incomes reported, 68 per cent said they were mostly self-supporting and 32 per cent said they received financial help from their parents.

Innocent Plea To Bad Check Charge

Vithaya Chaloeicheep, 20, of San Rafael, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a bad check charge. A preliminary hearing was set for Tuesday.

Chaloeicheep was arrested on a warrant Wednesday, charging he signed the name of Porpoat Soparkthpong to a check given to a San Rafael used car dealer April 2.

$110,000 Is Proposed In Aid To Fledging Marin Open House

A Marin County mental health official has proposed that his budget include $110,000 in subsidies to Marin Open House, a privately operated center for drug abuse therapy in San Rafael.

Dr. John S. Guerrant, mental health planner and head of the Marin Community Mental Health Center, said yesterday he made the proposal Wednesday to the county's mental health advisory board.

"We find Marin Open House is fast approaching its financial limits in delivering programs and needs more money," Guerrant said. "I'm proposing we pick up part of the costs for three of its programs."

Under consideration by the advisory board — which set a special meeting for next Thursday at 8 p.m. at the outpatient section of the mental health center — are proposals to aid Open House's methadone maintenance program, education program and employment and housing program for drug addicts undergoing rehabilitation.

Guerrant reported the advisory board expressed displeasure that the proposal was made so close to county budget sessions.

The county would retain control over its funds through a contract, which would insure the dollars are spent for salaries of employees in the three programs, he said.

About $40,000 would go toward the methadone treatment program for heroin addicts, he continued and about $30,000 to the housing-employment service. The remainder would be used in the education program.

Strongest objection to the proposal came from the Community Planning Group For Alcohol and Drug Abuse Problems, he said. The group's main complaint was that it had not been consulted on the proposal.

In March, the county board of supervisors and Marin Hospital District board authorized shifting several members of the staff at the mental health center to Open House.

Since that time, the county has been referring its drug patients to Open House for treatment.

Under the proposed agreement, Guerrant said, $14,000 which would be paid the center next year for treatment of county patients would be saved.

Guerrant said he also proposed two other new programs to the advisory board for inclusion in the proposed $3,482,845 budget.

One calls for matching about $200,000 in federal funds with 5 per cent local funds for treating 150 alcoholic patients rather than sending them to state hospitals.

The other proposal calls for establishing a new position in the county's mental health service office at Civic Center to coordinate alcohol and other drug abuse education, information and treatment programs.

The advisory board agreed to endorse the proposed consolidation of all health and medical services under one department.

Student Charged With Bugging Trustee Board

BOSTON (UPI)—Two Boston College students have been charged with bugging a private meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Attorney General Robert H. Quinn said Thursday the students were arraigned in Newton District Court for "conspiracy to illegally intercept private conversation through the use of an eavesdropping device" and "conspiracy to possess an interception device and conspiracy to use illegally obtained conversation and information."

Quinn identified the students as Thomas Sheehan of New York City and Michael Berkey of Baltimore, Md.

The attorney general said the students illegally placed a listening device in a room where the BC trustees were meeting Feb. 19, and then gave the information to the college newspaper, "The Heights," which published it.

ALMANAC

Today is Friday, May 21, the 141st day of 1971.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn. There is no evening star.

Those born on this day are under the sign of Gemini.

On this day in history:

In 1832 what is considered to be the first Democratic National Convention was held in Baltimore.

In 1881 Clara Barton organized the first American Red Cross in Washington.

In 1941 President Franklin D. Roosevelt procalimed "an unlimited state of national emergency" — seven months before Pearl Harbor and U.S. entry into World War II.

A thought for today: British writer Richard Garnett said, "The three eldest children of necessity: God, the world and love."

$1.84 Trillion In Total Debts

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Commerce Department reports that Americans, their government and their businesses were in debt by a record $1.84 trillion by the end of 1970, although they owed most of the money to each other.

The business debt was $955 billion, or 52 per cent of the total, while all branches of Government owed $483 billion, or 26 per cent of the total, and individuals owed $402 billion — 22 per cent. Of the individual debt, $127 billion was in residential mortgages.

Avoid Giving Your Partner The Wrong Kind Of Ache

"Please tell me what I am doing wrong," a reader requests. "When I finished playing the accompanying hand, my partner had a scowl on his face. I asked him if he had a stomachache, and he said my bidding had given him one. Then he added that my play had given him a headache. For the life of me, I can't see what he was talking about."

HEART ACTION

West opened the ace of hearts and then continued with the eight of hearts, our correspondent relates. He won the second round of trumps in dummy with the ten and led a spade, losing the queen to the king.

West switched to clubs, and declarer eventually lost two more spade tricks. Down one, giving North an assortment of aches and pains.

Of course all of our alert readers have already seen why North got his aches. See if you can diagnose the cause of the stomachache and the headache before you read on.

SIMPLE BID

South caused most of his trouble when he bid two spades. If he had simply jumped from two hearts to four hearts, West would have made the normal opening lead of the king of spades. The rest of the hand would have been a waltz for South.

The actual spade bid warned West not to lead the king of spades, but South should have made the hand by proper play. After winning the second trump in his own hand, South should cash his top clubs and both top diamonds, ruff a diamond, lead to the ten of hearts, discard a spade on the ace of clubs and then lead a spade.

SAFE RETURN

West would be able to win the first spade trick with the king but then would be unable to make a safe return. A club or diamond lead would let dummy ruff while South discarded another spade; a spade lead would make life very easy for South.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠- A K 10
♥- A 8
♦- J 10 4 2
♣- 10 9 8 3.

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two no-trump.

This normally shows 13 to 15 points, but in this case your three ten spots compensate for the missing point. In any case, this is the bid that best describes your hand.

A Ban On Funds To Defense Firms

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UPI)—The legislative council of the Associated Students of the University of California at Santa Barbara has voted to ban the spending of student funds with companies which have defense contracts.

The action Wednesday night by student leaders was expected to cost such firms as General Electric, General Motors, RCA, DuPont and Standard Oil of California tens of thousands of dollars annually. The Associated Students budget is about $500,000.

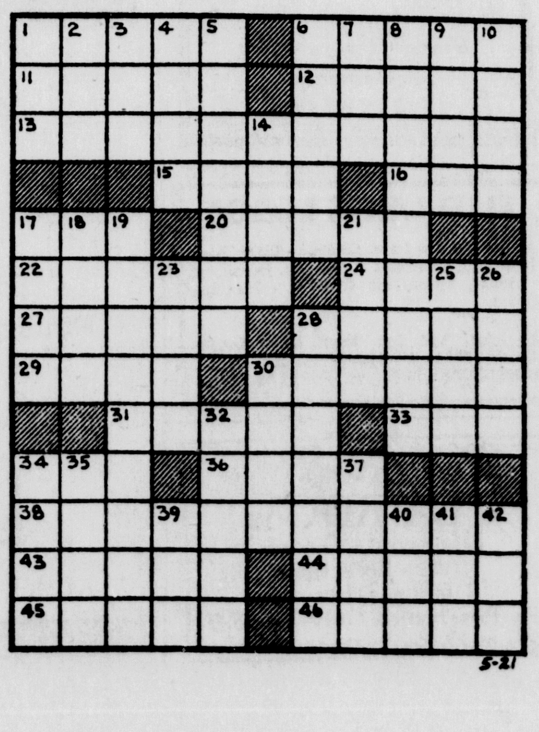
Yesterday's Answer



Prison Reform Urged

By DAVID DIETZ

SACRAMENTO — Democratic legislators, former inmates and citizens gathered yesterday at a conference sponsored by a Marin-based group to urge reforms in the state penal system.

The Department of Corrections, Adult Authority and officials of both agencies came under attack as speakers urged support of a variety of bills aimed at prison reform.

The day-long conference, held across the street from the Capitol at Westminster Presbyterian Church, was sponsored by the Committee for Prisoner Humanity and Justice, headquartered in San Rafael.

After hearing denouncements of the prison system as inhumane, overcrowded and archaic, many in the crowd of about 150 persons filtered into the Capitol halls to lobby legislators in behalf of their goals.

SOLADAY ATTENDS

The program came one day after the knife slaying of Kenneth Conant, program administrator at troubled Soledad Prison.

Salle Soladay of San Anselmo, an attorney and member of the committee, was asked by a reporter if she felt that, in view of Conant's death, the conference came at a good or a bad time.

"It was the best time," she said. "We want to end the violence." Mrs. Soladay went on to say that the slaying was "one-day-old proof of the bankrupt California prison system."

One of the day's sharpest attacks on the penal system was unleashed by Robert Aldredge, a former inmate of San Quentin Prison and now a staff member of The Cage newspaper in Berkeley.

Questioning the motives of the Department of Corrections and viewing prisons as "cesspools of violence," Aldredge said: "I hate the word rehabilitation. I can't stand this farce. It literally turns my stomach upside down."

He also charged that the Adult Authority, which decides, among other things, whether or not an inmate should be paroled, is made up entirely of former law enforcement representatives, while state law calls for cross-section makeup.

"The Department of Corrections is a euphemism," said Clarence Williams, aide to Assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, author of reform legislation. "The name should be changed to the Department of Punishment."

COMPLAINTS AIRED

Speakers assailed the indeterminate sentence, use of adjustment centers for difficult inmates and capital punishment.

Sen. Nicholas C. Petris, D-Oakland, said he has offered a bill in the current legislative session to require establishment of law libraries at all state prisons. He also supported prison decentralization, creation of more halfway houses and programs to speed the release of lesser offenders.

Like Petris, Sen. George Moscone, D-San Francisco, said reforms similar to those employed over the years in the detainment of mentally ill persons should be put to work in state prisons.

At present, he said, the state is spending $100 million annually on the Department of Corrections "to do nothing more than cage men and women."

Plan For Helping GI Drug Addicts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Seymour R. Halpern, R-N.Y., plans to introduce legislation next week under which servicemen addicted to drugs would not be discharged until they have undergone rehabilitation.

He said the rehabilitation, which would take place starting when the serviceman involved was supposed to have been discharged, would serve as a deterrent to addiction, which he said some servicemen now turn to in hopes of an early discharge.

Dr. James Shepard of Mill Valley will take office July 1 as president of the Marin County Heart Association for 1971-72, it has been announced.

Other officers elected are Richard Meese of San Anselmo, board chairman; Dr. Paul C. Ogden of Greenbrae, president-elect; Jacquelyn Berreman of Terra Linda, vice president; Doris Angus of Novato, secretary; and Kenneth Downs of San Rafael, treasurer.

Public Land Use Bill To Assembly

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Legislation designed to head off possible widespread closure of private lands to public use has been approved by the Senate and sent to the Assembly.

The bill (SB 504), sponsored by Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ventura, is designed to nullify two State Supreme Court rulings last year. They held that private property owners could not prevent the public from using their land if citizens had enjoyed the use for at least five years.

Conservationists said at the time that the decisions would open up large areas for public use. However, Lagomarsino told the Senate, many property owners who previously permitted public entry onto their lands are now fencing off their properties in order to insure private title.

It is possible, Lagomarsino maintained, that as much as nine million acres of private land previously used by the public for recreational purposes could be closed this summer, placing an added burden on state and national parks.

The bill, coauthored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, and supported by the Marin Property Owners Association, sets state policy under which lands could be kept open to the public without title impairment.

Senate vote on the measure was 27-2.

Unification School Bill Advances

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — The Assembly has passed and sent to the Senate a bill by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, that would avoid another unification election election next year in the Tamalpais High School District.

Five other districts in the state, none in Marin or Southern Sonoma, also would be spared an election.

The measure (AB 358) originally applied statewide, but later was limited by committee action to include only districts in which voters have defeated the past two unification proposals.

State law currently require unification elections every four years.

Under the measure, the state Board of Education still would be required to investigate the status of reorganization plans in the six districts and report to the Legislature in 1973.

Senate Panel Overrules Realtors On Sales Bill

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A Senate committee, overruling opposition from the powerful California Real Estate Association, unanimously sent to the floor yesterday a bill that would reinforce a 1969 law against faulty property transactions.

The legislation (SB 330), sponsored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, R-San Rafael, cleared the Business and Professions Committee despite the opposition of Dugald Gullies, a lobbyist for the real estate group.

The bill, endorsed by the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen and the San Anselmo City Council, would require a real estate buyer to be informed on the authorized use, occupancy and zoning of the property he purchased.

A real estate broker would be required to file with the county recorder a document that such information had been supplied.

Gullies objected that such a burden should be placed on the seller and not the broker.

Besides three San Anselmo representatives who appeared to testify in the bill's behalf, Donald C. Bennighoven, lobbyist for the League of California Cities, also supported the legislation.

The San Anselmans present were Councilman James F. Reed, City Administrator-Controller Alfred C. Kaeppel and Charles R. Leitzell, director of public works.

Heroin Case Is Halted For Test

Criminal proceedings against Rosita Dolores Branstetter, 37, of San Rafael, were suspended yesterday in Marin Superior Court.

Judge Thomas F. Keating appointed two doctors to determine if Mrs. Branstetter is a narcotics addict or in danger of becoming one, and ordered the case continued to the week of July 8.

Mrs. Branstetter, who earlier pleaded guilty to charges of selling heroin and possessing the drug for sale, was arrested in a raid on her apartment Oct. 29, 1969.

Tanker Spill Resolution Is Adopted

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A joint Senate-Assembly resolution urging Congress to take steps to avoid tanker mishaps in harbors has been approved by both houses.

The resolution (SJR 10), authored by Sen. Peter H. Behr, urges creation of a marine traffic control system that would be maintained by the Coast Guard.

Behr introduced the resolution in the wake of the January collision between two tankers in San Francisco Bay.

Sale Of Puppies To be Dropped

Montgomery Ward Co., whose Corte Madera store was the scene of picketing in December by dogs and owners protesting the national chain store's mail order selling of puppies, will discontinue such sales next month.

According to the regional office in Oakland, the puppies will not be carried in the new fall catalogue which will be sent to customers in June.

Don Gillis, manager of the Corte Madera store, said he had not yet received notification of the change in policy. Gillis noted that, although the puppies were available through the catalogue department, the Corte Madera store had never sold one.

Local pickets protested the sale of the dogs, saying buyers were given no choice of terms of the puppy's temperament, color or history.

Let The Weather Chase Your Worries

Are you "bugged" about taxes, about vandalism, about delays and delusions in the courts, about runaway welfare costs, about the war in Vietnam, and so on and so on? Well, aren't we all?

But with the delayed arrival of beautiful California weather, there's a chance to get away from such worries. All the more because it came late this year, the pleasant weather inspires most of us with the desire to go someplace. And there are plenty of places to go.

The California Chamber of Commerce each quarter puts out a list of fairs, fiestas and other special events throughout the state. The list for June through August has just appeared, and it proves there's plenty for everybody who wants to go places in the Golden State.

TAKE THE FIRST week end in June, for instance — a good time to plan now on going someplace, if you're in the mood.

Like the flavor of Old Mexico and Old California? Mexican Players will be performing all week at the Padua Hills Theater in Claremont, Los Angeles County, and after seeing them you can whip over the following day to Glendale in the same county for "Days of the Verdugos," complete with parade, then on Sunday the 6th to the blessing of the fruits and flowers at San Fernando Mission.

Also in Los Angeles County that week end are the Monrovia Day Roundup, an "International Fiesta" on Catalina Island, and the Miss San Fernando beauty contest. In neighboring counties are Fontana Days, and an Elks rodeo and parade at Santa Maria.

YOU DON'T NEED to go that far, however, You can get Old California also at Merienda in Monterey — that historic city's 201st birthday, which will be Saturday, June 5. And while there you can take in the Northern California Golf Association senior championships June 2-4 at Pebble Beach, and Haldorn and Commodore's Regatta on the 4th, also at Pebble Beach.

For sports fans who prefer to head north, there's the Golden Gate Tennis Association tournament at Kelseyville in Lake County on June 4 and 5, and the Junior Grand Prix go kart race at Redding on the 5th.

Closer still is an ox roast at Sonoma on Sunday, June 6. And right here in Marin County is the Marin Ballet Aquacade on the 5th and 6th.

The midsummer outdoor music festival at Stern Grove in San Francisco also opens June 6.

AND FOR THOSE who don't want to watch parades or sports events, listen to music or mingle with crowds, there's the whole outdoors. You can get away from those worries at Samuel P. Taylor State Park, at Point Reyes National Stashore, or in any of many beautiful country areas only short distances from your home in Marin.

The worries will still be here when you get home again, but they won't seem quite so overwhelming.

CAPITOL REPORT

State Faces Dire Prospect Of Borrowing For Operations

By RUS WALTON

SACRAMENTO — The golden State of California will soon be forced to borrow money to meet its day-to-day operating expenses. There's no other way out, now.

Most taxpayers will be inclined to react with a "welcome to the club" attitude. Hundreds of thousands of them have just gone through the maddening agony of borrowing money to pay income and property taxes.

Its regular monthly income doesn't match that outflow.

RIGHT NOW the state's coffers are fat with loot which poured in around April 15. But come September and October the coffers will be bare. And, with the economy down and sales tax revenues off, the bottom of the coffers could be reached sometime in August.

Sen. Don Grunsky, R-Watsonville, has introduced SB 734 to authorize the state to issue tax anticipation notes, to borrow up to about $700 million against future revenues. These funds would have to be repaid within one year. Probably no more than $100 million or $150 million of that total would be borrowed this year.

The exact amount to be borrowed will depend on the size of the 1971-72 budget. The bigger the budget, the bigger the borrowing. Under the budget proposed by Governor Reagan the state will probably be forced to borrow $50 million for September, and another $30 million for October. This is after all possible, money has been borrowed from such special accounts as the highway fund.

The October income tax prepayments should finance state operations through the end of 1971. But, if withholding is not enacted and does not go into operation in January, 1972, it will be the same story all over again next March and April.

Because Grunsky's tax note legislation contains an "urgency" clause — so that it can become effective upon enactment — it requires a two-thirds majority in both houses. The Democrats might refuse to go along. That would force the governor to more drastic methods of financing and that — they figure — could be embarrassing. In politics, embarrassing the opposition seems to be more important than preventing crises.

SINCE 1970 Reagan has been saying that withholding was necessary to prevent a cash-flow crisis. Payroll deductions of state income taxes would produce about $80 million a month.

A graphic projection of the worsening cash flow situation was made to the governor in a four-hour session in December, 1969. It was Vern Orr's first major presentation as newly appointed finance director. That presentation, more than any other single factor, caused the governor to change his position on withholding.

At that time, the administration was coping with the cash-flow problem by using money from various economies and by borrowing from special funds. Orr noted that by 1971 the savings would no longer be enough to bridge the gap and the cookie jars would be about empty.

There was, Reagan said at the end of the meeting, no other choice but withholding. But, it's too late for withholding to help this year.

SHOULD THE GRUNSKY bill fail, the state would be forced to resort to registered warrants — similar to a balance-plus check-writing plan. The state would write checks and the banks would honor them even though there was no money on deposit. The state would guarantee to cover the checks within a specified period of time.

Registered warrants are an extreme step. They could injure the state's fiscal reputation and damage its credit rating. Future purchasers of California bonds would probably demand higher interest rates.

California will try to market several hundred million dollars worth of bonds this October — for the state water project, veterans' housing loans, park and recreation projects, and local wastewater treatment plants and sewers. Any significant increase in interest rates would cost the state extra millions of dollars.

This added cost, plus the interest on the tax anticipation notes, — or the registered warrants — will increase the cost of government. One way or another, the taxpayer will foot the bill.

Women's Club Finds Coverage Accurate

I wish to express my appreciation to the Independent-Journal for the prompt and accurate coverage given to the various activities of Novato Federated Women's Club.

It has been a pleasure to associate with Mrs. Dorothy Newell, of your Novato office. Her help and encouragement made my year as press chairman a pleasure.

Exchange Angela For American POW

I wholeheartedly agree with Richard W. Shand's letter ("Justice Not Served by Courtroom Circus," May 11).

I'm sick to death of people of (Angela) Davis's ilk who advocate the overthrow of this government . . . then run for the protection of the very laws they sought so diligently to overthrow.

I would like to present my alternative plan. Since Davis considers herself a political prisoner, why not exchange her for one of our American POWs? We'd be rid of the cancer and have one of our own back.

Honor Mother For Non-Production

We need a new "Mother" to celebrate on Mother's Day. It's time to stop awarding quanitity. The mother's concern for her family expressed by her active involvement in improving the quality of life for her children is a more worthy attribute of motherhood. Next year let's award the mother of two children. She is not contributing to overpopulation, and she has time to devote to community activities (such as Planned Parenthood or Ecology Action) which will make the world a better place for her children. Quality, not quantity!

Bouquet For Exchange Student Sponsorship

Another "bouquet" for the members of the Marin County Deputy Sheriffs' Association for their recent gift to San Rafael High School's American Field Service international scholarship program.

I have purchased tickets for this year's circus. Those students soliciting my support by telephone for the association were most courteous. I am sorry the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce is in conflict with the association. I hope it will not hinder the sale of the tickets.

Their profits over the past few years have been so beautifully given to so many worthwhile groups. Marin Cystic Fibrosis Chapter (of which I am a member) was able to help sponsor a summer camp for kids with this terrible lung problem at Fairfax last year because of the generous gift received from these gentlemen.

Establishment Destroys Itself With Taxes

The beleaguered homeowner — your editorial, "A 65c Tax Increase" — seems never to reach the summit of a dismal course of events, merely plateaus.

Assessed valuations in may area show, by random sampling, an average increase of 130 to 160 per cent from 1959 to 1970. Added to that is a tax rate increase of approximately $2, and it would be optimism to believe other valuation areas show an appreciable difference.

As property divides itself into two broad categories, personality and realty, taxes of whatever kind and variety — franchise, excise, income, land sales, or what have you — also follow two main definitions: they come from cash flow or they come from accumulation. The broadest of these is the cash flow; the easiest to reach is the accumulation. Land is an accumulation: taxing it is a tax on capital. This is not to say it is wrong, but it has its limitations. To dry up the one may dry up the other . . .

Inequities abound on all sides. Voters, who have no ultimate burden, vote on revenue or bond issues, and voters who have no real experience with poverty vote on standards of care for those who do. The common characteristics between them are misunderstanding and frustration, and these are vented loudly in occasional meetings or publicity releases.

Such a meeting, called by a well spoken real estate entrepreneur, was held last June, in the board of supervisors chamber, and was attended by many of those taxpayer spokesmen so familiar to the scene. It was attended by others: people without spokesmen, without a champion — people seeking a way out from a decimated old age. The movement, so well begun and so well defined, died aborning: the leaders went back to their business and the people back to theirs.

This is too often the situation with volunteer organizations. If someone, or some group, would function with paid and volunteer help as omsbudsman, for the people of Marin, I would deem it a value for the county, worthy of time and support . . .

It has been said the power to tax is the power to destroy. Those dissidents, bloody minded, who would destroy this country cheerfully, have not found this key; they haven't had to — the establishment is doing just fine.

Unborn Child Merely Invention Of Writer

Unfortunately Rus Walton ("Capitol Report", May 6 I-J) has confused abortion with murder and has invented something called the "unborn child." A brief lesson in human reproductive physiology is in order. The human adult male produces sperm, and the female produces eggs. Through sexual intercourse there is a possibility that the sperm and eggs will unite. If they unite, a fertilized egg called a zygote is formed. If this fertilized egg implants in the enriched lining of the uterus a pregnancy begins. If the zygote continues to grow it becomes an embryo, and after several weeks it is called a fetus. If there is no spontaneous abortion it is called fetus. If there is no spontaneous abortion or miscarriage, nine months after the sperm and egg unite the fetus is expelled from the mother's body and is then considered an infant. If the infant does not die it will grow to become a child, then an adolescent, and finally an adult. At no time during pregnancy can the embryo or fetus be considered an adult. The "unborn child" is a fiction of Mr. Walton's warped imagination.

The removal of the embryo or fetus, whether spontaneously or surgically, is called abortion, not murder . . .

Of course no person should ever be forced to have an abortion. Planned Parenthood will zealously guard the right of the woman to regulate her own fertility, without interference from the state. No woman, likewise, should ever be compelled to bear a child. Abortion should be available to every woman who wants it. Only then will we enjoy a society in which every child is born wanted.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Kennedy, McCloskey May Hold Keys To Presidential Election

WASHINGTON — New political developments are affecting the presidential picture in both parties:

1 — Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., is almost certain to go after the presidency next year and his tactic will be to appear reluctant until he become irresistible.

2 —President Nixon is assuring — and warning — all Republicans that he intends to run for re-election. Not running is the last thing that would enter his mind — and his friends are certain it will never enter his mind.

3 — Vice President Agnew will not make the kind of fight to keep himself on the ticket that Vice President Nixon made in 1956. Mr. Agnew does not find presidential politics that rewarding or that agreeable and he does not plan to press Nixon to be his running mate again.

The challenge to the President's renomination may well prove more formidable than has appeared likely. When Rep. Paul McCloskey, R-Calif., decorated ex-Marine who defeated Shirley Temple Black in a Republican congressional primary three years ago, began talking about his crusade to unseat Nixon, he was making one one issue: Get out of Vietnam at once. But now he is planning to use a whole gamut of issues — from the "conduct of the war" to "untruth in government," from "lack of moral leadership on race" to "intrusion into their judiciary" — to try to turn enough rank-and-file Republicans against the President to keep him from seeking re-election.

ALL THIS MAY NOT clarify the political picture but it keeps it lively.

He will not enter any of the presidential primaries. His supporters believe all the other leading contenders will reach a stand-off before the convention.

By not entering the primaries Kennedy can continue saying he is not a candidate on a wait-and-see policy.

If the primaries give none of the contenders a commanding lead as the convention nears, Kennedy can move from being a non-candidate to being reluctantly responsive.

At the opportune moment the senator will "permit" his supporters to move openly to organize a draft which he will be willing to accept to help the party.

That's the predicted strategy and I don't know many Democrats who would say it couldn't be made to work.

Most politicians have assumed that Kennedy was pointing for 1976. But if a Democrat other than himself defeated a vulnerable Nixon, this would unsatisfactorily postpone the senator's chances another eight years.

I SEE NOTHING to suggest that Nixon will step down next year under any circumstances. If Vietnam is over and the economy is visibly improving, he will be in a strong position. If he has not redeemed his pledge to end the U.S. role in Vietnam, then he is committed to his own statement that he "should be held accountable." The only way to be held accountable is to stand for re-election.

This is why he will almost certainly run and he will take a wholly impersonal, objective view of whether to keep Mr. Agnew.

On the basis of a fairly close, firsthand view of Representative McCloskey in action, I incline to think that from the President's standpoint he will prove to be a troublesome factor. He is vigorous and dedicated and could pile up quite a vote in primaries if the Vietnam issue is sharply with us. He can't keep Nixon from winning the nomination but he could keep Nixon from winning re-election.

BY NO MEANS NEUTRAL

Unflappable Judge Assures No Circus in Harrisburg

By ERNEST B. FURGURSON

HARRISBURG, Pa. — It's not fair, the "letters to the editors" of the local papers complain. Harrisburg was quietly minding its own business, which is to be the capital of Pennsylvania and make a little steel in the suburbs, when all of a sudden this bizarre court case about a Catholic priest plotting to kidnap a White House adviser and blow up the heating pipes underneath Washington settled here and upset the tranquility. The only Harrisburgers happy about it might be the people who run the Penn-Harris Hotel, where the witnesses are billeted.

For many months yet to come, the Harrisburg dateline is going to show up in every paper in the country, attached to the kind of publicity most chambers of commerce would pay to do without. The dateline is bad enough; what goes with it are big black headlines about the "Harrisburg Six" — now grown to eight — in historical line with the "Scottsboro Boys," the "Catonsville Nine," the "Chicago Seven," the "New York 13." That nomenclature somehow implies to the citizenry, which was already disturbed enough by the way new Democratic Gov. Milton Shapp was attacking the long-entrenched Republican patronage lists, that the trial here will be a replay of the one in Chicago, where defendants were bound and gagged and the judge became a popular villain of the young and hairy.

But they can relax about that.

CERTAINLY FATHER Philip Berrigan is capable of some imaginative activity on behalf of peace. He stands convicted of pouring blood on draft records and burning other records with homemade napalm. You might expect a man of such imagination to prefer to turn his latest trial into a circus.

Instead he and his colleagues have made it clear to their counsel that they want a legal defense, not another guerrilla theater production. (One assumption is that this means they consider their own case strong and the government's weak; the tighter the prosecution's case, the more likely any defense would be to distract the jury and the watching world with histrionics.)

William Kunstler is not in the cast. Defense counsel so far has been businesslike, though understandably ambitious to turn the proceedings into a trial of J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI rather than the men and women under indictment. The principal exception has been Paul O'Dwyer, the familiar New York Democratic peace candidate, who delivered an 11-page statement which some reporters here labeled a diatribe. But you have to assume he still is running for one office or another.

AND BESIDES, no matter how tempting the idea of courtroom shenanigans, the decision on whether to take that route eventually turns on who the judge is — whether he is so flappable or such a heavy that a screaming and leaping defendant would look sympathetic by contrast. Judge R. Dixon Herman, who is in charge here, cuts short any such temptation.

He is bald, with horn-rims. One notes a resemblance to Lester Maddox, but stronger. When the deputy assistant U.S. attorney protested that O'Dwyer's long peroration was an attempt to inflame the court, Herman calmed him with the assurance that "this court's been around too long to get inflamed."

And on his record he won't be. He started out by making it clear there would be no foolishness. He has reacted sternly to every defense assertion that the government is merely up to some shoddy shenanigans of its own in bringing the case to prosecution. He has insisted on proof of each such allegation. When a Philadelphia girl named Theresa McHugh came into the case last week and invoked "the law of God" on her side, Herman wanted to know which law of God; when she maintained she was being punished for her beliefs when she was cited for contempt, he said flatly, "No, for not answering questions."

HIS ATTITUDE is that "anybody who is not for peace is a fool," but that that is not germane to the case before him. He is hearing statements on "some simple legal issues," and determined to keep the entire proceedings in that context. The defendants, their counsel and their cheering section know before the formal trial has begun that the first circus-like move on their part will be one too many.

Of course it is unfair to them to presume they would try to wreck the proceedings if they thought it to their advantage — both the lawyers and the defendants are very different people from those involved in Chicago. But even if they were so inclined, they realize by now that this trial will be heard on the evidence. And if the government's case is as thin and fictional as they maintain, that will be good both for them and the cause of justice in the long run. (William Kunstler, Abbie Hoffman et al to the contrary, notwithstanding.)

Waiting For Someone To Die So You Can Have A Heart

Willem Van Buuren of Mill Valley, kept alive for the last 18 months by the heart of a 16-year-old boy, recently recalled the circumstances of the transplant.

After two heart attacks, his doctor sent him to Stanford Medical Center in Palo Alto for consultation. There he was told he had three months to live — at the most.

Van Buuren said he was surprised: "I knew I was sick and I felt terrible. But I never realized I was dying." The doctor suggested a heart transplant and told Van Buuren to "think it over."

"It didn't take long. I made up my mind right away," Van Buuren said. "But they said I'd have to wait — maybe a week, maybe a month, maybe longer — for a heart. It was like a race — waiting to die." That was early in December.

"I stayed at home, mostly, just waiting for the phone to ring," Van Buuren recalled. "I was optimistic — especially when Christmas weekend came. I figured there would be a lot of accidents on the highways and maybe I'd get a heart."

It sounded cold and heartless when he said it, but this man knew he was going to die without a new heart. Who, in the same position, would think differently?

The accident that killed the San Leandro boy whose heart now beats in the Dutchman at 112 East Strawberry Drive occurred during New Year's weekend.

Van Buuren got the heart Jan. 3, 1970.

ANOTHER SIDE of a different coin is working with the California Highway Patrol. Reporters check with officers there daily, in addition to city police departments and the sheriff's office, for accident reports.

It's a routine matter to read over the several page report to check for accidents where a person was injured.

Well, it was at the other end of the pencil that this reporter found herself Sunday following an accident on Bolinas Road, a couple miles past Alpine Dam.

Having listened to a car salesman spout statistics that Marin County leads the country in sports car sales, I picked out a new red convertible of a leading model.

With just a few miles on the week-old car, I took off for sports-car country — up in the mountains — only to find a big Cadillac in the middle of a 360-degree turn.

Two highway patrolmen came to my rescue, however, took care of the tow truck and gave me a ride back to San Rafael and a sympathetic pat on the head.

No, they don't eat little old ladies and children. They are just doing their jobs when they stop you for whatever.

(I hope they read this. Maybe I won't get a ticket.)

Sample Ballots Mailed In Sonoma

Sample ballots have been mailed for the June 1 Cotati School District tax rate increase election and for the Petaluma municipal election to be held June 8, according to Sonoma County Clerk Eugene D. Williams.

Applications for absentee ballots for the Cotati election must be received by Tuesday and on June 1 for the Petaluma election. Persons physically unable to attend a polling place or expecting to be absent should apply by letter to the registrar of voters office in Santa Rosa.

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Frank Lloyd To The Wright And Left, Wherever You Look

First a chuckle — I think: In Tuesday's mail came a nice clean No. 12 envelope, with Grace Cathedral in the upper left corner. It was addressed to Mr. William Fusselman, San Anselmo, Calif. 94960. Now, all the mailing lists that I seem to be on use my middle initial and street number. I have never received anything from this source before.

Inside was an 8½ by 14 inch sheet of good paper, with the heading "Spring Music At The Cathedral." It was printed on both sides and there were 10 events listed, running from April through June. An arrow was drawn with red crayon pointing to:

"THE TALIESIN PLAYERS

"A Spectacular program of music, dance and lights will mark the first San Francisco performance of this frmed group under the direction of Iovanna Lloyd Wright, daughter of Frank Lloyd Wright. This group performs regularly at Taliesin West in Scotscale, Ariz., and they have become famed for the beauty of their presentations . . "

It's sort of hard to tell just why this was sent to me. It sure looks like someone was putting me on, for surely I am not on their "Who's Who" list.

Even Uncle Sam got in on the act. Later in the day when I bought a batch of 2-cent stamps to go with the 6-centers on hand, there was his highness Frank Lloyd himself staring at me. Oh boy!

"A CAUTIOUS GREETING To Health Plan" was just about right. I was sorry to see that Mr. (James B.) Burdick, the veterans service officer, was mixed up in this. I think I made the motion for his employment when Doc Duhamel retired. This is not exactly his field. Tom Campanella, assistant administrator, just doesn't have the professional background to be calling the play on the consolidation of the health services. The public is entitled to know what he has been working at the past years. He says it is not his idea alone. We should hope not, but let's have the names of those who are with him. I think you would find others who are not qualified either.

This is not a new idea. It was brought up by the administrator in 1963-64. It is all part of the plan to dump the health officer that the administrator tried to put over a few weeks back. It's empire building, full of Parkinson Law potentials.

Here is a good chance for the board to roll up its sleeves and go to work on it themselves. There is plenty "political necessity," Wornum, Baar and Arrigoni. Think about it!

Coastline Effort Asked By Reagan

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Gov. Ronald Reagan says if California is to preserve its unique coastline a partnership between state and local governments—and not the state alone—will have to do the job.

The governor told his weekly news conference Tuesday that a "kind of compact" for the protection of the coast is what he envisions but not a state-directed effort.

"I don't think that the state should have the power of total veto," he said, adding that "we definitely believe there is an area for state involvement here and that can fall short of simply overruling local government."

San Marin Group Schedules Picnic

The San Marin Improvement Association will have a picnic at Lion's Park, near Stafford Lake, June 27 from noon to 5 p.m.

There will be free pony rides, a teen-age musical group to entertain and the association's annual East-West softball game, directors reported Wednesday night.

VOICE OF YOUTH

Larkspur Citizens Awaken To Safeguard Community

By R. W. THOMAS
and TERRENCE KEENAN
San Francisco State College

There is an awakening stirring in the people of Larkspur. Suddenly they became aware of the preciousness of their land when confronted by hordes of developers.

We applaud their recent efforts in the city council and ask they not disband but remain on guard for the next attempted rape.

We wish to bring attention to a little known and well hidden fact. A city's councilmen and commissioners often represent or are by certain methods receptive to the profiteers of any development. Their profit may be either financial or political. Every town meeting contains a strong lobby of local business. Persons running for local government positions always solicit the support of the chamber of commerce and other promotion-oriented groups and clubs. Throughout all these activities we may witness a liberal scattering of certain persons representing contractors, plumbers, electricians, trucking companies, merchants and any others having a vested interest in the developing and ravaging of any piece of yet-undisturbed soil.

IT SHOULD NOW be obvious that those in the controlling positions have little motivation for showing interest in that well-used word, ecology. The only people who will protect what is left are unfortunately not in decision-making positions. If we, the people, expect to bring about a change we must attend these meetings and voice our feelings. A large segment of the community must attend these meetings; otherwise, we, the minority who take the time to show, will be written off as the minority, instead of as the majority which exists. Our elected or appointed "representatives" will do nothing in this area unless we show that in addition to those who participate in campus demonstrations, there are other actively concerned members of their voting public. It all begins and ends at your local council meetings and planning commissions.

If people take no concerted action we shall continue to witness development after development railroaded through, urged on by the people who benefit from them since they are the only ones who attend these meetings.

MARIN COUNTY in the past has not been easily accessible. This is no longer true but one of the main reasons this county has managed to survive total defoliation during the 50s and 60s. As access and the cost of transport prove less prohibitive, a new era will emerge. We will become another tract and apartment suburbia. We call attention to San Rafael Canal area, Bon Air Hill, and some manner of hill scalping across the freeway from Strawberry Center. And it is by no means coincidental that the backers of the builders along Corte Madera Creek are from Los Angeles. Citizens of Larkspur, welcome to Los Angeles!

One of the most remarkable things about Marin is that we have managed to build thousands of homes without diminishing the hills or tearing down whole stands of trees. There is no reason this kind of building can't continue. Just because it's being built today doesn't mean it has to be cheap.

This typical disregard for our surroundings is one of the many issues that foment youth. It is not just the ordinary restlessness of youth or socialistic professors or Dr. Spock. This is not a fad or temporary idealistic venture into fantasy. We are talking about our actual survival as a species on this planet. It is important to remember that progress is not necessary to the maintenance of society or a stable economy.

Arraignment On Leaving Accident

Charles Willis Patterson, 30, of San Rafael, has been arraigned in Marin Municipal Court on misdemeanor charges of possessing dangerous drugs, resisting arrest and leaving the scene of an accident.

He is to plead to the charges June 1.

Patterson was arrested Saturday after he was stopped by Novato police on a hit-and-run vehicle check. He gave officers a false name, police said, and a plastic bag containing pills and capsules was found in his jacket.

Forgery Charge Is Dismissed

A charge of credit card forgery against Warren Hardin Allen, 26, of Oakland, has been dismissed in Marin Municipal Court.

The case was dismissed when the district attorney's office reported that Allen was serving up to 14 years in prison for an offense in another county.

He had been accused of attempting to purchase clothing with a stolen credit card last Sept. 7 in a Sausalito Shop.

Four Fined For Drunken Driving, Get Probation

Four persons have been sentenced in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Sentenced Tuesday by Judge David Menary Jr. were:

George Robert Dreyer, 46, of 8 Hayes Street, San Rafael, arrested May 13 on Highway 101, who was placed on probation for six months and fined $302.

Daniel Michael Weber, 22, of 420 Hickory Lane, Terra Linda, arrested May 14 on Civic Center Drive, who was placed on probation for six months and fined $100.

Henry John Nachtsheim, 24, of 222 Madrone Avenue, Larkspur, arrested May 14 in Sausalito, who was placed on probation for six months and fined $240.

Sentenced Wednesday by Judge Peter Allen Smith was:

Jimmy Doyle Merchant, 30, of 19 Plaza Drive, Mill Valley, arrested May 7 in Sausalito, who was placed on probation for one year and fined $250.

Merrill Paintings In Western Show

A primitive painting "Wintertime" by Novato artist Girldine Fallon Merrill is in the Society of Western Artists show at the De Young Museum in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

Two of Mrs. Merrill's paintings, "The Sleigh Ride" and "Sunday Supper With Grandma" were purchased from the Western White House in San Clemente in January.

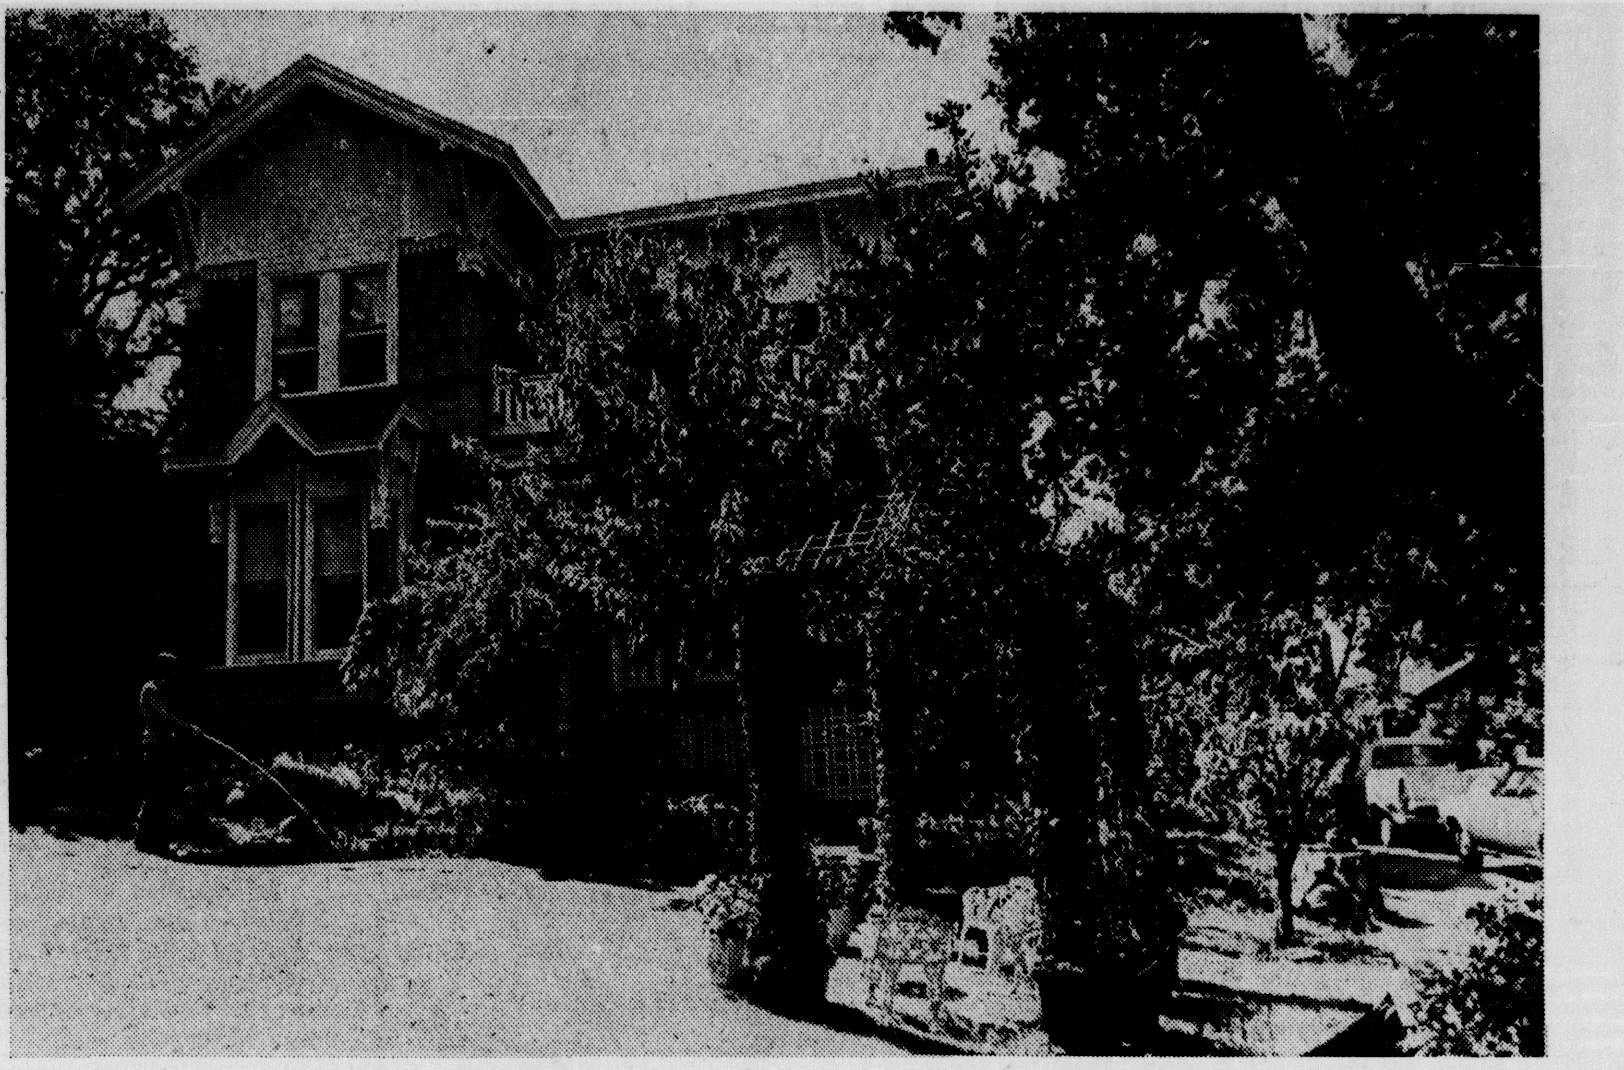
AN AMBITIOUS clean-up of the grounds at "Three Gates" has been going on the past week to prepare for the Marin Designers' Showcase opening in the old Victorian house there tomorrow. The grounds of the Sausalito home are trimmed, pruned and raked by volunteers from the Volunteer Bureau of Marin, which will benefit from the three weeks long daily showcase. The grounds will be used for a series of special events and a gazebo installed. Mrs. Roland Peck of San Rafael is chairman for the gardens restoration following the plan of a landscape designer.

(Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)



FOLLOWING THE extensive clean-up by the volunteer committee of the yard's pathway and gardens, volunteers gave a final sprinkling and finish to their work. The gazebo at right, was installed by a Marin designer and will be a focal point during some of the showcase activities to be held outdoors during the benefit. Inside the house the professionally decorated and furnished rooms will open tomorrow for viewing by the public.

ON THE AGENDA

Open House Benefit Scheduled At Marin Designers' Showcase

Marin Designers' Showcase, a Victorian style house in Sausalito decorated by nine Marin interior decorators, will be open beginning tomorrow, as a benefit for the Volunteer Bureau of Marin.

The house, located at 46 Santa Rosa Avenue, Sausalito, will be open daily through June 12. Hours are Mondays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays from 1 to 4 p.m. Friday evening hours are scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m.

Tickets will be available at the door, says Mrs. Matthew McGowan, chairman.

The house, known as "Three Gates", is a restored Victorian house overlooking San Francisco Bay. It was built in 1879 by a wealthy Portuguese cod fish packer and originally dubbed "Codfish Castle". It has been restored by co-owners Douglas McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Van Arsdale. The grounds have been refurbished by volunteer workers for the showcase, under the direction of Henry Cole, landscape architect.

There will be a number of special events during the three week period. Scheduled are a Sweet Adelines quartet in 1890s dress with barbershop harmony on Wednesday, from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m. and again from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. the Mannequin League will model fashions.

An ice cream social will be held at 2 p.m. May 30, and June 2 at noon R. M. D. Childs, a member of the North Bay Food and Wine Society, will do a demonstration of fowl cooked in clay.

Committee assisting Mrs. McGowan are Mmes. Harvey N. Black Jr. of Ross, Ned Turkington of San Rafael, David Dawson of Greenbrae, Roland Peck and John Busterud of San Rafael, William Morris of Kentfield, Jean Smith of Mill Valley, Robert Lawson of Greenbrae, John Caple and Don Geddes of San Rafael, Wayne Arnold of Mill Valley, William Simmons of Tiburon, and R. M. D. Childs of San Anselmo.

"GAMES PEOPLE Play," the second annual fund-raising party sponsored by the Lamplighters Branch of the Marin General Hospital Volunteers, will be held tomorrow from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley.

Proceeds from the party go to the volunteers' scholarship program and for the in-service training of hospital personnel.

"Games People Play," held initially last year, was so successful the Lamplighters Branch decided to make it an annual event.

Dancing, games and a buffet dinner are on the program for the evening.

Mrs. David R. Loar of Mill Valley is chairman for the party, assisted by Mrs. William Cole, also of Mill Valley. Mrs. Carl R. Schneider of Mill Valley is ticket and reservations chairman.

Other committee members are Mmes. David Hemstreet of San Rafael, Robert Skinner, Jeffrey Fries and Lucius Bernard, all of Mill Valley; and Stephen Mirsky of Novato.

NOVATO ASSEMBLY, International Order of Rainbow for Girls, will install Georgene Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. London of Novato, as worthy advisor at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Druids Hall, Novato.

Associate officers are Karen Thorson, worthy associate advisor; Janet Shaver, charity; Deborah Foster, hope; and Suzzane Horton, faith.

DIANE GLICKSMAN, worthy advisor, will be honored at a farewell meeting at 1 p.m. tomorrow by San Rafael Assembly 195, International Order of Rainbow for Girls. Chairman for the meeting at Masonic Hall in San Rafael is Gail Campbell, assisted by Alison Feeley, Mary Coman, Lynn Downey and Kathy Dahlin.

THE FOURTH Saturday hoedown of the Question Marks Square Dance Club of Cotati will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at Cotati Women's Club hall in Cotati. Keith Gylfe will be the guest caller.

OLD TIME movies and a cocktail party and picnic supper will be features of the public party from 4 to 8 p.m. Sunday at the Outdoor Art Club in Mill Valley. Sponsor is the San Francisco Auxiliary to Muscular Distrophy, and proceeds from the event will go to the Muscular Distrophy Association for patient services in the Bay Area and research.

Auxiliary members will prepare the individual box suppers.

Tickets will be available at the clubhouse during the event.

A SPAGHETTI dinner will be sponsored by Court St. Raphael 1406, Catholic Daughters of America, from 4 to 7 p.m. Sunday at St. Raphael's Church social hall in San Rafael. Ray Brough will cook the meal and court members will provide dessert. Mrs. Andrew Schweighofer is chairman for the court. Assisting the chef will be Messrs. Schweighofer and Roy Padgett Jr.

GEORGENE ROBERTS
Rainbow installation

THE MARIN Country Club Homeowners Association will hold its second annual potluck picnic for members and guests from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. Sunday, May 23 at Howarth Memorial Park in Santa Rosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert are chairmen assisted by Messrs. and Mmes. Gradin Gast, Gordon Walker, Drew Fossgren, Kenneth Lax and Dr. and Mrs. William Sullivan.

THE HAMILTON Air Force Base Officers Wives Club will have a one-day trip to South Lake Tahoe on Sunday. The bus will leave the non-commissioned officers parade grounds at 7 a.m. and return at midnight. Ticket chairman is Mrs. John Meyer.

Milk Is Held A Cheap Food

Louis C. Schafer, California Bureau of Milk Stabilization, reports that milk is not only the most nutritious drink you can buy at the store, it is also the most inexpensive.

"Ounce for ounce," Schafer says, "milk costs less than cola drinks, root beer, citrus-flavored carbonated beverages, beer or most brands of plain soda water."

According to the agricultural official, a quart of milk in California averages 26 cents of .8125 cents per ounce. Leading cola drinks cost 35 cents for a 26-ounce bottle or 1.3462 cents per ounce. Citrus-flavored carbonated drinks cost 36 cents for a 26-ounce bottle or 1.3750 to 1.6250 cents per ounce.

Seal Directors Pick Mrs. Elrod

I-J Special Report

LOS ANGELES — Mrs. Helen L. Elrod of San Rafael was elected today to the board of directors of the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association of California, statewide federation of 27 local Christmas Seal associations.

Meeting at the Hilton Hotel in Los Angeles, the voluntary health agency selected Mrs. Elrod to represent Marin County at the policy-making level of the organization.

Mrs. Elrod has served as a director of the Occupational Nurses Board, California State Nurses, and is a board member of both the Marin TB and Respiratory Disease Association and the Marin Hearing and Speech Center.

New Brides Like Old-Time Custom

NEW YORK (UPI) —Many of today's brides are adopting an old-time custom of asking for wedding gifts in the form of services. It helps keep expenses of the reception down and also saves dollars for the person giving the gift.

If a friend is a great cook, a bride might ask her to provide finger-sandwiches or hors d'oeuvres for the reception. In the same vein, she might ask a person with talent for floral arrangements to take care of the decorations. A friend with pretty handwriting might write out the invitations to the reception. All these are perfectly correct, says the Bridal and Bridesmaids Apparel Association.

Stoddard, Mayer Rite Set

A Sept. 15 wedding is being planned by Judith Ann Mayer and Anthony Stoddard Warburg of Ross, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Mayer of Greenbrae.

Judith was graduated from Redwood High School and attends the University of California at Davis. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Mayer of San Francisco.

Anthony is the son of Mrs. Frank Dollard of Ross and Felix Warburg of San Francisco. He also is a Redwood graduate and is a junior at U.C. at Davis.

Cox Proposal Secret From The President

I-J Special Report

NEW YORK — Edward F. Cox didn't speak to President Nixon about marrying his daughter until a year and one-half after he proposed to her, Tricia Nixon revealed today in an interview with Lynda Johnson Robb.

Mrs. Robb — the last White House bride — interviews Miss Nixon for an article in the June issue of Ladies' Home Journal. According to Miss Nixon, Cox proposed "two years ago . . . in the Lincoln sitting room (of the White House)." At the time "Ed and I made a pact" not to tell anyone, including her parents and her sister, Julie Eisenhower.

She revealed her fiance asked the President for her hand "this last Thanksgiving at Camp David. We still didn't announce (our engagement) for a wide variety of reasons," Miss Nixon told Mrs. Robb. "In January, Ed had semester exams (at Harvard Law School) — you know, those exams are very rigorous, and we thought the last thing Ed would need at that time would be a barrage by the press and other people. So we tried to keep it a secret until March 16," the President's daughter revealed.

Miss Nixon stated she chose to have her wedding in the White House "because it is a very historical place to have a wedding. And it is our home, so we are combining two wonderful assets for a wedding."

Swallowed Air Can Be Painful

Compared to organ transplants and life-saving antibiotics, new medical findings concerning painful gastrointestinal gas may seem somewhat trivial — except to the person with the problem.

Almost three-quarters of gas is caused by swallowed air, physicians have observed. People swallow air when they eat too fast or because they are tense.

At the Conference on Gastrointestinal Gas, simethicone, a defoaming agent, was reported to relieve the painful symptoms of gas and bloating. At the end of the meeting, one physician described a tablet containing simethicone, as producing marked improvement in patients who took part in a carefully-designed, scientifically-controlled study.

Marin Women

Roles Are Interchangeable —Woman, Wife, Actress

DALLAS (UPI) —"Women's lib?" Barbara Loden laughs. "I'm too busy liberating myself!"

Most recently the tiny-but-tough blonde freed herself from the tag of being known only as "Mrs. Elia Kazan" to write, direct and star in a small-budget film, "Wanda."

The film was selected as one of the honorees for the first annual USA Film Festival held here. Both the film and the filmmaker were two of the biggest hits at the week-long movie fair.

"I have no priorities as a woman, a director, a wife, an actress. They are all interchangeable. They are all me," she told the festival audience.

Her voice is very soft, respectful. But her dark eyes, soft one minute, can turn brittle and she looks like she means absolutely everything she says.

"I got this idea many years ago when I read an article about a girl who was convicted as a robbery accessory. She thanked the judge when she got a stiff sentence. Then I sort of made up the characters from my own understanding of myself," she said.

It is not a true biography of the girl because prison wardens would not let Miss Loden investigate her. Miss Loden created her own story line, adding from her own North Carolina background.

"WANDA HAS no direction. She's just passing through life, mainly from man to man. But it's not a woman's film or a woman's problem. Wanda is an object, something handled, dropped. That's the story.

"I used to be a lot like Wanda. I had no direction. I was almost anesthesized. I was a dropout. Fortunately, I met people to bring me out of that and give me some self-respect."

Now, Barbara Loden is one of the few women directors in the film business in the United States or abroad.

She's married to the much-respected stage and film director Elia Kazan ("On The Waterfront," "Baby Doll"). But she says being Mrs. Kazan doesn't affect her filmmaking.

"We're doing two very different things. But he did just finish shooting a new film with Nick Proferes, the photographer for 'Wanda,' and he is trying a different approach.

"My husband helped me get organized for Wanda, I've got to admit. The men I used were not actors. They were from Scranton, Pa. They were inhibited with me because I was a young blonde to them. He would talk and get friendly with them so they would trust me."

Miss Loden admitted she feels in competition with Kazan but not about making films.

"IT'S THE same man-woman things. I always feel I have to do the domestic things that men never do. He's liberal but he's still a man. It's a tradition ingrained in him."

She said she would never consider letting Kazan direct her now.

"Maybe it would have been easier before our marriage about five years ago. But now it would be hard to see each other objectively."

Miss Loden says "Wanda" is the only thing she has ever started and finished.

But she played the role of Marilyn Monroe successfully seven years ago on Broadway in Arthur Miller's "After the Fall." She was also in what she calls "a few Broadway flops" and the films "Splendor in the Grass" and "Wild River."

"Of cource I stayed after 'After the Fall' started, but I was always quitting during rehearsals ... too much responsibility or too many domestic responsibilities."

"Wanda," which cost only $100,000 to make, is "holding its own in New York theaters so far," she says. "But nobody is getting rich off of it."

Winner of Pulitzer Spurns Integration

By FRANK BULLARD

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Pulitzer Prize-winning black poetess has turned away from integration as the solution to racial problems in America. She indicated that blacks must develop a sense of identity by developing their own culture.

In an interview in Essence, a magazine for black women, Gwendolyn Brooks said she once "thought integration was the solution. All we had to do was keep on appealing to whites to help us, and they would."

THE 53-YEAR poetess said she now has concluded that "I was naive, I was sweet. I was sweet and ignorant."

Mrs. Brooks, who has written since the age of seven, was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for poetry in 1950. She said it was not until 1967, however, when she was attending a black writers conference, that she became aware of the realities of black life in America.

"What I saw and heard... was of a new nature to me," she said. "Kids in my writing class would talk about what was going on. I'd listen and I'd say, 'What? You don't mean it! Is that really true?'

"THERE I found what has stimulated my life these last three years; young people full of a new spirit. They seemed stronger and taller— really ready to take on the challenges."

Prior to that, Mrs. Brooks said, most of her friends and her readers were white and they considered her a "bitter" poet. But she said that even she did not understand the dilemma of the black.

"If I had been reading even the newspapers intelligently, I would have seen that it (integration) simply was not working, that blacks kept exposing themselves to it only to get their faces smacked," she said.

Mrs. Brooks, who lives by herself in Chicago, has no ill will toward the whites she once knew but neither does she associate with them. Intead, she is trying to put into practice her belief that blacks must develop their own culture.

SHE SAID SHE even hopes that her autiobiography will be published by a black firm, although "I've been with Harpers since 1945, when it published my first book."

While she spoke of the need for strength and firmness by blacks, she did not advocate force or agitation. She also said that while she does not intend to remarry, she doesn't think black women should be involved in women's liberation.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Mother Upset By Secret County Treatment For Children With VD

DEAR HELEN:

I'm very upset about the letter signed "Help" from an under-age girl who thought she had VD.

Your advise was to contact the county veneral disease clinic in her area and the parents would not be informed.

I have two teenagers and if anyone treated my children for VD I certainly would want to know that they are headed in the wrong direction. It doesn't make me feel any better to be told the county will cover up their misbehavior!

Something is wrong with this setup. Our tax money is being used to encourage immorality, it seems. I'd sue the county if it ever treated my child without my knowledge. — MRS. R.E.L. AND FRIENDS

DEAR MRS. L.:

Would you prefer that your child go untreated (risking chronic disease, sterility, even death — plus the possibility that he will infect others)?

This happens when teen-agers "would rather die than confess to their parents."

VD clinics are fighting an epidemic. Naturally, they would prefer that parents know children's problems, but their greatest concern is with public health. If a young person will only be treated on condition of secrecy, then I say, thank God secrecy is now allowed by law in your state! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My father disowned me when I became pregnant. My husband and I were married and we've been very happy, but I've never been forgiven. I was told to leave even though I had no place to go. Thank goodness, my man stood by me!

We now have three lovely children. I take them to see my mother whenever I know HE won't be there. she isn't allowed to visit us. I won't go into detail about his other cruelties but, you can imagine, Mom's life is rough . . . Barren and miserable ... She obeys, or else.

The other day our daughter left a much loved doll at "Grandma's" as we had to "vanish " fast. This morning she got a package in the mail. It was her doll, head crushed, body slashed, with a note, w----s and b------s are not welcome here."

Helen, why does a woman put up with a man like that? We won't go back, but what about my mother? She was crying on the phone today. He'd beat her again. Yet she stays.

She could live with us until she gets established in a job. She isn't old, just beaten down. How can we persuade her? — DISOWNED DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER:

Your mother is evidently the type who would take almost anything rather than make a decision — or stand up to a man she fears.

Perhaps she knows herself better than you do. Independence might overwhelm a woman so accustomed to slavery. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

Why must cosmetic surgery cost so much? I want to have my breasts enlarged so I'll feel like a whole woman. Upon inquiring, I found the cost would be about $1,600 including the hospital. I've read that a complete face lift costs at least $2,000 these days — for about four hours on the table and an overnight stay in the hospital. Only the wealthy, it seems, can look their best, but it's the poorer people who NEED these morale boosters. A new bustline wouldn't help me get a job (as a new face might with older people) but it would cheer me so much that I would spread a lot of happiness around in my family — and that's awfully important, especially when we can't afford a great deal else. — FLAT BROKE

DEAR FLAT:

Let's hope some day cosmetic surgery can be everybody's uplift. Even doctors (some of them) admit it is now overpriced. Comments, surgeons? — H.

Menninger Warning: It's Never Too Late

NEW YORK (UPI) —Whatever it is you want to do, watch out for feelings of "it's too late."

Such slogans can become an alibi, says Dr. Karl Menninger, founder of the Menninger Clinic and a world-renowned psychiatrist. "It isn't mature to give up and flop—at any age," he adds in a report in Modern Maturity, publication of the American Association of Retired Persons. "The one thing older people have to fight against is exaggerating their weakness."

Compatible Collar

Dog collars of braided metal, of leather, of velvet ribbon and embroidery are compatible to the teen-ager's life style. The adolescent prefers to wear more than one at a time.

Teens' Preference

Teen-agers prefer rigid necklets instead of the regular necklaces. These come in silver or golden tones, in gold filled or sterling, dangling charms, monogrammed discs, butterflies, beating hearts, abstract mobiles, symbols and emblems of causes dear to their hearts.

ON BEING BLACK

History Of America's Slaves Lies Behind Simple Tradition

By SANDRA HAGGERTY

"Thank you, Miss Bertha.'' The child smiled warmly and hurried out the door.

"Why," asked one of the adults present, "do so many black children do that — call familiar adults by their first name and always preface it with Mr. or Miss?"

This Southern tradition, which has traveled north, east and west, clearly has historical origins. From day-one on this soil, black slaves were purged of their original names. They were given first names and when surnames became necessary for further identification they generally assumed the names of their white slave masters.

DURING THOSE days and for a depressing number of generations thereafter, the titles Mr. or Miss were reserved for whites. These prefaces denoted a definite form of respect, and blacks were not afforded this civility. Whites called black adults by their first names or the infamous "boy" or "girl," denoting the assumed infinite childness of blacks.

Eventually, blacks, in an attempt to instill in their children a sense of respect and warmth for other black adults, initiated the practice of having their children address familiar adults as Mr. or Miss first name — hence, Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha.

The need for the Mrs. title, of course, was nonexistent, since during slavery days marriage among blacks was not a recognized institution, and a black slave woman was not afforded the protective title of a husband's last name.

Black children also commonly adopt a family. They will verbally make an arrangement with an adult they like to be their pretend mother or father or in the case of a peer their pretend sister. These relationships have all the warmth of a natural family.

SUCH PRACTICES are interesting to observe at a time in our history when the values of the family unit are being questioned.

Unfortunately, the pressures of urbanization and the stated need for us to tidy up our speech are placing Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha in jeopardy. That's sad because an alarming number of urban youngsters have little or no respect for adults, and if they address you at all it certainly is not be any printable name — grammatically correct or incorrect.

When whites question the use of Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha, I am somewhat amused. They appear to assume that the practice is due to a lack of information or intelligence. Nothing could be further from the truth.

As a friend, who is an educated, articulate black adult, who fully appreciates the warmth and value of this tradition, puts it, "I know they are Mr. and Mrs. Brown. But to me they'll always be Mr. Elmer and Miss Bertha."

MR. AND MRS. TIMOTHY BARLOW
(Novato photo)

Timothy Barlow, Diane Dillman Wed

Diane Lynn Dillman and Timothy Barlow were united in marriage at the United Methodist Church in Novato on Saturday.

Diane is the daughter of John R. Dillman of Novato. Her maid of honor was Susan Ferry of Novato, and bridesmaids were her sisters, Ruth Dillman of Novato and Penny Rivers of Petaluma and Dawn Pelton of Petaluma.

Jack San Fillipo was best man for the bridegroom, and ushers were the bridegroom's brother, Patrick Barlow of Novato and Larry Warner and the bride's brother, Steve Dillman of Novato.

A reception was held at Alvarado Inn. They will live in Novato following a wedding trip to the Indianapolis 500 Race in Indiana. The bride was graduated from Salmon River High School in Riggins, Idaho. She is employed at Barlow and Sons Printing in Novato. She is also the sister of Jonnae Dillman of Novato. Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dillman of San Rafael are her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Barlow of Novato are Tim's parents. He was graduated from Novato High School and is employed at his family's printing shop, Barlow and Sons Printing in Novato.

Alumnae Of Mills To Meet

The annual reunion for Mills College alumnae is being held May 28, 29 and 30 on the campus of the college in Oakland.

Special events will be a report on the state of the college by the president, Dr. Robert J. Wert, on Friday morning and a Saturday symposium under the direction of the Continuing Education Committee of the Alumnae Association, "Medical Care: Crisis and Cost."

At the alumnae family dinner Saturday night retiring faculty members, M. Darius Milhaud and Mrs. James Caldwell will be honored. Concluding activities will be Sunday's baccalaureate service and degree day ceremonies.

Clear The House Before Starting Housecleaning

One of the best ways to start housecleaning, according to home economists for a national all-purpose cleaner company, is to do a little house clearing and give away, put away or throw away many of the family's possessions that are needlessly filling shelves, closets and drawers.

In the give away group, you might put the still wearable clothes that children have outgrown, toys the children no longer want, books, dishes and bric-a-brac that have outlived their usefulness.

Out-of-season equipment and seasonal decoration might be included in the put away group, and in the throw away group should go the gloves without mates, appliances beyond repair and empty boxes.

Public, Catholic School Cooperation

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Joint planning between public and Catholic school systems to improve educational quality and achieve operational efficiency has been launched in three cities, the National Catholic Educational Association reports.

The Ford Foundation-sponsored project is under way in Philadelphia, New Orleans and San Francisco. Public and Catholic school officials in the three cities will form joint planning councils to explore methods of cooperation which will best serve to solve local problems and improve local educational programs.

Wrinkle Strategy: Empty In A Hurry

NEW YORK (UPI)—For a minimum of wrinkles, remove laundry from the dryer as soon as the machine stops.

The Cleanliness Bureau says this step is particularly important for permanent press fabrics. Fold or hang the clothes promptly. When using a dryer with no permanent press cycle, remove such items while still slightly damp and finger-smooth before hanging.

Correct Way For Watering Vine Plants

When watering house plants such as vines that climb a pole, use a paper cup with small holes punched in the bottom.

Place the cup on top of the pole so the water feeds through slowly and soaks into the pole. Liquid fertilizer and weed killer can also be given to plants in this manner.

Mill Valley Woman Nominated For Award

MRS. LOIS CALDERWOOD
Comptrollership award

Mrs. Lois Calderwood of Mill Valley has been named to represent the Department of the Army for the "Woman of the Year Comptrollership Award."

Through her position as chief of the Methods and Standards Branch of Western Area, Military Traffic Management and Terminal Service at Oakland Army Base, Mrs. Calderwood was eligible for the award, which is given to women active in comptrollership throughout the Department of Defense.

A certificate of achievement and letters of congratulation were presented Mrs. Calderwood by Brig. Gen. H. R. Del Mar, Western Area commander, acting on behalf of Maj. Gen. John Clarence J. Lang, commander in Washington, D.C.

A native of Iowa, Mrs. Calderwood began her federal service career in 1953 with the U.S. Army in Alaska. She came to her present position in 1969 with the U.S. Army in Alaska. She came to her present position in 1969 from the Naval Supply Center in Oakland, where she had been a supervisor five years.

Mrs. Calderwood holds a B.S. degree in political science from the University of San Francisco and is working on a master's degree in business administration at Golden Gate College.

Before beginning her federal service she worked for the Research Service, Inc., a public opinion and market research agency in Denver, Colo., and with the National Opinion Research Center at the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Calderwood has lived in Mill Valley for two years and recently became a member of the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women. Her hobbies are sculpture, bicycling and golf.

RAP SESSION

'Paranoid' Bureaucracy Blamed

By FRANK FARRARA
(23rd in a series of 24 raps)

Rex Hutchinson, a 22-year-old former drug addict, sees society becoming more aware of its problems and moving slowly toward making changes.

Now it is in a confused state and there has to be a "lot of change or it will fall apart," he said. "It's a tossup if we're going to a police state or get it together."

Hutchinson, cofounder of Center Point, a help center in San Rafael for young people trying to kick the drug habit, credited young people with leading the way to change.

"It's really a drag what young people had to do to make society wake up," he said. "I think the young people are bringing people back to being people."

Now there are drug programs, campaigns for clean air, black politicians and Caucasians letting their hair grow, indications of change, he said.

"I'm happy with a lot of changes. I want to keep going in that direction," Hutchinson said. There is "a long way to go and a lot of hard work to satisfy people," he said.

Hutchinson recommended that the "establishment get looser," and that the bureaucratic system "stop being paranoid."

For example, he said, to get funds for his center requires too much red tape and when help comes "it's usually almost too late."

Even as he reported his views, the quiet-spoken Hutchinson sported a sign, "I must listen more," such signs being a kind of penance varying with each Center Point member's principal failing.

Although Americans don't have to struggle like people in poor countries, Americans have been "fed up" with U. S. society for many reasons, he said: the "academic setup," the war, the values and morals of society.

Youths have turned to drugs because of personal reasons, such as difficulty with parents, but social problems in general provided the setting, Hutchinson said.

"Our biggest problem now is no jobs," he said. Employers are still trying to get "highly qualified" persons, he said.

He argued that young people trying to kick drugs could be hired parttime or fulltime "without qualifications." If they aren't, he said, there could be more difficulty.

Hutchinson said law enforcement is starting to adopt a different approach "to putting people away." A youth on a bad LSD trip is sent to Marin General Hospital, Center Point or Open House. This is better than taking them to jail and "we need to do more of this," he said.

The Vietnam war has not only resulted in deaths, but has "killed" people's faith in the U.S. and brought widespread drug use, he said.

Hutchinson estimated that more servicemen have used drugs in Vietnam than have been killed in action. "Think of how many have been killed and how many are using drugs," he said.

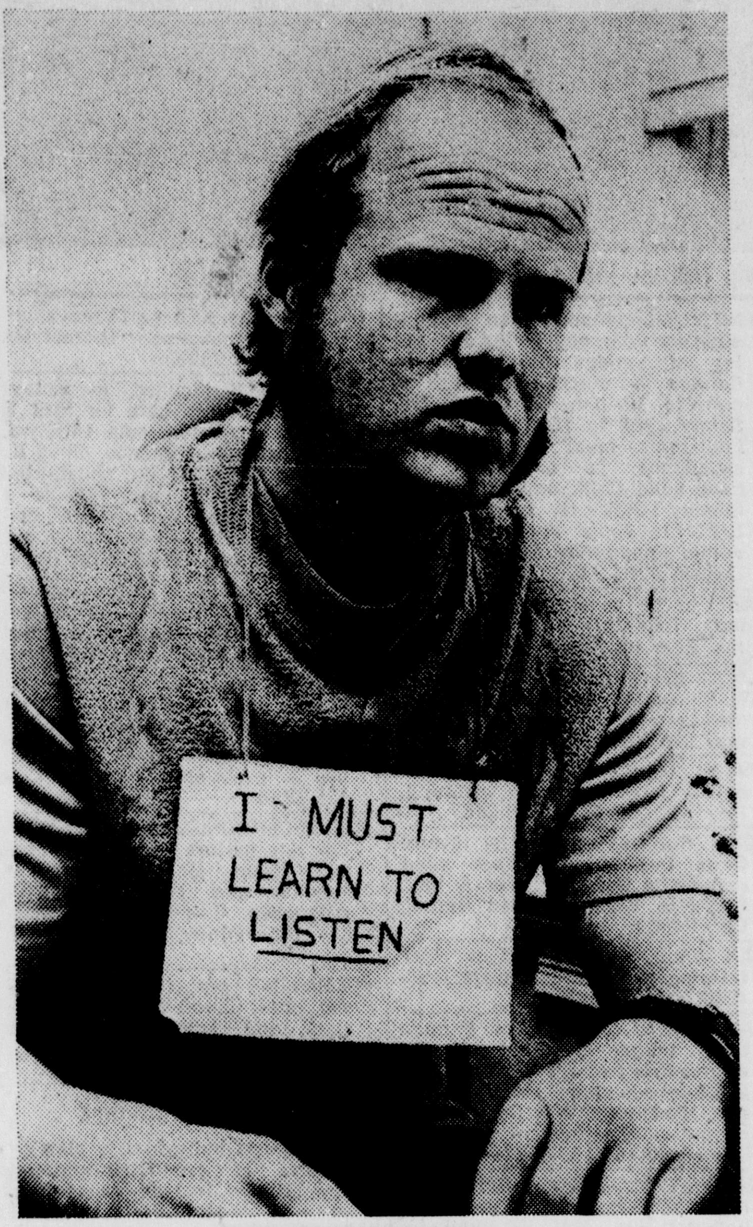
Hutchinson saw marriage as continuing in U. S. society, but believed that more people will live together before marriage. "It's not immoral to live together and its important to see how people act, where their feelings are really at. It's hard to tell without living together."

After living together, "you really know who you are marrying," he said. "Before you had to marry her, before you knew."

In the past few decades "the big thing was get married and get divorced," he said. "It seems it will start getting truer again."

Hutchinson said that society isn't making changes fast enough, and that in the past the "system was making people escape from reality."

Youth can keep pushing for changes, but there's no reason for violence, he said. He felt that youth should acknowledge society's accomplishments thus far toward change to show that they're "not yelling, just to be yelling."



REX HUTCHINSON
"Let youth admit Society's accomplishments and stop yelling just to be yelling."

Agency Decision Attacked

By DAVID DIETZ

SAN FRANCISCO — The State Air Resources Board was attacked today as "totally incompetent" as a result of its decision reaffirming exclusion of portions of Sonoma and Solano counties from the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The decision, reached in Eureka Wednesday, set boundaries which will enable the northern portions of both counties to join a yet-to-be-formed air pollution district to the north.

"It's not so much that the decision went against us," said Victor Calvo, chairman of the Bay Area district board, "but I was certainly completely dismayed and abashed by the lack of fundamental knowledge by people charged with keeping air quality in the state."

Calvo, who had appeared before the state board to appeal the Bay Area district's case, said he was stunned when asked by one state board member how much the Bay Area district spent on control of automobile pollution. The state board member, Calvo said, should have been fully aware that such control is the responsibility of the state agency.

"It was a "whole farce," Calvo said.

"Members of the board were half asleep and snoozing," sand Robert W. Hoyer, another member of the Bay Area district board who went to Eureka. "They paid no attention to what we were saying.

"It was the biggest fiasco I've seen in my life, but on the other hand I've never appeared before a state board before."

Added board member William R. Jelavich: "I think they're totally incompetent. "That's being blunt, but that's the way to put it."

The directors' remarks came at a workshop session of board members, their advisory council, and agency staff members.

The group voted to write to the state board, Sacramento legislators, and Gov. Ronald Reagan, protesting the state board's conduct. Also left open was the possibility of an appeal of the state board's decision to the federal Environmental Protection Agency.

A recent action by the Legislature placed all of Sonoma and Solano into the Bay area district, but the counties appealed to the Air Resources Board on the grounds that northern portions were part of an air basin separate from that in the Bay Area.

Mount Tam Park Offered Ridge Land

The ridge above Stinson Beach, comprising about 1,700 acres and valued at about $10 million may soon be added to Mount Tamalpais State Park at a low cost to taxpayers because of a bargain being offered by the owner.

William Penn Mott, director of the state parks and recreation department, yesterday confirmed a rumor that the state has received a cut-rate offer from the owner, George P. Leonard of Stinson Beach.

Leonard, newly appointed member of the Marin County Planning Commission, has offered to sell the land to the state at half its appraised value, Mott told the Independent-Journal.

Mott said the deal hinges both on state legislative approval as well as obtaining matching federal funds. He said he thought, however, that the federal land and water funds would be available.

The acquisition of the land has long been sought by conservationists and others. Last addition to the park was in 1968 when the state purchased the 2,141-acre Brazil and Souza ranches for $3,009,200.

College Asked Faculty Raises

The Marin Junior College District board, which last night voted to change its name to the Marin Community College District, also heard a request from the faculty for 8 per cent increases for next year.

The faculty had voted to ask the straight-across-the-board cost-of-living increase, according to Jerry York, who presented the proposal, rather than earlier proposed changes in the salary schedules.

The faculty also wants additional pay for persons at the top of the schedule, he said. No estimate of the impact on the budget was made.

The board took no action last night on the request but put the matter over to a meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday at which the entire budget for next year will be discussed.

In other action last night, the board voted to change the district's name, a proposal which had been under discussion for a long time. The change must be approved by the county board of education before it is effective.

Also approved was an increase in the bail schedule for parking violations on the campus. The increases will not be as great as those recommended by the staff, which would have made most parking violations cost $5, but were mainly based on recommendations made by student officers.

The increased rates will range from $2 for certain parking violations to $25 for abandoning vehicles.

The Marin Junior College District board also:

PERSONNEL — Authorized employment for next year of six additional instructors instead of the nine requested, limiting each department to no more than one addition.

CHILD CARE — Heard a request from student body Vice President Olga Nicholes for a child care center on the campus. She said that 224 children of students need such care but proposed facilities for 20 children at a time.

ROCK CONCERTS — Approved a revision of policies concerning rock concerts and public dances, setting forth conditions under which they may be permitted after granting of variances.

NORTH COLLEGE — Heard a request from Supt.-Pres. John A. Grasham that the North College officially open on July 1 by taking over extension courses already being offered in Novato and at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Preserving Ridge Area Is Sought

The ridge from Mount Tamalpais to the tip of the Tiburon Peninsula is an island of open space in a sea of development and should be preserved, the Alto-Sutton Manor District Association has declared.

Publicity chairman Sara S. Ruffner said the group's president, John A. Walters, told directors Wednesday he will try to muster support for preserving the entire ridge from development.

Walters will contact civic groups and neighborhood associations in an attempt to formulate a plan for conservation of the ridge.

Representatives of Larkspur, Corte Madera and Mill Valley already are investigating preservation of the portion of the ridge west of Highway 101, but have not considered the Tiburon Ridge.

Mrs. Ruffner said the association completed plans for its neighborhood picnic, set for 1 p.m. June 5 at Boyle Park in Mill Valley. Residents are asked to bring their own picnics. Entertainment will be provided, she said.

The association scheduled its annual membership meeting for 8 p.m. June 2 at the Alto Fire Station, 27 Shell Road.

First Round On Budget For Reed

The first in a series of meetings on the Reed School District's 1971-72 budget was held last night, with trustees learning that the district expects $2,386,068 in income next year.

The figure compares to an estimated income of $2,079,486 for the current fiscal year. Supt. Ralph D. Giovanniello said trustees did not discuss the effect the budget would have on the district tax rate, which stands at $3.53 per $100 assessed valuation this year.

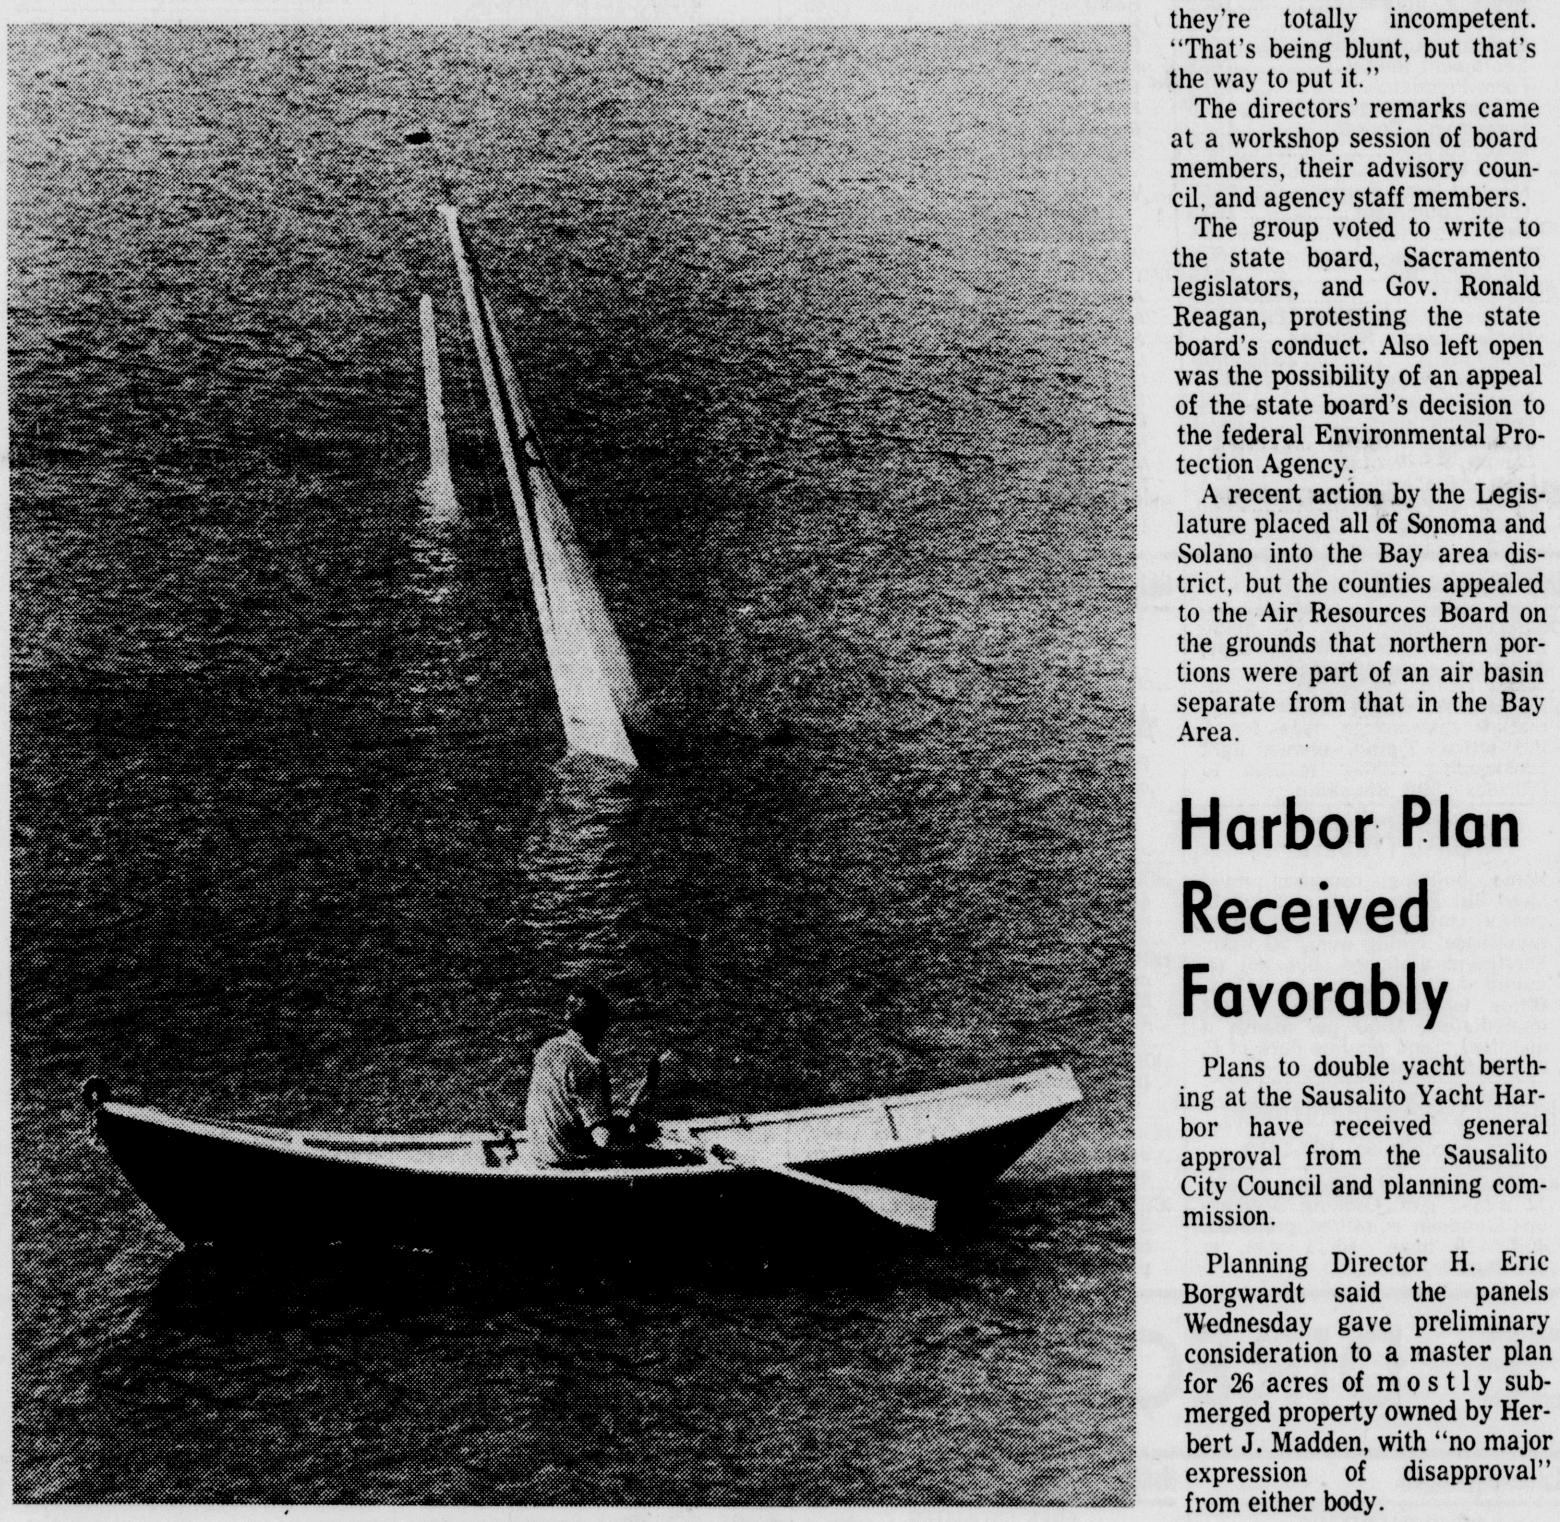
Another budget session was set for 7:30 p.m. June 15, when the board will consider proposed expenditures for next year and an anticipated tax rate.

Giovanniello said trustees also discussed two possibilities for teacher staffing next year, one with 109 teachers and the other with 113. The district has 105 certificated personnel this year.

The board has considered adding teachers in 1971-72, the superintendent said, and his projections were based on that possibility. With 109 teachers the district could add four teachers to its upper elementary program at Reedland Woods and Granada schools, he said, while 113 teachers would allow additional staffing of the reading and learning specialist programs.

The board asked Giovanniello to investigate the scope of programs possible with the beefed-up teaching force and report at the June 15 meeting.

No other business was discussed at last night's adjourned meeting, the superintendent said.



WINDS SINK SAILBOAT

An unidentified man rowed out today to view the masts of a small sailboat which sank last night in waters between Corinthinan Yacht Club and Belvedere. Winds which gusted up to 105 miles an hour in West Marin also caused snapped power lines and fallen trees throughout the county. (See weather story page 1.)

Harbor Plan Received Favorably

Plans to double yacht berthing at the Sausalito Yacht Harbor have received general approval from the Sausalito City Council and planning commission.

Planning Director H. Eric Borgwardt said the panels Wednesday gave preliminary consideration to a master plan for 26 acres of mostly submerged property owned by Herbert J. Madden, with "no major expression of disapproval" from either body.

The plan envisions adding new docks to increase the size of the harbor, which lies at the foot of Johnson Street, from 450 berths to 900.

Landscaping, public walkways and benches and more parking also are inlcuded, Borgwardt said.

Planners set another informal review of the proposal for 8 p.m. Thursday at city hall to iron out problems before the plans are considered formally at public hearing before the commission and city council.

Dole: Cronkite 'Lost His Cool' On Media Issue

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—Sen. Robert J. Dole of Kansas, chairman of the Republican National Committee, Thursday criticized CBS commentator Walter Cronkite for accusing Vice President Spiro Agnew and himself of a "conspiracy to discredit the news media."

"It appears to me that Cronkite has lost his cool," Dole told El Paso County Republicans.

The republican legislator said he had only criticized the media when he detected an "imbalanced" report. He said he believed network television executives were becoming "too sensitive.

"When they are wrong, we have the right to say so, no matter how big the network is," Dole said.

School Board Puts Off Salary Raises

The Shoreline Unified School District board last night postponed granting pay raises to nonteaching personnel pending further information on the district's assessed valuation, according to Supt. Charles A. McCully.

The nonteaching employees haven't made any proposals, but McCulley was to have discussed their pay with the board last night.

The district is expected to gain revenue from reassessment of property values, 25 per cent of market value instead of 23 per cent, but that gain is expected to be cut, McCully said.

With land taken off the tax rolls for the Point Reyes National Seashore and ranch land placed in agricultural preserves there will be an offsetting drop in assessed valuation, he said.

Overall the gain in assessed valuation might be only 1 per cent, McCully estimated.

City-School Talks On Recreation

The Novato City Council and Novato Unified School District board plan to explore the possibility of joint recreational development.

At a "get acquainted" breakfast meeting yesterday the council and board agreed to meet again in about a month, but no date was set, according to Supt. James G. Bunker.

At that session the two groups will talk of possible joint development of facilities such as tennis courts and a swimming pool that could be of mutual benefit, Bunker said.

Networks Balk On Vietnam, Lobbyist Claims

NEW YORK (UPI)—Common Cause, a nonpartisan citizens' lobby, said Thursday the three major networks turned down the group's request to buy air time for a program opposing the Vietnam War on the basis that such a show would violate broadcasting's fairness doctrine.

Thomas Mathews, a special assistant to Commn Cause Chairman John W. Gardner, said the rejection by NBC, CBS and ABC shows that "a few executives decide what is controversial and who the adversaries are on either side."

The program entitled "The People Speak Out on the War" featured a panel discussion by opponents of Nixon administration policies in Vietnam.

The lynx is smaller than the leopard but larger than the wildcat.

Bus Fare Hike To Be Studied

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Public hearing has been set by the California Public Utilities Commission for Monday on the application of Greyhound Lines — West for a statewide increase in intrastate passenger fares and express rates.

The bus company is asking for a 15 per cent increase overall, with an expedited 7.5 per cent immediately to offset increased labor costs.

Proceedings will begin at 10 a.m. in the commission courtroom, State Building, 350 McAllister, with PUC Examiner John W. Mallory presiding, at which time and place all interested parties may appear and be heard.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

(Advertisement)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District will receive bids for furnishing all labor, materials, transportation and services, for an AIR CONDITIONING SYSTEM FOR ELECTRONIC DATA PROCESSING EQUIPMENT and the necessary appurtenant work at College of Marin, Marin County, Kentfield, California.

Each bid to be in accordance with the specifications and sketch now on file with the Office of Planning, College of Marin, Office Center Room 180, Kentfield, California 94904, where same may be examined and copies obtained at no cost.

Each bid shall be made on a form attached to said specifications, and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or a bid bond for ten per cent of the amount bid, made payable to the School District, and shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board on or before the 24th day of May, 1971, at 2:00 p.m. and will be opened in public at or about 2:00 p.m. of that day in the office of the Director of Planning, Office Center Room 180, College of Marin, Kentfield, California.

The above mentioned check or bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract if awarded the work and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into said contract after being requested to do so by the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a labor and material bond in an amount equal to 100 per cent of the contract price and a faithful performance bond in an amount equal to 100 per cent of the contract price, said bonds to be secured from a surety company satisfactory to the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District.

Bidders are hereby notified that pursuant to the Statutes of the State of California or local law thereto applicable, the Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages and rates for legal holidays and overtime work in the locality in which the work is to be performed for each craft or type of workman or mechanic needed to execute the contract which will be awarded the successful bidder to be as follows:

Class of Work	Wage Per Hr.	H & W	Pension	Vac.	App. Trng
Carpenters	6.96	.37	.50	.50	.03
Electrical Workers	7.65	.22	.20	10% Gr.	.03
Painters	7.37	.39	.40	.80
Plumbers	8.835	1.285	.62	.31	.065

The working days shall be eight (8) hours unless otherwise specified. The per diem rate shall be the hourly rate multiplied by the number of hours in the working day.

All other trades not hereinbefore mentioned shall receive the wage prescribed for the particular craft or type of workman.

All labor shall receive time and one-half for overtime, double time on holidays unless otherwise specified.

In addition to the hourly and/or per diem wages for the crafts, classifications or types of workmen listed above, contractors may be required to make employer payments for health and welfare, pension, vacation and similar purposes as required by the executed collective bargaining agreements for the particular craft, classification or type of work involved.

All bidders must be contractors properly licensed to perform said work.

The Governing Board of the Marin Junior College District reserves the right to reject any and all bids and/or waive any irregularity in any bid received. Unless otherwise required by law, no bidder

No. 571 May 14, 21, 1971

OFFICIAL NOTICE INVITING BIDS FOR THE PURCHASE OF BONDS, DILLON'S BEACH IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NO. 1, NORTH MARIN COUNTY WATER DISTRICT, MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT ACT OF 1913 AND THE IMPROVEMENT BOND ACT OF 1915

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals will be received by the Secretary of the North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California, located in the District Offices, 999 Atherton Avenue, Novato, California, at the hour of 2:00 P.M. on the 1st day of June, 1971, for the purchase of $74,228.10 principal amount of bonds for Dillon's Beach Improvement District No. 1, North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California. Said bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared at said time and place.

These bonds are authorized to be issued, and the assessments are authorized to be levied, under the provisions of Resolution of Intention No. 866 of the Board of Directors of the North Marin County Water District adopted on the 2nd day of February, 1971, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The Resolution of Intention provides with relation to said bonds as follows:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bearing interest at a rate of not to exceed seven per cent (7%) per annum shall be issued herein in the manner provided by Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code, the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature fourteen (14) years from the 2nd day of July next succeeding ten (10) months from their date.

MATURITIES AND AMOUNT OF BONDS: Said bonds will be in the amount of $74,228.10. All bidders, by submission of a bid, agree to purchase the total amount of bonds to be issued.

MATURITY SCHEDULE

Bond Numbers (Inclusive)	Maturity Date of Bonds	Amount Maturing
1-5	July 2, 1972	$ 4,228.10
6-10	July 2, 1973	5,000.00
11-15	July 2, 1974	5,000.00
12-20	July 2, 1975	5,000.00
21-25	July 2, 1976	5,000.00
26-30	July 2, 1977	5,000.00
31-35	July 2, 1978	5,000.00
36-40	July 2, 1979	5,000.00
41-45	July 2, 1980	5,000.00
46-50	July 2, 1981	5,000.00
51-55	July 2, 1982	5,000.00
56-60	July 2, 1983	5,000.00
61-65	July 2, 1984	5,000.00
66-70	July 2, 1985	5,000.00
71-75	July 2, 1986	5,000.00
	Total	$74,228.10

NOTE: One bond maturing in 1972 will be for $228.10 and the remaining bonds will be in $1,000.00 denominations.

DATE OF BONDS AND INTEREST RATE: Bonds are to be dated the 15th day of June, 1971, and will bear interest from said date. Interest rate is fixed in the Resolution of Intention, at not to exceed seven per cent (7%) per annum. Such interest shall be evidenced by coupons attached to each bond, and each of said coupons shall represent six months' interest on the bond to which it is attached. The first coupon will be for interest from June 15, 1971 to January 2, 1972.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds are authorized to be issued by the Board of Directors of the North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California, by Resolution of Intention No. 866, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The purpose is for the construction of improvements. These improvements are within the boundaries of the assessment district designated, "Dillon's Beach Improvement District No. 1, North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California," and reference for details is made to the proceedings for the formation and completion of said assessment district.

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest are payable in lawful money of the United States at the office of the Marin County Treasurer, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

CALLABLE BONDS: All bonds are callable pursuant to the provisions of the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 twice each year. No bonds may be called except on July 2 or January 2 and there must be a sixty day notice of call. Any bond called will have interest to date of call and a premium of five per cent (5%) of the principal amount.

AUTHORITY FOR ISSUANCE: Said bonds were authorized to be issued by the proceedings in said assessment district and said assessment district was organized and consummated under the provisions of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and bonds provided to be issued under the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 of the State of California.

SECURITY: Said bonds are payable from the redemption fund provided by law which is secured by all of the unpaid assessments within the boundaries of said district. Said bonds are further secured by a limited guarantee on the part of the entity which issued said bonds. Under the provisions of the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, any real property on which the owners have failed to pay installments of assessments as they fall due is sold for delinquencies by the District in the same manner as real property is sold for delinquent taxes. It is the duty of the District to bid such property in at such tax sale. It then becomes the duty of the District to transfer to the Redemption Fund the amount of the purchase. In the event there is not sufficient money in the General Fund to transfer this amount into the Redemption Fund, it becomes the mandatory duty of the District to levy a tax up to 10c on each $100.00 of assessed valuation of property within the boundaries of the North Marin County Water District sufficient in amount to pay for the delinquencies. It becomes the continuing duty of the District, throughout the life of the bond issue, to levy such a tax and to pay for the installments upon property sold to the district for delinquencies. The maximum levy which the District is obligated to make in any one year is 10c on each $100.00 of assessed valuation. The assessed valuation of all taxable real property in the North Marin County Water District for the fiscal year 1970-71 is $87,704,935.00. Ten cents on the $100.00 would therefore raise, in the North Marin County Water District, the sum of $87,704.94, which is more than sufficient to cover the maximum amount of principal and interest accrusing in any one year of the bond issue if a ten cent (10c) levy should be necessary.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the law firm of Sturgis, Den-Dulk, Douglass & Anderson, 1322 Webster Street, Oakland, California, 94612, approving the validity of said bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge. In the opinion of Counsel, interest on the bonds is exempt from all federal income taxes, and from State of California personal income taxes, under presently existing statutes, regulations and court decisions, and the bonds are also exempt from all California taxes except inheritance, gift and franchise taxes.

HIGHEST BID: Bidders are requested to name the interest rate or rates not exceeding seven per cent (7%) per annum in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of one per cent (1%). Each bidder must specify in his bid the amount and maturities of the bonds of each rate and all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same rate. No bid may name more than four interest rates, any of which may be repeated. No rate may be more than one and one-half per cent (1-½%) higher than the lowest rate named in the bid. The interest payable on any bond on any interest payment date may, however, be represented by one or more coupons. A zero rate cannot be named for all or any of the time from the date of the bond to its stated maturity and the premium, if any, must be paid in the funds specified for payment of the bonds as part of the purchase price. No bid of less than par and accrued interest or for less than all of the bonds offered will be entertained. Unless all bids are rejected, the bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose proposal results in the lowest net interest cost to the issuer, and the net interest cost will be determined by deducting the amount of any premium paid from the aggregate amount of interest upon all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: The North Marin County Water District reserves the right at its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid. Any bid must be in strict conformity with this Official Notice Inviting Bids, and without any qualification.

PROMPT AWARD: The North Marin County Water District will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than (48 hours) after expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the Marin County Treasurer, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, as soon as the bonds can be prepared, but not earlier than the date of said bonds. Successful bidder, by making a bid, agrees to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within forty-eight (48) hours after notification by the North Marin County Water District that the bonds are ready for delivery, but bidder is not obligated to take delivery earlier than the date of the bonds. The successful bidder shall have the right at his option to cancel his offer to purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 45 days from the date of the bonds.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds herein offered for sale. Each bid, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the Secretary of the North Marin County Water District, and endorsed "Proposal for Bonds, Dillon's Beach Improvement District No. 1, North Marin County Water District, Marin County, California."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $1,000.00 drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the North Marin County Water District to secure the North Marin County Water District from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. Check of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by mail upon the award of the bonds. Check of successful bidder will be credited upon the purchase price of the bonds, and no interest will be paid upon the deposit of any successful bidder. Check of the successful bidder will be forefeited to District if the bidder fails to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within the time provided for in this notice as liquidated damages.

NO LITIGATION CERTIFICATE: The North Marin County Water District will furnish to the successful bidder, at the time of the delivery of the bonds, a no-litigation certificate, certifying that there is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the bonds.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Top Rating For 'Child Rated X'

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Notes to watch television by:

The Headliners: Susan Saint James, female star of NBCTV's "The Name of the Game," which has been canceled, will appear as Rock Hudson's wife in a new series on the same network this fall . . . the series, which will be one of three alternating 90-minute segments with the catch-all title of "Mystery Movie," will be called "McMillan and Wife," and stars Hudson as police commissioner of San Francisco.

Canonero II, which won the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, will try to become the first Triple Crown winner since Citation in 1948 when it heads the field of the Belmont Stakes on CBS-TV June 5 ... Groucho Marx and Truman Capote are scheduled to be guests on ABC TV's Dick Cavett Show Tuesday . . . Gene Kelly will be host of most of the programs of NBC-TV's new fall series, "The Funny Side," a weekly comedy variety show in which a permanent cast of five couples focuses on the American way of life.

A while back, we suggested that the networks were missing a bet by not taking some of the well-known old movies and grouping them, for effect, in the manner of weekly video film festivals commemorating the works of particular artists ... now ABC-TV announces that, starting June 22 on its "Movie of the Week" series, it will present four films in consecutive telecasts under the title "The Movie Classics of David O. Selznick" ... the films, whose order has not yet been decided on, will be:

"Intermezzo," with Ingrid Bergman and Leslie Howard ... "Made for Each Other," with James Stewart and Carole Lombard ... "Portrait of Jennie," with Jennifer Jones, Joseph Cotten and Ethel Barrymore ... and "Ruby Gentry," with Miss Jones and Charlton Heston.

Bill Cosby is switching from Hollywood to New York, and from NBC-TV to CBS-TV, for his next weekly television series ... His first series, of course, was NBC-TV's "I Spy," with Robert Culp ... Then came "The Bill Cosby Show," a half hour situation comedy that has been canceled by NBC-TV ... The new Cosby series, set for a September, 1972, start on CBSTV, will be a weekly hour of comedy and variety.

The programs: NBC-TV's newsmagazine of the air, "First Tuesday," has been retitled "Fourth Friday" for its new season beginning in October ... which means, naturally, it will be seen (for two hours) on the fourth Friday of each month . . . Same network offers satellite telecasts July 3 of the title matches of the Wimbledon (England) tennis championships.

Martin Carr, who produced two of the past year's most notable documentaries, "Migrant" and "This Child is Rated X," has another hour on NBC-TV coming up Aug. 27—this one a study of America's rural-to-urban migration ... NBC-TV reports, by the way, that the recent telecast of "This Child Is Rated X," which was a look at justice for juveniles in America, was the highest-rated network news documentary of the season in the New York Nielsen overnight rankings.

Footnote: According to NBCTV's research department, there were color television sets in 46.8 per cent of the nation's TV households as of April 1.

Sonic Booms Ruin 'History'

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The director of the National Park Service has complained sonic booms generated by military aircraft have destroyed prehistoric ruins and blasted the faces off cliffs in scenic areas.

G. B. Hartzog Jr. told a House Appropriations subcommittee Thursday he considered the conduct of military pilots "disgraceful." He said the damage they had caused in national parks was incalculable.

"What is a 3,000 or 4,000-year prehistoric ruins worth?" he asked. "What is the face of a cliff in Mesa Verde worth? It is shattered off and now is at the bottom of the canyon.'

Hartzog complained protests to the Air Force have brought no response and telling the story to the public has brought no reaction.

Brown Joins Muskie Push For 1972

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown Jr. announced yesterday he will help organize a "citizen's committee" to support the presidential candidacy of U.S. Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine.

Brown said he is being joined in the endeavor by fellow 1968 supporters of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and former Sen. Eugene McCarthy.

Brown, vice chairman of McCarthy's California campaign, said "those of us who worked so diligently and so long in 1967 and 1968 have continued to look for a candidate who will end the Vietnam war and bring compassion and integrity to the presidency. Sen. Muskie is that man."

Muskie, the 1968 Democratic nominee for vice president, has not announced his 1972 candidacy but is regarded as the frontrunner for his party's nomination.

Brown, in statements released in Sacramento and Los Angeles, did not list other members of the "citizen's committee."

Expert Says No Building Quake Proof

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) —A noted California earthquake expert said today engineers did not know yet how to build quake-proof buildings.

The Los Angeles earthquake early this year showed that "serious risk is not confined to superannuated building of inferior construction," Dr. Charles Richter said.

"Some buildings supposedly erected under modern standards have shown such damage as to set new problems for engineers."

Richter, inventor of the earthquake scale which bears his name, spoke at the opening session of an international earthquake meeting sponsored by the U. S. Government which drew 170 of the world's leading seismologists, disaster experts and diplomats from 21 nations.

In opening the five-day meeting, Dr. Lee DuBridge of President Nixon's Science Advisory Committee, noted that the experts were meeting in a city "perched atop of a notorious fault."

Richter said earthquake losses "are largely unnecessary and preventable." About 90 per cent of deaths in earthquakes throughout history were caued by "failure of weak structure," he said.

Richter criticized studies undertaken in response to a major disaster.

"The usual official reaction to such disasters is to appoint investigating commissions," he said. But when the reports are in they are often "largely ignored." A study of the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 "is still one of the most important documents in seismology," but seldom read, he said.

A similar waste of effort, he said, is the many attempts to learn to predict earthquakes. This goal is announced by scientists to get public support for their studies," he said.

"Public obsession with predictions diverts attention away from the actually possible measures to diminish the damaging effects of future earthquakes," he said.

Giving his own rule for predicting earthquakes, Richter said," "Where earthquakes have occurred in the past they may be expected in the future."

Homes with three or more bedrooms are most popular with buyers, according to the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Two Americans Visit Peking

HONG KONG (UPI) —Two American professors chatted and posed for photographs today with Communist Chinese Permier Chou En-lai, Radio Peking said in a broadcast monitored here.

The radio said Arthur W. Galston of Yale University and Ethan R. Signer of Massachusetts Institute of Technology also met with Kuo Mo-jo, president of the Academia Sinica (the Chinese academy of sciences) and other educators, scientists and government officials.

Galston, 51, a botanical specialist from Orange, Conn., and Signer, 34, an associate professor of molecular biology from Cambridge, Mass., had been invited for the visit while staying in Hanoi.

A Child's Beach Collecting Hit

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Children are dangerous threats to life in tidal pools, according to a marine ecologist at Scripps Institution of Oceanography.

Dr. Paul Dayton said children collecting specimens "pick out the worst animals of all to disturb because these essentially are key animals to maintaining the community."

He told the America Cetacean Society's local chapter this week that youngsters normally take starfish and sea urchins. starfish eat animals, mainly mussels, which otherwise consume excessive numbers of other plants and animals. Sea urchins control plants which otherwise dominate tidal areas.

The result is that the tidal zone is ruined, he said.

A Great Day For Marin Baseballers

The mind boggles at what our local heroes accomplished yesterday.

First and foremost, San Anselmo's John Boccabella hit a 14th inning home run to give Montreal's Expos a dramatic 4-3 victory over Atlanta, sending the Braves skidding 8½ games behind the Giants in the National League.

Then, over in the American League, Terra Linda's Lefty Bill Lee collected his fourth pitching victory for the Boston Red Sox as they downed the New York Yankees, 5-2.

And, down in the minors, Ken Johnson of Larkspur and Joe Decker of San Rafael figured in their teams' victories. Johnson, the former All-Star shortstop for Redwood High School, hit a home run to help Manchester defeated Reading 6-3 in the Eastern League and Decker, son of Mrs. William Royce of San Rafael, pitched one inning of relief in Tacoma's 10-9 triumph over Salt Lake City in the Pacific Coast League.

Look at that list: Not a loser in the bunch.

But the big story belonged to Boccabella who learned his trade on San Anselmo sandlots, thence to Marin Catholic High and the University of Santa Clara. The reserve catcher, who has been a major leaguer since 1963, was making only his 26th official trip to the plate this season when he came to bat in the 14th. Former Giant Ron Herbel's first pitch to "Boc the Sock" was a "little bit high" and the 29 going on 30 (June 29)-year-old propelled it so far that the Atlanta outfielders didn't even bother to give chase.

Boccabella had come into the game in the ninth inning. A wise substitution by Manager Gene Mauch, eh?

Meanwhile, Lee, the crafty southpaw, looms large in Boston's pennant plans, what with four victories in five decisions as the Red Sox have opened a three-game lead over defending world champion Baltimore. The former Terra Linda High and University of Southern California star pitched five and two-thirds innings, yielding two runs on six hits, to gain credit for the win although he needed relief help from ex-Giant Bobby Bolin.

FORMER TAMALPAIS High School standout Bill Secor has covered himself with glory in his first year at University of California at Santa Clara. With a 22 points-per-game average, Secor recently was awarded the freshman basketball team's Most Valuable Player and Captain's trophies. You'll be hearing a lot more about him.

ALSO AT U.C. Santa Barbara is former Drake High star Chet Carlisle who will play defensive end on the varsity football squad next season. Big Chet, who has spent two years in military service, will be a mature sophomore.

LAST WEEK I told you about four San Francisco 49ers who were to race in a special Bay Area Racing Association hard top event at Vallejo Speedway. Well, as it turned out, defensive back Alvin Randolph and offensive guard Randy Beisler placed 1-2 over Len Rohde and Mel Phillips to qualify for the finals on June 5 against tomorrow night's special race featuring the Oakland Raiders.

The Raiders' speed team, as yet unannounced, will be headed by lineman Bob Svihus. The top two Raiders tomorrow night then will take on Randolph and Beisler June 5.

Auto racing has come up with another attractive gimmick.

When Homero Hits Texas, Watch Out!

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—Homero Blancas, a product of the University of Houston golf factory, makes a run at the big money every now and then during the year, but when he gets to Texas he goes berserk.

Blancas made a run at the Byron Nelson Golf Classic in Dallas two weeks ago, was a contender last week at Houston and Thursday went out and fired a three-under-par 67 to tie for the first round lead of the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament with Canadian George Knudson.

That twosome had a one-stroke lead over lesser lights Berte Greene, Fred Marti and Jack Montgomery.

Another stroke back at one-under-par 69 were five players including amateur sensation Ben Crenshaw, a freshman at the University of Texas who finished seventh last week at Houston.

The others clipping par were former Colonial winner Dave Stockton, Jerry Heard, Bert Yancey and Chuck Courtney.

Billy Casper and Gary Player, both returning to the tour after lapses of three and four weeks, respectively, both shot 73s. Casper's round included his first four-putt green in 13 years.

"I wish we played more tournaments in Texas," said Blancas, whose last win was in this same event one year ago.

"I've been playing awfully well lately," said Blancas, who finished 10th in Dallas and tied for seventh in Houston before coming to Fort Worth.

"I've just been having one or two bad holes a round. A double bogey here or there. That has cost me. But I've been getting better every week in Texas. Maybe I'll win here."

Blancas got down birdie putts of 1 1-2, 10 and 35 feet against no bogeys, and salvaged two other pars with super bunker shots.

Knudson, meanwhile, had an even better putting round.

He rolled them in from 4, 3, 30, 5 and 25 feet for birdies and sank saving par putts of 6 and 8 feet.

"I guess you could say I putted rather well," said Knudson, whose best finish this year has been 11th place in the Tournament of Champions. Knudson

Brandon Tire Wins Key Softball Game

Brandon Tire won a battle for first place in the San Rafael adult softball league B division yesterday by defeating the Doves, 4-3 at Albert Park, despite a triple and home run by Gene Thompson of the Doves.

In another game, Foust Chevron scored a run in the bottom of the eighth inning to edge Jacobsen Machine Shop, 3-2.

Athletics Increase Their Division Lead

Minnesota In Oakland For Three

By JOE SARGIS

OAKLAND (UPI) —Chuck Dobson didn't go the distance this time but it didn't upset him too much.

The sturdy righthander won his third game since coming off the disabled list on May 2 Thursday night as the Oakland A's defeated the Milwaukee Brewers, 7-3, and stretched their lead in the American League West to 6 1-2 games.

Pitching on a cold and windy night and with only 2,632 fans in the stands, Dobson had the Brewers shut out until Johnny Briggs lined a homer leading off the eighth.

It was the sixth hit off Dobson and when Mike Hegan and Dave May led off the ninth with back-to-back doubles and Andy Kosco walked, manager Dick Williams took Dobson out.

"I felt Chuck had gone as far as he could on a cold night," said Williams. "There was little sense in extending him since we had a comfortable lead."

Dobson, who went on the disabled list just before the start of the season because of a sore pitching elbow, said he never was able to get loose against the Brewers.

"I didn't have real good stuff except for one inning," Dobson said. "Those long innings and the cold worked against me but I'm not complaining. Heck, the team got me all those runs and I should win under the circumstances."

Dave Duncan and Mike Epstein hit homers to make things easy for Dobson and Sal Bando chipped in with four hits and an RBI. Dick Green and Bert Campaneris had two hits and an RBI each as the A's piled up 13 hits in all, eight off former teammate Lew Krausse, who suffered his fifth loss in six decisions.

Now the A's host the Minnesota Twins, the team closest to them in the A.L. West. In two previous games his year the A's beat the Twins, which is quite a turnabout from previous years. In the last two seasons when the Twins won the A.L. West they beat Oakland 26 times in 36 meetings.

John Odom, another Oakland sore-arm case making a comeback, pitches tonight's game against Bert Blyleven. Odom made his first start of the year Sunday against Kansas City and pitched six strong innings.

"I won't let him throw more than 125 pitches," said Williams. "There is little sense in pushing him since we have a comfortable lead and other fellows ready to pitch."

By "other fellows" William meant Diego Segui and Rollie Fingers, who started the season in the regular rotation while Dobson and Odom were recuperating.

The victory over the Brewers Thursday was the A's third in a row and pushed them 14 games over .500. The Twins, with a

ON TO HOUSTON

Another Thrilling Win For Giants

HOUSTON (UPI) —The San Francisco Giants, who enjoy an 8 1-2 game bulge over Atlanta in the National League West, keep rolling along.

In another one of their miracle finishes, the Giants clipped Chicago, 8-7, Thursday to leave town with two of the three games.

Tonight San Francisco opens a three-game series with Houston. Gaylord Perry will go after his fifth victory of the year against the Astros' Larry Dierker, who has six wins and one loss. Perry also has one setback.

Cub's southpaw Earl Stephenson threw Willie McCovey a pitch Thursday that spelled Chicago's doom. With none out and two on in the ninth inning, McCovery drove on deep into the right centerfield bleachers to give the Giants an 8-6 lead.

Cubs' rookie Ron Tompkins had stiffled a Giant threat in the eighth, but he walked both Tito Fuentes and Willie Mays to open the ninth. Then in came Stephenson and out went McCovey's eighth homer of the year.

The Cubs had knocked out Giants' starter Juan Marichal in the seventh when they bunched five singles and a sacrifice fly for three runs.

In the eighth, the Giants closed the gap when rookie Fran Healy batted for Hal Lanier and ripped a double against the centerfield wall to drive in three runs. It was Healy's seventh hit in eight at bats this season.

168 Golfers In Napa For U.S. Open Try

NAPA (UPI) —A total of 168 pros and amateurs are scheduled to fire away Monday and Tuesday at Silverado Country Club as they try to qualify for the U.S. Open Golf tournament.

The low 29 scorers from the field will adance to the sectional qualifying, also at Silverado, June 7.

Redwood Tennis Champs

The Marin County Athletic League tennis season is all for this year and the big question being asked around the league is just how long can Redwood High School's winning streak continue.

The Giants of Redwood won their 51st straight MCAL match yesterday, 5-0 over Novato, to wind up the season with a 14-0 mark and their fourth straight championship.

Both Marin Catholic and Drake high schools won yesterday to end the season in a tie for second, four games behind Redwood. Marin Catholic won 3-2 over Tamalpais and Drake whipped San Marin 4-1.

Terra Linda Wins Prep Golf Crown

Terra Linda High School's golf team is champ of the Marin County Athletic League today after whipping San Rafael High School golfers yesterday, 210-215, in a windy match at Peacock Gap course.

Medalists were Terra Linda's Art Cudworth and San Rafael's Mike Doris with 39s.

Terra Linda's finishing win-loss record in the league was 13-1 while San Rafael ended at 11-3.

In other MCAL matches yesterday, Tam whipped Marin Catholic 191-213, and San Marin squeezed by Drake, 234-236.

Cudworth is the MCAL's representative to the first North Coast Section (NCS) Tournament on the Lake Merced course in San Francisco next Thursday. Cudworth bested all other Marin contestants in the 36-hole qualifying a week ago, with scores of 73-77—150 at Rohnert Park.

The 36-hole final, brings together the best golfers in most of Northern California.

Three-Way Race To Buy Canonero

MIAMI (UPI)—It's turned into a three-way race to buy Canonero II, the winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness.

Negotiator Bud Lepman met with owner Pedro Baptista Thursday, a group of philanthropists will haggle with him today and Albert Winick, who says he will match anybody's price, is trying to arrange a session.

Lepman went away from his meeting discouraged about his group's chances at buying the Venezuelan-based wonder horse, because the price was too high.

"Their price is much more than I believe my group intends to pay," he said. He said he had made an offer of $1.5 million a few days ago, but wouldn't say how much higher he went Thursday.

Ledman said he has 48 hours in which to buy the horse, provided he can meet the price. "It amounts to a 48-hour option," he said.

Baptista's price had been rumored at near $4 million earlier in the week.

Lepman declined to say who he was representing, but he is a trainer for Miami race track owner Steve Calder, Arnold Hanger, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Cohen and A. F. Tronetta, among other horse owners.

The most intriguing bid is being made by a group of 11 Miamians headed by physicin Tim Lamphier, Ted Horsey and former Florida assistant attorney general Gus Efphimiou, none of whom has ever owned a thoroughbred.

They said their offer is in the same area as those of the other bidders, but they would let Baptista retain more of an interest

A New Sweater For Durocher

CHICAGO — There are lots of flashy dressers on the baseball beat. Willie McCovey, Willie Mays and Juan Marichal seldom are seen twice in the same suit. The three Ms of the Giants wouldn't think of appearing in public in unpressed trousers.

Mays particularly dislikes even the slightest of wrinkles in his trousers which always have knife-like edges, front and back. Years ago he was instructed in good grooming by a most fastidious dresser, Leo Durocher, who also played a most influential role in Mays' baseball career when it was just getting under way two decades ago.

OF COURSE, Durocher didn't teach Mays how to play baseball. Mays had all the natural talents necessary to become the great superstar he is. But Durocher, always a fashion plate, did teach Mays much about dressing.

Perhaps Mays' dislike of wrinkled trousers dates back to his rookie days of 1951 when Durocher was managing the Giants. Durocher never could put on a pair of wrinkled pants. And he never sent a suit out to be pressed during short or long road trips.

MAYS NEVER knew how his first manager did it until one day Durocher invited the rookie to his hotel suite. Mays was amazed to see a score of neatly pressed suits in Durocher's closet. After wearing one, Durocher wouldn't return it to the closet. It went into one of his wardrobe trunks to be pressed later when the team returned to New York where Durocher had a favorite pants presser.

Durocher still is the meticulous dresser he always was. But he looked a bit seedy when the Giants visited Chicago at the outset of their current road trip. It wasn't his pants. As always, they were free of wrinkles. It was the sweater he was wearing.

FOR SIX DAYS Durocher had been wearing it. He hadn't fallen in love with it but he had vowed he would wear it as long as the Cubs he manages continued to win.

"I must have 50 or 100 sweaters but this orange one is the only one I've got now," said Durocher. "I'll wear it until it turns purple."

Durocher then recalled how he wore the same clothes for the last three weeks of the 1951 season when the Giants made their dash to a memorable playoff pennant in the old Polo Grounds.

THE ORANGE sweater may have kept the Cubs going in their six-game winning streak against the Phillies and Padres, the cellar dwellers in the National League East and West. But it had no superstitious powers whatsoever against the Giants, the NL's western division leader.

The Giants won the opener of a three-game series in Wrigley Field. The winning streak of the Cubs was snapped. Durocher discarded the sweater.

Another Crown For Mrs. Bowman?

Mrs. Lyle Bowman of Terra Linda, the defending champion and four-time winner, is on course for another title in the California Women's Golf Association Tournament at Woodland Hills, Los Angeles County.

Mrs. Bowman was to meet Mary Elizabeth Shea of the Los Angeles Country Club in today's 36-hole championship showdown.

Yesterday Mrs. Bowman eliminated Sally Tomlinson of the Claremont C.C., 4 and 2 in the match play semi-finals while Miss Shea, who won the crown in 1969, ousted Jane Huntsberger of Las Posas, Camarillo, 5-4.

DETROIT (UPI)—Ed Coil plans to concentrate on signing his No. 1 draft pick, Curtis Rowe of UCLA, now that the Pistons' general manager has Bill van Breda Kolff's name on a contract which calls for him to coach Detroit for another two seasons.

VBK signed his contract with the National Basketball Association team Thursday for an estimated $40,000 annually. He coached Detroit to its best record in history, 45-37, this past season.

ATLANTA (UPI) — Richie Guerin will return as coach of the Atlanta Hawks next season, the Hawks announced Thursday.

It had been speculated earlier that Guerin would take the New York Knicks head coaching post with Red Holzman moving up as general manager of the New York Club.

HOCKEY

OAKLAND (UPI) — The California Golden Seals announced Thursday the signing of chief Boston Bruin scout Garry Young to a three year contract as the club's general manager.

Seals owner Charles O. Finley said Young, 39, a native of Toronto and a member of the Bruin organization for 20 years, signed the contract Wednesday. The Seals had announced the acquisition of Young last week.

in the potential triple-crown winner.

They said they would use their profits to establish a non-profit foundation in the spirit of the late President John F. Kennedy's Alliance for Progress with South America, using the funds for medical aid to Latin America and for a cultural exchange.

Dr. Lampier said he had written Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., the late President's brother, to take a post as honorary chairman of the foundation.

Winick and hs brother Arnold of Delray (Fla.) Training Center said they were getting back into the competition for the horse, after dropping out earlier.

"I've got somebody very much interested in the horse now," Albert Winick said. "Whatever Bud Lepman offers I'm prepared to offer more."

Winick said there is some dispute over the location of any meeting with Baptista, but it could be resolved as soon as Friday. "I want them to come up here to the farm to talk, but they want us to come to Miami."

KICKING UP DUST — Oakland A's Reggie Jackson kicked up a storm of dust during an attempted steal against the Milwaukee Brewers last night. Catcher Phil Roof's throw to shortstop Rick Auerbach was too fast and Jackson was out. The A's won, 7-3.

20-19 record compared to Oakland's 28-14, are the only other team in the A.L. West over .500.

One man impressed with the A's is Brewer manager Dave Bristol, who said Oakland has all the things a club needs to win a championship—pitching, offense and defense.

"They easily are the best team I've seen this season," said Bristol. "They make all the plays and in the end that's the difference between a good club and an also-ran."

had to sink a 25-foot putt on the final hole just to save a bogey and tie for the lead.

Of the threesome in second place, Montgomery had the best chance to move into first place. He fired the front nine in a record-tying 31 strokes, but immediately double-bogeyed the 10th hole and had to be happy with a 68.

Crenshaw, by far the favorite with the gallery and playing in only his third tournament with professionals, moved to within a stroke of the lead before he three-putted the par-4 15th.

"I hit my driver all over the lot," he said. "I hear the rough is not as high as it has been in the past. I'm glad it isn't. If it had been I would not have had a chance."

Among the 13 players logjammed at even par 70 were Lee Trevino—one of the tournament co-favorites — Ron Cerrudo, Tommy Aaron, Al Geiberger, Chi Chi Rodriguez and Ken Still.

Prisoners Take Home Run Seriously

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Two prisoners at the City Workhouse took a home run seriously during a Thursday softball game.

Police said the men chased the home-run ball to a fence, then followed it over and kept going.

They were captured a short time later in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

FISH AND GAME

Great Abalone Tides Scheduled This Week

By AL GIDDINGS

There are a number of excellent abalone and clam tides coming up this week. The first, on Sunday, is at 5:30 a.m. and it's a -1.5 tide. That's early for abalones, but just right for a dawn clam digging party!

Try Dillon's Beach near Tomales for a family outing; you will be almost certain to take home enough gaper clams for a chowder. You might even get a rare giant Geoduck clam or some Washington clams. You'll need a fishing license (available at Dillon's) a shovel, and a sack or a bucket. You should wear old shoes, or boots, and expect to get your clothes wet.

THE LIMIT on gaper clams is 10 per person — no size limit. The limit on Geoducks is three, and the limit on Washingtons is 10. You can have all three limits at one time! If you take cockle clams (usually dug using a hoe, and found along both shorelines of Tomales Bay), the limit is 50 per person, and these small clams have a 1½-inch size limit. (Nothing smaller than 1½-inches allowed.)

PLEASE NOTE: I notice in reading some of the local tide books that the minus tide readings for Monday and Tuesday are -0.7. These readings should read -1.7 for each day! That makes the tides a foot lower!

Bolinas Bay is still closed by the State and County Health Department regulations.

IF YOU PLAN an abalone outing, the beds on the old Palamarin Ranch in the Point Reyes National Seashore near Bolinas are open. The water is murky here, so the rock pickers seem to do better than the divers. Out Inverness way, hiking down to the beds from the McClure's Beach parking lot is a long haul, but pays off for the rugged ones. Most of the abalone action has been taking place above Jenner along the coast in Sonoma County. Some of the ranches there charge $1 per car. The water is usually clear, so it's a diver's paradise. If you have a boat, diving at the mouth of Tomales Bay is possible. Be careful of the sharks! Diving in the regular rocky kelp beds is one thing! Diving at the mouth of Tomales Bay very close to the sand bottomed channel is another. There have been three or four shark attacks in the area.

THE MINUS tide series should definitely put a run of stripers in the bay. Trolling should pick up next week at the Richmond Bridge and other bay spots. Use a pet Spoon with 4 ounces of weight and a pork rind, or live bait. The areas near the Golden Gate Bridge will also start producing for the rock casters using Bugeye jigs.

Trout were again planted this week in Bon Tempe, Lagunitas, Phoenix Lakes, and Rodeo Lagoon. The limit is five fish per person in these waters.

THE FISH AND Game Department has suspended stocking trout in Lake Hennessey in Napa County pending discussions with the City Council of Napa on lake fishing fee charges. The commission recently took this action when it became aware that the Napa City Council had increased the fee to $3 for residents of the city of Napa and to $4 for non residents. The Department of Fish and Game is bound by the commission's policy rulings, so trout will not be stocked until the problem of the fees is resolved.

The Kiwanis Club of Novato is trying to line up a trout fishing outing for the kids in Novato tomorrow. If all goes according to schedule, the Novato Parks and Recreation Department will have the Novato Spray Pool in town stocked with 1,000 big trout for the kids. Nice going!

A NEW LAW, which becomes effective June 1, makes it mandatory that all hunters, regardless of age, present proof of having previously held a California hunting license before purchasing a new one. Otherwise, you must have a hunter-safety certificate of competence issued in California or another state. A hunting license from another state will not be acceptable. The best evidence of having a previous license is showing last year's. However, if your old license was lost, you may complete a declaration form that this was the case. License agents have these forms. Otherwise you will have to take a hunter-safety course. Names and addresses of instructors may be obtained from license agents or from the Fish and Game Department.

DON'T PICK up fawns or seals. It is illegal, and usually, though the fawn or the seal is alone, the mother is nearby feeding. In most cases, the young animals die.

ALL IN READINESS FOR 'TOE' CLINIC

Gordon Tovani, who calls himself the "World's Greatest Barefoot Place-kicker," relaxes in his San Rafael home and goes over some details concerning his third annual place-kicking clinic, which will take place tomorrow from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at Novato High School. Surrounding Tovani, who once played for the Oakland Raiders for a week, are trophies and awards to be used at the clinic. He is resting on the "world's biggest football," given to him by its maker, Spalding Corp. (Independent-Journal photo by Bob Hax)

Galea Pass Wins Feature Race

ALBANY, Calif. (UPI) — Galea Pass, one of the most consistent sprinters in the west, held off the closing charge of Little Scrib Thursday to win the $9,000 Sacramento Ballet Guild Purse at Golden Gate Fields.

Jack Artrburn rode Galea Pass to the three-quarter length win in a very quick time of 1.09 1/5 for the six furlongs.

Galea Pass paid $7.60, $3.80 and $2.80. Little Scrib returned $4.80 and $3.40 while Hungary Harry paid $4.00.

California Teams In Tennis Lead

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — The four California schools are in command of the Pacific-8 Tennis championships.

Favored UCLA downed Washington State, 9-0, Thursday in the opening round and Stanford, rated with a chance to upset the Bruins, defeated Oregon, 81.

USC beat Washington 6-0 in a match that was shortened to six singles by rain. in another shortened match, California beat Oregon State, 5-0.

UCLA meets California today after which the Trojans play Stanford, Washington State mets the Beavers and Washington plays Oregon in consolation action.

Junior High Track Meet Set Saturday

The seventh annual Marin County track and field meet for seventh and eighth graders will be Saturday at College of Marin, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Boys and girls from 18 junior high schools in Marin will take part in the meet. The schools are divided into four areas, which held qualifying meets last weekend.

NEW CLEANUP HITTER

Former Giant Stephenson Batting .435 For Angels

ANAHEIM (UPI)—When the California Angels drafted catcher John Stephenson last winter from the San Francisco Giants organization it hardly caused a ripple of excitement.

But Stephenson in the past for weeks has become the most consistent hitter on a team that includes American League batting champion Alex Johnson and home run slugger Tony Conigliero.

Going into the current week, Stephenson had run his hitting streak to 10 games, longest for an Angel this year, and his batting average to .435. By Thursday it was an 11 game streak.

And manager Harold "Lefty" Phillips rewarded Stephenson for his work by making him the cleanup hitter against Minnesota.

"I decided to bat Stephenson fourth because he has gottn more hits in the last couple of weeks than anybody else in the lineup," Phillips said. "It would be different if we had a man who had hit nine or 10 home runs. Nobody has, so Stephenson deserves to hit cleanup."

Stephenson said he never had even a 10-game hitting streak before nor can he recall having a batting average so high.

"I don't know why I'm hitting so well right now unless it's because I have more confidence and that comes from playing more," said Stephenson.

"I thought when I first came up with the New York Mets that I was a fairly good hitter. Theres a lot of luck involved in hitting well. A man can be hitting the ball well and not be getting base hits."

Stephenson doesn't have any personal goals as far as his average is concerned although his teammates have been kidding him about possibly hitting .500, now that he has passed .400.

"It's more important to me personally to be with a winner and that's where I want to make my contribution," he said.

Stephenson said since his days with the New York Mets, he had been relegated chiefly to occasional appearances while with the Chicago Cubs and then with the San Francisco Giants.

"When I was with New York, they had Chris Cannizzaro as their catcher and when I was sent to Chicago it was while Randy Hundley was reaching his peak," Stephenson said.

"I caught nine games last year with San Francisco and only started one the year before. But when the Giants sent me to their Phoenix farm club I got a chance to play regularly and last year I began to develop confidence as a hitter."

Stephenson said he also got in a good deal of work during spring training and decided to be ready when Phillips called upon him.

It was not until May 1 that Stephenson appeared as other than a pinchhitter and in that start he hit two doubles and Drove in three runs. And the hits began coming as he alternated with Jerry Moses behind the plate.

Stephenson was signed by the Mets after his graduation from William Carey College of Hattiesburg, Miss., where he still makes his home. A physical education major, he teaches phys. ed. at his alma mater and helps coach the basketball team. He lettered in both basketball and baseball in college.

"Stephenson has been fantastic," beamed manager Phillips. "It shows what desire and fighting back can do for a fellow. I like his determination."

Meminger Signs Knicks Contract

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dean Meminger, called "almost the complete player right now" by new teammate Dick Barnett, felt more the part today after signing a lucrative contract with the New York Knicks.

Meminger, a New Yorker who reached All-America heights at Marquette, signed a three-year, $300,000 contract with the Knicks Thursday. The 6-1 guard was the first draft choice of the National Basketball Association club.

"I'd hoped the Knicks would pick me, but they were so far back in the selections because of their good record that I never thought I'd get past the other NBA clubs," Meminger said. "It's a dream come true, playing in New York again."

Although Meminger is a rival for his job, the veteran Barnett said he would do all he could to help the youngster break in.

"Youth must be served," said Barnet. "I'll teach Dean everything I can. That good tutoring he had at Marquette will help him make the adjustment. He has natural ability and we'll just teach him the moves of some of the players he'll be facing."

Oddly, Meminger was coached at Marquette by Al McGuire, a former Knick player and brother of Dick McGuire, a scout for the New York team.

Meminger said he is looking forward to meeting up again with Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee, an old rival from their New York City high school days.

"Lew has demonstrated what he can do in the pros," Meminger said. "My turn will come. I'll never be as good as him. He's 7-4 and the best. One thing I know, though we may know each other, when you get on the court you have no friends. It's every man for his own club."

New Antique Store Has Opened On Boardwalk

A new store described as the first of its kind on the Belvedere Boardwalk is the Dovecote, operated by Betty Crittenden and Corinne Wiley. Besides antiques, it handles decorative accessories and interior decorating.

Also in antiques: Kelly Donaldson is back in the business, at the Collective next door to the Tamalpais Theater at 316 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, San Anselmo. Her shop is under the same name under which she formerly operated in Terra Linda: Castaway Kelly.

An entire wing of the Holiday Plaza office building San Rafael's Terra Linda area — 4,000 square feet — has been leased by American Pacific Life Insurance Co., reported Grubb and Ellis, leasing agents. Other new tenants in the building are James D. Rohde and Frank Pedersen, both attorneys.

John L. Haff of Novato and Maurice Murray of Corte Madera were installed recently as president and vice president of the Marin chapter, California Society of Professional Engineers.

Other officers installed were: Robert Speidel of San Rafael, secretary; William Murphy of Tiburon, treasurer; William Schmidt of Larkspur, state director; Charles Gerbic of San Anselmo and Joseph Yarnell of Mill Valley, chapter directors.

The chapter is affiliated with the National Society of Professional Engineers.

Clinton Waltermire of San Rafael has been promoted to assistant manager of Wells Fargo Bank's San Anselmo office. He formerly was credit officer. He succeeds Duane L. Butler, who has been assigned to the West Bay division loan supervision staff in San Francisco . . . Kenneth F. Keefe has been named executive vice president of E. D. Bullard Co., Sausalito manufacturers of safety equipment. He formerly was general manager of Clemco-Clementina, Ltd., manufacturers of abrasive blast cleaning equipment.

David E. Kalman of Greenbrae has been named marketing director of Concap Computing Systems, Oakland . . . David S. Hanson has been appointed North Bay area manager of Tele-Vue Systems, Inc., in Fairfax . . . Edmond D. Boles of San Rafael has opened his own public relations firm at 1714 Stockton Street in San Francisco. He formerly was manager of the public relations department of Cunningham and Walsh in San Francisco . . . John W. Clow of Mill Valley has been elected vice president of the San Francisco chapter of the California Society of Public Accountants. He is managing partner in the San Francisco office of Webb and Webb.

Marin County has been selected as the launching pad for an aerial advertising campaign for Lowenbrau beer. Lu Hurley of San Rafael will take off from the Marin Heliport each morning to mingle his beer blurbs with traffic reports broadcast from a helicopter.

MARIN ARCHITECT'S DESIGN

Victoria Station Restaurant on Embarcadero Road in Oakland, just completed, was designed by Donald K. Olsen, Sausalito architect, with bar in the old Southern Pacific station and dining room in former baggage cars. It is the third Victoria Station restaurant, others being in San Francisco and Atlanta. A fourth is under construction in Denver.

Market Slightly Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks were slightly lower in relatively light trading after almost two hours today.

The E. E. Hutton & Co. brokerage said the market is going through a consolidation. The firm noted there was no undue pressure, but "buyers are extremely cautious because everyone has been talking of how the Dow Jones industrial average will fall into the 880-900 range."

Among the most active Amex issues were Asamera Oil fractionally higher on around 50,000 shares, Forest Laboratories up slightly on over 30,000 shares, and Atico Mortgage also slightly higher on 22,000 shares.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Reader Queries Stock Par Value

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. What is the difference between par value and no par value common stock? How does this affect the investor? — A.L.

A. Practically speaking, par value or lack of it has no meaning for the investor. At incorporation a company may assign a par value to its capital shares. Originally this represented the investment behind each share. However, even with a new issue the difference between par value and selling price can be dramatic. Levi Strauss which recently went public is an excellent example. The shares were brought out at $47.00, yet had a par value of $1.00

State laws vary widely, some requiring a par value, others not and some restricting sale price of new shares. Corporate balance sheets include either par value, or stated value for the common shares as part of stockholders equity. And, capital received from the sale of these shares in excess of par is included as paid-in surplus.

When shares are increased through a stock split, par value is reduced accordingly. One common misconception is that par represents the amount that a stockholder would receive in a liquidation. Actually under such circumstances the shareholder receives whatever remains after bondholders and creditors have been satisfied.

Q. I own Avnet which I purchased at around $22. Should I sell or hold for recovery? — H.L.

A. Avnet has speculative appeal as a turnaround candidate. While improvement has been slow since the company reported break-even results in fiscal 1970's fourth quarter, signs of a gradual turnabout are evident.

In the just-reported third quarter, ending March 1971, margins continued to widen and net again rose. Sales for the nine months of fiscal 1971 rose to 1.3 per cent to $220.8 million; net income advanced 4 per cent to $9.8 million, or from 68 cents to 71 cents per share. Now that liquidity and profit margin difficulties appear to be in hand, there may be a return to a more active acquisition program, with take-overs aimed at rounding out and supplementing existing operations. Hold shares.
